Explosion Of West Newton Still Kills Six, And Injures Several

Two-Story Building On Lexington Street Entirely Demolished by Blast and Resulting Fire

At 3:15 Monday afternoon the two-story cement-block building at 63 to 67 Lexington street, West Newton, at the corner of Rumford avenue, was blown to fragments in an explosion that shook buildings within a radius of a mile and scattered pieces of debris for hundreds of feet. Immediately following the explosion the ruins burst into intense flames and although the Newton and Waltham fire departments were quickly on the scene it was an hour later before the fire had been drowned out by thousands of gallons of water which were poured into the smoking mass. In the explosion and the resultant fire six persons lost their lives.

The building was owned by Frank Gorgone, who conducted a grocery store at 63 Lexington street. A second store at 65 Lexington street had been occupied until the first of this month by the Eastern Curtain Company, conducted by Timothy O'Callahan of Adams avenue, West Newton. Several weeks ago the curtain company moved to another location nearby on Rumford avenue. At 67 Lexington street was an entrance leading up to the second floor where Gorgone and his family resided. Gorgone and his wife had eight children: Grace 13, Carmella 11, Rose 10, Frances 9, Josephine, twins, 9 years old, Angeline 6, Helen 4, and Salvatore 10 months old. Rose Gorgone is visiting an aunt in New York. Those at home when the explosion occurred were Grace, the oldest child, who was a pupil in the Levi Warren Junior High School, Helen, and the baby. The first two were victims of the tragedy. The baby was rescued by the father. The other four girls were in school when the explosion happened.

When the explosion took place at 3:15 the large cement blocks forming the structure were blown out and fragments of the woodwork of the building were hurled for a long distance. The wide intersection of Lexington and River streets, commonly known as "Nightcap Corner" was littered with pieces of the buildings, fruits and groceries from Gorgone's store and bits of furniture. Windows in neighboring houses and in the store of Vincenzo Caterino across the street were shattered. Some of the stock on the shelves in Caterino's store was knocked off the shelves, a bottle hitting the proprietor and cutting his face. Frank Maloney, 13, the son of Patrolman Francis Maloney of 77 Lexington street, was crossing the street nearby carrying a bottle of milk. He was thrown to the ground and the bottle broken by a flying piece of metal. Automobiles at a considerable distance were lifted from the street, so terrific was the blast.

About a hundred yards away a large 5-ton truck of the Newton Street Department was dumping ashes on a vacant lot next to the Costello house. Rev. William T. O'Brien of St. Bernard's Church had just passed by the Gorgone building. When the explosion occurred the clergyman and the crew on the ash truck rushed to the scene. The city employees were Thomas DeZorrell of West street, No-namum, Thomas Shaughnessy and James English of Gardner street, Newton, and Peter Marchant of Pearl street, Newton. Marchant ran to-wards Fire Alarm Box 321 at River and Lexington streets and the others rushed to the building. They found that the walls had been blown out and the roof and floors had collapsed. Already the front of the building and the side next to a frame house at 71 Lexington street, occupied by Carl Pulsifer and family, belched flames. The second floor rear of the building had sagged down to the level of a garage owned by Gorgone and located immediately at the rear of the shattered structure. Pinned by debris here as he attempted to escape was Frank Gorgone, the owner of the building. Already he had been badly seared by the flames but he had managed to seize his 10 months old son and struggle to the edge of the collapsing structure before he was pinned down. DeZorrell and Shaughnessy climbed to the flat roof of the garage, lifted the wreckage holding down Gorgone, and released him. The latter, frantic with pain and excitement started to hurl the baby to the ground. As the city employees were rescuing Gorgone, Father O'Brien and English had climbed to the top of the garage and helped the others in restraining Gorgone from throwing the child down and in assisting to take the man to the street where he and the baby were rushed to the hospital in an automobile driven by Peter Haverly of River street, accompanied by Miss Ruth Ross, a district nurse, who happened to be nearby. As Gorgone was being rescued he shouted that his wife was in the building.

Upon the arrival of the firemen a number of streams were poured on the flaming ruins from which a huge column of smoke arose. Others of the firemen started in an endeavor to untangle the confused mass of wreckage. About 3:45 the mangled form of little Helen Gorgone was found under the debris at the very front of the building by Jim Bradley and Dick Coady of Ladder 3 and John Corcoran of Hose 6. About an hour later two bodies were recovered. The first was badly charred; it was later identified as that of Thomas Gorgone of Waltham, a brother of Mrs. Gorgone, and the father of five children. The second body was that of Grace Gorgone, 13, an attractive girl, unusually large for her age. At 6:30 the remains of Mrs. Gorgone were found.

Shortly after 5 p. m. Agent Fred Russell of the Board of Health arrived at the scene of the explosion and inquired of bystanders if anyone had seen Leonard Jackson, Inspector in the Health Department. Jackson was supposed to have been back at the Board of Health office in City Hall at 4 p. m. and when he had not arrived at 5 p. m., as the office closed, Agent Russell went to the scene of the explosion thinking that his colleague might be among the hundreds of spectators there. None of the persons mentioned by Mr. Russell had seen Jackson. When 5:45 o'clock came and Jackson had not returned either to his office or to his home, Russell began to have a premonition that the inspector might be a victim in the ruins. One of Jackson's duties was to visit grocery stores to get samples of milk. So Russell returned to the scene of the catastrophe and enlisting the assistance of a policeman started a search for Jackson's automobile. He soon found it parked near the destroyed building and he became convinced that this subordinate must have met death in the explosion. Mr. Russell acquainted the firemen with his fear. As Russell was talking with the firemen a body was found at 5:55. The body was taken to Cate's morgue and on it was found an Elk's card bearing Jackson's name.

Gorgone Had Court Record as Bootlegger

West Newton Man in Local And Superior Court Several Times

Francesco Gorgone of 67 Lexington street, West Newton, in whose premises the terrible disaster of Monday occurred had been in the Newton Court several times for violations of the liquor laws. On December 16, 1922, he was tried on the charge of illegally selling liquor and fined $50. On September 6, 1924, he was again found guilty in the Newton court of making an illegal sale of liquor, fined $100 and sentenced to three months in the House of Correction. He appealed and when tried at the Superior Court in Cambridge on Jan. 12, 1925, his case was placed on file after he had paid $100 for expenses. The plea was made that he was the father of seven children, his wife was in poor health, and he promised never again to violate the liquor laws in any way.

On October 29, 1925, after the police had been trying to snare Gorgone for a long time they finally caught him both illegally transporting liquor and making a sale. With this evidence in their possession they obtained a warrant to search his premises and in the garage at the rear of his house found a large still in operation. Many bottles, labels, and other articles used in liquor traffic were also found. A week later Gorgone was tried in the Newton court on a number of charges and was found guilty on several counts. For illegally transporting liquor he was sentenced to one month in the House of Correction. For keeping and exposing intoxicating liquor for sale he was fined $250. For manufacturing liquor illegally he was fined $500 by Judge Weston and sentenced to serve six months in the House of Correction. He appealed on all these fines and sentences.

As a result of these appeals he was tried before the Superior Court at Cambridge on March 1, 1926. On the charge of illegally transporting liquor he pleaded guilty and on the recommendation of the officer who had arrested him he was placed on probation and charged $25 for expenses. On the charge of keeping and exposing liquor for sale he was fined $325. On the charge of illegally manufacturing liquor for which he had been fined $500 and sentenced to serve six months in jail by the judge in the Newton court, there was a directed verdict of "not guilty" by order of the judge who heard the case.

Gorgone, who is a native of Messina, Sicily, is 36 years of age and has resided in Newton for 23 years. He had worked at the trade of carpentering and also conducted a small grocery store in the building which was destroyed. The maiden name of his wife, who was killed in the disaster was also Gorgone, and she, too, was a native of Messina. When Gorgone's place was raided in 1925 and the still found in his garage, he claimed that he had rented the garage to others and did not know the use to which it had been put. But the fact that the still was heated by a pipe running from a steam heater in the cellar of Gorgone's building caused him to be found guilty in the Newton court.

According to information given the Waltham police the still and vats which were found in the cellar of Gorgone's ruined building had been stored previously in a yard on Prospect street, that city. It is supposed that they were taken to the cellar in the Lexington street structure within the past few weeks and there put together. It is reported that the oil burner for the heater which was attached to the still in Gorgone's building was taken into the place only about a week before the explosion occurred. A person who passed the building a few minutes before the blast smelled a strong odor of alcohol coming from the building. The person who was in Gorgone's store just before the holocaust also smelled the fumes of the liquor.

Again Move To Annex Newton To Boston

Bill Filed in Legislature To Put Fire And Police Departments Under Hub Head

Another one of the frequent attempts to annex Newton and many other suburbs to Boston was given a hearing at the State House on Wednesday when a bill was discussed which was presented by Representative Martin Hays of Allston at the instigation of William J. MacDonald, a well known real estate promoter of Boston. This bill would have the police and fire departments of towns and cities in Greater Boston consolidated with the Boston fire and police departments and the chiefs of the suburban forces would become subordinates of the Boston chiefs. Those behind this bill averred that it is not intended as a step towards actual annexation, but it merely seeks to give Boston its proper standing as this country's fourth largest city.

Undoubtedly this bill will meet with united opposition from the representatives from Newton in the Legislature as well as from the representatives of the other communities which would be affected. A method can be found to acquaint the country at large with the fact that Metropolitan Boston has nearly 2,000,000 of persons residing within its confines without annexing any of our suburbs to the larger city. Possibly a few of the surrounding places may desire annexation. Certainly Newton, Brookline and many other places do not want any part in annexation schemes, even if limited to police and fire departments. After observing the condition of streets in most of the residential sections of Boston, the lack of civility in the collection of ashes and garbage in that city, the stories told by persons seeking building and other permits there, few residents of Newton would care to see this city become part of Boston with the resultant deterioration which would inevitably follow.

Spain's Goal in Over-Time Session Wins

Arlington Defeated 3 to 2 In Hockey Yesterday at Auburndale

Yesterday afternoon at Ware's Cove the Newton high school hockey team won its sixth straight interscholastic league victory of the season when Frank Spain caged the deciding tally in an overtime period of a hard fought game with Arlington high to bring a 3 to 2 win for the orange and black outfit. Newton has but one remaining league contest to be played in the preliminary round series that being the game with Rindge, one period of which was played on poor ice at Russell field two weeks ago. The game was then called off with Newton leading 2 to 1 because of the poor ice. This game will probably be played the early part of next week.

In yesterday's game the Newton six apparently had the game won in the first period when Captain Jimmy Brown and Spain each registered tallies while holding the visitors scoreless. Brown counted on a try just outside the defence while Spain counted on a pass from Gilligan after the latter by clever stickwork in a scrimmage lasting several minutes cleared the puck and passed it to Newton's star centre, Joe.

After getting their 2 to 1 lead the Newton stick wielders led down and in the second period were caught by surprise when Captain Arthur Lane of Arlington and his left wing, Snow, each caged the puck. Snow counted first after hooking the rubber at mid-defence and outskating the Newton defence while Captain Lane, a minute later, emerged from a scrimmage with the puck in his possession and after dribbling towards the goal drove it past Harrington for the tying count. The third period was scoreless.

In the overtime session Spain obtained the rubber at mid-defence and beat Manning, Arlington goalie, with a fast and accurate shot from outside the defence.

TWO ALARM FIRE AT NEWTONVILLE

The Newton Fire Department has had a strenuous time within the past week. Following the "still" fires at Oak Hill last Friday morning and at West Newton on Monday, another "two alarm" fire occurred on Tuesday afternoon when Box 23 called the firemen to the Morse Block at Newtonville where an overheated flue pipe from the heater in the cellar at 795 Washington street caused a blaze which mushroomed rapidly and for some minutes threatened the building. Deputy Chief "Bert" Boothby lead a crew from Engine 4 into the smoke-filled cellar and by clever and courageous work checked the flames which were licking up towards the first floor. Considerable damage was done to the woodwork in the cellars occupied by R. D. Brewer as a battery station and R. H. James' plumbing shop. The thick smoke forced employees of the Mid-Desex & Boston from the offices on the second floor of the building.

WHIST PARTY

Leonard D. Jackson Laid To Rest With Impressive Military Service

City Officials and Large Delegations From Elks And Legion Post Attend Funeral Yesterday Afternoon

Leonard D. Jackson of 445 Crafts street, West Newton, inspector for the Newton Board of Health, met his death in the performance of his duty as a result of the terrific explosion in the Gorgone building on Lexington street, West Newton, on Monday afternoon. A couple of minutes before the tragedy occurred Jackson entered Gorgone's grocery store to obtain a sample of milk for testing. Less than three hours later his torn and charred remains were tenderly lifted from the cellar of the ruined structure.

Leonard D. Jackson was a direct descendant of John Jackson, the first permanent white settler in what is now the city of Newton. John Jackson, who was a native of the Parish of Steppner, London, England, bought 18 acres of land and a dwelling in "Cambridge Village" in 1639 from Miles Ives of Watertown. This house was located on the Roxbury road, now Washington street about at what is now the Brighton line. John Jackson and his descendants for nearly three centuries played most important parts in the development of this city, and Leonard D. Jackson, son of Frank A. and Elizabeth Jackson, in his short life of thirty years proved himself a worthy scion of Newton's earliest settlers. A graduate of the Newton schools, Leonard D. Jackson in 1917, although under the draft age, enlisted as a volunteer in the army of this country for military service in the World War. He was assigned to the medical branch of the army but he did not go overseas as he had expected to upon enlisting. He was sent first to Camp Upton in New York and later was transferred to a camp in Illinois where he met the young woman who later became his wife, Ethel Ebby of Shannon, Illinois.

After being mustered out of the army in 1919 he returned to Newton and shortly afterwards was appointed inspector in the Health Department of this city. For eight years he served in this capacity faithfully and intelligently. A gentleman at all times, unusually considerate of others, treating all with whom he came in contact with respect, he soon became extremely popular with the officials and employees at City Hall, and for some years had been the recognized leader in all movements organized by these employees. An office associate of Mr. Jackson's said the day after his death "In all the eight years Leonard Jackson has worked here, I have never heard him utter a profane or vulgar remark."

Leonard Jackson did not receive from the city of Newton a salary commensurate with the service he rendered; but this fact did not deter him from doing his best at all times. Two years ago while in the performance of his duty he contracted a serious illness and for many weeks he was a patient at the Newton Hospital with his life hanging in the balance. The heavy expense which this sickness incurred was borne by Mr. Jackson. He was not reimbursed by the city.

Mr. Jackson had been an enthusiastic member of Newton Post, American Legion, since its formation. He had also been prominently identified with Newton Lodge of Elks and last year was elected Esteemed Lecturing Elk of this Lodge. Nearly 150 members of Newton Lodge of Elks went in a body to the late home of the deceased on Wednesday night and paid tribute to their late brother while the officers of the Lodge headed by Exalted Ruler

LEONARD D. JACKSON

Robert Vachon conducted the ritual of that order. The funeral of Leonard D. Jackson, held yesterday afternoon, was one of the most impressive manifestations of public esteem ever witnessed in Newton. Long before the funeral cortege arrived from the Jackson homestead at 2:30 the Lincoln Park Baptist Church was crowded to capacity. The large delegations from Newton Post, American Legion, and Newton Lodge of Elks had difficulty in finding even standing room in the church. Hundreds stood outside on Washington street while the services were being conducted.

The Legion members formed two long lines from Washington street to the church door and as the flag-covered casket was borne into the church they saluted their dead comrade's remains. The pallbearers were C. Raymond Cabot, Edward Edmonds, Levi Libby, Julius Ramm, Sinclair Weeks, Frank Wilcox, Paul Kent, all of Newton Post, and Francis Ryan of Cambridge Post, an intimate friend of the dead man. The services opened with an organ prelude followed by a reading from the Psalms by Rev. Fred B. Ford, pastor of the church. Rev. Herbert E. McCombie, Chaplain of Newton Post, gave a scriptural reading, and prayer was then offered by Rev. Mr. Ford. The Weber Quartet sang "Lead Kindly Light," following which an eloquent memorial address was delivered by Rev. Mr. McCombie in which he extolled the Christian virtues, the patriotism, the devotion to duty of Leonard Jackson. After the quartet had sung "Crossing the Bar," Rev. Mr. McCombie gave the benediction.

The cortege proceeded along Washington and Walnut streets to Newton Cemetery. The funeral car was preceded by a firing squad from Company C, 101st Infantry and over 100 members of the American Legion, headed by Commander Donald Hill of Newton Post. Several automobiles were needed to carry the profusion of beautiful pieces. As the exercises were being conducted at Newton Cemetery, an airplane piloted by Lieut. Robert Nagle of Newtonville slowly circled overhead. After the remains had been lowered into the grave the customary "three volleys" were fired by the squad under the command of Serg. Cleary and "Taps" were sounded by Bugler Boudrot.

City Hall was closed yesterday afternoon and every official and employee attended the funeral. Among the hundreds in the church were Mayor Childs and many members of the Board of Aldermen. Flags on all public buildings in the city were at half-mast between Tuesday morning and Thursday evening as a token of respect to Mr. Jackson.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

BROOKLINE GETS BREAKS TO LEAD IN FIRST MEET

The first of the two dual meets between Newton and Brookline high school track teams held at Newtonville last Saturday furnished some surprising and unexpected winners with the visitors getting a number of breaks to enable them to take the lead by a score of 42 to 35. Prior to the meet Brookline's chances were considered slim but incompetent judging in the dash, inability of Newton's second best shotputter to equal his practice marks, and an unfortunate tumble by Romaine Cole in the relay race gave Coach Hines leads the edge. For three years the two schools have held two indoor meets, one at Newtonville and the other at Brookline, the school scoring the greatest total of points in the two meets deciding the winner. Tomorrow Coach Enoch will take his runners and field event men over to the Wealthy Town team's track in an effort to win. The orange and black athletes must win by more than seven points to annex the victory.

In the meet at Newtonville Saturday the first event was the hurdles in which the three finalists were Captain Eugene Record of Brookline and Romaine Cole and Edgar Warren of Newton. As many local fans expected Cole breezed home the winner by a margin of nearly a yard over the Brookline leader, who is rated as a sterling performer over the barriers. Warren was third.

The finalists in the dash were Romaine and Fowler Cole of Newton and Chandler Hagenburger, Dick Werner, John Badaracco and Melvin Linsky of Brookline. Badaracco won with Linsky picked for second and Fowler Cole third. Romaine Cole, who was right behind Badaracco and a clear second, had been missed entirely by the judges, who, strange as it may seem, were in a poor position to select the finishers. This was the first break for Brookline.

Considerable discussion arose following the 600-yard run, the next event, which was scored as a clean sweep for Brookline with Record, Werner and Rogers finishing in that order. Captain Malcolm Reed, Newton's best entry in this event, was bumped and jostled around during the race several times while attempting to pass his rivals. For the greater part of the race the Newton runner was in third place but was nipped at the tape by Rogers. After the race Newton's claim that Reed was fouled was disallowed by the referee on the ground that the position of the men in the race did not change at the time the alleged foul was made.

Kinrade of Newton won the broad jump as was expected with Prince of Brookline taking second and Fine of Newton third. The respective distances of the point winners were 9 ft. 10 1/2 in., 9 ft. 8 1/4 in., 9 ft. 3 1/4 in.

The 300-yard run was called in three heats with the three best times to count in the point division. In the first heat Fowler Cole was pitted against the Brookline iron man, Eugene Record. The red-headed Brookline star and Cole ran a beautiful race in 38 3/5 seconds with the Newton lad breaking the tape inches ahead of his rival. Badaracco of Brookline fell on the second lap of the second heat which Earlring Bearisto of Newton won in 37 1/5 seconds. The third heat saw Nathan Pearson of Newton and Freedom of Brookline as the trans. Pearson literally ran away with his rival and was clocked in 37 seconds flat. Fowler Cole thus took first with Record second and Pearson third.

Gatchell's toss of 42 ft. 8 1/2 inches in the shot put was a first for the event. Carl Pescosolito, who made a mark of over 38 feet the previous week in the Brookline meet, was not up to form allowing Redmun and Fink of Brookline to finish second and third with puts of 37 ft. 11 inches and 37 feet 8 inches respectively.

With Brookline now leading 39 to 24 Coach Enoch allowed Gatchell to enter the 1000-yard run in an effort to place. As was expected Jimmie McCrudden walked away with the event by over half a lap in 2 min. 31 2/5 seconds. Gatchell stuck right behind the Newton star for three-fourths of the race but the pace was too great for him. Gatchell gave all he had to complete the race but Jewett and Rogers of Brookline passed him as he stumbled and fell on the next to the last lap.

Edward Eberhane won the high jump with a leap of 5 ft. 9 in. One of Brookline took second an inch lower while Kollmyer of Newton placed third with a leap of 5 ft. 6 in. Brookline was now but two points ahead with the relay race yet to be run. Newton's fastest four, Romaine Cole, Fowler Cole, Nathan Pearson and Malcolm Reed, went to the line against John Badaracco, Richard Werner, Edwin Beck and Chandler Hagenburger. Badaracco had the pole as he and Cole took off for the first bank. Cole being on the outside had to take the bank high and as he did so tripped and fell. By the time he had gotten back on his feet and into his stride again the Brookline lead-off man had a lead of twenty-five yards. Fowler Cole sped after Werner and made up five yards of lost distance before touching off Pearson. Pearson gained another five yards in back. With fifteen yards separating the two anchor men, Reed of Newton and Hagenburger of Brookline, it was a foregone conclusion that Brookline had won the race. But Reed, disappointed at the outcome of his earlier race, was determined to do his bit. Yard after yard he made up in the two laps to go and as he came down off the last bank he was less than two yards behind the Brookline man.

As was previously mentioned tomorrow Newton goes to Brookline for the second meet and with a chance of bringing home the bacon. Seven points is a small margin and unless the outdoor track used by the Brookline boys proves too much of handicap for the Should Newton get a second in the dash, second in the shot put and take the relay, which is by no means impossible and which is quite probable, it will give Newton the edge 46 to 31 for the day and 81 to 73 for the total in the two meets. Otherwise the results should be similar to last week's contest.

HOCKEY TEAM WINS THREE OUT OF FIVE

Milton Upsets Newton

Milton Academy defeated the Newton sextet Wednesday afternoon on the Milton rink, 3 to 1. Joe Gilligan, Newton right defense, scored the first goal of the game four minutes after the opening whistle. Cunningham, the period ended and put his team in the lead in the second session. In the third period Beale at right wing brought the Academy total to three while Wendell, Milton academy goalie, made many excellent stops of Newton shots. His work alone insured victory for Milton as Spain, Brown and Gilligan repeatedly stormed the outer defense.

Melrose Beaten in Rough Game

Tuesday afternoon the Newton and Melrose sextets at Melrose played off the game that had been postponed from earlier in the season when there was no ice with the Newton team coming out on top 3 to 1 in a rough and tumble sort of contest. It was Newton's fifth successive league victory and assures the orange and black team of a chance in the final series at the Arena later in the month. Captain Brown put Newton ahead right at the start taking a pass from Spain, who had opened up the Melrose defense, and caging the puck. From then on it was a royal battle until early in the period when Spain made a sole dash down the ice and slipped the disc into the net. The third goal was made by Gardner shortly afterwards on a short but well aimed drive from in front of the cage. Melrose's lone tally was driven in by Malhot on a pass from Keough in the last few minutes of play.

Exeter On Short End

Captain Jimmy Brown scored two goals Saturday against Captain Wilson Crosby's Exeter sextet to add another victory to the Newton high school hockey team's list. Captain Crosby put his team into the lead with a goal in the second period while Hawkes in the goal turned aside many Newton shots by Spain, Gilligan, and Brown. In the third period Brown slipped two past Hawkes to give Newton the victory.

B. C. Freshman In Second Win

For the second time this season the Boston College freshman won a victory at the expense of the orange and black outfit when the yearlings were on the long end of a 2 to 1 count at the Arena Friday night. The game was played as a preliminary to the Boston College-Holy Cross varsity contest. Pete Sanford, former Melrose high dash, and Johnny Temple, former Cambridge Latin star, counted for the winners while Captain Jimmy Brown's lone tally for Newton kept his team in the running until the final whistle.

Belmont Victim Thursday

Last week Thursday at Ware's Cove the Newton sextet turned back Coach Edgar Burkhardt's Belmont team in a league game 6 to 3. Spain counted twice for the orange and black with goals by Captain Brown, Joe Gilligan, Langdon Powers and William Bell bringing the total to six. Secor at centre for the Belmont team counted all three of his teams goals.

SPORT NOTES

Newton Centre Maintains Lead

The Newton Centre Squash Tennis team maintained its lead in the Class C series of the Mass. State Squash Racquets flight by turning back the Harvard Club last Saturday 4 to 1. The Newton Club team defeated the B. A. A. 3 to 2 on their own courts to hold eighth place.

PAYNE CAGES TWO BASKETS TO WIN FROM BEVERLY

Two goals by Norman Payne in the last few minutes of play turned a threatening defeat for the Newton high school basketball five into a sensation at 26 to 24 victory over the Beverly high team on the Newton floor Tuesday afternoon. The game was late in starting due to the delayed arrival of the Beverly five. At the end of the first quarter the visitors were leading 9 to 0 but excellent passing and several fine shots Donald Parker and Spencer deMille cut down Beverly's lead so that at half-time they were leading by the score of 14 to 11. In the third period Newton continued its spurt and when the whistle blew was leading 19 to 18. In the fourth period the Beverly quintet nosed ahead 23 to 22 until Payne got in his work while Beverly was being held to one point on a foul. Parker and Payne divided the honors for Newton while Quigley of Beverly was the high scorer of the game with eleven points on four goals from the floor and three on free tries.

This afternoon Coach Green's quintet takes on the Watertown High five on the Watertown floor and Monday afternoon will play at Cambridge where they meet the Cambridge High and Latin team in a return game. Next Wednesday Newton entertains the Needham high five in a return game on the local court. From then until the following Tuesday the team will enjoy a rest from interscholastic competition.

Everett Smears Newton 42-15

Last Friday afternoon the Newton high quintet went down to defeat at the hands of the fast Everett High School five on the Newton floor by a score of 42 to 15. "Buddie" Graffam and Jackie Fisher, Everett athletes who have figured prominently in various sport contests between the two schools, were the stars of the game. The Newton players could not cover the fast Graffam who caged eight goals from the floor and one on a free shot while Fisher tossed in four from the floor and three from the foul line. Fisher's accurate passing and clever footwork were a big aid to his teammates in running up the score. Donald Parker played well for the orange and black.

SPORT NOTES

Stubbs Leads Team To Victory

Frank Stubbs, Jr., centre on the New Prep school hockey team, lead his team to a 3 to 2 victory over the Andover academy at Andover last Saturday. The former Newton high star scored two goals and was instrumental in tallying the first point. His speed enabled him to get away from the Andover defence and only quick work on the part of the goalie prevented a larger score.

Osborne Breaks Exeter Record

The Exeter Academy swimming team of which Lloyd Osborne is a prominent member scored its third consecutive victory last Saturday afternoon by defeating Brookline high 38 to 26 in the Exeter pool. Osborne as usual won the 100-yard swim and took second in the 200-yard event to make him the individual star. His set of 58 4/5 seconds in the century set a new academy record.

Clausen On Winning Relay

At the K. of C. games last Saturday night at Mechanics Hall the B. A. A. relay team defeated Columbus Council, K. of C. of Brooklyn. Tom Clausen, former Newton high and Holy Cross star ran second for the Hub four.

Y. M. C. A. ATHLETIC NOTES

Quintet Tops Melrose

In a two-state league game on the local court last Saturday night the Newton five defeated the Melrose team, 40 to 35 in a hard and fast game. Arthur Kohler, Newton centre, was the high scorer of the game with 19 points. Donald Cunningham and Harry Gray each scored six points. Tomorrow night the squad goes to Gloucester where they will meet the Fishermen in another league affair. In its ten games of the season the local outfit which is being coached this year by Britt Bowner has lost but four league contests. Two of these were by Chelsea, once each by Melrose and Everett.

Boys Team Entertains Lowell

Tomorrow afternoon the boys basketball team will play the boys team of the Lowell association on the Newton floor. Under the direction of Assistant physical director Anderson the team has been playing a nice game.

Wrestlers Swamp Cambridge

Tuesday night on the Newton mats the wrestling team won all of four matches against the Cambridge Y. wrestlers. In the 135-lb. class Francis Cassidy won a decision over McCarty of Cambridge; in the 147-lb. class Joe Arsenault won by a fall in seven minutes over Macdonald of Cambridge; Joe Vachon won a decision over Jeness of Cambridge in the 160-lb. class as did Gus Carlson over Schaffer, the Cambridge entry, in the 175-lb. class. The four victories gave Newton the meet 14 to 0. Next Friday night at the Newton floor the team will wrestle the Lynn Y. team.

Y. M. C. A.

The talk by Dr. H. C. Spencer of Newton at the meeting of the Fellowship Club on January 30th was both interesting and practical. Dr. Spencer took for his subject, "Dentistry of Today," and told of the rapid growth of the profession during the last few years. He stated that dentists now usually specialize in some particular branch of the profession while years ago there were more general practitioners. At the close of the talk Dr. Spencer answered numerous questions regarding care of the teeth and said that the future generation will probably have better teeth than the present generation because of the fact that children in the Public Schools today are taught the proper care of the teeth and parents are taking them early in life to the dentists to remedy any defects.

The speaker next Monday evening, Feb. 6th, at the Fellowship Club will be Lieut. Reginald B. Thomas who is connected with the Boston Air Port. In view of the widespread interest which is being shown everywhere this year in aviation this talk by Lieut. Thomas we hope will be of great interest to many young men. We invite all who are interested to come to hear Lieut. Thomas who will begin speaking at 7 o'clock. Supper will be served at 6:30 for all who care to come.

The Board of Directors will meet on Tuesday evening, Feb. 7th. Among the new arrivals at the dormitory this week are Robert R. Baker, William J. Troupe, and W. G. Rice. A very interesting display of pictures of Camp Day and the trophies that the campers won last year are on display in Frank J. Perry's window on Washington street. An attractive machine has been placed in the window showing pictures of the camp and the Young Men's Christian Association.

Plot Block, opposite the Newton Railroad Station, which is now being torn down, housed the Y. M. C. A. from 1903 to 1911. Many boys and young men can remember the good times that they enjoyed in this building. Such outstanding features as the basketball game with Yale, the Waite Trophy Meets, relay races on the old board tracks, concerts by the Glee Club which was led by Mr. C. L. Ellison, Chess Club meetings led by Mr. Dyer, Sunday meetings for boys and young men in the small hall, and exciting games on the long shuffleboards, bring back pleasant memories of the good old days. It was in this building that the Association was organized on October 16, 1877.

During the month of December the record of attendance in the physical department alone was 4,327, an average of 155 a day. 719 different boys and men participated in the activities. 29 boys won the beginner's pins for swimming, 5 won swimmer's emblems, and many more increased their knowledge of swimming and life saving.

Boys' Division Notes

On Saturday, January 28th, about 65 members of the boys' division of the Newton Y. M. C. A. ate their lunches at the "Y" and afterwards went on a historical educational trip to the Charlestown Navy Yard. They saw the Old Frigate Constitution in the process of receiving repairs to preserve the old ship as a relic of earlier Colonial days. The boys also saw the Paulding, the ship that sunk the S-4. This, too, was in the process of receiving repairs. Submarine chasers, coast guard vessels, and other interesting vessels were seen by the boys.

On Saturday, Feb. 4th, about 30 boys went to South Boston to see the U. S. S. Lexington. A pass has been obtained to permit this group to go through the vessel. The Red Men's Clubs of the younger boys' classes are working in co-operation with the Physical Department on the 1900 Post Contest. The Club groups, and the groups that meet on the gym floor are the same, and in this way a great deal of interest is shown. There are four Clubs in the Junior A Class, two in the Cadets, and two in the Junior B Class. The Club leaders are all high school boys: John Simmonds, Buddy Muther, Howard Pierce, Gervon Crummett, and George Marsh.

The Junior Employed Boys' Square Club under the leadership of Mr. Abner H. Bailey has changed their meeting night to Wednesday when they can devote more time to Club activities. The Ebony Club consisting of the older employed boys have their weekly meetings on Saturday night. On Saturday night, Feb. 4th, this group is having H. P. Patey of Ginn and Co. give them a talk on the subject of "Baseball in Life." The Ebony Club is sending two delegates to the Eastern Massachusetts Employed Boys' Council held on Wednesday evening, Feb. 1st, at Cambridge under the direction of Mr. George Merriam, State Employed Boys' Secretary, and James Hardy of Quincy.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

How About It?

No matter what the Winter does in this month or the next, some folks are bound to have a kick. And this will be their text: "I might as well have had no skates, 'For all the use they've been, 'Whatever ice that now may form 'Will turn out thin and lean; 'Whatever snow we're going to have, 'An inch or half-a-dozen, 'Is bound to melt and run away 'Before we get our fun; 'It's disappointing, and I'm sore, 'Two months have been and fled 'We should have had a chance to skate 'Or coasting with our sleds." These folks can't see a pleasant side of what occurs in life.

When things go well they're sure to wall And yearn for storm and strife; They overlook or else can't see The truth that's known by some— The wisest man is he who takes All things as they may come.

A prominent State official recently said, "It would be a splendid thing if we could all speak the same language on the roads of Massachusetts!" He was talking about traffic signals at the time and his hope was for a uniform system for the benefit of all motorists.

There is little doubt that such a thing is possible. Just how far it can be made to extend I do not know. With the conflicting local problems there is a limit. I mean by that, have we any right to expect much more than a code of signals that will be as well understood in Orleans as in Great Barrington or then the policeman in the square at Gilbertville will use the same gestures for the same purpose as the traffic cop at the corner of Dorchester avenue and Broadway, South Boston?

I repeat my belief that this much is possible. It cannot be accomplished in a short space of time, but something can be started in this direction and before a year has passed a uniform code would be at least established.

It seems to me that it isn't asking too much of the police departments in Massachusetts cities and towns to agree on the system of "stop" and "go" and "right" and "left" gestures. The chief trouble a driver encounters nowadays is comprehending what the police officer has in his mind. That muddle is due to the individual policeman and nobody else.

One policeman will hold his arm up high where it is plainly visible to all drivers. His signals are made in a way that they cannot be misunderstood. Then you will find another traffic officer who holds his arms close to his body, make his signals by turning his wrists and leaves the driver nearly frantic trying to comprehend the big idea.

If the State will put through a scheme that will make definite the meaning of a policeman's signal no matter in what part of the State it is given, the motorists can afford to thank the ruling powers and congratulate themselves. How much further can this idea of uniformity be carried? Ah, that's the question.

A great deal is said these days about traffic experts. We used to hear a lot about efficiency experts. These latter, however, have blown up more or less. It doesn't follow that traffic experts belong in the same class, but there's no harm in mentioning them in the same paragraph.

For my part I have been unable to understand how a stranger can walk into a town and straighten out their traffic problems for them. He may have an amazing educational background, may know the ins and outs of every make of automobile, may be the holder of all kinds of degrees from technical schools and institutes, but how can he expect to grasp off-hand the mix-up in the square of a city which he has never seen before?

What does an out-of-town expert or semi-expert know of local conditions? Blue prints, diagrams and whatnot may serve as a basis for theories, but the practical working-out of a problem is quite another thing. It will always be impossible to get a perfect set of traffic rules, even in Newton where we have so many contributing ideas. Why pile on the complications by introducing somebody from the outside to make suggestions.

Who knows better than the policeman whose duty it is to stand all day directing vehicles? He can tell from which point comes the volume of traffic and at what hours. I don't say he is the one who should decide, but at least he should be consulted. But no, his superiors, heads of city departments and Aldermen, all join and convert an "expert" and then another set of rules is promulgated.

Still, we are no worse and no better than any other community in this respect and with time and patience may expect things will be straightened-out to nearly everybody's satisfaction.

I had in mind a few things to write about the Boston Elevated, but it is only fair that I should refrain. This, most anybody will agree, is the closed season for criticism of that road. The future of this venerable enterprise is the chief subject of concern for the executive and legislative departments of State government and far be it from me to venture any comment.

I am well aware that most everybody else has some ideas to offer. Many appeared at the hearings recently held at the State House. A good deal of invective was poured forth, together with quantity of constructive criticism. The situation, however, is a serious one and isn't to be dismissed, as are many other measures new before the General Court, with the passage of a simple bill.

As I see it the problem has many sides and all must be taken into consideration. More is involved than the mere question of whether the public control period should be extended or the road returned to private management. There are numerous features such as rapid transit development which cannot be ignored and which must be determined before the matter may be said to have been settled.

In Newton we see our own troubles more clearly than those of other sections. The mix-up at Governor Square, Boston, has proved to be a terrible handicap to the road and a burden and worse to the passengers that use the Commonwealth avenue and Lake street and the Newton and Watertown lines. And we are only one of several communities which are in a similar predicament.

I heard one man say, the other day, "I am going to tell them how to settle this Elevated problem." "You should be able to," replied the other, "you ride on the cars every day."

That was intended as a joke, but the truth is that many people have a silly notion that daily travel gives them knowledge. I say, let us as citizens leave it to the Governor and Legislature and hope for the best.

As it happens I am not one of those who favor the extermination of dogs and who feel that the present 90-day restraint law furnishes an opportunity to get rid of all of them. My sympathies are with the dogs but I try to maintain a judicial attitude in the situation with which we are confronted.

I personally witnessed the "capture" of a dog running at large and the experience convinced me that it is the dog owners and not the officials, or dog-haters or even the dogs themselves that are open to criticism.

This particular canine was of the sort commonly called a "police dog," but which I am informed are really German sheep dogs. However, he was a large fellow, playful and friendly. Yet he was plainly "lost." He had been running around Nonantum square and other streets, in that vicinity looking into the doorways and glancing at parked and moving automobiles. To anybody with understanding the animal was distressed because he could not find his master or mistress.

I can testify that the police officer was alert but reasonably that he knew the dog belonged to somebody and should have been restrained, but preferred to restore the dog to his owner rather than start the usual process of temporary restraint and impounding, to use the language of the statute.

But the dog, clearly a valuable animal, had no license plate on his collar and therefore his ownership could not be determined. Of course the police officer "arrested" him as a matter of duty. I for one do not see how an owner, who cared so little for his dog that he failed to have his collar provided with a license plate, has any kick coming. This poor, bewildered animal was better off in charge of the pound-keeper than dashing around the streets until somebody got an idea that he was suffering from rabies.

Again let me say that the blame of a great deal of this whole situation should be placed upon the indifferent dog-owner for that is where it belongs.

Facts and figures disclosed in last week's Graphic relating to the percentage of registered voters of the more prosperous sections of the city who went down to the polls in limousine at the city election last December, give pertinent and startling information as to the laxity of exercising the right of suffrage. That's news and will require a bit of explaining away.

From where I am sitting it would appear as if the wing-collars didn't care if the soft-collars do dictate who shall run the city government as long as they don't get hooked into it. Now then, what are we to do, if anything, to attract "class" to our polling places?

And why is it that some of our best citizens fail to grasp the importance of the privilege of every freeborn American to cast his vote? Is it all piffle to their way of thinking or are they just too busy? Possibly they have an idea that as heavy tax-payers they do enough to keep the community in running order. A sort of "We supply the money, you pick out somebody to spend it" policy, that is. Of course it may be that they feel that private business is far more important than public affairs. Well, I am not prepared to argue with them. Still, I believe that when any citizen waives his right to vote he also loses his privilege to criticize.

"THE ROAD TO PLENTY"

Dr. William Trufant Foster of Newton, director of the Pollak Foundation, is a co-author with Waddill Catchings in a book entitled "The Road to Plenty."

In three previous books, the authors discuss the causes of business progress and business depressions. They expound the Dilemma of Thrift. They show that sustained prosperity is not possible unless the shortage of consumer buying caused by savings and the uses of savings is made up, and more than made up, in some way.

What can be done about it? Is there any solution to the problem posed in Money, in Profits, and in Business Without a Buyer?

The Road to Plenty is one answer to that question.

In this book, the authors propose definite, practical, constructive measures. They advocate a plan which is at once radical and conservative, revolutionary and commonplace: a plan already approved by outstanding leaders in politics, in business, and in finance.

The plan is set forth in the form of a story—the story of a railroad journey. A Lawyer, a Professor, a Salesman, and a Congressman, who hear about the plan from a Business Man, are persuaded to do something about it by the Little Gray Man—a Thorn in the Flesh—and by his Comrade of the Quest, an Understanding Woman.

The book is published by Houghton Mifflin Co. at $2.00.

OLD LANDMARK DISAPPEARS

With the consummation this past week of the resale of the well known Bacon Estates on Washington street, Newton Corner, the last old landmark in the business district of Newton has disappeared. The old Bacon homestead has at last been demolished and work has started on the construction of what is to be Newton's most modern and largest business block. The property, comprising a lot area of 19,553 square feet, more or less, takes in the large site bounded by Washington street, Peabody street and Bacon street, and adjoining the Newton Community Theatre.

This parcel, which had been in the hands of the Bacon family for over a hundred years, was first sold about five months ago by the heirs of Benjamin F. Bacon to the Craigie Realty Trust, of which the executive trustees are Merrill C. Nutting and W. Mark Noble, Jr. Now John T. Burns and Sons, Inc., Newton brokers, report that they have sold the property for the Craigie Realty Trust, and the new owners have started their development project. The land, which has an assessed rating of $61,500, was sold for nearly three times its assessed value. The building, on which work has started, is to cost in the neighborhood of $200,000 exclusive of the land.

The Aetna Investment Corporation of Worcester are the developers, and already have negotiated many leases on the new structure and intend the completed building to be Newton Corner's most desirable up to date business parcel. It will contain stores on the first floor and offices on the second floor. As no new building has been erected in Newton Corner in the past thirty-five years that contains office space, there is a great demand for this feature, and there is no doubt but that the new project will be a huge success.

Widows, Retired School Teachers and Others

Many widows, retired school teachers and business women call at the Boston Better Business Bureau for information. The following plan is particularly adapted to these groups:

FIRST: Decide whether you want to invest or speculate—whether you want a reasonably safe and steady income or want to try to get rich overnight. Obviously the woman of moderate means, inexperienced in the financial field and dependent upon her own resources, cannot afford to take unnecessary risks.

SECOND: Adopt a definite investment plan—one best fitted to your purse and needs. Appoint an officer of your bank or responsible employees of a reputable brokerage firm as an unofficial committee to help you formulate and carry out your plan. These men will be glad to give you the benefit of their experience.

THIRD: When you have finally decided upon the course consistent with your ideas and needs, stick to it. In any event do not let some suave scheming stock operator get the better of your good judgment. Find out if his proposition fits your plans, not his.

FOURTH: If you want the facts regarding any doubtful security offering, call on the Boston Better Business Bureau. The Bureau's services are free.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

COMING EVENTS

Newton Federation

The event of the week of importance to the largest number of Newton Clubwomen is placed first in the column regardless of calendar date.

The Mid-winter meeting of the Newton Federation, which has as its program according to an unwritten law matters pertaining to Legislation, will occur at 2:30 p. m. on Friday, February 10th, at the Unitarian Parish House, West Newton. The West Newton Women's Educational Club, with its president, Mrs. Fred M. Blanchard, giving the welcome, will play gracious hostess, and extends a most cordial invitation to the Clubwomen of Newton to attend. The meeting will be turned over to Mrs. J. Porter Russell, Federation president, who will then preside.

The address of the afternoon will be given by Hon. B. Loring Young, Mr. Young is a past president of the Massachusetts House of Representatives, a prominent Boston attorney, and a member of the New England Council for Investigating Industrial Conditions. Mr. Young has the reputation of being always a pleasant and eloquent speaker, and he will talk interestingly on the important, and fascinatingly entitled subject "New England, Whither Bound?"

Musical will be furnished by the Choral Clubs of the Newton Federation.

The music will be under the direction of Mrs. Thomas D. Ginn, who is the musical director of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club Chorus.

The program will be followed by a social hour when tea will be served. This is always a pleasant opportunity for the women coming from the various sections of Newton to see one another and to renew friendships, and is welcomed as such in these days when many social functions are impossible of attendance with interesting work in the world to do.

State Federation

MID-WINTER MEETING. Credentials have been issued for the delegates to the Mid-winter meeting which will be held at Everett, in the High School building on Broadway, on Friday, February 24th. The morning session opens at 10 o'clock; the afternoon session at 1:45. Luncheon tickets must be obtained before Monday, February 20th. Self-addressed, stamped envelope, and check for $1.00, should be sent to Mrs. Raymond Calpin, 39 Pleasant street, Everett.

The entire program planned for this Legislative meeting will be given later, but it includes an address by Attorney General Reading on "Law Enforcement," and a discussion of "Pending Legislation" by Mrs. Susan W. Fitzgerald, and Hon. John C. Hull at the morning session, and an address on "Education for Citizenship," by President Roscoe W. Thatcher of Amherst, in the afternoon.

The big question as to endorsement or non-endorsement of legislative bills by the State Federation as a whole will be voted upon, and it has been requested that the delegates be sent instructed as to the majority wishes of the Clubs they represent. Only in this way can the matter be settled in fairness to the personnel of the State membership, and the actual opinion of some prominent members, high in State affairs—not to mention the less honest diplomatic playing of politics to please, by being on the side which can bestow favors and honors, so attaining Club ambitions at the expense of honor and principle although it is to be hoped such cases would be rare.

May the real opinion of the majority of Massachusetts Clubwomen prevail! And that it may, let each Club president secure the vote of her Club before February 24th.

RADIO. Once more Mrs. Leon E. White, Radio director, has accomplished her stupendous task of weekly securing of program of interest to Clubwomen in the State. Only those who have had to plan such tasks appreciate the patience, effort, time, thought, and unselfishness this entails, and they only can appreciate the appointments, discouragements, criticisms, and unkindness that has to be overcome by an ever-friendly spirit.

That Mrs. White loves her work is the thing that makes it possible for her to achieve it each week. Club women may express a bit of their appreciation by listening in, and by saying a kindly word of praise where it can be said, for after all, it is the word of understanding, of praise, and of friendship, that warms the heart, and lights the burden.

Mrs. Carl L. Watson, Sixth District director—inimitable story teller, and popular theas as public speaker at dinners and the like—will broadcast next Wednesday, February 8th, at WNAC, at 10:30 o'clock, a dialogue entitled "Heard Over The Teacups." (We wish she would tell the sick Chinaman story, although even then there would be missing the delightful mimicry of slanting eyes, and hands crossed upon the stomach.)

A ten-minute period of songs is to be given by Marion Kingsbury, Soprano, accompanied by Susan Ellis, at 10:40 o'clock.

Mrs. Hubbard B. Mansfield, president of the Kosmos Club, Wakefield, may be heard at 10:50 in a talk on "The Use of Leisure" and at 11:30, Mrs. Alden R. Taylor, guest speaker for May Dickinson Kimball's Mothercraft department, will tell about "Free School Clinics."

Shakespeare Club

On Saturday, February 4th, the Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands meets with the secretary, Mrs. W. E. Moore, 55 Hillside road, where they will enjoy a review and Quiz on the third act of "King John." Miss Mary L. Sweeney, who was to have had charge of the program is unable on account of illness, and it will be taken over by Mrs. Mary C. Blake, more, who kindly volunteered to fill the breach.

Waban Woman's Club

Mrs. Anna Tillinghast will be the speaker for the meeting of the Waban Woman's Club, on Monday, February 6th. Her topic will be "The High and Low Lights of Immigration." As Mrs. Tillinghast is U. S. Commissioner of Immigration for the Port of Boston, she is sure to have some very interesting experiences to tell. The meeting is under the auspices of the Legislative Committee, Mrs. A. C. Perkins, chairman.

Miss Eunice Avery has chosen "American Politics" as her subject for the next Current Events lecture, to be given on Friday, February 10th, in the Union Church at 2:45 p. m. The opportunity for this topic pictures should make the lecture well attended.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

"May your Birthday be showered with wishes so true
That they'll flood the whole year with great joy for you;
A rainbow of promise to shine o'er your head
To brighten each way wherever you tread."

Newton Upper Falls will celebrate its ninth birthday Monday evening, February 6th, in the Emerson School Club rooms, with a costume party at which members only are allowed. Club members, whether in costume or not, are urged to come, and make merry. There'll be a spelling match, a Virginia reel, community singing and for a finishing touch, refreshments.

With such amusement promised, members ought to need no urging to attend. And while "outsiders" may regret the "closed door" and in an attitude of sour grapes sniff "selfish," the very fact that the party is for members only augurs well for the merriment and enjoyment that only real friends dare share.

Newtonville Woman's Club

"The Three R's of Home-Making" will be the subject of Mrs. Harry A. Burnham's talk at the next regular Club meeting on February 7th. Mrs. Burnham is chairman of the division of Home Making, in the Department of the American Home, in the General Federation of Women's Clubs, and a speaker and writer on all subjects pertaining to home.

Mrs. J. Porter Russell, president of the Newton Federation, will be a guest of honor, and Mrs. Julius Andrews, woman member of the Governor's Council, will speak on the work of this executive body.

A cordial invitation is extended to the chairmen throughout the city of the Federated Clubs, whose subject is allied with the American Home, to attend this meeting.

The Glee Club will sing and tea will be served with Mrs. Joseph C. Atkinson and Mrs. Henry J. Barringer as hostesses.

Plans for the Fashion Show are going on apace. The morning clinics promise to be most interesting. Experiments from Filene's will give individual advice and will not be rebuilt, to dress the hair, the type of clothes, and the colors you should wear.

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

Legislative matters are to occupy the attention of members at the meeting, Tuesday, February 7th, with Mrs. Albert Mackintosh, chairman of the Legislative Committee, in charge of the program. The speaker of the day is to be Mrs. Anna C. M. Tillinghast, United States Commissioner of Immigration for the Port of Boston, who will talk on "Immigration and its Problems." Preceding the address, Mrs. Mackintosh will give a resume of the bills now pending at the State House, and the Club Chorus is to sing for the first time this season.

Miss Marion O. Whitcomb, chairman of the Dramatics Committee, announces that tickets for the annual play, to be given February 21st, will be on sale at the meeting.

Instead of the local entertainment usually arranged each year by the Philanthropic Committee, Mrs. G. G. Sherman has introduced an innovation this winter, and members will go to Needham for the annual event. Arrangements have been made with the Needham Theatre whereby Friday evening, the 10th, is to be set aside for "Newton Highlands Night," and 400 seats in the house reserved for the local contingent. One of Gene Stratton-Porter's stories is to be pictured that evening, and as proof that the innovation is meeting with popular approval, Mrs. Sherman, the chairman of arrangements, reports that nearly all the tickets are already sold. The support of such groups, and especially from Women's Clubs, should do more to bring to our local moving picture houses the best and most worthwhile in current moving pictures than any amount of criticism from small committees to local management or to the producers. So that besides an evening of enjoyment, and financial gain something else of good is accomplished.

Social Science Club

"Roger Bacon" will be the subject of Mrs. Hayward P. Rolfe's paper on Wednesday, February 8th. The hostesses will be Mrs. James E. Clark and Miss Marion Stone.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

On Wednesday, February 8th, from 10:15 to 11:30 a. m., the fourth Informal Talk, arranged by the Education Committee will be held. The subject: "What to See, Hear, and Read," relating to current Art Exhibitions, Plays, Concerts, and Books, will be discussed by Mrs. W. Cornell Appleton, Mrs. Everett W. Varney, Mrs. Arthur B. Hitchcock, and Mrs. E. Ray Speare. There is no admission fee.

On Thursday morning, February 9th, at 10:30, Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, gives her fourth lecture of the season on "Current Events."

Newton Community Club

The next meeting of the Newton Community Club will be held on February 9th at the usual time and place, Mrs. Forbes-Robertson Hale will speak on "Clothes and Manners, The Frame on the Picture." Mrs. Hale is well known as an actress, author, and lecturer in England as well as in this country.

It will be interesting—quite aside from the usual feminine interest in all matters pertaining to clothes, at least—to see in just what measure the English viewpoint will color what she has to say. American common sense has drawn away in many respects from the parent land, and among these may be the standard of what constitutes the height of good manners, and the high light of smart dressing.

During the business meeting a most important presentation for all Club members to hear on the question of endorsement and non-endorsement of bills by the State Federation will be made. The positive side of the argument will be presented by Mrs. Willard Woodbury, and the negative by Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr., Legislative chairman for Newton Federation.

The last paper talk is being given today, February 3rd, by Mrs. James A. Moyer, of 382 Kenrick street. These have been greatly enjoyed, and have given much valuable information.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

The Home Economics Class of this Club will hold its next luncheon on Thursday, February 9th, at 1 o'clock in the Unitarian Parish House. There will be moving pictures at three o'clock on "the manufacture of sugar and tea" and also the "development of the manufacture of flour." All Club members are invited to the lecture.

The regular meeting of this Club will be on Friday, February 10th, at 2:30 in the Unitarian Parish House, at which meeting this Club will be hostess to the Newton Federation. The guests will furnish the program, which will be an address entitled: "New England, Whither Bound," by Hon. Benjamin Loring Young. There will be music and tea.

FRANCONIA NOTCH. An appeal comes from our own Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge, chairman of Conservation, that the Clubwomen of Newton may be glad to heed, in fact, they should rally to the support of one of whom we are locally proud, and to the rescue of the project for which she appeals. Her statement to the press, issued at Newton January 26th, follows:

Franconia Notch is in danger of despoliation. Upon 6,000 acres owned and cared for for many years by the Profile and Flume Hotels Company, lumber companies have estimated the timber with a view to sending it to the saw mill. Now that the hotels have burned down and will not be rebuilt, it is natural that the splendid timber, untouched for fifty years, should be tract furniture and paper makers.

There are spots that should be held sacred for recreation and scientific purposes. Vagon hubs are often made of elm timber, but we do not cut our most beautiful trees in our streets in order to make wagon hubs, and so we should not permit to be cut off the forest surrounding the famous Profile, the "Great Stone Face" made famous by Nathaniel Hawthorne, James Russell Lowell, David Henry Thoreau and Daniel Webster.

An effort is being made by the Women's Club of New Hampshire, in cooperation with the Society for Protection of New Hampshire Forests, to save the Notch from destructive lumbering. The present owners will dispossess of the entire property for $400,000, plus two years' continued use of the concessions in the Notch during 1928 and 1929. Of this sum, the legislature of New Hampshire has appropriated $200,000, a sum equal to a contribution of 50c from every man, woman and child in that state. The heirs of the late James J. Storrow of Boston have made available $100,000 for this purchase, following a memorandum in Mr. Storrow's will. The remaining $100,000 is being raised by popular subscription.

Mr. John S. Lawrence of the New England Council and Ex-Mayor Andrew J. Peters, President of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, have in (Continued on Page 10)

QUALITY AT LOW COST

Y. W. C. A.

The Newton Y. W. C. A. has received $2712.75 to date for their maintenance fund. This has been sent by former contributors in response to the letter sent out early in January. At the present time an approach is being made to new friends in many of the villages in Newton. A second letter will be sent shortly to former contributors who have not responded to our first appeal because it is vitally necessary that the entire $9400 be raised this year.

The Blue Triangle meeting next Monday night will be at the rooms as usual. Supper will be served at 5.30 followed by a brief business meeting. Mrs. Harry Huntington Powers is giving her fourth lecture on the appreciation of art and the members of her group are eagerly looking forward to the evening.

Tuesday evening the gymnasium class started its second semester with the attendance and enthusiasm. Any who have not yet joined this group are encouraged to do so at once that full afternoon.

benefit may be derived from the classes.

Through the courtesy of the Methodist Church our girls are being invited to the lecture Friday evening to be given in that church by Miss Margaret Slattery. The senior High School group are omitting their meeting at this time in order to attend Miss Slattery's talk.

The monthly meeting of the Board of Directors will be held Wednesday, February 8th, at 2.30 at the home of Mrs. Harry Huntington Powers. A full attendance of the Board is greatly desired.

At the last regular meeting of the Board of Directors, Mrs. Harry Huntington Powers was elected president, Mrs. Henry Ingraham Harriman, vice-president, Mrs. Samuel Noyes Braman, Secretary, Miss Miriam Drury, treasurer. At this meeting it also seemed advisable for the president at least, to change the time of the board meetings from the third Wednesday to the second Wednesday of each month. The next meeting will therefore be February 8th, and as a further innovation it will be held from 2.30 to 4.00 in the afternoon. Further discussion of the time of meetings will occur at this time.

The Blue Triangle Club of the Newton Y. W. C. A. will present two comedies, "The Vanishing Princess" and "Not Quite Such a Goose," at eight o'clock on the evenings of Friday and Saturday, February 17th and 18th. The chairman of the play committee is Mrs. Effie Nagel. Dancing will follow. Further information may be obtained at the office of the Y. W. C. A.

LASELL SEMINARY

On Thursday evening, February 2, Dr. and Mrs. Winslow were at home to a number of the students and their friends. During the evening the guests repaired to the chapel where they were entertained by Mr. Alessandro Niccoli, violinist, and Mrs. Ethel Walcott Ross, soprano.

On Wednesday and Saturday of this week a number of the students of Lasell Seminary attended Grand Opera in Boston.

Dr. Elmer Leslie, Dean of the School of Religious Education, Boston University, will be the speaker at the vespers service on Sunday afternoon, February 5.

Miss Nellie Wright of the home economics department, represented Lasell at the Lasell Club luncheon in Philadelphia, on Friday, January 27. She was also the guest of the New York City Lasell Club on Saturday, January 28. Large numbers of Lasell graduates attended both of these luncheons.

Miss Dorothy Finken of Westfield, N. J., was chosen Queen of the Lasell Carnival at the Masque Ball on Friday evening last.

One hundred Lasell students will go on the annual White Mountain trip which is scheduled for February 10-13. This is under the direction of Mr. Bassett of Haverhill. The students of the Chamberlain School of Boston will join the Lasell students at Intervale, N. H.

BACHRACH ASSOCIATES

The Bachrach Associates held their annual meeting Wednesday evening, February 1, at the Studio in Newton to elect officers for the coming year.

Nearly 300 were present. Division managers from Cleveland, Philadelphia, Albany and New York as well as members from nearby studios attended. Those elected were: President, Edouard J. Lizotte; Vice-President, Clifford A. Onemus; Secretary, Frederick Daniels; Treasurer, Thomas J. Stevenson.

The following four members were added to the executive committee for a term of two years: Miss Margaret E. Keefe, Miss Kenyon McGrath, Mr. Robert F. Cushing, Miss Beulah S. Tilton.

Mr. Roy F. Bergengren of Boston, director of the Credit Union National Extension Bureau, gave a very interesting talk on the advantages of a credit union. Dancing and a bridge party terminated the evening.

RE-ELECT GEO. P. BROPHY AS PRES.

The annual meeting of the West Newton Business Men's Association was held Monday evening in the hall of the First National Bank Building with a good attendance. President George P. Brophy presided. The evening was given over to the consideration of reports, election of officers and committees for the coming year, and discussions of various matters of special interest to the business men of that village. The election of officers for 1928 resulted as follows: President, George P. Brophy; first vice president, John E. Riley; 2nd vice president, Chauncey A. Stimes; 3rd vice president, Max Kravitz; 4th vice president, Joseph E. Rooney; treasurer, William M. Cahill, and secretary, C. C. Mowry. Harry E. Raymond was chairman of the nominating committee.

An informal report was submitted by the secretary reviewing the activities of the first year of the association. Mention was made of the four successful merchandising events conducted by the merchants committee, of which Max Kravitz is chairman. These included dollar days on March 19, and June 11, a Harvest Sale in September, and a three-day sale during the current month. It was voted to conduct another sale in March of this year with the following committee in charge: Max Kravitz, Chairman, Joseph B. Davis, Charles Z. Erdman, Jr., Sidney Litchman, Harry F. Raymond, and William E. Tomlinson.

Those present reviewed the interest and activities of the association during the past year in connection with such questions as the widening of Elm street, the proposed new moving picture theatre, and the development of a uniform summer half-day closing schedule during July and August. The association held six meetings, a banquet in May, and a political rally prior to the recent city election, when candidates discussed matters of special interest to West Newton. President Brophy commented interestingly on various activities and indicated several matters in which he believed the association should take an active interest during the coming year.

The association went on record as favoring changes in the building laws to encourage erection of apartment houses in the business districts. It was voted to give more attention to the social features during the coming year and plans adopted in connection with the meetings in February and March. Six applications for membership were accepted following which President Brophy outlined plans for further development of the membership and appointed Harry E. Raymond to serve as chairman of the membership committee.

OAK HILL VILLAGE SALE

A well-built Colonial house with two-car garage and 15,000 square feet of land located at 500 Dedham street, Newton Centre, opposite the Charles River Country Club has been sold to Albert G. Potter. The property was built by John F. Griffin Co. of Boston, widely-known constructors. The estate is valued at $26,000.

Three lots of land situated on Croftdale road, Newton Centre, have been sold to John F. Griffin Co. for Albert G. Potter. This parcel is surrounded by an exclusive neighborhood among the homes. There are 10,000 square feet in the tract valued at $16,000.

Nathan Stiles has just completed an attractive English brick house in his Westminister Park development, which he has built for Samuel R. MacKillop of Allston. It is situated on a prominent knoll at the upper end of the development and commands an excellent view of the entire section. Mr. MacKillop has just moved into his home. The property is valued at about $17,000.

On the vacant land at 1175 Washington street, West Newton, formerly belonging to the Stuart-Marshall Realty Co., The C. G. Howes Co., dry cleaners of Allston, are starting to erect an unusual branch store for the purpose of giving better service to their Newton customers. The building will be of brick and stucco, resembling an English type house. The front sales room, approximately 30 feet by 18 feet will be a living-room style of room with appropriate fittings. The building will be complete in about two months and open for business.

Alvord Bros. were the brokers in these transactions.

ALVIN R. BAILEY ILL

Alvin R. Bailey, one of Newton's oldest and best known residents, was taken to the Newton Hospital Monday morning ill with pneumonia. Mr. Bailey, who is 83 years old and a veteran of the Civil War, has been residing at 166 Tremont street. He has been prominently identified with the Hunnewell Club of Newton and the Appalachian Club. Other occupants of the house where Mr. Bailey resides were not at home on Monday, having been called out of the city because of the illness of a relative. On Monday morning Dr. Davenport, who has been Mr. Bailey's physician, telephoned his residence to inquire as to the latter's health. Receiving no answer, Dr. Davenport went to the house and upon entering discovered Mr. Bailey ill with pneumonia. He is reported as resting comfortably at the hospital.

GIRL SCOUTS

The Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross is giving two courses in Home Nursing and First Aid to the Newton Girl Scouts. These courses are open to members of the Senior Troops and will meet at the Girl Scout Headquarters on Wednesday and Friday afternoons. Each course is thirty hours long and will cover the material required for five merit badges: Home Nursing, First Aid, Health, Winner, Health Guardian, and Child Nurse. Each class is limited to fifteen members and already there are many names on the waiting list for each group.

Thirty-five Newton Girl Scouts who had been delegates to the Girls Conference in Arlington this month, met together at the Girl Scout Headquarters last Thursday to talk over the conference and compare notes. Ethel Richards of Troop 14, Waban, acted as chairman in the absence of Jane McGregor of Troop 10. The meeting was very successful and all the girls went back to their troops with many new ideas. Plans for a Senior Patrol Leaders Association were formed and troop problems were discussed.

All the lieutenants and 25 Girl Scouts from Troops 1 and 22 Newtonville as well as about 25 girls from other parts of the city went to the skating party given by the Girl Scouts of the Boston Council at the Arena on Friday last. The ice was crowded with Girl Scouts from all the Boston Metropolitan district and they spent a wonderful afternoon skating together and watching exhibition skating by well-known amateurs. One of these was Suzanne Davis of Waban National Amateur Champion and a former member of Troop 4 Waban.

Troop 14 Waban, held its third birthday party at the Union Church on Friday evening, January 27th. The party was in charge of the Red Wing Patrol with Phyllis Reinhardt, patrol leader. A fine banquet was served at six thirty o'clock, for members of the troop and many old girls who returned for the occasion. After dinner the Red Wings gave a clever stunt show, which was followed by the Virginia Reel and singing. Elsie Stephen was chairman of the supper committee, Marion McEnery, of the decoration committee, and Katherine Argersinger of the clean up squad.

Members of the Newton Council were guests of the Newton Girl Scout Officers' Association at their monthly supper meeting at the Unitarian Church in West Newton on Wednesday evening, January 18th. Council officers present were Mrs. Raymond Collins of Newton Highlands, deputy commissioner for Newton, Miss Sarah Hackett of Newtonville, chairman of the camping committee, and Mrs. Tyne of West Newton representative at large. Troop committees of Newtonville, Newton Centre, Waban, West Newton, Nonantum, Upper Falls, Auburndale, and Newton Highlands were represented by their chairmen or other members. Miss Edith Sinnott, director of Metropolitan Boston, was the guest of honor.

A fine supper, which was prepared by the Waban officers, she conducted a most interesting question box. A few written questions were handed to her before the meeting and beside these, oral questions came to her thick and fast from the floor. Her answers were always clear and concise and everyone took from the meeting an increased knowledge of methods and procedure, as well as a more inspired idea of the Girl Scout program, its aim and ideals.

The second session of the Girl Scout Leaders' Training Course held in the Union Church in Waban began on Thursday morning, January 19th. Six meetings will be held and the work will cover tenderfoot work for new members, second class work for those who have passed their tenderfoot test, and troop management and group singing for everyone. Fifteen members were present from Waban, Newtonville, Newton Centre, Newton Highlands, and Newton. They were Mrs. Duncan Wright of Waban, the new Captain of Troop 24, Mrs. Albert Root, Mrs. Edward Wood, Mrs. H. Klotz, Mrs. R. P. Jones, Mrs. A. T. Soule, Mrs. D. C. White, Lieutenant in Troop 4, and Mrs. K. E. Mosser of Waban. Mrs. T. Buell of Wellesley Farms, Mrs. Bowman, chairman of the Newton Centre Troop Committee, Mrs. K. F. Mather, and Mrs. W. H. McCurdy of Newton Centre, Mrs. Edwin Smith, the new Captain of Troop 2, Newton, Mrs. Ralph Riddle of Newtonville, lieutenant in Troop 6,

The Troop Committee of Troops 2 and 20 of Newton are planning a bridge party for Friday evening, February 17th, at the Hunnewell Club. It is hoped that enough money will be raised to complete the Newton quota of the Girl Scout budget. Tables may be procured of Mrs. R. S. Hodges of any of the committee.

COMMONWEALTH COUNTRY CLUB

Last Friday evening, January 27, the first of three Club Assemblies was held at the Commonwealth Country Club, from 9 to 1 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Roger B. Tyler of Newton, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney B. Sargent of West Newton, Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand J. Blake of Newton Center, Mr. Charles E. Crane of Newton Center, Mr. and Mrs. Willard D. Pitcher of Allston, Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Stevens of Brookline and Mr. George S. Fuller of Brighton were the members of the Committee in charge of the affair. A very pleasant feature was the La Paradis Band which furnished the dance music the first half of the evening. This was rendered possible through the courtesy of Mr. Arthur L. Race of the Copley-Plaza, Boston.

On Monday afternoon, February 6, another club function will be held. This will be a Matinee Auction Bridge and will be under the direction of Mrs. Charles A. Durant of Newton and Mrs. Edgar F. Hathaway of Wellesley Hills. They will be assisted by Meses, George N. LaBonte, Lawrence B. Cubbison, David R. Goodin, Thomas V. Kelligrew, William J. Lavelle and Lester R. Smith.

SARAH HULL CHAPTER, D. R.

The annual meeting of Sarah Hull Chapter, D. R., will be held on Feb. 8th, 1928, at 10.30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. John G. Godding, 611 Centre street, Newton. After the business has been completed and the new officers elected, the Chapter will enjoy an informal luncheon together and are invited to spend the afternoon with Mrs. Godding and play bridge. This occasion will be one more of those wholly delightful days which Sarah Hull members so greatly enjoy.

LARGE FISH CAUGHT

Several Newton men returned last Friday from a three days' fishing trip at Lake Winnepesaukee where they enjoyed fishing through the ice. Included in the party were Frank Cook, Isaac Dillingham, Uriah Fogwill, Walter Moore, Frank Pope and William Skelton. Among the fish caught was a trout which weighed $3\frac{1}{2}$ pounds, this trophy being proudly displayed about West Newton by Mr. Fogwill.

EDITORIAL

In making a selection of delegates to the coming national convention of the Republican party, let us not forget the laudable effort now being made by Senator Borah to force the party to place a strong plank in the platform for the enforcement of the 18th amendment. The 13th district is "dry" and ought not to send any wet delegates to Kansas City next June.

General Francis Peabody may be a good lawyer, but the logical trend of his statement that it is not criminal to break the Volstead law, leads to the conclusion that any footpad who chooses to knock the General down and take his money, is also outside the criminal class.

Don't forget that the present law allows Sunday sports for which no admission fee is charged. The present attempt to authorize Sunday sports is merely to put dollars in the pockets of enterprising managers.

With the discovery of a still last week at Oak Hill, and the explosion of another this week on the Waltham line, Newton continues to be a "city on a circumference" for bootleggers.

It is a disgrace to a community like Newton that the life of such a fine young man as Mr. Leonard Jackson should be sacrificed to the greed and avarice of alien bootleggers.

MORE TRAFFIC SIGNALS

The Traffic Committee of the Board of Aldermen will recommend that three automatic signals of the General Electric Type be purchased by the city and installed at Newtonville Square, Newton Centre, at the intersection of Beacon and Centre streets, and at the intersection of Lexington street and Commonwealth avenue, Auburndale. These signals are known as "five way" signals and are expected to efficiently care for traffic direction at the three points mentioned. They will allow the traffic policemen now stationed at Newtonville and Newton Centre to be assigned to other work, except that at Newtonville a traffic officer will be on duty during the rush hours at Walnut and Washington streets.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

The present week has been a busy one on Beacon Hill. Many committee meetings have been held, some of them on subjects which brought out advocates on both sides of the questions.

Possibly the largest attendance was at the hearing on bills to allow admission fees for Sunday sports, at which considerable acrimony was manifested on both sides.

A hearing on the question of authorizing a referendum to the people of the state on the enforcement of prohibition was also full of bitterness on both sides, although it was admitted that the referendum was merely an expression of opinion and carried no definite action.

Newton was interested in a bill to allow the seizure of additional land at the triangle of Walnut, Homer streets and Commonwealth avenue for city purposes. City Solicitor Bartlett stated that legislation was needed to take 10,000 feet of land and three dwellings, at a probable cost of $80,000. The committee reported the bill immediately, and it is now on its way to be enacted.

Another hearing was held this week on the proposal to extend the West Roxbury parkway from its present terminus in Brookline, to the junction of Beacon street and Grant avenue in Newton Centre. This matter has been agitated for some years, and has been approved by the Metropolitan Planning Division, of which Mr. Henry I. Harriman is chairman. Mr. Harriman was at the hearing and submitted three plans for consideration. It is said that in view of the economy program of the Governor that favorable action this year is doubtful.

LEONARD D. JACKSON A MARTYR TO DUTY

Although Leonard D. Jackson endured weeks of physical agony in the illness he contracted two years ago in the employ of the city, although he was killed in the performance of his duty, it is a question whether or not his widow will receive compensation from the city as there is some doubt if a salaried employee, such as Mr. Jackson, was under the Workmen's Compensation Act. The City Hall employees in two days have raised a fund of nearly $1000 to present to Mr. Jackson's widow. Besides his widow, Leonard D. Jackson is survived by his father, Frank A. Jackson, his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth J. Jackson, and an aunt, Miss Martha Jackson.

A TRIBUTE TO THE LATE C. L. FAVINGER

At the annual meeting of the Bowdoin Alumni Association, which was held last week Wednesday at the University Club, Mr. Ripley L. Dana made the following remarks in tribute to the late president of the association, Mr. Charles L. Favinger of Waban:

At its annual meeting last year, this association re-elected as its president for this year Charles L. Favinger of the class of 1896. A few months later Mr. Favinger died. It seems to me appropriate for us tonight to pause for a moment and to recall a few of the incidents of Mr. Favinger's life.

Born and brought up in Delaware he went to Bowdoin, not because he had friends there, but because he believed in the small college and had received the education that Bowdoin had included in that small group of colleges which heads the list of the small colleges of the country. After graduating, in order to earn money with which to pay for an education in law, he taught school for four years. He then went to the Harvard Law School and was graduated in 1913. He went to work in the office of the firm which was counsel for the First National Bank of Boston, the largest banking institution in New England. In a few years he became a partner in that firm and as such had charge of important business matters. He interested himself in the questions of taxation, and as a tax expert led the First National Bank to a notable victory in sustaining its contention that for a number of years national banks in Massachusetts had been subject to an improper and over-heavy burden of local taxation. This victory carried with it marked professional recognition.

Mr. Favinger lived in Waban. In addition to his professional activities in Boston, he played his full part in the affairs of his local community. He represented his Ward in the Board of Aldermen of Newton. He was deeply interested in the affairs of his church, and had recently contributed generously in time and money to the raising of the necessary funds to build a new meeting house in Waban. He was active in the management of the Waban Community Club. It is often said that, in Boston, recognition rarely comes to one who is not a native of New England. At the time of his death—even though he was not a New Englander by birth—he had gained recognition in Boston, both as a lawyer and as a citizen. He was on the threshold of greater success. No Bowdoin man of his age in Boston had accomplished more or given greater promise of larger achievements in the future. He was a graduate of whom the college may well be proud, and a member whose loss this association will feel for years to come.

CITY HALL NEWS

City Solicitor Bartlett appeared before a legislative committee at the State House on Tuesday to advocate the bill presented by the City of Newton seeking authorization to take the balance of land in the "triangle" at Homer and Walnut streets for municipal purposes.

The snowstorm of last Sunday afforded employment to 69 of the city laborers who have been idle since December 28. Others of the 119 laid off would have been given a few days' work but they had obtained temporary employment in the meantime. This has been a "lean winter" for many of the city employees.

MOONSHINE PLANT EXPLODES

All during the night hours on Monday and early Tuesday morning the firemen removed the debris scattered by employees from the Newton Street Department. A crew of Water Department employees were kept busy pumping the water from the cellar and large flood-lights loaned by the Waltham Wire Department illuminated the grim scene. As the work of removing the debris progressed the cause of the terrible explosion was revealed. In the rear of the cellar of the Gorgone building on the side next to the Pulsifer house was a 500 gallon still. Between it and the front of the cellar were three 1000 gallon mash tanks. Curiously enough these three large wooden tanks were practically intact. The force of the explosion had passed over them. In the center of the cellar was an ordinary steam-heater such as is used in dwellings. Oil had been used to fuel it and the steam from it operated the big still. This heater had been torn from its foundation; its gauge registered 25 pounds. The maximum pressure allowed by law on this type of heater is 15 pounds; ordinarily the safety valves on such heaters "blow-off" at 5 or 10 pounds.

Early at the scene of the explosion were Walter Widger, expert on explosions, and Everett Shawway, Fire Inspector from State Fire Marshal Landon's office. Dennis Lorden of the Prohibition Enforcement force arrived later in the evening. Mr. Widger, before the still was uncovered, expressed the opinion that so great was the force of the explosion that no still unless of great size, could have caused it. He thought that the blast might have been produced by dynamite. Mr. Lorden ventured the opinion that an accumulation of illuminating gas in the cellar might be the cause of the explosion. Mr. Shawway and Mr. Widger on Tuesday gave a finding which is generally accepted as correct. Their contention is—"The excessive heat generated by the too high steam pressure caused an ever increasing amount of alcohol fumes to be diffused from the still into the cellar. Finally the cellar became filled with an atmosphere so impregnated with alcohol fumes that a highly explosive vapor was formed which was ignited by the burner in the steam heater when combustion density was reached."

In the early hours of Tuesday morning when the cellar had been nearly freed of water another body was found near the mash tanks. This body was later identified as that of Salvatore Lacava, 31, of 197 Lexington street, West Newton, a brother-in-law of Gorgone. Lacava was married and the father of two children.

BUSHNELL PROBING DISASTER, DISTRICT ATTORNEY SEEKS CAUSE OF EXPLOSION

District Attorney Robert T. Bushnell of Middlesex County, who has been doing nothing to ascertain what led to the explosion which resulted in the complete destruction of a large building and the loss of six lives. So many rumors have been current that Mr. Bushnell is going to add his efforts to those of the Newton police and the Federal Prohibition officials. According to some, who profess to know, Gorgone had incurred the enmity of rival bootleggers and the theory at first held by some of the experts who visited the scene on Monday that "dynamite or some other high explosive was the cause of the disaster" lent color to this contention. While it is generally accepted now that the explosion resulted from the operation of the huge still in the cellar, Mr. Bushnell will endeavor to ascertain, if possible, just what caused the blast, and who can be held guilty for killing the victims of it as well as the damage to surrounding property.

EXPLOSION VICTIMS BURIED

Mrs. Josephine Gorgone, 35, Grace Gorgone, 13, and Helen Gorgone, 4, wife and daughters of Francesco Gorgone of 67 Lexington street, Auburndale, and victims of the explosion and fire at that address on Monday afternoon, were buried yesterday morning. The funeral cortege started from the home of Salvatore Gorgone, the father of Francesco, at 109 Lexington street, and proceeded along River, Elm and Washington streets to St. Bernard's Church, headed by a band. A black funeral car carried a gray casket containing the remains of the mother, and two white hearse conveying the white caskets which held the remains of the two young victims came next in the sad procession. A large number of cars containing relatives and friends followed. St. Bernard's Church was crowded when Rev. William Dwyer started to celebrate a solemn requiem mass, assisted by Rev. M. J. Danahy as deacon and Rev. William O'Brien as sub-deacon. At the close of the mass Miss Agnes Cain sang "Pie Jesu."

Following the service at the church the cortege proceeded to Calvary Cemetery, Waltham, headed by the band playing mournful dirges. Rev. Fr. Danahy read the committal prayers at the cemetery. The bearers were Antonio Sardi, Domenico Olivo, Giuseppe Mancuso, Russell Risoli, Vincenzo Salpietro and Charles Masti-ton. A large number of floral pieces were carried in several cars.

Salvatore Lacava of 107 Lexington street, another victim of the explosion was buried yesterday morning. His requiem mass was held at the Sacred Heart Church, Waltham, Rev. Henri Cayo officiating. A delegation from Court Arragon served as bearers and burial was in Calvary Cemetery.

FALL KILLS AGED WOMAN

Mrs. Susanna Bryden, 85, of 7 Westbourne road, Newton Centre, died Tuesday following a fall on the floor of a room in her home, which fractured her hip. She was a native of Island Cove, Newfoundland. Her funeral service was held today and the remains were taken to West Pittston, Pennsylvania, for interment.

SCHOOL NOTES

Frank A. Day Junior High

Two more beautiful paintings in the Holy Grail series have been recently added to the library. These pictures, gifts of the three classes each year, are excellent reproductions of the famous Grail series in the Boston Public Library. All the pictures are hand colored and are purchased through the Curtis and Cameron Publishing Company, Boston. The school has every right to be proud of these pictures made possible only by the generosity of the students.

The Assembly last week was in charge of the girls of Div. VIII H assisted by the girls of VII E. The program opened with a trumpet solo played by Natalie Chase. Second, a cello solo by Ruth Andrews. Then followed the most delightful little pageant called "A Study in Colors." The theme of this had to do with the development of colors and their adaptability in dress, to different types of individuals. The characters were as follows: Question Mark, Barbara Killian; Red, Janet Greene; Blue, Evelyn Barker; Yellow, Mary Chambers; Black, Phyllis Swart; White, Nina Kemper; Gray, Lois Moore; Orange, Margaret Schrader, Violet, Carolyn Bassett, Green, Dorothy Schipper; Cream, Dorothea Pambookian; Pink, Fredede Littlefield; Light Blue, Barbara Handy; Lavender, Mary Graham; Grayed blue, Charlotte Klein; Grayed red, Rebecca Sherman; Grayed green, Barbara Midram; Grayed orange, Ruth Andrews; Grayed yellow, Margaret Caswell; Dark brown, Ruth Trowbridge. To represent each type the following were chosen: brunette, Natalie Chase; blond, Phyllis Starford; auburn haired, Ruth House. Miss Andrews deserves all the praise for this colorful spectacle which instructed as well as charmed the audience.

The program closed with a violin solo by Mary Chambers and a duet—violin and cello—by Mary Chambers and Ruth Andrews.

It is becoming more and more of a pleasure to come to school on Wednesday mornings, to cast aside books for the first period and to be entertained by the more talented members of our school, by well known speakers, or by a moving picture. Miss Kennedy and Miss Larcom share the honors for this week's assembly program which was as follows:

Two orchestra selections, Flower Queen, Castle Charns; Dance, The Old Man, Florence Madden, Dorothy Drew, Margaret McDermott, Margaret Antonellis; Trumpet Solo, Allan Whitehead; A Pantomime, The Goops, presented by the moving picture club, with the following cast: Stars, Carlene Dalton, Fredede Littlefield; reader, Barbara Midram; music, Edward Campbell. "And 999 years ago Aesop said 'Eat at your own table as you would eat at the table of a king.'" Harmonica duet, Douglas Sloane, William Walker. Stunts by the Girls Gym Club; cartwheel, Eskimo roll, elephant walk, acrobatic stunts, mermaid-god, Dance, Chinese Love Story, girl, Virginia Kenway, boy, Ruth Swanson; father, Miriam Payne.

Orders for class pins for the three classes have been sent in and it is hoped that they will soon be filled. Report cards were sent out Wednesday with marks covering the period between November 1927 and January 27, 1928.

New members for the second half of the school year are being elected by all classes to the Student Council and the Student Patrol.

Bigelow Junior High

The pupils of the Bigelow Junior High School were pleasantly entertained during the weekly Assembly period, with a program under the auspices of Mr. Spaulding, director of music in the Newton schools. The purpose of the program was to demonstrate the playing of a pedal harp, and acquaint the pupils with this rather unfamiliar instrument. Mr. Spaulding proposes to start a class in harp instruction, if enough pupils show a desire to learn. The demonstration was given by Miss Phinney and Miss Melvin, both of Oliver Ditson Co., who rendered an excellent program. Needless to say, the school was very much interested in the concert.

The various clubs have organized for the last half of the year under the direction of the teachers with the following officers:

Good Government Club—Beryl Hennigar, President; Alice Murphy, vice-president; George Smith, secretary; Thomas Higginson, treasurer.
 English Club—Matilda Simon, President; Alice Scofield, secretary.
 Travel Club—John Higgins, President; Mabelle Dexter, secretary.
 Dramatic Club—Vincent Murphy, President; Henrietta Wittens, treasurer; Phyllis Barker, secretary.
 Science Club—Joseph Carmody, President; Gilbert Ryerson, librarian.

Mason School

The Newton Grammar School Hockey League opened Thursday at the Crystal Lake Hockey Rink.

The Mason School, through the feature playing of Richard Kelley, easily defeated the Emerson School 7-1. The playing of Perkins and Houghton also stood out for the Mason, while De George and Geraci excelled for the Emerson. The line-up was as follows: Mason School—Perkins rw, Kelley c, Godbar lw, Houghton rd, Lyons ld, Keorcan lc, Emerson School—R. De George rw, H. De George lc, Geraci lw, Schonn rd, Boston ld, Geraci g. The score was Mason 7, Emerson 1. Goals made by Kelley 4, Perkins, Goodbar, Houghton and Geraci.

In the other league game, Hyde defeated Bigelow 9-3. McClellan of Hyde starred with seven goals, while McLean of Bigelow had three goals to his credit.

The crossing on Langley road between the Mason School and the Methodist Church is a very dangerous one for the children of this district. Langley road, at this point, is almost as much of a thoroughfare as it is at the corner of Centre street.

This crossing is guarded by the Safety Council members but there ought to be a policeman stationed there before and after school so that parents may know that their children are being cared for at this point.

Stearns School

The visit of Mr. Daniels, Supervisor of Drawing, to the Stearns School last week was greatly appreciated by the pupils in the rooms where he visited. In addition to the regular work in drawing some of the sixth grade pupils have been making graphs to illustrate some of the facts brought out in the discussion of the Safety First Campaign.

The pupils in Mr. Sears' sixth grade room sent a potted plant to their classmate, Bessie Ruffo, who is at the Newton Hospital recovering from a serious accident suffered a week ago. On Wednesday afternoon this same class visited the Peabody Museum at Harvard University in Cambridge.

In Mrs. Goddard's room the pupils have constructed on one of their sand tables a very complete and interesting map of the village of Nonantum. The map begins with a representation of the gasoline filling station at the juncture of California and Watertown streets. The two main thoroughfares of Watertown and California streets extend through to Adams street, with the various cross streets plainly marked. The markers at the corners of the intersecting streets were each made by a boy or girl who lives on that particular street. The Charles River with its winding curves is indicated by a long strip of blue cardboard. Sawdust is used to show the land around the various buildings. Prominent public buildings to be noted are the Fire Station and Stearns School. In fact the whole map represents a great amount of attention to the details of the district in which all of the pupils in the room have their residence.

Another interesting feature of this room is their model store. On the shelves of a case at the front of the room are to be found packages representing a wide variety of well-known brands of packaged goods. The empty cartons properly wrapped have been supplied through the courtesy of the producers of the different food products. The children in their arithmetic class are supplied with cardboard coins of large and small denominations. With this money they make their purchases at the store and then make up their practice problems from the actual purchases. This is a splendid illustration of the modern method of relating the classroom work with the life of the adult community outside.

The fourth and fifth grades of the Stearns School invited their mothers to visit the School on Wednesday afternoon, January 25th. At 2 p. m. in the Assembly Hall of the building the following program was presented to the visiting mothers. A play, "The Separation of Newton from Cambridge" was given by Miss Walker's room, recitations from Miss Roger's room, "For Common Things" and from Miss Smith's room a recitation entitled, "Billy's Awakening." Also a play by Miss Thurston's class entitled, "Who Says Six Year Molars?" interspersed in the previous numbers were soprano solos by Miss Beatrice Walker and a piano solo by Miss Lovely, and just to prove that the Junior High Schools are not alone in having talented instrumental players, the following boys gave solos on these instruments: piccolo, Jerry Morocco; harmonica, Raymond Bertram; and saxophone, Sam Maggazzu. All of these boys were from Miss Stoddard's class. This class also presented a mimetics drill. Refreshments were served at the close of the program.

A large attendance of boys made for an enthusiastic meeting of Troop 3, Boy Scouts, on Tuesday evening. Scout Master McLeod was assisted in the work of the evening by Senior Patrol Leader Louis Sabetti and by Committeeman Gibson. ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

The organization of the Chestnut Hill Improvement Society for the purpose of promoting general welfare and advancement of public improvements in that district is commendable. We would suggest to the officers and members of this new organization consideration of the figures printed in last week's Graphic showing the vote cast in the different precincts of Newton at the recent city election. In Precinct 3 of Ward 6, the Chestnut Hill precinct, only 36.3% of the registered voters showed enough interest in civic affairs to go to the polls. If residents of Chestnut Hill expect the city to show proper concern for that particular section of Newton, they should reciprocate and do their part by displaying at least enough interest in the matter of city government to vote at our municipal elections. We hope the new society will be able to induce Chestnut Hillites to vote.

The Columbia traffic lights, those flashing signals which have been installed at many street intersections in this city during the past year, while not artistic in appearance, have proven very effective. At dangerous street intersections, such as at Lowell avenue and Page road, and at Boylston and Parker streets, bad automobile accidents were of frequent occurrence prior to the installing of the signal lights. Since the lights were placed at these intersections, no accidents have occurred.

One prominent Newtonville citizen thought that these lights were not reliable. He based his opinion on the fact that one light at the corner of Lowell avenue and Otis street was frequently out of order. The other night this citizen learned why this light had not been functioning properly. Not because of defective mechanical equipment, as he had reasonably supposed. But, because a certain selfish person who resides near this traffic signal, believing that the light interfered somewhat with his auto receiving set, arrogated to himself the privilege of putting the light out of commission. The fact that this interference with the traffic signal might result in some serious accident did not deter the person tampering with it. Although the police became acquainted with the fact that someone had been tampering with the light, fortunately for the offender, his identity was not learned.

The City of Newton lost a faithful, efficient employee because of the recent death of Cornelius Darcy. For nearly 35 years Mr. Darcy had operated a steam roller for the street department. Possessed of a very genial disposition, Mr. Darcy radiated a good nature and his pleasant smile and merry greeting will be missed by many.

The building wreckers who are tearing down the Elliot Block are discovering that this structure was solidly built. No flimsy construction, typical of blocks built on speculation in more recent years will be found in the Elliot Block.

Now that Henry Ford has started to build "diver airplanes" what protection will we have in the near future against this coming popular form of transportation. Supposing one is walking along the street, or driving, and one of the thousands of "diver planes" travelling through the air falls down where you are walking or riding. Or supposing that one of these "diver planes" goes into a nose-dive or a tail spin and crashes onto the roof of your residence. Each of these little planes should be equipped with automatic parachute to serve as a brake.

The "news" that "600 city employees in Cambridge will be laid off from March 3 to March 31, and that during this period the city will be without a police force" is a very serious matter. The streets be cared for, because the finances of Cambridge have been exhausted owing to unwise management by department heads there, according to City Auditor Thurston, must cause great delight to the residents of the University City, who are faced with the accumulation of ashes and garbage for four weeks in March.

Registrar of Motor Vehicles Goodwin asks police chiefs to apprehend autoists who drive with number plates dirt covered or bent so as to be illegible. The Newton police should also "get after" autoists who drive with but one head-light in working order, or with the tail light on their car not lighted. There are many such cars being operated in this city.

RED CROSS BAGS

Under the direction of the Newton Chapter of the Red Cross Christmas Bags were sent in December to United States soldiers and sailors serving outside the United States. The following extracts from letters of thanks show how appreciative the recipients of these Christmas bags are:

"Rec'd a nice Xmas bag this morning from you, for which I thank you very much. Everything was just what I needed. I would appreciate it very much if you would write as I sure am a lonely soldier."

"Received your Christmas Bag through the Red Cross. Please accept my thanks. It's awfully nice to think that we are not wholly forgotten in the States."

"I appreciate your gift very much indeed and thank you very kindly for your kind heartedness."

"I was pleased to get the nice Christmas Bag from the Red Cross as it would have been a very dull Christmas for me if I had not received any presents. In fact soldiering in the States is very lonesome at the best."

"Your Christmas bag was such a great treat. It indeed lightened things and I thank you a thousand times over. With the blessings of God."

Each year Red Cross workers make about 100 of these bags, fill each with several suitable gifts, and send them to the servicemen who receive them. The Red Cross Christmas bag is the Christmas presents. Sometimes only gift that the soldier or sailor receives on Christmas Day.

WEST NEWTON COMMUNITY CENTER, INC.

We are all given to wondering about things, and perhaps this report may help make clear in your minds what activities are carried on at the West Newton Community Center, and the "Whys and wherefores" of these activities.

In order to give you a better conception of our work, I am dividing the year in two parts, January through May, and August through December, with a little bit of the theory of club and recreation work on which we are basing our programs this year.

Total attendance, not including Spring Rummage Sale in April 4860

During the first five months of the year, the club groups have had a program consisting of a business meeting, handwork, (crafts for the girls and women and sloyd for the boys) games and folk dancing.

In addition to these regular activities, special events have been scheduled, including "movies," whist parties, dances, socials, club parties, hikes, community nights, Americanization and Geography trips, baseball games, and club banquets, to say nothing of the Newton Central Council Luncheon meeting in January, the Spring Rummage Sale in April, and the Open Board Meeting in June.

In February a marked decrease was shown in the kindergarten registration and attendance, so it was decided to drive for new members to take the place of those who had left us to go to the public schools. This resulted in our having to close the registration when the group reached the maximum number of nineteen, having an average daily attendance of fourteen.

Several new groups were organized during this first period of the year, so that the regular activities consisted of six girls' clubs, four boys' clubs, three adult clubs, two adult craft classes, an Italian mothers' club, a cooking class, an Americanization class, Baby Clinic and Pre-Kinderergarten School. On Saturday mornings open house was held at the Center for any child who wished to attend.

August-December

After a four months' vacation period during which the Playground Department had the use of the Portable Club House, the Fall and Winter program opened October, 1927.

For two months previous to the Fall opening, the directors' time was employed in getting acquainted with the children as they came to the playground, making calls on the parents, and generally shaping plans and policies for the fall and winter work.

Registration in clubs and classes, but not including those children who came for activities for which membership is not required 188

The content of the club programs has been much the same as that carried on during the spring months, except that we have not placed as much stress perhaps on the business meetings as has been done in the past. The girls and women have completed many attractive articles in their handwork periods, such as underarm bags, painted handkerchiefs and scarfs, collar and cuffs, and Italian needlework of various types. The boys have concentrated their attention on model airplanes.

Special activities in the way of theatre parties, swimming and skating parties, Halloween and Christmas Socials, Hikes, a Candy Sale and Play, and a guest night for each of the adult groups have had their place in the club program.

Each club has planned its own business, social, and educational work with the help of the club leaders.

Two new activities have been added to our program this fall. Harmonica Club for boys, to which any boy may come whether or not he is a club member, and two girls' game and folk dancing groups. In this way an alternative activity is provided for those children who would like to come to the Center, but who do not desire to join a club.

This fall, under a new plan of club organization, each club group has a new leader, to whom the members are responsible, and who plans with the members their program of activities. We now have two volunteer club leaders, three playground workers, and two part-time paid boys' workers on our staff, in addition to the Director.

The Christmas Tree and Carol Service was a very simple one in comparison to the two previous celebrations, but it was a very effective method of bringing the Center before the public.

And now a little of the "whys and wherefores." We believe it is the opportunity to share with others of a like sharing ability the finest ideals and ideas one has. Therefore we are basing our year's work on clubs.

The group has a tremendous influence on the individual. Each child who comes to the Center has the problem of adjustment to make. Here the club leader steps in to help the child adjust to the group and the group to the child. So, from the Kindergarten School to the Adult Clubs, we are endeavoring to help the members solve their problems of

Pet Cat Made Model for Artist's Lioness

When Sir William Richmond, the artist, was a small boy his mother took him to St. Paul's cathedral to hear the singing, and he was disappointed because everything was so cold and colorless. He said to his mother suddenly, "Perhaps one day I shall decorate this place!" and we can imagine how she smiled at the thought of Willy coloring the walls with a box of chalks.

But the boy's dream came true, for somebody else thought with him that the interior of the cathedral needed color and decoration, and in 1890
Richmond, then a famous painter, was entrusted with the work of designing mosaics to cover the roof of the choir.

The westernmost of the three san-cledones in the choir vaults represents the Creation of the Beasts.
Richmond had a favorite cat which loved him so much that she used to attend him even while he had his bath, and when he got out she would crouch down and lick his great toe adoringly.

She was not beautiful or valuable, but the grace of her attitude so charmed the artist that he decided to use it in his great work. In a panel near the Creation of the Beasts there may be seen Adam between a lion and lionsess. The lions are so true to life that when they were shown to a Zulu chief he started and involuntarily raised his hand to stab. But the lionsess is really a little tame cat licking her master's foot.—London Times.

Good Definitions, but Not Dictionary Terms

Anyone can go to the dictionary for definitions, but in no dictionary will be found quite so good a definition of "gossip" as that given by a child who on being asked what the word meant said, "It's when nobody don't do nothing and somebody goes and tells about it."

Amid a collection of droll or witty definitions accumulated from time to time through newspaper reading, the following seem worthy of repetition:
"Dandy"—"a football for men and a punchbowl for women." "Snoring"—
"Sleeping out loud." "Bachelor"—"a man who has lost the opportunity of making some woman miserable." "Tyrant"—"one who kills worms lest they turn."

"Nothing"—"a bungalow without a barrel around it." "Truth"—"the only thing that can't be improved upon."
"Polite interest"—"listening to things you know all about, told by one who knows nothing about them." "Cannibal"—"one who loves his fellowmen."

"Caution"—"the dark lantern of enterprise." "Smiles"—"laughter's photographs."

—President Everett C. Herrick of the Newton Theological Institution will be the speaker at the Father and Sons night at the Baptist Church tonight.

—Miss Grace Allardice of Chestnut street, who was operated on last Saturday morning for appendicitis in the Bay State Hospital, Boston, is slowly recovering.

—Mrs. Frank Mordie and son Albert of Oak street were among those who enjoyed a concert by Rachmaninoff at Symphony Hall on Sunday afternoon, January 29, 1928.

—Mr. John H. Ryan of Chestnut street, who has been seriously ill with pneumonia, has passed the crisis in his illness and recovery is hoped for unless a relapse sets in.

—Business in the town is expected to prosper as the Saco Lowell Machine Company are transferring their connections from Lowell to the Newton Upper Falls factory.

—Friends of Miss Annette Keys of High street tendered her a surprise party last week in honor of her birthday. Miss Keys has been bed-ridden with cancer for some months.

—Miss Thelma Russell of Williams street attended the Charity Ball given by the International Geneva Association at Paul Revere Hall, Mechanics Building, on Monday evening, January 30, 1928.

—About 40 college students of forestry have been trimming the trees in the district during the past few weeks. Where the branches are obstructing the electric light wires, the trees have been clipped.

—Mrs. Edward Gormley of Pettes street celebrated her birthday anniversary Wednesday evening amongst many of her friends and relatives. Numerous useful and beautiful presents were presented to her.

—A still alarm was sounded Wednesday noon for a fire in the J. J. Coppinger filling station on Needham street. The bookkeeping office was quite destroyed. The damage is estimated at $50.

Newton Lower Falls

—Mr. John Moore of River street, died at the Newton Hospital on last Saturday as the result of injuries received when he was struck by an automobile after alighting from a street car on January 14th on Washington street, opposite Wales street. Mr. Moore was 58 years of age. He had been employed by the B. S. Hatch company, West Newton, for about 20 years. Funeral services were held at St. John's Church, Wellesley Hills, on Wednesday morning. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham. He is survived by his widow and several children.

POLICE NEWS

The local police and Federal officers are still investigating the fire at the barn of the Frederick Ayer estate on Nahant street, Oak Hill, last Friday morning. This blaze was caused by a large still which had been in operation at the place. The estate is now owned by Mrs. Katherine Merrill of Prides Crossing, daughter of the late Mr. Ayer. She had no knowledge of the use to which the barn had been put. The building was supposed to be unoccupied. In addition to the still 1500 gallons of mash was seized by prohibition officers who were notified by the Newton Police. It is expected a development will soon follow in this case.

Jeremiah Riley of East Central street, Natick was arrested at 2:34 Sunday morning by Sergeant Crowley and Patrolman Mooney charged with driving while under the influence of liquor. He will be tried today.

Henry C. Mossman, State Health inspector, is continuing his campaign against storekeepers in Newton who violate the food laws. In court on Tuesday he was the complainant against Louis Benzitti who conducts a store at 351 Watertown street, Nonantum.

Anna Bjorkland, 38, a domestic who was arrested about a week ago when she refused to leave the home of F. S. Parks at 399 Hammond street, Chestnut Hill, after she had been discharged by her employer, was in the Newton court on Wednesday morning charged with trespass. Following her arrest on January 22 the woman was sent to the Psychopathic Hospital for observation. She stated that her reason for refusing to leave the Parks' house was because she was not given a full week's pay, $15.30, instead of $14 for the two days she had worked at the house. Judge Frost placed her case on file on condition that she stay away from the Parks' home.

There may be some unlicensed dogs now on Bennington street, Newton, but it is quite doubtful. Last week a woman residing on that street appeared in the Newton court on the charge of keeping an unlicensed dog. Upon showing that she had procured a license for the animal on the same day she received the summons, her case was placed on file. Monday two other Bennington street residents appeared in court on similar charges.

Mrs. Nellie Eyre of 51 Bennington street was given a suspended fine of $5. Bernard Steverman of 52 Pennington street did not fare so well. Patrolman Dow testified that he had warned Steverman to get a license for his dog, so the judge fined the defendant $10.

Howard Hayford, 21 Walker street, Newtonville, was found guilty in the Newton Court last week on the charge of refusing to return furniture pawned to a company for whom he had acted as agent. Judge Bacon continued the case until February 8 and suggested that some agreement might be reached by Hayford and those who made the complaint against him.

NEWTON CHORAL SOCIETY

The Newton Choral Society met after its holiday vacation on Tuesday evening with a very good attendance. The new conductor, Mr. Malcolm Lang, was cordially welcomed, and much interest was felt in his very effective method of training. It was announced that all members who attend every rehearsal from now until the spring concert would receive a refund of the dues for the second half of the year, so that this portion of their training will cost them nothing.

Miss Lillian West who has been accompanying the society ever since its organization has resigned. Great regret is felt at her withdrawal from this office, as her faithful and talented work has been of great assistance to the society. Her place has been taken by Miss Mary Ingraham, a highly competent pianist.

The following new members were received Tuesday evening: Miss Eva Eagles, Newton Centre; Miss Nancy Conway, Beacon street; Mr. Ray C. Smith, Mrs. Charles W. Wilson, Mrs. Sarah Beamer, Mrs. George Campbell, Mr. George R. Brown, all of Auburndale; Miss Catherine Hodges, Newton; Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Dalton, Newtonville. Applicants who wish to join should come as soon as possible to the rehearsals held each Tuesday evening at 7:45, at Central Congregational church, Newtonville.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

Fate! Some persons scoff at the idea that such a thing is. And others, observing such incidents as the entrance into the doomed building at Lexington street on Monday of Leonard Jackson just before the explosion occurred, are positive that there is such a thing as fate.

If the citizens of Newton ever had occasion to show their appreciation of a faithful public servant, they have that occasion now. Leonard Jackson died in the performance of his duty—safeguarding the health of Newton. It is a question whether or not his widow will receive any compensation under the Workmen's Compensation Law. If not, it is the duty of this city, or its citizens, to take other means to make proper provision for the dependents of the young man killed at West Newton.

Our attention has been called to the house which is under construction at 41 Gardner street, corner of Jewett street, Newton. This house, a small single family dwelling, is being built partly on filled land which was 10 or 15 feet below the grade of the nearby street. It was filled in with ashes several years ago. Those who criticize the construction of the foundation of this house assert that the foundation, in the rear, has not been carried down to solid earth, as is usually compelled by the Building Department of Newton.

We called the attention of the Building Department to this criticism and we were informed that "the front part of the foundation of this building rests on solid ground. The rear rests on ashes which have become solidly packed, and pans three feet in width were specified to give added strength to the foundation walls there."

—Mrs. Dana M. Dutch had as guests over last week-end Mrs. Henry P. Dowst and daughter, Peggy, of Wintthrop, Me. They will be remembered very pleasantly as former residents of Waban.

—Bishop Truett, rector of the church of the Good Shepherd, hopes to be able to resume his duties after Easter. He and his family are spending the winter in Florida, due to the bishop's ill-health.

—At the recent annual meeting of the Dartmouth Alumni Association of Boston, Mr. Joseph W. Bartlett president and Mr. J. R. Chandler were elected a member of the nomination committee.

—Much enthusiasm is expressed by the members of Miss Eunice Avery's Current Events Class. The third lecture on "American Politics" will be held on Friday, February 10, at the Union Church.

—Mrs. Breck, formerly of Waban, now of Hampton court, entertained her luncheon bridge at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Clive of Clafin road, Brookline, on Monday last. Mrs. Clive won the first prize.

A special entertainment, delicious food, special bowling prizes and a seven-piece orchestra are some of the attractions offered the members of the Neighborhood Club, who attend the Annual Bowling Dinner on Saturday evening, February 11th.

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Association of the Union Church will be held on Wednesday, February 8, Sewing for the Green Memorial Hospital in Maneyap, Ceylon, will be in charge of Mrs. Edward N. Chase. This hospital is run by Dr. William J. Jamieson, who represents the Union Church on the foreign field.

About 150 people attended the Church Institute last Sunday evening at the Union Church. The men of Waban will be especially interested in the address to be given next Sunday evening by John Calder, Esq., Chairman of the Social Service Commission of the National Council of Congregational Churches. The public is cordially invited to attend the Assembly Period at 7:30, when Mr. Calder's address on "Religion and the World of Industry" will be given.

WOMAN'S ASSOCIATION OF CENTRAL CHURCH

An all day meeting was held Wednesday, February 1, beginning with handwork at ten o'clock directed by Mrs. A. E. Vose and Mrs. W. F. Warner. Luncheon was served. Mrs. Fred M. Blanchard, chairman. Mrs. Robert M. Kelley announced plans for a fair which will be held at the home of Mrs. Charles R. Lynde, April 13. Luncheon and afternoon tea will be served.

Mrs. Ernest Riggs of Turkey, daughter of Dr. Shepard of Almah, gave an illuminating talk on conditions as they had known them as a child and missionary. Mrs. Frank Wilson dressed as a Turkish woman demonstrated the wearing of the veil on the street and in the home. Costumes and customs were vividly illustrated by means of dolls; the water carrier with his containers made of Standard Oil cans; the teacher who was often priest and mullah were represented; the night watchman; the city and country women were all there. Belief in a capricious Allah has seriously affected the economic development of Turkey. There was no hope for science with its comforts and amenities in a land of fatalism. But Turkey has changed and new life has come to it. The work of the missionary is on a different basis—he must live his Christianity and depend on the "contagion" of his religion rather than on direct teaching and preaching. Though many of the institutions which formerly had but few contacts with the missionary teacher now come under his influence.

Mrs. Riggs paid a glowing tribute to the Armenians, their unselfishness and emphasis on spiritual values. It was Mrs. Riggs' mother who started those industries which have been so successful and have enriched our homes with their beautiful workmanship.

Suggestions Made On Proposed Boulevard

Citizen's Letter Contains Interesting Facts

To the Editor of the Graphic:

It may be of interest to have the following remarks about a recent House bill No. 438 of this year's Legislature calling for the laying out of a parkway or boulevard from a point at or near the Junction of Newton street in the Town of Brookline to the Junction of Glen road and Beacon street in Newton. Also that a sum of $20,000.00 be appropriated and spent from the Parks maintenance fund by the Metropolitan District Commission. The Bill refers to a plan on file at City Hall, Newton, showing the proposed project.

In 1908 the writer made a report to a committee of citizens of Newton and Brookline to connect the Northern Park system with the Southern Park system. The route was to start from the West Roxbury Parkway, then existing, and continue to Watertown including in the proposed taking the following landscape units that should be preserved for future use and pleasure:—

Saw Mill, Brook Meadow and Swamp, Lost Pond, Hammonds Pond, a gorge (now known as Edwards Park, a gift to the City of Newton) at the rear of the Colby estate (now owned by Mr. Harriman and Mr. Schrafft), then linking up Cabot Park over Jackson road to Boyd Park, Morses Pond to Charles River Reservation. Of this project the first portion is now in use from West Roxbury Parkway to Newton and Hammonds street, the portion from Hammonds street to Beacon street was secured and waits to be developed for a proper connection until this day. The effort to secure this land was the result of public spirited citizens, the then members of the legislature getting $10,000.00 appropriated for this purpose. Such men as the late Judge Robert R. Bishop, Richard M. Saltonstall, Frank L. Day, Montgomery Rollins, J. G. Wright and others now living were responsible for this present ownership, also with the gifts, I believe, of land to the Commonwealth by Mr. Ernest B. Dane and Mr. Edwin S. Webster. The amount of the appropriation was not sufficient to take in all the land needed.

The proposed plan of land taking is in line with the former plan and tends to make a better border road along this parkway, and is to be commended highly but the proposed outlets upon the plan are open to some constructive suggestions I believe as follows:

The Glen road to Beacon street is to be sure under a bridge on the B. & A. R. R. but joins Beacon street in a very unfortunate point. A blind turn on a side hill grade and the private property of such a nature that no connecting street could be secured at this point Northerly to Commonwealth avenue.

The Modoc road route over Langley road is open to the criticism that the grade is too steep (8 per cent at one spot). It will be a local street not Metropolitan, will bring additional congestion into Newton Centre Square which is now pretty well crowded and will be more so when the South side of Newton is developed, and it does not touch the main arteries of travel quickly enough.

The proposed line of taking is excellent and can connect with the land now owned by the Commonwealth opposite Hobart road. By building a bridge over the tracks at this point a short connection is made with Beacon street in an uncongested area.

This approach now is being filled gradually by dumping and can readily be seen from Beacon street. One side of this location has a high ledge foundation and the other is on the edge of a low area.

I understand that the proposed roadway is not intended to be traffic street, that it will be subject to the rules and regulations of the Parks division, only light vehicles, and that heavy traffic will need to be carried elsewhere.

I would suggest the following:—

1. That the appropriation be made for the land taking without defining the exact route; similar to the practice in the original Metropolitan Park Commission.

(They should be given some discretion in the matter and given time to consider the possible locations and re-

Reserve Police Force To Be Established

Chief Burke Explains Advantage Over Temporary Force

The Board of Aldermen on Monday night authorized the establishment of a reserve force of ten men for the Newton police department. This action was taken at the suggestion of Mayor Childs. Chief of Police Burke was in conference with the Finance Committee of the Aldermen on this matter, and after long deliberation the committee recommended the appropriation of $500 to provide for salaries for the start of this system.

Chief Burke explained to the Finance Committee that for some years he has appointed eleven temporary policemen from the list of those who took the civil service examinations for the police force. These temporary policemen substituted for the regular patrolmen during the vacation periods or whenever a regular policeman had to lay off because of illness. Under civil service rules a man's name is on the list of eligibles for two years after he passes the examination. Then, unless he again qualifies on a succeeding examination, his name is dropped. He may have stood well near the head of the list after one examination, and then following another examination his name may be near the bottom of the list of eligibles.

Because of this the temporary policemen were constantly changing and after men had become broken into the work and attained a degree of efficiency, it would be necessary to replace them with green men. Under the reserve system, once a man is appointed to the reserve police force, he holds that appointment, and in line of seniority is advanced to appointment as a regular policeman.

The pay of the temporary policemen in Newton has been $5 per day. The pay of the reserve policeman will be $4.50 per day, which is 14 cents less than the wages received by first-year regular policemen in this city. The reserve policemen will only serve as required but while serving they will be entitled to one day off in eight, the same as the regular policemen. The will also come under the provisions of the proposed pension system but they will not be entitled to annual vacations or sick leave.

port their findings after thorough investigation and proper hearings.)

2. That they should be instructed to see if the present location over the tracks provided by the first gift and purchase would not be better in the long run than any temporary expedient.

(It is well known that the effort in City Planning is to divert as much as possible through traffic away from the shopping district. If the original plan were adhered to there would be two East and West main highways to help take the load on vehicles. Beacon street and Commonwealth avenue a two way street. Thereby relieving Newton Centre Square which is destined to become a real civic center with the future growth and dense traffic.)

3. That the legislature should not try in any bill to define a route without absolute cost that can be determined in advance by proper engineering data rather than superficial information.

(The proper place to secure this data is through the established boards and engineering departments. It might be found that the supposed cost of the Railroad bridge was not such an insurmountable item when all the problems are considered of a Metropolitan highway or parkway for all time.)

I trust nothing will be done to set aside the plan of the former Park Commission who are responsible for the many beautiful parks and parkways now existing in the Metropolitan District and whose example should be emulated and followed.

Yours very truly,

HERBERT J. KELLAWAY.

Many Routine Matters Acted on By Aldermen

Mayor Childs Submits Several Appointments to Board

At the regular meeting of the aldermen on Monday night a permit was granted to Beatrice Gammons for a 3-car garage at 154 Harvard street, no objections appearing. When hearings were announced on the matter of drain improvements on Moffat, Lawmarissa, Fredena and Montclair roads, no persons appeared to protest. On the hearings for sewers in Edgell, Hammondswood and Intervale roads, Hazelwood avenue and Homestead street, the only persons to appear were P. P. Joyce and Vincent Squiers. Mr. Joyce appeared for his sister, Mrs. Helen Shinkwin of 124 Intervale road, who owns a triangular shaped lot with considerable frontages on two roads which would make her assessment from a frontage basis disproportionate. He asked that a fair adjustment be made. Mr. Squiers told of building many new houses in the neighborhood of Hammondswood road and the need of sewers there.

Hearings were assigned for the first meeting in March on the following petitions:—J. V. Monaghan & Sons, relocation of the gasoline station at the corner of Auburn and Washington streets to Washington street; Electric Rug Washing Company, permit for a 500 gallon tank for the storage of gasoline at 3 Bridge street; extension of non-conforming use of gasoline station of E. J. Monaghan estate at Washington and Auburn streets; Cashman & Ginsberg, gasoline filling station at 2285 Washington street, Lower Falls; Henry C. Bourne, gasoline filling station at 2268 Washington street, Lower Falls; Albert T. Stuart for a 50-car garage and filling station at 1149 Walnut street, Newton Highlands.

The Franchise and License Committee recommended the granting of permits to Stuart Chevrolet Company, 431 Washington street, and Clark Motor Sales Company, 26 Kempton place, to lead in second-hand motor vehicles; Salvatore DeLuca, 196 Adams street, and B. G. Adams, 214 Adams street, common victualer licenses. A common victualer's license was also granted to Dorothy Turnbull and Catherine Rauch at Lincoln street, Newton Highlands.

The Claims and Rules Committee recommended leave to withdraw on the petition of L. P. Kellogg for damages to his property because of a drain at the rear of the Levi Warren School. This claim was secured by the contractor who was responsible. The petitions of Sanford McLean and Mrs. Delia Leonard, presented to last year's Board, for changing two small parcels of land on Thornton street from residential to business zone, were also turned down by the committee. So were the petitions of Rose Lohan and Bernard Early for changes from residential to business zone of land at Lower Falls near Washington street and Quinebegun road. Chairman Baker of the committee stated that "this land is in a distinctly residential zone, it adjoins the Metropolitan Park Reservation, it is at the approach to the Lincoln new Wales street bridge; there is land in the business zone at Lower Falls yet not utilized for business purposes. This adverse report of the committee, which was accepted by the Board bodies ill for another petition received at Monday's meeting from the Wright-Webster Trust. This petition asks that "land on Washington street, between Waban avenue and Neshebe road be changed from residential to business zone."

The Claims and Rules Committee referred to the Finance Committee a claim of $450 from John E. Mulcahy for transportation of Company C, 101st Infantry to the rifle range of that outfit. Chairman Baker of the committee explained that this is a bill and not a claim, and so should be considered by the Finance Committee.

The Committee on Street Traffic recommended that leave to withdraw be given to the petitions of John Temperly for one-way traffic on Winter street, Upper Falls, and of Dr. W. J. McDonald for the prohibition of heavy automobile traffic on Hamlin road, Newton Centre. The committee recommended that Beacon street, at Centre street, Newton Centre, be widened in accordance with the plan submitted by the City Engineer. The committee also recommended that parking on Washington street in front of the Gas office be limited to 30 minutes; that parking on both sides of Centre place be prohibited from Washington street to opposite the new McLean block.

The Committee on Public Works recommended that leave to withdraw be given to Albert H. MacAuslan's petition for the construction of a culvert over the drain on Glen avenue. This committee passed favorably on an amendment to the ordinances of the city which specifies that no snow shall be thrown onto streets by persons, other than snow from sidewalks, except by special permit, and (Continued on page 6)

Newton Business Men Hear H. I. Harriman

Chairman of Planning Board Tells Of Traffic Problems

The monthly meeting of the Newton Business Associates was held last night at Vernon Court. Sixty-five members were present when President Harold Moore opened the meeting. Secretary Albert Walker gave a resume of the activities of the association for the past year.

The speaker of the evening was Henry I. Harriman of Newton, chairman of the Metropolitan Planning Division. Mr. Harriman gave an extended and very interesting talk on recent developments in the matter of planning and accomplishing relief for traffic in and around Boston. He gave the opinion that it is better to have the different communities in Greater Boston retain their separate forms of government rather than be merged into the big city but in many functions of government they must act as one unit. He told of the great advantage the Northern Artery has afforded to auto traffic and to from the North and East of Boston. But one year old, it already carries more traffic than Commonwealth avenue. The Southern Artery completed a few months ago, will provide much needed relief from the congested route through Milton and Quincy to the South Shore.

An extension of the Northern Artery will be made by the city of Boston to reach the North Station and the new arena. This will develop a section of Boston which has witnessed little progress. The plan to convert the Atlantic avenue elevated railway into an aerial highway which will have an extension by a viaduct over the Boston & Albany tracks to a new street paralleling the New Haven tracks, thence to the Back Bay, will aid greatly in solving the traffic congestion in downtown Boston. Missing links to connect existing main automobile highways will be built this year.

Mr. Harriman prophesied that within a few years a highway will be built along the Charles River to afford an uninterrupted rapid transit road to Newton from Boston and thence through Waltham to reach the main road to Worcester and the Mohawk trail. The congestion at Nonantum Square was mentioned by Mr. Harriman and he asked the business men present if they still are of the opinion that it will injure their business to have through traffic diverted from Newton Corner. He was told by the merchants that they now think it will be beneficial to have the traffic diverted.

Newton Swimmers Lose To Huntington School

Two New Records Set in Dual Meet

Yesterday afternoon in the Boston Y. M. C. A. swimming pool the Huntington School mermen defeated the Newton high natators, 44 to 18. The new school records were established by Huntington swimmers in the 100-yard freestyle and backstroke events. Huntington won first place in all of the seven events, the orange and black lads won four seconds and six thirds for their points. The summary:

100-Yard Backstroke—Won by Edward May, Huntington; James Redgate, Huntington, second; William Perry, Newton, third. Time, 1m. 11 4-5s.

ANOTHER "GENERAL ALARM" FIRE

Newton's record for multiple alarms was broken last week when three alarms of this type were sounded in the city. The first was for the Gorge explosion and fire at West Newton, the second for a fire in the Morse building at Newtonville. The third was last Sunday night for a blaze in the Lincoln Block on Lincoln street, Newton Highlands. This building has been the scene of several bad fires in past years. The fire was discovered by Patrolman George Mullen who saw smoke issuing from the building at 11:40 p. m.; he pulled Box 64. When Chief Randlett arrived the fire looked so threatening that he ordered a second alarm at 11:46 and a third at 12:05.

The fire, which started in a room on the second floor, was confined to that floor and the damage to the building was not heavy. Merchandise in stores on the street floor suffered from water and smoke. The cause of the fire is supposed to have been a smoldering cigar or cigarette butt.

Mayor To Name Third Man On Pension Board

Majority of Aldermen Prefer Appointment to Election

Chairman Baker of the Legislation Committee of the Aldermen made a report to the Board on Monday evening on a number of changes which had been made in the proposed retirement for employees of the City of Newton. Most of the changes were of a clarifying nature and did not materially affect the report as originally presented by ex-Alderman Benjamin S. Hinckley.

One important change was that which provides that the third member of the Retirement Board, controlling the system will be appointed by the Mayor from among the employees of the city, subject to confirmation by the Board of Aldermen. The original report read, "The management of the retirement system is hereby vested in a retirement board consisting of three members as follows:

(a) The comptroller of the City of Newton.

(b) One member to be appointed by the Mayor of the City of Newton, who shall serve for a term ending three years following the day when the system becomes first operative, and

(c) One member who shall be a member of the retirement system, and who shall be elected by the members of the retirement system to serve for a term ending one year following the date when the system becomes first operative.

Alderman Collins took issue with the committee in the change. He said, "Members of the retirement association should have full right to select one member of the board." Alderman Baker replied, "There will be serious difficulty in an election in determining who is eligible and in getting results. It is doubtful if a member of the system will be qualified to make investments of the funds." Alderman Heathcote remarked, "Inasmuch as the employees will contribute half of the funds in the retirement system they should have the right to elect one member." Alderman Fitts stated, "The employees might be better satisfied to have their representative appointed by the Mayor after the different classes of employees would confer with him." Mr. Fitts suggested that President Moriarty of the City Employees' Union, who was present in the aldermanic chamber, be asked to give his opinion. Mr. Moriarty said that, "In my opinion the city employees will be better satisfied to have their member elected by themselves rather than appointed by the Mayor."

Alderman Earle agreed with Mr. Baker that the appointment of the third member by the Mayor will be preferable to an election. He remarked that in an election the employees of the Street Department would dominate because of their numbers. Alderman Noone favored the change because it will assure the third member being kept in office longer and thus the employees will enjoy the benefit of a more experienced representative. A vote was then taken on this amendment and the report of the committee carried. Those voting in favor were: Bail, Baker, Earle, Fitts, Hawkins, Holbrook, Noone, Pratt, Temperly and Woodcock. Those voting against the change were: Collins, Gallagher, Gordon, Grebenstein, Heathcote, Murray, Powers, Prior and Worth.

The only other important change in the report was that which provides that the amount of cash belonging to the funds of the retirement system on deposit in any bank shall not exceed 10 per centum of the paid up capital and surplus of that bank. The original report specified 25 per centum.

All the changes proposed by the committee were accepted by the aldermen after Alderman Fitts had impressed on his fellow members that a hearing on the report was to be held before the Legislature on Wednesday and that no further changes could then be made except by the committee of the Legislature which will consider the proposed pension system.

"That's That" To Be All Local Talent

Central Club Annual Show Next Friday and Saturday

An event which is always looked forward to with great interest in the Newtons is the annual show put on by Central Club, the men's club of Central Church. The third annual show will be presented next Friday and Saturday evenings in the Newton High school auditorium.

Central club is particularly fortunate in numbering among its members, both in quantity and quality considerable talent.

All of this talent has been pressed into service for this year's show. It is so much of a novelty in the way it has been devised that the show committee has been in doubt as to just what to call it. It is entitled "That's That" and according to the program consists of "this and that, set to words and music diversified with dances, and specialties and presented in three episodes."

"That's That" is presented under the management of Fred M. Blanchard, chairman of the show committee, who has a splendid dual part in the show. The book was written by a club member, Sheldon M. Fisher and the production, whose early newspaper experience brought him into close touch with many theatrical enterprises. He was on the committee in charge of presentation of the only municipal theater in America in Northampton, at that time conducted under the management of Bertram Harrison, one of New York's leading producers, and Jessie Bonstella, probably the best known stock actress and stock company owners in the United States.

Mrs. Adel Hoes Lee has coached the cast and the performances will be put on under her capable direction. Mrs. Lee is one of the most sought after directors of amateur theatricals in this part of the country and Central club considers itself very fortunate indeed in being able to enlist her services to insure success of the show.

While the committee are not letting out what many of the novelties are, it is understood that not least among them is in seeing the historical character of "Topsey" being played by one of Newtonville's most distinguished citizens, the Rev. Brewer Eddy. "Little Eva" will be another character of note done by Donald Frail. There are dancing girls and dancing boys both in white and black. H. D. Billings as "Sam Jackson," William Richardson as "Dusty Williams," W. D. Joyce as "The Dominie," H. D. Fowler as "Aunt Jemima," are some of the many characters that are going to delight the audiences.

The only other important change in the report was that which provides that the amount of cash belonging to the funds of the retirement system on deposit in any bank shall not exceed 10 per centum of the paid up capital and surplus of that bank. The original report specified 25 per centum.

All the changes proposed by the committee were accepted by the aldermen after Alderman Fitts had impressed on his fellow members that a hearing on the report was to be held before the Legislature on Wednesday and that no further changes could then be made except by the committee of the Legislature which will consider the proposed pension system.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

BROOKLINE WINS BY 78-71 TOTAL

Maintaining its seven point lead, the margin by which the Brookline high track team led the Newton high team at the conclusion of the first meet held on the Newton track a week ago last Saturday, the Brookline runners held the Newton athletes to a 36-36 tie on their own track on Saturday to the honors by a total of 78 points to 71 for Newton. In addition to the expected thrills of close races and deep rivalry the second section of the meet also attracted the patrol wagon and a number of extra police to quell disturbances arising from the uncontrolled spirits of the spectators and some of the athletes.

The situation developed as an aftermath from happenings on the Newton track. At Newton in the 600-yard run the question of a foul arose and when Newton's protest was disallowed Brookline took all three places. At Brookline Saturday an almost similar situation developed but Reed, the Newton captain, slipped by two of the Brookline runners to take second place. The excitement was brought to a head in the 1000-yard run which concluded the events on the outdoor board track with the exception of the relay which was subsequently called when it became certain that the five points in this event would not affect the outcome of the meet. On the second lap of the 1000, Jimmie McCrudden was in the van with Creighton Gatchell of Newton and Irving Rogers of Brookline, who had been an entry in the 600-yard race against Reed, trailing him. Gatchell claimed that Rogers pushed him in the back while Rogers claimed Gatchell would not let him pass. At any rate as Rogers swung wide and was passing Gatchell the latter ran him off the track and both of them fell among the spectators. Somehow or other the race was kept clear for the other runners and the race was completed with McCrudden winning, Jewett of Brookline taking second, and Burton of Newton third. After the race the scene was shifted to the gymnasium where the field events were to be held. Here the supporters of the two teams allowed their enthusiasm to run away with them and several "boxing" bouts were held until the arrival of the extra police when the excitement was subdued.

John Badaracco of Brookline was the high scorer of the meet with first in the dash and the 300-yard run. He was closely followed by his teammate and captain, Eugene Record, who won the 600 yard run, and took second in the hurdles.

Powder Cole of Newton and Melvin Linky were second and third in the dash. Romaine Cole of Newton won the hurdles over Record with Edgar Warren of Newton taking third. Nathan Pearson was the only Newton runner to place in the 300-yard run with a second while Smith of Brookline was the third man. Captain Malcolm Reed of Newton chased Record in the 600-yard run with Dick Werner of Brookline taking third. Edward Ebelhara of Newton kept his season's record perfect in the high jump by winning with a leap of 5 ft. 7 in. Prince of Brookline took second and Barrie and Rascheotes, both Brookline jumpers, tied for third. Prince nosed out Robert Kinraide of Newton by a narrow margin in the broad jump with a 9 ft. 6 in. jump. Fine of Newton was third. Creighton Gatchell won the shotput and Andrew Pescosolidi third with Fink of Brookline in between.

TRACK OFFICIATING

Unless competent and impartial officials are engaged to handle sporting events it is not surprising to see or hear of such episodes as took place at the Newton-Brookline meet last Saturday. It makes no difference who the participants are, schoolboy, amateur or professional, or what sport they may be engaged in, the result will be the same. In schoolboy contests the athletes are not as level-headed or as slow to act as those of more mature years and more experience. While the actions of the Newton runner in running his rival off the track fails to elicit approval—regardless of what justification he might have had—the entire responsibility seems to lie at the doors of those under whose direction the meets are run. Competent officials who know their work and who are not afraid to back their opinions up should be engaged to supervise and control all the events. It is a rule of the track that no official should express an opinion until asked to do so by the referee in charge of the meet and the latter cannot act until the runner or coach of a team who feels he has grounds for protests asks for a ruling. With competent officials in charge who are there for the purpose we are confident that no trouble would arise—in fact the smaller incidents, which always come before the final spark is added to the conflagration, will be eliminated. And there were numerous incidents in both of the Newton-Brookline meetings that would never have happened under efficient officiating. If the proper officials cannot be secured then it is time to talk of breaking off relations between athletic teams. However, there are no hard feelings existing between the athletes of the two schools and all will soon be forgotten. But it is good insurance to see that there is no repetition of the affair.

Olympic Coach at Meet

Among the interested spectators at the Newton-Brookline meet was Lawson, Robertson, Penn and Olympic track coach, who said it was the greatest schoolboy meet he ever witnessed. He was impressed with the work of several of the athletes on both teams.

QUINTET SWAMPS NEEDHAM FIVE

Wednesday afternoon in a return game with the Needham high school basketball team on the Newton floor the local high school quintet swamped the visitors under a 30 to 7 score. At the end of the first quarter Newton was leading 12 to 0 and at half time 17 to 3. Three successful foul tries were made by the Needham players in the second period. In the second half Mulheim and Quinlan each tossed in one from the floor for Needham's points. Spencer deMille was the high scorer for Newton with four goals from the floor and Payne, with seven points, was but one behind the Newton centre, Donald Parker at right forward played a nice game and scored five points.

Cantabs Swamp Newton

Monday afternoon the Newton hoopers went over to Cambridge for their second game of the season with Captain Davis and his mates. The local outfit held the home team to fewer baskets than in the earlier game but meanwhile they could not get free to ease the ball themselves with the game ending in a 27 to 4 win for Cambridge. Captain Davis led his team with ten points, closely followed by Browning at right forward with eight. Each player tossed in four from the floor while Davis added two more points on free tries. Fred Becker scored three of Newton's points with a basket from the floor and one from the foul line while deMille added the fourth point on another free try.

Watertown Wins, 17-13

Last Friday afternoon the Newton quintet was defeated by the Watertown High five on the Watertown floor, 17 to 13. Both teams played well defensively which kept the score down. At half time Watertown was leading 9 to 6. In the second half Parker and deMille, each caged a basket to cut down the lead to but two points, but just before the final whistle McDermott got free and took a pass to double the lead. Becker, Parker and deMille played best for Newton.

Y Five Wins From Gloucester

In a Two-state basketball game at Gloucester Saturday night, the Newton Y five defeated the Gloucester Y team 52 to 40. Arthur Kohler, Newton Centre, led the local team with nine baskets from the floor. Donald Cunningham, Newton left forward, pressed him closely. The high scorers with eight goals from the floor and one on a foul for seventeen points, while Joe Purcell, right forward scored 12 points for Newton.

Newton Faculty Beats Needham

Tuesday afternoon the Newton faculty basketball team conquered the Needham high school teachers, 37 to 24 on the Newton court. Raymond Green, coach of the high school varsity basketball five and John Sullivan, coach of football and baseball, featured. Next Tuesday afternoon the two teams will meet in a return game on the Needham floor.

New Prep Wins Another

The New Prep School of Cambridge added another victory to its list Tuesday by shutting out the Brighton high sextet, 3 to 0 on the Bullough's pond rink at Newtonville. Fuller, New Prep, left defence, tallied twice on long shots, while Frank Stubbs added the third goal in the final period.

Locals at B. A. A. Games

Several local athletes were entered in various events at the B. A. A. games last Saturday night. In the 45-yard hurdles Bill Henrich of Harvard placed second in the fifth preliminary heat but failed to qualify for the finals. In the handicap mile walk two local men, wearing the B. A. A. colors, were entered against Harry Hinkel, the national champion, of New York. Alfred W. Bell, Jr., of Newton Highlands, and Edward Wilson of Newtonville, each with a 20-second handicap over the champion who was at scratch, placed first and second. In the relay race between Brown and Bowdoin which the former won Harold Rising of Newton Centre ran second on the Polar Bear quartet. Tom Clausen, former Newton high and Holy Cross runner, ran in both relay races in which the B. A. A. team was entered. Clausen is running better this year than ever before. He also runs as second man for the Unicorn. In the race against the Millrose A. C. the Hub team was the victor but in that with the New York A. C. the New York team won.

TITLE SERIES OPENS TONIGHT

The round robin series for the championship of the Greater Boston Inter-scholastic league opens tonight at the Arena with Newton matched against Cambridge Latin and Arlington against Melrose. These four teams survived the preliminary round with the local sextet, heading the pack with seven victories in its seven games. Naturally the orange and black wearers are the favorite to win the crown for the second year in succession. Two years ago Newton, Melrose and Cambridge Latin ended up in a triple tie. Arlington and Cambridge Latin had little difficulty in making the final round this winter but Melrose was pressed closely by Rindge Tech as the fourth team.

Prior to the game between Melrose and Belmont Wednesday night, the former team had split even in its six games while Rindge was leading it by one point, having completed its seven games, winning three, losing three and tying one. Accordingly Melrose needed its 4 to 2 victory over Edgar Burkhardt's outfit to nose out the Rindge six, a tie game with Belmont would have brought about a tie between Melrose and Rindge and would have necessitated a play-off game.

The second set of games will be played next week Saturday afternoon on the Arena surface with the third and final yet scheduled for the afternoon of Washington's birthday. The pairings for these two dates are as follows: Feb. 10th, Newton vs. Arlington, Cambridge vs. Melrose; Feb. 22nd, Newton vs. Melrose, Cambridge vs. Arlington.

Newton Shuts Out Rindge

Newton High hockey team ran its string of league victories to six consecutive ones Monday afternoon, by shutting out the Rindge Tech sextet 3 to 0 in the play-off of a postponed game from earlier in the season. Incidentally it was the first game of the season to be played on Bullough's pond, the unusually warm weather having prevented play there until this week. Fortunately the weather has been just cold enough to keep a fair surface of ice on Ware's Cove in Auburndale where the team has played all of its home games, with a few exceptions.

Langdon Powers and Frank Spain figured largely in Newton's defeat of Rindge. In the first period, soon after Powers relieved Bell at right wing, he tallied from a scrimmage in front of the opponent's net. In the third session he caged the disc again on a pass from Frank Spain. The star Newton Centre ice tallied the third goal in the final period. It was the most spectacular play of the game. He got possession of the puck about midice and dribbled through the Rindge defence, feinted, drew the goalie to one side and pushed the puck past him.

Our Lady High Sextet Wins

Monday afternoon at Bullough's pond Our Lady High hockey team shut out the Boston College High six, 3 to 0. McLean and Quinlan scored in the second period and Lane in the third session. J. Keating in the net for Our Lady High turned aside many B. C. High shots to prevent a score.

Stubbs Scores Four Goals

Monday afternoon on the Spy Pond, Arlington rink, Frank Stubbs, Jr., former Newton High captain, who is now playing center-ice for the New Prep school of Cambridge, tallied four goals to defeat the Arlington High six single-handed, 4 to 0. The schoolboy team was without several of its best players who are on the sick list with colds. Another factor in Arlington's defeat was the fact that the team played five games last week, most of which were strenuous affairs. Three of Stubbs' goals came in the first period, the first from the side of the rink and the others on terrific drives from midice. In the final period he tallied his fourth from a scrimmage near the Arlington net.

Yale Yearlings Beat Dartmouth '31

Captain Harold Andres and his Dartmouth freshman sextet lost its second game of the week by a 3 to 1 score when the Yale freshman defeated them at New Haven on Wednesday. As in the game with Pomfret the former Newton high star defense player tallied the single goal for the Green first year men and tied the score in the second session.

Dick Rogers Back in Green Lineup

Dick Rogers of West Newton got into the lineup of the Dartmouth varsity hockey team this week in the game against West Point on Wednesday at West Point which the Green won easily 12 to 1. Rogers scored two of the Green's points in the second period.

Green Cubs on Short End

Tuesday afternoon the Dartmouth Freshman hockey team was defeated by a 2 to 1 score by the Pomfret School of Connecticut on the latter's rink. Harold Andres, former Newton high star, tallied the Hanover yearlings only score in the third period. The goal tied the score and it was not until midway of the first overtime period that the schoolboys caged the winning tally. Henry Johnson, former Newton athlete, teamed with Andres on the defense and played an excellent game.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

It is little wonder that the minds of Newton citizens were distressed last week when as a result of the explosion of an illicit still six persons lost their lives, among them a splendid type of city employee. In a city comparatively free from such untoward happenings a tragic occurrence of this kind cannot fail to impress all classes.

We are bound to ask ourselves how such a thing could have taken place and if it could have been prevented. I doubt, however, if sharp criticism directed at any branch of the municipal or Federal government will avail. It may be that the authorities whose duty it is to prosecute moonshiners were remiss, although I hesitate to accept such an opinion. Certainly they should not be scored until a thorough investigation has been made and the true facts determined.

Let us think of the noble acts of those who heroically rushed to the scene to lend aid. Let us give credit to the untiring efforts of the Fire Department members whose prompt display of courage and whose intelligent handling of the situation has been justly praised on all sides. Let us take pride in the resentment shown when it was learned that so flagrant a violation of the law was being attempted in our city.

The grief that is felt by the passing of innocent victims of this outrage is sure to bring with it, after the bitterness has diminished, an awakening of civic consciousness. It will serve to spur the activities of those who are sworn to prevent crime. It will deepen our appreciation and grateful feeling towards those who work for the city under trying conditions and should make us see they are more justly compensated. Also, it must demonstrate more clearly the need of making certain that such a thing cannot occur again.

"Youth must be served; but the rest of us must help ourselves," I improvised as I nonchalantly lifted a cigarette from a package proffered me by my assistant.

"Oh, I don't know about that," he countered. "You old folks (he is 23) don't have so much to do for yourself either. Just look at it this way. You get up in the morning after someone else calls you. You have to dress your self? So do I. Your breakfast, dinner and supper are set in front of you and the dishes are taken away after the meals without any effort from you at all. A boy leaves you the morning papers. You leave for work. And then what happens? You take a car. You can't even go to work without outside help.

"You arrive and want to write a letter. Do you sit down and write it? You do not. You call for a stenographer and she has to do it. You do sign it, I'll admit that. But you don't have to deliver it or even watch over it to see that it is delivered. You put it in the mail and forget it until a reply is carried in and placed in your hand. You want to talk to John Jones out in Wellesley. Do you go out there and whisper your story in his ear? The deuce you do. You call him up on the telephone. And you can't even do that without assistance from two or three telephone girls you've never even seen.

"You decide to go for an auto ride, take out the car and drive to a gas station. You even have to have someone put the gas into the tank for you. You get a puncture and go to a service station. If any real trouble develops, you head for a garage and if it can't be fixed right away you go home in the street car where the conductor opens the door to let you in and out and yells out the name of your street so you won't have to watch out for fear you'll get carried by."

"Sposin' you want to go to a show. You get your tickets from an agent who grabbed off the best seats three or four days before, so he could hold you up. You go to the theater and a doorman opens the door for you. An usher gives you a program and finds your seat. After the performance you're 'ushed' out again. No, you don't get much service. Nobody ever does a thing for you! Not much."

And, as I reached for my pencil to jot down some of the indictments he had made against my independence he concluded his harangue with, "And if you put a word of what I said into your column, you'll be having something else done for you. You'll be having somebody writing your stuff for you."

As far as I have been able to learn the abolition of fire-bells has worked very well. Still, I am well aware that this is winter and not summer and I can't help wondering just how this same situation may develop when there are a great many more automobiles on the road and there is a wider knowledge of the activities of the fire apparatus.

It has occurred to me that as far as the police are concerned they don't know there is a fire unless they learn it by the presence of a piece of apparatus. Formerly policemen responded to fire alarm boxes. Now, a man may be patrolling his route and within a quarter of a mile of a blaze and still know nothing about it. The routes assigned to patrolmen in Newton are large. Some officers are required to cover more than a square mile. There may be a fire on a patrolman's route but unless he happens to have heard of it he can't respond as promptly as is desired.

I am well aware that I shall be answered with the assertion that soldiers does such a situation arise and that if it did police headquarters would take care of it. That may all be true, but I do not share the optimism of such a reply. You need policemen at a fire almost as much as you do firemen, although not in such large numbers. Where police routes are short as in thickly settled cities a patrolman learns almost immediately of a fire. In sparsely settled sections like our own city a single officer cannot be expected to be here, there and everywhere.

Now there will be more automobiles chasing fire apparatus this summer than ever before because there is bound to be an increase in the number of cars. How are the police going to keep them from running after the apparatus if they themselves don't know there is a fire? That's something I haven't been able to figure out. I wish somebody would do it for me and let me know.

Now what do you think of this! In Newton we have been wondering why so small a percentage of the registered vote turns out at a municipal election when a proposal is made to the Legislature by cities in Essex county and Boston that the privilege of absent voting be extended to municipal elections.

Doesn't this show that in some places they like to vote while in Newton they don't seem to hanker for it so much. I wouldn't have anything further to add to what has already appeared if the desire to vote was not so great in other Massachusetts cities and so little felt in Newton.

The original petitioner for absent voting in city elections comes from Lynn. There is a place where they go to the polls with a rush. And another indorser lives in Gloucester. Fishermen may have their troubles but voting is something they seem to find time for no matter what the fish are doing.

We all know that for some years absent voting in State and National elections has been provided throughout the commonwealth. In city elections it might as well be provided, but apparently it wouldn't do Newton any good. Or, is that a fair statement? Would more people in Newton vote if they could do so by mail?

Perhaps the idea of marking your ballot at home and sticking it in the mail box might encourage interest in municipal contests, but I doubt it. Things would be coming too easy. A voter might become so indifferent that he would tell the letter carrier to do his voting for him. Anything to save trouble, regardless of what extra work it might impose on the letter carrier.

No, I think I should be inclined to say that Newton had better not talk about absent voting for city elections until its voters made a better showing under present conditions.

It would be interesting if one could learn from official sources just how this idea of having a telephone operator say "Thank you" instead of repeating the number is working out. I am convinced that the city has adopted the new method to facilitate business and I do not think that it is to be criticised.

Still, the subscribers, after all, are paying the bills and of course they have a right to display a little curiosity. Why not? If you drop into a man's store and inquire "How's business?" you do it as a sort of compliment to him for you intimate that you hope he is prospering. He looks at it from that point of view, too, and is pleased by this little attention.

Having established grounds for this query I repeat I would like to find out whether the service has been improved under the new arrangement. I have heard about it expressed. For instance, one man said to me, "I don't see how it can keep an operator's thoughts on the number. If she repeats the number it must of necessity be more firmly fixed in her mind. But if she merely says, 'Thank you' isn't her mind diverted into another channel?"

Remember, he is asking the question, not I. But what do you think? Maybe it's a psychological problem and one to be settled finally by experts in that sort of thing.

It might be an experiment to be made in the home. They are making lots of things in the home nowadays, including radio sets. Why not then on a quiet evening, when the weather is too stormy for going out and all the family is gathered in the living room? What would be more entertaining than to test the memory. Have some one of the group give a number, just as he would shout in a telephone transmitter, and have somebody else say "Thank you" and then repeat the number afterwards. This would show if the mind became side-tracked for that particular instant.

However, there's a game for the long winter evenings which I offer without charge as a substitute for word puzzles. It might be called "cross number" puzzles. In any event, there it is.

It is very evident that the telephone company has made up its mind that it will not tolerate indecent language over its lines. There is no doubt the general public will be strong for the company's position. Cussing is one thing, but vile talk directed at an operator is quite another. For my part I don't blame the company officials from getting their backs up and saying, "No service to that kind of a man."

Had you listened to an account, as I did, of a case wherein a man on a dozen or more occasions used obscene language in addressing an operator, you yourself would have become incensed. We have all had our vexations at the telephone and there have been times when we have almost "hit the ceiling" in our anger. It cannot be said that it has availed us much—bursts of temper never do—but at least we have understood why a high-strung individual might take it out on the company employee.

This, however, established no excuse for the use of filthy talk and that is what has caused the company to put its feet down and refuse service to any subscriber who so far forgets himself. The evidence submitted in a recent case showed the speech of the subscriber was revolting.

Do you know I have an idea that the operators are unusually patient and put up with a lot more abuse than they should. There are individuals in all walks of life who "see red" when their impatience overwhelms them. The thing to do is to jump on the operator, at least they think so, and a torrent of harsh words is shot into the transmitter.

It should be stopped, not only for the sake of the young women operators but for the good of those subscribers who think that they have a right, if they pay their bills on time, to say what they choose on the telephone. Yes, sir, the company is to be commended for the attitude it has taken.

RICH MAN, POOR MAN

"The rich man can afford to speculate. If he loses, he has other money in the bank. Not so the small investor, the man on a salary with a family to support. If his speculation fails, it spells disaster, he has no money to tide him over the unexpected."

The above quotation is part of warning No. 10 of a series issued by Andrew W. Mellon, Secretary of the United States Treasury, in an attack on the "Get-Rich-Quick" promises which lure hundreds of millions of dollars a year from those who can least afford to lose them.

Unfortunately the public often speculates when it thinks it is investing. The three cardinal points of good investments as defined by a prominent banker are: safety of principal, certainty of income, and saleability.

If the securities offered you do not possess these points, they may be considered as speculative. There is a third group, namely, fraudulent securities. Very few securities are of themselves fraudulent. When fraud occurs it is usually in the sale of securities. Misrepresentation of either investment or speculative securities is fraudulent.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Newton Community Club

A plan of great interest and importance for members of the Newton Community Club is maturing under the direction of the Education Committee, Mrs. Nathan Heald, chairman. There is probably nothing more fascinating to learn about than financial affairs, especially when those affairs are personal and have the element of adventure, where common sense, clearheadedness, with the always thrilling bit of chance and gambling, are aided by the knowledge attained by careful study of experts. That this is true, and that women are taking active interest in handling big business, not only in their own household affairs but in the investment of moneys that have fallen to them, believing that they can care for their own savings and bigger fortunes quite as ably and wisely as their masculine brethren who find the stock exchange and their big businesses a thrilling game of wits and adventure, is proven by the great success that attaches to lectures on financial topics that have been going forward under the auspices of one of Boston's largest banking houses.

The Old Colony Trust Co. wisely recognizes that their women depositors are keen on becoming financially informed, and as wisely recognizes that women's wits turned to financial affairs are as executive as are those of the men depositors, and they are giving to them the valuable aid of their financial experience in investments, through lectures on all matters pertaining thereto by experts in their staff. So much interest was shown in the first of these given by the Old Colony Trust Co. that many were turned away, and a second series had to be given to meet the need and demand. Added to the advice on investment is the highly valuable legal information as to trusts and wills, and other handling of estates. The large estates naturally require the best of information for safeguarding, but so likewise do the smaller matters of finance and income, perhaps even more so, for these require knowledge and wisdom for handling that the smaller sums may prosper and grow until they become a real safeguard for the future. To this end wise women are becoming informed, and so popular are these talks becoming that not only the women in general who have known of this course given by the Old Colony are seeking it, but the Clubwomen are asking that these matters be brought before them as one of their classes.

Mrs. Heald is, therefore, being in the vanguard to supply the demand, and wisely offers to her Club members the opportunity to express their interest in such a course in Newton. Mr. W. Herrick Brown, whose lectures for the Old Colony have been so eagerly listened to, will be sent by this bank to Newton to give a series of talks on the care of money by trust, will, or investment, at such times and places as can be arranged by the committee, when it is discovered just how many Newton women would welcome such a opportunity. Mr. Brown is assistant vice-president of this bank, has spoken widely throughout the State, and makes his lectures more pleasing and illuminating by illustrating a part of his talk with motion pictures.

Mrs. Heald awaits application from all interested Clubwomen, so that she may make the necessary arrangements as soon as possible, and before someone else snatches up this wonderful opportunity. Wise women will, therefore, let her know at once. The fascinating thought of this is that one never knows when an act or decision of this sort may lead on to fortune.

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

Miriam Franc Skirball, Ph.D., gives the last of her delightful talks on "Modern Drama and Dramatists," to the regret of Newton Highlands Woman's Club members who have been following her series eagerly, on Tuesday morning, the 14th, at 9:30 o'clock, in the Workshop. Members who thought that she had already given her last "Talk" will be agreeably surprised to learn that they have one more in store for them, and for this reason the press chairman knows she will be forgiven for having announced this wrong information, so placing Mrs. Skirball in the same category as Sarah Bernhardt and other singers and actresses of note.

The Conservation Committee announces the second Garden Talk by Miss Elizabeth Jones for Wednesday morning, the 15th, at 10 o'clock, also in the Workshop, on the specific topic "Plants Adapted to Sun, Shade or Rock Gardens." The Club is proud to have as one of their members this landscape architect who can supply them with this interesting information. A question period valuable to the home gardener follows the "talk." Club members desiring tickets should secure them as soon as possible from Mrs. Robert S. Ingram Conservation chairman.

Waban Woman's Club

February 13th is the date for the third in the series of Mothers' Round Table educational talks that are being held in the Union Church Vestry at 2:30 o'clock on specified Mondays. The Education Committee, Mrs. William G. Brown, chairman, is presenting speakers on topics of special interest to mothers. The two past subjects dealt with have been "The Nurse's School," and "Obedience and Punishment," and the one for next week follows the same trend in a discussion of "Recreation."

On Wednesday, the 15th, Club members will enjoy the third in their series of Museum of Fine Arts Lectures, the subject for that date being "Japanese Ceramics." The hostess for the day who has the arrangements in charge is Mrs. Robert Her and Club members should communicate with her, so that she may plan for transportation, and tea. The Class meets at the Art Museum at 2 o'clock, travelling thither by auto, and after the lecture enjoying tea, which is engaged at 35 cents per cover.

Wells, president, will preside, greeting her guests, among whom will be all the officers of the Newton Federation, in a reception preceding the entertainment.

Mrs. Walter Van Patten Steiger, Program Committee chairman, has arranged for the performance of a skit called "The Rehearsal," written by Christopher Morley, for various Vaudeville acts by talented and clever Club members, for songs by Miss Ruth Perkins of West Newton, and for the background of orchestra music throughout. A social hour, with refreshments served, will follow the program.

Mrs. Hugh Reid Griffin, founder-president of the American Woman's Club of London, the first Woman's Club organized in Europe, is to broadcast, on "International Cooperation of Women in Clubs and as Individuals" next Wednesday at WNAC at 10:30 o'clock. The thought that Club women have the opportunity to hear some one from overseas who has this distinction, gives a bit of a thrill and Mrs. Leon White achieves further glory.

Mrs. David D. Nickerson will present a message on "Educational Opportunities" and Mrs. Philip H. Threl will broadcast "Echoes From the Eighth District."

Gilson once more opening her store of knowledge of world events occurring daily, and of the causes leading thereto, as she sees them since her summer journeys through Europe.

NOTED CHEMIST DIES AT W. NEWTON

Mr. Robert W. Neff, well-known chemist, died at his home in West Newton, Saturday. He was born in Rock Hill, Conn., in 1858, and was in business in Boston for more than 30 years.

His early life was spent on his grandfather's farm, where he formed habits of industry and acquired the sense of responsibility shown throughout his business career. He started his chemical career in Brooklyn, N. Y., where he imported and sold dyes. This work led to acquaintance with mills and their needs.

Coming to Boston in 1891 he started to manufacture finishers and softeners for textile mills and during the next 30 years he was closely associated with the development of the textile industry in Eastern United States, especially in New England.

His interest in practical chemistry led him to join the New England section of the Society of Chemical Industry. He served as its chairman, and retained membership until it was merged with the northeastern section of the American Chemical Society.

In the northeastern section he held every office of responsibility and was a counselor for many years. At the time of his death he was treasurer of the trustees of the permanent trust fund of the section and chairman of the finance committee. He was also treasurer of the Drysalts Club of Boston for several years.

He has acted as secretary of the Massachusetts committee on prize essays in chemistry established by Francis P. Garvan and sponsored by the American Chemical Society. This work was a small part of his general interest in young men, scores of whom he helped to secure responsible positions.

He was a member of the Boston Rotary Club for more than 15 years. Mr. Neff gave largely for philanthropic organizations, but he never let even his intimate friends know about this activity.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at his late home on Forest avenue. Rev. Paul S. Phalen, minister of the West Newton Unitarian Church officiating. The burial was at Rock Hill, Conn.

FORMER RESIDENT DEAD

Mr. Charles H. Sprague, a well known Boston lawyer and a former resident of this city for forty years, died Tuesday in Boston after a short illness. While a resident of Auburndale Mr. Sprague represented that ward in the Newton Common Council and the board of aldermen.

Mr. Sprague was born in New Haven, Conn., and was the son of Col. Homer B. and Mrs. Annette Sprague. He graduated from Boston University School of Law and for fifty years was a practicing attorney in Boston.

Mr. Sprague was a member of the Massachusetts Bar Association and a charter member of the following named organizations: Newton Club, Hunnewell Club and Newton Boat Club, all of Newton. He belonged also to the Church of the Messiah at Auburndale.

He married Miss Jennie Starbuck in 1877 and she and one daughter, Mrs. Everett W. Crawford of Copley street, Newton, survive.

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon from his late home in Brookline.

Amended Ordinance Will Increase Cost of Water Connections

The Board of Aldermen at its meeting on Monday night, passed an important amendment to the city ordinance relative to the laying of water service pipes. Heretofore the city has paid for the cost of installing water pipes from the street main to the property line; the property owner paid for the cost of installing from the street line to the building served. By the amendment passed Monday night, at the suggestion of the special committee on water and at the recommendation of the Claims and Rules Committee, henceforth property owners must pay the entire cost from the water main in the street to the connection in the building served. Furthermore, this cost must be paid in advance; the Water Commissioner making the estimate. If he estimates too little, the difference must be paid by the property owner within 30 days after the completion of the work. If he estimates too much, the difference will be returned to the property owner.

Chairman Baker of the Claims and Rules Committee explained that the change is made because it will bring the city added revenue of $100,000 to the city. When sewer service is installed the property owner pays the entire cost from the house connection to the pipe in the street. Another provision of the amendment, as recommended by the committee, provided that property owners shall pay for all repairs to water service pipes both inside and outside the street line. Alderman Powers objected to this provision. He argued that service pipes under the streets may be broken because of jarring from heavy trucks, because of excavation work by the city or public service corporations, or from other causes which property owners should not be held responsible for. He requested that the amendment be referred back to the Claims and Rules Committee for further consideration to rectify this phase. As the Special Committee on Water Supply was anxious to get the amendment through because of the large number of service installations which will be made in the next few months, that part of the amendment relating to the payment for repairs was stricken out and the remainder of the amendment passed.

NEWTON HIGHLANDS GARAGE SOLD

Due to a recent transfer, probably the oldest house in Newton Highlands will be demolished, in order to make way for the modern march of events in the form of an up-to-date filling station. The erection of a new filling station also necessitates the demolition of a cement block garage and store at Nos. 1147-1153 Walnut street, Newton Highlands, occupied by the Newton Highlands Garage, Inc., Woodworth & Adams, proprietors, and the Newton South Co-operative Bank. As this will remove the only public garage in Newton Highlands, it is very probable that a new, up-to-date garage will be erected on the rear portion of the land to be occupied by the filling station. The transfer was made through the office of Alvord Bros., who report that the property conveyed consists of a cement block building with one store and a garage with capacity for twenty-five cars and a single frame dwelling, together with approximately 15,000 square feet of land. Woodworth & Adams were the grantors and George F. Cooley was the grantee. Although the price is not made public by the brokers, it is understood to be considerable in excess of the assessed valuation which is in the vicinity of $22,000.

One of Newton Centre's fine new residences at the corner of Greenlawn avenue and Brentwood avenue, has been sold to W. E. Pattison and Helen S. Pattison who will occupy it. The property includes 10,000 feet of land and a frame house with one-car garage. The grantor and builder was James C. Silver. The estate is valued at $17,000.

These sales were consummated through the office of Alvord Bros.

A., Matthews Club of the Immanuel Baptist Church and the Boston Women's Business Club. Her funeral service is being held this afternoon from Immanuel Baptist Church, Rev. Newton A. Merritt, Jr., officiating. Burial will be in Newton Cemetery. She is survived by her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Dolbiel, and two sisters—Mrs. Mildred Strange and Miss Emily Dolbiel.

PATRICK J. GUERIN

Patrick J. Guerin of 406 Lexington street, Auburndale, died at his late home on Saturday morning. He was born in Boston 72 years ago and for 41 years had been employed in the composing room of the Boston Globe. He was a past president of the Franklin Typographical Society, and had served as its secretary for 14 years. His funeral service was held Tuesday morning at Corpus Christi Church. Burial was in Old Calvary Cemetery. Mr. Guerin is survived by one son, Harry J. Guerin.

NEWTON GIRLS IN SIMMONS CIRCUS

Out of the 20 commuters taking part in the Simmons Circus, February 4, given for the benefit of the building fund, twelve were Newton girls, ten of whom were Newton High School graduates. There were also several Newton people in attendance, among whom was Miss Margaret South, a teacher in the High School.

The chairman and Barker of the circus was Helen Titus of Chestnut Hill, assisted by Barbara Partridge of Newton, in a frock coat and tall hat. Thelma Coombs of Newtonville, blacked up in a comic fashion, successfully dodged balls thrown by the audience. Hope Hartwell, also from Newtonville, was on the food committee. All these girls are Juniors in Simmons.

The Sophomore vaudeville program was run by Katherine Holmes of Newtonville. In the satiric chorus which sang novelty songs, the hit of which was "Henry's Made a Lady Out of Liz-zie," were Dorothy Burnett and Marjorie Berry, Auburndale, Reta Hemenway, Newtonville, Barbara Barber, West Newton, and Virginia Gilbert, Newton Highlands. Rosamond Kemball, West Newton, and Katherine Holmes were the hero and villain in a skit entitled "The Sordid Tragedy of the Lighthouse," or "One Good Turn Deserves Another." As one of the "Gold Dust Twins," Mary Wright of Newton Center made a hit singing popular songs and playing her ukelele.

GIRL SCOUTS

The ten week course in Red Cross Life Saving given by the Newton Girl Scout Field Captain at the Lasell Seminary Pool was completed last Friday evening. Of the 14 girls that took the course, 7 completed the work required to become Junior Red Cross Life Savers and the remaining 7 passed the Red Cross Swimmers test. The following girls received the rating of Junior Life Saver. They will also receive the Girl Scout Swimmers merit badge. Alice Furbush, Troop 18, Auburndale, Elizabeth Heinrich, Troop 18, Auburndale, Priscilla Wales, Troop 18, Auburndale, Verna Vandenberg, Troop 14, Waban, Elizabeth Roe, Troop 14, Waban, Phyllis Reinhardt, Troop 14, Waban, and Mary Stephen, Troop 14, Waban.

Troop 28 is one of the newest troops in the city. It is formed of ten and eleven year old girls and meets at the Methodist Episcopal Church in Newtonville. The troop was invested on January 10th and this is their own account of the occasion.

"Eighteen girls of Troop 28 were invested by Captain Freeman on January 18th, 1928. We first had a little talk on Juliette Low, the founder of Girl Scouting. Then several patrols acted out a law for us. Captain Freeman, our Local Director, did the investing with the help of Captain Webster. Next week we are going to make valentines for the children in the Peabody Home, and one member from each patrol will go over to the Home to deliver them. Twelve more girls are to be invested at the next meeting and our mothers are to be invited to the ceremony."

Eleanor Noell, scribe.

Waban Brownie Pack No. 1 is also planning to make valentines for the children of the Peabody Home. They have a list of the names of all the children in the Home and they will address the valentines that they make and their Brown Owl, Mrs. Ver Planck, will deliver them.

N. H. S. SENIOR PLAY

The annual play of the senior class of the Newton High School, "The Romantic Age," by A. A. Milne, is to be presented in the new auditorium of the High School this afternoon at 2:30, and tomorrow evening at 8:15.

The heroine, Virginia Willard, is playing the part of "Melisande," Lincoln Edmunds is playing opposite her in the leading man's part, as "Gervase Mallory." The play is woven around Melisande's wishing for the Romance that seems to have passed away with the days of King Arthur. But Gervase succeeds, before the third act has finished, in convincing her that there is plenty even in the twentieth century.

Miriam Maloney is taking the part of "Jane," with Nathan H. Wentworth as "Bobby Coote" opposite her. "Mr. and Mrs. Knowles" are being played by Betty Granger and William Kirkpatrick. Edmund F. McLaughlin is in the role of the "Gentleman Susan." Lawrence Jenks is taking the part of "Ern," a little boy and Beatrice Piser is playing "Alice," the maid.

Miss Irene M. Haworth, who coached the production of the classes of 1924, 1925, 1926 and 1927, is now devoting her time to "The Romantic Age." The entire business staff for the production has been organized, under the supervision of Dr. George A. Land.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

This has been a very busy week on Beacon Hill with numerous hearings before a large number of committees. Only one matter of direct interest to Newton was on the calendar, the Committee on Pensions giving a hearing on the proposed pension act for this city. Representative Hollis introduced the speakers who were Former Alderman B. S. Hinckley, chairman of the committee which prepared the bill, City Solicitor J. W. Bartlett, and George B. Buck, the actuary who assisted the committee in preparing the bill.

Mr. A. Leslie Moriarty who represented the Newton City Employees' Union suggested several amendments which were taken under advisement by the committee. Another hearing which should have had a larger attendance was that before Election Laws on the proposal of the recess committee to nominate the minor officers on the State ticket by convention instead of by direct primary. The proposal aroused the ire of the women, who evidently believe the convention system is dominated by the devil himself. As a matter of fact, the indifference of the average voter to the nomination or election of the minor officers on the ticket, is one of the serious problems of the day. Many voters, who have a clear idea of whom they wish to have nominated for governor or representative, are up in the air on most of the other offices on the ticket and they either fail to vote or shut their eyes when they make the final decision. The true remedy, of course, is the short ballot, but until that point can be reached (and it would require a constitutional amendment) the convention system for unimportant offices should be adopted.

Last week a largely attended hearing was held on the proposal to levy a gasoline tax. To the average person, the proposal to make a tax commensurate with the amount of traveling done by automobile, is eminently sensible, and the automobile organization which opposes such a sensible arrangement are only cutting their nose off to spite their face.

The annual proposal to abolish the death penalty was heard this week and brought out the usual crowd of sob sisters and sob brothers. One suggestion, which seemed to have some merit, was made this year and that was to allow the jury to determine whether or not the death penalty should be imposed.

This plan would give the Hickmans and the Snyders what they deserve and the protection of the community demands and still allow some latitude in cases where the crime was not so atrocious.

The House this week substituted a bill to require the licensing of barbers over an adverse report of the committee in charge. Representative Saltonstall supported the committee in the debate on this matter.

Mayor Childs has filed a bill to allow the city of Newton to pay an annuity to the widow of the late Leonard B. Jackson who was killed in the still explosion of last week.

snow thrown onto streets must be leveled out. The Board accepted this amendment.

Appropriations recommended by the Finance Committee and passed by the Board included—Law Department, $44,236.11 from Tax Levy for additional awards to Elihu Loomis, George W. Morse, Joseph W. A vote was passed authorizing Mayor Childs to accept the bequest to the city made in the will of the late Clinton H. Scoville, the income of which will be used for educational purposes. The Mayor was also authorized to execute an exchange of deeds and agreements with Haynes & Hernandez regarding a right of way on city land to Sheffield road. The recommendations made by the Mayor in his inaugural address regarding public improvements, were referred to the various committees of the Board which deal with matters affected by the recommendations. The Board confirmed the appointment of John R. Prescott as an assessor for three years and that of Charles A. Sawyer, Jr., as a member of the Board of Appeals, Building Laws.

Mayor Childs submitted the appointments of John Madden as a member of the Board of Health to succeed Charles S. Ensign, Albert M. Lyon as a member of the Planning Board and Florence S. Fitzgerald as Overseer of the Poor.

Alderman Noone asked for a suspension of the rules so that Mayor Childs could be authorized to petition the Legislature to file a bill to afford an annuity to the widow of the late Leonard Jackson in the event that she cannot be made a beneficiary under the Workmen's Compensation Law.

At the request of Frank L. Richardson of the Newton Trust Company the matter of making Union street, Newton Centre, a one-way street will be given further consideration by the Traffic Committee.

Petitions received and referred to the committee on Public Works were: Henry J. Perry, petitions for drains and sewers in the following streets: Allen avenue, from Beacon street, to Avalon road; Beacon street from Upland road to Allen avenue; Cold Spring Brook, from Newton Cemetery through Beacon street, drain only; Glanston Oval, entire street.

Ada H. Noyce et al. drain and sewer in Hereward road, from corner of Allerton and Hereward road northeast to end of Ada H. Noyce property on proposed road.

Jas. C. Walton et al. drain and sewer in Kensington avenue, from Walnut street to Harding street.

J. W. Butler et al. drain and sewer in Linwood avenue, from present end of sewer southwest to No. 243 Linwood avenue.

Walter Sullivan, drain and sewer in Rockland street, from present end of sewer southeasterly one hundred and forty feet.

A claim was received from Mary E. Soden asking for compensation for damages to her automobile caused by a coupe owned by the city.

DOGS STILL BITING

Alfred Rodenhizer, 9, of 14 Bridges avenue, Newtonville, was bitten last Friday by a dog owned by Francis McGill of 18 Bridges avenue. McGill was ordered to restrain the dog and Dr. Boutelle was notified to examine the animal.

John Mahoney of 56 West street, Newton, was fined $5 in the Newton court on Saturday for keeping a biting dog and $5 for not having the dog licensed. Mahoney's dog recently bit Orazio Panaggio of 84 West street.

Raymond Livernoche of 195 River-view avenue, West Newton, complained to the police on last Friday that he had been bitten by a dog owned by Mrs. Charlton of 47 Lexington street, West Newton. According to Mr. Livernoche, he was obeying the law regarding the 90 day restraint of dogs and was leading his dog by a leash last Friday night, which is more than many dog owners are doing; not the leading by leashes of their hounds, but the restraining. As he was leading his dog, another dog, not leashed, attacked the Livernoche dog. Mr. Livernoche stopped the scrap and later on discovered a wound on his leg which he told the police was the result of a bite by the offending dog, owned by Mrs. Charlton. She told the police that her dog is blind and has no teeth. She was ordered to restrain the animal and Dr. Boutelle notified to examine it.

NEWTON CENTRAL COUNCIL

The mid-winter meeting of the Newton Central Council will be held on Tuesday evening, February 14, promptly at 7:45 o'clock, at the Technical High School Building.

Mr. Robert W. Kelso will give an address on "Welfare Measures for the Better Town." This will be followed by a Roll Call of the member agencies, when each will have an opportunity, so far as time permits, to present to Mr. Kelso a question or a problem.

Not only is Mr. Kelso the best expert that we can find to solve our social problems for us, but he has also a magnetic personality and a delivery that make it a delight as well as an inspiration to listen to him.

All who are interested in the welfare of Newton are cordially invited to attend this meeting.

WOMEN'S SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

Last year the Federation of Women's Club founded the Boston Women's Symphony Orchestra. For the first time in the musical history of America the opportunity has been afforded for women musicians to play in an orchestra which is composed entirely of women and conducted by one, Ethel Leginska.

The Boston Women's Symphony Orchestra of 65 players gave several preliminary concerts in Jordan Hall last season and also played in New Bedford and Swampscott. These concerts proved the success of the movement.

Following these appearances the Orchestra is giving the Second concert of the season on Sunday evening, Feb. 19th, at the Repertory Theatre. It is earnestly hoped that the many women interested in the splendid work will support this movement with their presence. Only in this way can the orchestra obtain the success which it merits.

REFUSE BOWLING ALLEY LICENSE

The petition of Grace Dearborn of Cochituate for a permit for 10 bowling alleys in the rear of the new building now being erected on the Bacon estate at Newton, was refused on Monday night by the Board of Aldermen. According to the plans announced by those developing this property, it was originally intended to build a two story block containing 12 or 14 stores on the street floor and about 20 offices on the second floor. Later a petition was received for the bowling alleys from Mrs. Dearborn. When the excavation for the cellar of the building was made, that part where the bowling alleys were proposed to be located, was also excavated. The entrance to these alleys would be on Bacon street and they would extend towards Peabody street.

When it became known that a permit for the alleys had been petitioned for, property owners and residents on Bacon, Peabody and nearby Peabody streets, organized to object. When the objectors observed the excavation being made for the alleys they became quite concerned. The attorney for the petitioners stated to the Franchise and License Committee of the Aldermen that "these alleys would be so constructed as to be practically noiseless, they would be underground and the latest methods used to minimize noise." The protestants against the petition argued that no public bowling alleys can be other than noisy. In addition to the noise of the balls striking the pins, there is the added racket of the players and spectators yelling and cheering.

The Franchise and License Committee reported against granting the permit and the Board sustained the report. The majority of the committee believed that as the alleys would project into a residential district they would be a source of annoyance to the neighborhood. They would also add to the parking difficulties on surrounding streets. Because of the proximity of the theatre most available space on nearby streets is used for parking nights.

MR. GROSS PASSES ON

William F. Gross, C. S. B., former president of the Mother Church, and First Church of Christ Scientist, and a teacher of Christian Science since 1899, died Friday at his home, 115 Commonwealth avenue, Chestnut Hill. Mr. Gross was born near Knoxville, Ill., and graduated from Hedding College, Monmouth, Ill. He joined the Mother Church in December, 1892. For more than three years he was in the editorial department of the Christian Science Sentinel, being an assistant editor during 1901 and part of 1902. He served as president of the Mother Church from June, 1906, to June, 1907. He was a member of the Christian Science board of lecturership from May, 1910, to April, 1922.

Funeral services were held on Sunday afternoon and were conducted by Mr. Edward H. Keach.

EDWARD RYAN

Edward Ryan, 84, of 5 Lucas court, West Newton, a native and life-long resident of this city, a retired city laborer, and a veteran of the Civil War, was found dead in the apartment where he lived on Monday by the police who had been notified that the old man had not been seen since the preceding day. Heart failure was the cause. His funeral service was held on Wednesday at St. Bernard's Church and burial was in Calvary Cemetery. He was a brother of the late Captain John Ryan of the Newton police department.

FIREMEN TO GET FLOODLIGHTS

One of the matters coming before the Board of Aldermen at its meeting on Monday night was—"the appropriation of $1500 to buy a Ford truck with an electric power plant and powerful electric search lights." At the disaster in the Gorgeon building on January 30, the Newton firemen had to work all night removing the debris in their search for victims of the explosion and fire. They were aided in the work by several big "flood lights" loaned by the wire department of the City of Waltham.

NIGHT HOCKEY AT BULLOUGH'S POND

The boys of Newton, who are engaged in work in the daytime, are now happy because they can play ice hockey in the evening. The Board of Aldermen recently appropriated $1200 for an intensive lighting system for two large hockey rinks at Bulloughs Pond. Each rink is 298 x 90 feet. Twelve flood lights each having a thousand watt lamp are focused on the two rinks, making the surface of the ice as light as during the daylight. Owing to the speed of the puck no hockey can be played unless the surface of the ice is thoroughly illuminated.

For years the graduates of our High Schools who have gone into occupations have hoped for such an opportunity. Last year about 200 young men presented a petition and the Playground Department was pleased to have the Board of Aldermen appropriate the necessary funds for this lighting scheme.

It is a most interesting sight to go down to Bulloughs Pond on an evening when there is skating. The lights, the glitter on the ice, the speedy boys and the colorful costumes of the skaters makes it like a fairyland. The City of Newton can well be proud of the splendid opportunities Bulloughs Pond offers and the orderly way in which the people of Newton use this pond.

Just before 10 o'clock the lights give the signal that skating will cease at 10 o'clock. By 10 o'clock the whole pond is cleared and by 10:15 no automobiles are allowed to park on the streets surrounding the pond.

Under the direction of Supt. of Playgrounds Ernest Hermann, the lights were installed by William E. Pike, a well-known Newton electrical contractor. Many favorable comments have been heard on the enterprise of Mr. Hermann in providing this opportunity for the working young men of Newton and on the efficient manner in which the lights have been arranged.

BAGGAGE CALLED FOR

John Calder Speaks On Religion In the World of Industry

John Calder, noted industrial leader, was the chief speaker at the Church Institute, conducted by the Union Church of Waban, last Sunday evening. His topic was "Religion in the World of Industry." Before Mr. Calder was introduced by the Rev. Joseph C. MacDonald, Mr. Frederick T. Hackley sang a solo.

"Years ago," said Mr. Calder, "we took into the United States many repressed people. Our slogan was, 'Catch 'em young; Treat 'em rough; tell 'em nothing.' None of the Doctrine of Jesus has been realized by the industrial world and His Doctrine of Values has come into its own."

"When the question of 'Who's to do the dirty work now,' is raised, the answer is nobody. There's no dirty work unless it's in your mind."

"What has religion to do with Industry? That religion has a social and industrial message was proved 1900 years ago last summer when a young man went to Galilee and preached a gospel saying that a great King was in Heaven; that that King was not a King but a loving Father and that the subjects were His sons and daughters."

But up to the end of the 18th century His teachings were not applied to industry. Jesus supplied facts and stories, then said "Think ye—Judge ye." He gave a message to an agricultural people in a non-industrial age. The Bible gives the agricultural people's interpretation of Jesus' teachings.

Up to the 18th century people said "God has meant us to gain wealth in any way we can, or He would take it away from us." Thus they used child labor and did nothing to alleviate the conditions under which their employees worked.

"In England, where the first child labor laws were passed, a few Christians finally shamed parliament and the whole nation into considering the effects of bad working conditions."

"Jesus had thirty-one months in which he could do God's work, but he created enough moral dynamite to blow up thoughts of the world in the fullness of time. Greater things have been done since Christ lived, but they are the outcome of His life and teachings."

"The working man is conscious of four great inequalities: that of nature, of nurture, of character and of condition. He wants to be led by men whom he respects and to whom he looks up. He wants a steady job, good wages, a voice in the public affairs, and a chance to rise on his merits."

"The employer wants security, a fair return, able managers, and a chance to expand his business. In reality the same things that a workman wants."

"Both employee and employer can be satisfied only by making goods plentiful and men dear. Most of all we lack a greater measure of general critical intelligent interest. We won't get it by allowing our leisure to be frittered away. The way of reconciling capital and labor is to encourage thinking by everyone."

"The wise man can understand the foolish for he has been foolish himself, but the foolish cannot understand the wise for he has never been wise. Therefore it is up to the labor leaders to educate the masses to think intelligently. The large corporations are most punctilious in their treatment of the employees. The principal labor leaders are on the square. Religion applied to industry should help and does help to improve this situation."

"Above all we must keep America a land of healthy discontent. We are succeeding in a cure for unhealthy discontent through religion. We must keep it healthy by religion applied to industry."

Miss Seabury led the Forum group in a discussion of child labor laws. The older people's group and church workers' group also met. Supper was served by women of the parish.

Next Sunday the principal speaker will be Dr. Brewer Eddy on "Religion and International Relations."

AN URGENT APPEAL

Reports from Christmas Seal Sales show only $21.99 addition to our total of February 3rd. Both need and use of all the money which the Seal Sales brings to the health work with children of all Newton is so great that it behooves us all to look through our desks to be certain that forgotten appeals or pledges are brought to light and generous checks sent to your local committees. To be sure, Christmas seems far behind but the need is always with us. Let us not fail to, at least, bring our total up to that of 1927.

BOY SCOUTS

18th Anniversary of the Boy Scout Movement

This week has been the 18th birthday week of the Boy Scouts of America. During the past 18 years, more than 4,000,000 boys of America have had the great advantages and help of this character-building and citizenship training program, which has proven its value many times over.

Today in Newton we have 530 Boy Scouts, or 207 more than there were last April, when the new Council organization went into effect. This is a Scout increase of 64%. Troop officers have increased from 30 to 48, an increase of 60%. Other volunteer personnel has increased from about 75 to well over 200; a most amazing growth in numbers, which consist mostly of men who are actively interested in the Scout program and are taking some share in it.

Boy Scout Week in Newton has been observed quite widely. On Tuesday, the 7th, Troop 3, Nonantum, was invested. On Wednesday, every Scout and Seascout in the Council was asked to wear his uniform. On Friday evening the 10th, the Annual Winter Rally will be held at the Armory, and all are invited. On Saturday, many Scouts will be at Camp; Sunday, the 12th, is Boy Scout Sunday and many Scouts and Troops are attending church in uniform to hear special Boy Scout Services.

New Troop 3, Nonantum, Invested

Nonantum now has a full-fledged Scout Troop. Early last fall, the start was made, and since that time the growth of the Troop, with its full organization, has been slow, but sure and sound.

On Tuesday evening, February 7th, Troop 3, which meets at the Stearns School in Nonantum, was sworn into the ranks of the Troops of Nonumbega Council and 19 Tenderfoot Scouts were sworn in, as well as the Scout Master and Troop Committee.

The meeting opened at 7:45 o'clock with music by the Drum and Bugle Corps of Troop 10, Waban, under the direction of Council Junior Drum Major, Alfred P. Brown.

Scout Master John E. McLeod then lined up the Troop and carried through the Color Ceremony, then turning the Troop over to Commissioner Woodbridge. The Commissioner welcomed Mr. McLeod into the ranks of the Scout Masters of this Council and charged him to observe faithfully the obligations and responsibilities resting upon a leader of boys in the Scout Movement. Mr. McLeod took the Scout Oath publicly.

Commissioner Woodbridge next introduced President William T. Halliday, who greeted parents and officers present and spoke to the new Scouts about the work, camping, and told them what the Council looks to see from the new Troop. He was roundly cheered.

Executive Bruce then charged the Troop Committee, whose duty it is to supervise the Troop and to cooperate actively with the Scout Master, for "with a good Troop Committee, there is always a good Troop." At the conclusion of his charge, he called upon the Committee to rise, make the Scout Sign and promise to carry on their duties faithfully and actively. The Troop Committee consists of Walter Seabury, Chairman; Kenneth Winslow, Secretary-Treasurer; Hon. Edwin O. Childs, John Blakeney, Hugh Boyd, Charles Chasson, Louis Fried, J. Ernest Gibson, Conrad LaRocsee, Lawrence Lombardi, Dr. Cameron Rae.

Commissioner Woodbridge then called upon President Halliday to introduce Mayor Childs, member of the Troop Committee, who spoke forcefully and ably to the Scouts and assembled parents and visiting officials. He told them Scouting would mean to them and urged them to give all that was in them to the Troop, so that they might get all there is in Scouting and avoid the dangers that come with the crucial hour, seven o'clock in the evening. If they choose Scout activities then, they will be on the right path, the Mayor said.

The Commissioner then presented the Troop with a bugle and the Scout Master was given charge to carry on the installation of the new Tenderfoot Scouts. In this festive ceremony, he was aided by Lone Scout Councillor Harry Shain and Scouts from Troop 11, Newton. All candidates were marched from the hall and then brought back blindfolded. Lights were turned off and then, as a Scout from Troop 11 repeated a point of the Scout Law, a candle was lighted by Harry Shain. One by one the Laws were repeated and finally twelve candles illumined the dark hall.

The blinds were then removed and Scout Master McLeod welcomed the new Tenderfoots and charged them with their duty and privileges as Scouts. Troop 10 Drum and Bugle Corps again played; they proved a most effective feature of the program.

At the close of the ceremony, the Troop was marched in orderly fashion from the hall and the new Troop, which has been the dream of the past year was an accomplished fact.

The following Tenderfoot Scouts were invested: Louis Sabetti, Acting Senior Patrol Leader; A. Harney, John MacDonald, Angelo Conino, Floyd Demmons, George Santillo, Jerry Leone, John DeSimone, Amato Disantes, Arthur Trosset, James Thomas, Thomas Sabetti, John Piantedasi, Fred Flynn, Hyman Yanco, Arthur Vachon, Patsy Pavaggio, and Joseph Hamel.

The following officials were present: Assistant Scout Master Roy Argersinger of Troop 10, J. Ryerson of Troop 11, and Messrs. Perkins and Estabrook of Waban. Greetings were sent from other Troops of the Council which could not be present.

On Monday morning, Troop 1, Newtonville, raised its Flag as the start of Boy Scout Week, in the square in Newtonville.

Tuesday evening, February 2nd, the Red and Blue Divisions of Troop 1, Newtonville, held a swimming meet at the Y pool. It was a nip and tuck affair from start to finish. 44 Scouts

Unique Program By Women's Association of Newtonville Church

The Woman's Association of the Newtonville Methodist Church enjoyed a very unique program at its monthly meeting Thursday, February 2, when members of the Association, dressed in fashions of other days, gave selections of old music and readings.

Mrs. J. V. Higgins and Mrs. H. C. Thomas gave a piano duet, "Playing Tag." Mrs. Higgins wearing a black satin dress with long train. Mrs. W. T. Taylor, in a gown of the same period and Mrs. Carrie Worden in a gown of the Revolutionary period, sang "There Are Friends That We Never Forget." Mrs. Joseph Atkinson, wearing a beautiful evening dress of thirty years ago, played "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms" and "Silver Threads Among the Gold." There were readings by Mrs. Maria Merritt, Mrs. Elizabeth Vernon, Mrs. Clarence Lodge, Mrs. Arthur Joslyn, and Mrs. E. E. Clarke. Mrs. Lodge wore a suit and hat which dated back forty years. Mrs. Clarke's dress was so complete that her five year old grandson said to her, "Grandma that isn't a dress. It's a costume." Mrs. Clarke read "Darius Green and His Flying Machine."

Mrs. Robert E. Bruce, wearing a white lace net dress of twenty-five years ago, sang "O Promise Me." She was accompanied by Miss Caroline Gilman. Miss Gilman also accompanied Mrs. Elmer Keene, Mrs. Chester R. Babcock, Mrs. Chester Duffield, and Miss Edith Simpson in the singing of "When You and I Were Young, Maggie." They were a symphony of styles as well as of music. Mrs. Ernest Raliback wore a palm beach suit fifteen years old and carried her music in her mother's music roll. She played "Falling Waters." Mrs. Howell Du Puy wore a beautiful Spanish shawl and gave "The Language of the Fan" in Spanish. Mrs. Frank Morris and Mrs. Herbert Blair followed this with a piano duet "A Spanish Dance" by Moszkowski. Mrs. Don Leonard came out of the past wearing a long black crepon skirt, a lavender and white silk shirt waist and a black brocade velvet dolman. She impersonated the rehearsal of a vocal solo. She said she was crazy over the new song "A Bicycle Built for Two" and was sorry she hadn't selected it instead of "Sweet Afton."

Mrs. J. A. Jones wore a Welsh peasant costume and sang "All Through the Night" in Welsh. Mrs. Robert MacGregor was a typical Gibson girl in the suit and hat worn by Mrs. W. J. Lowstuter on her wedding trip. Mrs. Robert V. Spencer wore a dress featuring the polonaise and bustle of fifty years ago. A fine cashmere shawl, brought over from Scotland in a sailing vessel one hundred and sixty-two years ago, was worn by Mrs. F. L. Wiczecek, who sang "My Grandma's Advice." Mr. Hayden L. Stright added spice to the program by singing "Annie Laurie" in a high falsetto voice. He failed to announce the period of his costume. Mrs. Herbert Blair, president of the Association, presided. She wore a brown sarat silk dress which her mother wore forty-five years ago. A fitting climax to such a delightful afternoon was the serving of tea, and cookies like the ones that were found in grandmother's cookie jar.

CHILDREN'S MUSEUM

Depicting the uncanny reptiles of the Mesozoic age of the earth's history, with lantern slides showing the flying lizards and immense dragon-like animals that browsed through the marshes of North America, Henry C. Stetson will give a lecture for children at the Children's Museum of Boston on February 12 at 3:30 p. m.

"Dinosaurs and Other Reptiles of the Mesozoic Age" will be the subject of this unusual talk to be given by Mr. Stetson who is a student of paleontology at Harvard. Models of a number of these ponderous lizards of grotesque proportions are on exhibit, and may be seen at the Children's Museum at any time prior to the lecture.

The third travel talk of the Saturday series will be given on February 11 when Dr. T. C. Sekhar gives a lecture on India illustrated by Indian objects and lantern slides. Dr. Sekhar is a physician who is now studying health methods at Harvard.

Saturday mornings at 10:30 is the hour for the Museum Story Hour, open to boys and girls from the first to the fourth grades.

WINS GOLD MEDAL

Mr. William M. Paxton of Montvale road, Newton Centre, a noted artist, has been awarded the Beck Gold Medal for his painting, a portrait of Mrs. Francis E. Strawbridge, entered at the 123rd annual survey of American Art by the Pennsylvania Academy of Philadelphia. This painting, in the opinion of the jury of awards, was the finest portrait available for the honor in the exhibition.

were present, under Assistant Scout Masters Ober, Lodge, Brown, Alfred Stafford, and Scout Master Sloane. Events consisted of plunging, underwater swims, diving and a relay race. The Red Division won the meet by a small margin.

Fourteen Scouts from Troop 1 recently took a week-end trip to the cottage of a Mr. Heath, at Lakeville, Mass. There was a camp fire, skating with blankets for sails and the usual good camping program. The following Scouts went: Collicen, Maynard, Hendrick, Margolin, Esmond, Sharpe, Tobbetts, Callihan, Whitney, Heath, Gibson, Spooner, Oscar Jarrell and Hartford.

Troop 4, Highlands, gave a demonstration before the Men's Club of that village on Tuesday evening, February 7th, putting on a Scout meeting, Scout events and the Drum and Bugle Corps.

ARTICLE No. 30

In the previous article, reference was made to duplicate auction and the various results obtained in the play of one hand at different tables. Here is an unusual hand that caused considerable discussion at a recent duplicate game at one of the New York club clubs:

Hearts — A, J, 7, 6, 2
Clubs — J, 10
Diamonds — J, 10, 9
Spades — 9, 8, 5

Z :
Hearts — none
Clubs — A, Q, 8, 5, 4, 2
Diamonds — 7, 5
Spades — A, Q, 10, 7, 3

At Table No. 1, Z dealt and bid one club, A bid one heart, Y and B passed. Z bid one spade, A and Y passed and B bid two hearts. Z bid two spades, A and Y passed and B bid three hearts. Z bid three spades, all passed and by clever play Z scored four odd in spades. His score was thus 125 points for game, 30 points for tricks, and 30 points for honors; a total of 191 points. At Table No. 2, Z bid one spade, A bid two

Hearts — J, 9, 8, 3
Clubs — Q, J, 2
Diamonds — 10, 8, 4, 3, 2
Spades — 10, 8, 4, 3, 2

Hearts — K, 10, 5
Clubs — A, 10, 8, 6, 3
Diamonds — A, 9, 8, 4
Spades — 6

B should trump the ace of clubs with the trey of diamonds. He should now lead the five of diamonds. Z should play the four and A wins the trick with the jack. A should then lead the queen of diamonds, Y should discard the deuce of spades and Z should again refuse to win the trick. A should now lead the five of spades, B winning the trick with the ten of diamonds and Z wins the trick. A discarding the five of clubs and Y the four of spades. Z's best play now is the trey of clubs. A should play low. Y the jack and B should trump. B should now lead his king of diamonds and drop the nine of hearts and Y the eight of spades. B should now lead three rounds of spades. Z is thus forced to make three discards. He can discard one heart and one club but what will he discard on the third trick? If he discards a club, A's two clubs are good. If he discards a heart, B's ace and queen of hearts are good. In either event, therefore, A-B must make the balance of the tricks. It is a neat little problem and a fine example of the "squeeze" play.

Answer to Problem No. 43

Hearts — none
Clubs — A, 9
Diamonds — 10, 8
Y :
A : B :
Z :
Hearts — K
Clubs — none
Diamonds — J, 6
Spades — 6

Clubs — 10
Diamonds — 9, 7
Y :
A : B :
Z :
Hearts — 9
Clubs — none
Diamonds — A, 4
Spades — 3

There are no trumps and Z is in the lead. How can Y-Z win three of the four tricks against any defense? Z should lead the trey of spades. A wins the trick. Y should discard the nine of clubs, B follow suit. A can now lead either clubs or diamonds. (1) If A leads clubs, Y wins the trick and B is forced to discard. If he discards the king of hearts, Z should discard the four of diamonds and both of Z's tricks are good. If B discards a diamond, Z should discard the nine of hearts and Y-Z then have two good diamond tricks. (2) If A leads the seven of diamonds, Y plays the eight. If A leads the nine of diamonds, Y plays the ten. Now no matter what B plays, Y-Z must win two diamond and one club trick. It is a tricky little problem but of a type that comes up frequently, so study it over carefully.

theatre, after which a delightful informal talk was given by a member of the staff telling of the objects and aims of the company. A tour of the theatre and the play "The New Henrietta" completed a very enjoyable afternoon. Mrs. Clinton W. Tylee of the Drama Committee had the arrangements in charge.

This departure from the activities of classes and lectures, in a companionable afternoon of play made for friendly intercourse that was the more charming because it wasn't strictly formal in Club work.

Auburndale Junior Woman's Club

The February meeting of the Juniors of the Auburndale Woman's Club was held at the home of the secretary, Miss Ruth Ufford. After the singing of "America the Beautiful" the report of the last meeting was read. As a means of raising money for the Club, an informal dance was voted upon, to be held at the Club house on March 17th. If that date is agreeable to the executive board of the Senior Club, and if the auditorium will be available on that night. As the bat of last month was not a success, a bridge and bowling party was voted upon to take place on the first Tuesday that the Club may have the alleys. This concluded the business meeting. A game of advertisements was then played, which was won by "Sunny" Palmer, and attractive Valentine refreshments were served.

Shakespeare Club

Mrs. William E. Moore of Hillsdale road entertained the Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands on Saturday last. Mrs. Mary C. Blakemore prepared the Quiz and presided at its presentation at the request of the Executive Board. Among the points she brought out clearly and beautifully in the various character portrayals of Shakespeare in Act III of King John were the unreasoning grief of a bereaved mother and the deserted betrayed and lonely Constance amidst her false friends and ruthless enemies; the ambition of the tyrannical King John; the selfish, calculating policy of Philip of France; the cold, subtle, heartless legates; the fiery, reckless Louis Falconbridge; the still unconquered spirit of the crafty, calm Queen Eleanor; the loneliness, sweetness and purity of the bride, Blanche; and Constance in their midst with her maternal affection and her great grief. The finest poetry Shakespeare has written gives here not only a poetical, but a dramatic picture that in the grouping is wonderfully fine.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

Seventy-five or more members of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club responded to the call of Mrs. Harry L. Cook, chairman, to come in costume and make merry Monday evening, February 6th, it being the ninth anniversary of the Club. Mrs. Robert McLaughlin, president, presided, and after a short business meeting, offered congratulations to the club in the name of the Club, to Mrs. Walter F. Stevens, a former officer, who was that day celebrating her wedding anniversary and who wore her wedding dress. The chairman for the evening extended a few words of greeting. Community singing was led by Mrs. Thomas L. Aiken, after which chairs were moved back to the wall to make room for the spelling match led by Miss Ella Curtis. This was the time when one could appreciate the costumes worn by members, for "Priscilla," the "Red Cross Nurse," and "the bride," were in line with little "kindergartners," "Highland lasses," and others in gowns from thirty to a hundred years old—all joined in to spell down the next one. Mrs. Walter F. Dugan receiving the prize of a candlestick made in the Antonia L. Potteries.

Mrs. Elmer L. Atwell gave a solo dance—the Highland Fling—accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Albert Proctor, the "traffic cop." The birthday cake, made by Mrs. McLaughlin, was lighted by candles and passed around that all might see it, after which it was cut and eaten. Refreshments served by the Hospitality Committee, Mrs. Raymond Capolano, chairman, were very refreshing, and included tiny cakes in which was placed a lighted candle of yellow, the Club color.

When the contents of the birthday bags were counted it was found they contained $28.63 for the treasury.

Newtonville Woman's Club

"The Three R's of Home-Making" was the theme discussed by Mrs. Henry A. Burnham at the regular meeting of the Newtonville Woman's Club last Tuesday. Mrs. Burnham emphasized the spiritual side of our home life and urged the cultivation of the three R's religion, rhythm in routine and riskibility.

Mrs. J. Porter Russell, president of the Newton Federation, spoke a few words urging the Club's attendance at the meeting in West Newton on February 10th.

A brief history of the Governor's Council, the scope of its work, and how a woman happens to be one of its members, was very delightfully told by Mrs. Julius Andrews—that member. The Glee Club rendered three selections with Mrs. William Ferrine as leader and Miss Dorothy Curtis as accompanist.

A Valentine tea was served by Mrs. Joseph C. Atkinson and Mrs. Henry J. Barner. Mrs. H. W. Schaschke, Mrs. John Eddy, Mrs. W. T. Rich, and Mrs. William Timbie presided at the table.

The results of the prize Poster contest for high school pupils emphasizing the idea of better homes, and conducted by the American Home Committee were on exhibition. The first prize was awarded to Gertrude Persall, the two second to Stella Adams and Catherine Anderson, and the third to Francis Ober. This award was especially appropriate and pleasing on American Home Day.

General Federation

Someone has said that the only thing in America that isn't standardized is the language. Inventions and devices made for convenience, comfort or pleasure Americans leave nothing undone to perfect, but not so with the native tongue.

The General Federation of Women's Clubs has a Better Speech Committee whose activities extend into every State in the Union and from February 19 to 25 the Women's Clubs, schools, and kindred organizations will co-operate in Better Speech Week.

Exaggeration and slang come from an effort to vivify language, to relieve it of monotony, yet there is nothing more monotonous than a constant repetition of a worn-out phrase—a kind of conventional slang that has lost its meaning through its very repetition, according to Katherine Knowles Robbins of Chicago, chairman of this Committee in the General Federation.

Mrs. Robbins says: "Otto Jespersen, noted linguist, says he wishes that everyone might create one new word each month. Language would be enriched thereby." Here is food for thought. And the point of it all is, of course, that so many of us are impoverished by the overuse of hackneyed expressions instead of developing and enriching the language.

The General Federation in its effort toward better speech is also concerned with finer diction. Nasal twang, strident tones, slovenly articulation, throatiness or hoarseness, said to be characteristic of the American voice, can all be eliminated if only the American people can be made conscious of a standard of perfection. There is such a standard, and more and more the well educated American is becoming ashamed of mediocrity in language as in everything else. If must speak well. Henry James said: "I commend to you imitation of a formed and finished utterance wherever that music steals upon your ear."

By Edw. H. Powers

Senator "Tom" Heflin of Alabama, who poses with well (or ill) feigned fervor as the champion of those persons below the Mason and Dixon line who, because of limited education, and associations, regard those of their fellows who differ from them religiously with distrust, might impress many in Greater Boston as being sincere were it not for a speech he delivered some years ago at Charlestown, when, as the orator at a "Bunker Hill Day" celebration, he lauded profusely those whom he now denounces.

The intolerant folks to whom "Tom" and his kind pander are victims of circumstances. They are narrow because they live in little worlds of their own and do not have opportunities to mingle with men who happen to be of other racial or religious persuasions. The professional bigots who thrive down South in certain sections would soon have to find more honorable fields for their "talents" if the "brotherhood of man" were exemplified in their balliwick as it was at Natick recently when 400 members of several fraternal orders, including Masons, Knights of Columbus, Odd Fellows, Elks and Eagles sat down together at a banquet and listened to a talk on good fellowship and tolerance by Mayor Childs of this city.

The other evening we rode from Cambridge to Watertown in a Boston Elevated car. Every time the car stopped to allow passengers to alight the conductor, whose number was 3590, would caution the passengers to watch out for approaching automobiles. This conductor deserves credit for displaying such concern for the safety of the passengers who ride with him. It would be a good thing if all the conductors on the Elevated emulated his example.

It may be presumption for one not versed in criminology to take exception to any action by those whose duty it is to enforce the law. But, the thought occurred to us—"Was wisdom shown when the jail sentences imposed upon Francesco Gorgone by judges in the Newton court for violations of the liquor laws, and from which appeals were taken, were not likewise imposed when he appeared before the Superior Court at Cambridge?" Had this man served a jail sentence would he have desisted from further participation in illegal liquor traffic? Would a tragedy have been avoided? Bootleggers who make huge profits can well afford to pay heavy fines. Such fines do not deter them from continuing their illegal occupation.

It is easy to criticize the police. Much of the criticism directed at them is unjust and undeserved. Most persons who accuse the police, including the Newton police, of not endeavoring to wipe out illegal manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquor, do not realize how difficult this task is. The police cannot obtain warrants to search houses where "booze" is supposed to be made and sold unless they can obtain positive or prima facie evidence that such is the case. This evidence is hard to obtain. Most persons engaged in illicit liquor traffic take precautions not to be caught. They know their patrons. Policemen in disguise, rarely in a city such as Newton can purchase liquor. Neither can spotters, unless the bootlegger is unusually careless. And if a spotter does get evidence, it is difficult to get a jury to accept it when an appeal is taken to the Superior Court, assuming that the Newton court, or any district court, convicts a "bootlegger."

Because the odor of alcoholic liquor is detected coming from a house, a search warrant cannot be issued. One of the reasons advanced by the American patriots when they revolted from British rule and established their independence was the abuse of the "light of search" by British officials. The founders of the United States asserted, "Every man's house is his castle," and this constitutional right prevents local and Federal officials from obtaining search warrants to apprehend suspected "moonshiners" and "bootleggers."

It is easy to say, "The Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead Act should be enforced." But if those who are too ready to condemn the apparent failure of law enforcement officers to put prohibition into effect realized the difficulties encountered in this task, they would be less ready to criticize. With the huge profits resulting from illegal liquor traffic, with the possibility of manufacturing alcohol from so many products of nature, with the contempt shown by a large percentage of the American people, in all walks of life, for the prohibition laws, it is about as easy to wipe out illegal traffic in intoxicants as it was to clean the Augean stable.

Lieutenant Reginald D. Thomas' talk on "Aviation" illustrated with pictures drew out the largest attendance of the season at the Fellowship Club last Monday evening. Lieutenant Thomas is Commanding Officer at the Naval Air Station at Squantum and from his experience gave much interesting information about the progress of flying and the reason for the success and failures of pilots. He stressed the point that most accidents occur from failure of the pilot to observe certain rules and from over confidence rather than from any defects in the engine or in the design of the plane. Many stayed until nearly nine o'clock to ask questions which the Lieutenant very kindly answered.

Next week on February 13th, the members of the Fellowship Club will have the pleasure of listening to two artists, Miss Bessie Stratton, Director of Religious Education at Eliot Church, who will read stories, and Mr. Arthur LeBlanc, a young man of twenty years of age, and a pupil of Felix Winteritz, who will play the violin. Mr. LeBlanc comes through the courtesy of Mr. F. O. Stanley of Newton. Anyone who would like to come to this meeting of the Club will be welcome. The program begins at seven o'clock.

A group of musicians, under the direction of Mr. Walter S. Bruton, went over to the Detention Station at East Boston and gave a concert last Sunday afternoon for the shut-ins. Mr. Richard B. Simmons, during the month of February, goes over twice a week to the Detention Station to take charge of a play and recreational period for the men who are detained by Uncle Sam. This service is under the auspices of the Greater Boston Port Work Committee.

Eighty Boy Scouts from the Newtonville Troop led by Douglas Sloane and Jake Stafford, held a swimming meet in the "Y" pool on Thursday evening.

On Tuesday a group of young men and women from the Newton Trust Company held a bowling contest on the alleys.

A number of new full length lockers have been put in the Business Men's Locker Room.

Opportunity is now being given to sign up for a candlepin tournament which will begin in March.

MATTHEWS—MOORE DANCE

About 100 couples, including guests from Boston, Brookline, Lexington and other suburbs, were present at the dance given at the Braeburn Club on Friday evening, February 3, by Mr. and Mrs. Harry N. Matthews and Mr. and Mrs. Robert N. Moore, Jr., of Waban. The Chinese motif was used throughout the affair. Lanterns, fans, wistaria and cherry blossoms combined to give an Oriental setting which was heightened by the costumes of the waiters and waitresses who served the supper of Chinese food.

Excellent music was furnished by Morey Pearl's orchestra. Much curiosity was aroused by the initials "P. S. N. F." which appeared on the invitations.

Prizes were awarded to Mr. Russell Burnett and Mrs. Leigh E. Liggett who both guessed the correct meaning—"Please show no favoritism."

SAXONY WORSTED MILLS CLOSED

The Saxony Worsted Mills at Nantucket, one of Newton's largest industries, closed down the first of the month. These big mills, units of the United States Worsted Company, for many years gave employment to hundreds of Newton residents. In their prosperous days the Saxony Mills were charged from worsteds to silk and rayon—and mighty little of these. So the textile mills, which were the backbone of New England's prosperity, are idle, and business in New England suffers accordingly. It is hoped, for the welfare of Newton, that the shutdown at the Saxony Mills will be of short duration.

The Aetna Mills at Bemis, another old textile concern which for generations has given employment to many Newton workers, is reported as soon to close.

WITHDRAWS OIL PLANT PETITION

A petition was presented to the City Clerk last week and submitted to the License Committee of the Aldermen from Henry J. O'Brien of 4 Brattle street, Cambridge. Mr. O'Brien asked for a permit to keep and sell oil at 594 Washington street, Newton, the amounts specified were 20,000 gallons of heavy oil, 20,000 gallons of light oil, 20,000 gallons of gasoline. The locus specified is the narrow strip of land adjoining the Brattle Coal Yard and nearly opposite the high school of the Church of Our Lady. The petition was later withdrawn. Possibly the petitioner learned that the Boston & Albany railroad will not permit the storage of inflammable fluids within 100 feet of its main line. Even though this obstacle did not confront the petitioner, had Mr. O'Brien been conversant with affairs in Newton, he would have realized that it is highly improbable that the Board of Aldermen would grant a permit for a wholesale oil and gasoline plant almost directly opposite a large school and quite near a church.

Big Brother Speaks at Warren Assembly

The pupils of the Warren Junior High were delighted last Tuesday, when they discovered that the speaker for the assembly was Big Brother. When Mr. Scarborough introduced him, Big Brother said that if what Mr. Scarborough said was true then he was going back and ask Edison Company for a raise.

Bob Emery told the pupils that he preached with song and laughter. "All that the Big Brother Club is trying to do is to prove that you can have just as good a time in your own home as on the streets." The aim of the Club is to co-operate with the home.

He concluded with the reading of his famous "Radio Recipe" and "Big Brother Says Good-Bye."

On Tuesday, January 31, the Levi F. Warren Junior High School played the Frank A. Day Junior High School. The result of the first half was 24 to 5, in favor of the Frank A. Day Junior High. The result of the last half was 15-10, in favor of the same. The opposing team played an exceedingly good game. Warren also played a good game and showed their good sportsmanship.

Mason School

The Mason School Hockey Team, through its 9-1 victory over Bigelow, is now in a top tie with the Hyde School for leadership.

Richard Kelley, the Mason School Captain, stood out as the star of the game. Perkins, Goodbar and Houghton also featured.

A communication recently received from the office of the Highway Education Board announces that Jean Carver was one of the state winners in the 1926-27 National Safety Essay Contest. This is in recognition of a paper written last spring suggesting ways of making our highways safer. These essays were voluntarily contributed by individual boys and girls throughout the United States. The prize consisted of five dollars and a bronze medal presented by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce. Although it is to be regretted that the announcement did not arrive a few weeks earlier in order that Jean might have known of this honor before her sudden death took her from our midst, we do appreciate it as paying one more tribute to the memory of a little girl whose intellect and patriotism were greatly admired.

F. A. Day Junior High

The Assembly program this week was a continuation of the prize-winning contest, begun in January. From each of these programs, the three best speakers are chosen. These winners will contend for the school prize later in the year.

The members of the ninth grade are enthusiastic in their plans for a dance to be held in the auditorium on February 17 from 3:30 to 5:30 in the afternoon.

Members of the Student Council have been elected for the second half of the year. Lester Potter was again chosen president; Molly Owens, secretary; Alice Collins, secretary; Leroy Benoit, captain of boys' student patrol; Jean Wilson, captain of girls' student patrol. MUST HAVE LICENSES Restrictions have been placed on those travelling merchants and their employees who vend meats, fish, bakery goods and other food in Newton. Formerly these "house to house" purveyors of food did not have to obtain licenses but the law has been changed and now they must conform to this requirement even as do their competitors who maintain stores and pay high rent. Andrew Prior, Sealer of Weights and Measures, had issued a warning to those hawkers and peddlars who have been doing business without being licensed.

POLICE NEWS

Murray Rowlings of 254 Watertown street, Newton, was found guilty by a jury in the Middlesex Superior Court on Tuesday on the charge of maliciously injuring the building of the Watertown Garage at 53 Galen street last October. Milton Reinhardt, owner of the garage, testified that Rowlings had some repairs on his car which amounted to $39.45, but he wanted to pay but $29.45. When Reinhardt refused and closed the garage doors to prevent Rowlings driving the car out, the latter, according to the complainant, drove the car against the doors, backed off 30 feet, drove at the doors again, then backed 60 feet into the garage and with this start crashed through the doors. Rowlings testified that the bill on the repairs was $29.45, which he paid, but that Reinhardt then wanted him to pay $10 on another bill. He did not pay this and was driving out when Reinhardt tried to close the doors. They caught on the bumper of the car. He was sentenced to 10 days in the House of Correction.

Saturday afternoon the police were notified by a woman living on Langdon road, Newton, that three young men were acting suspiciously in that vicinity. The police responded rapidly and arrested the trio, James Morris of East Brookline street, Boston, Dean Dempsey of Warren avenue, Boston, and Victor Festa of Changer street, Revere. Morris had a revolver in his possession. In the Newton court yesterday, Morris was given six months in the House of Correction for carrying the "gat," and also a six months, suspended sentence for vagrancy. The other two each received six months for vagrancy.

Jeremiah Kiley of Natick, arrested on January 29 by Serg. Crowley for driving while under the influence of liquor, was given a suspended fine of $100 in the Newton court yesterday by Judge Allen.

LOCAL MAN HAD METAL "KNUCKLES"

Sunday night Patrick White of Bowers street, Newtonville, was hit at the corner of Harvard and Washington streets, Newtonville, by one of those cowardly creatures known as "hit and run drivers." He suffered from shock and bruises. The police ambulance arrived with Patrolman "Jim" Goddard and as Goddard was at the scene of the accident he was almost run down by another autoist. This driver started to berate Goddard and was arrested by the policeman charged with driving while under the influence of liquor. He was Domenic Antonellis of 46 Lincoln road, Newton. When searched at police headquarters he was found to have metal knuckles in his possession. His case will be heard on February 11th.

AUTO ACCIDENTS

Autos driven by Herbert Wheeler of Hopkinton and Charles Coburn of Brookline collided last Friday at the corner of Walnut and Watertown streets, Newtonville. Wheeler's truck was badly damaged. Lawrence Fifield of Waltham, who was riding with him, suffered a cut over one of his eyes.

Harold Davis, 21, of 66 Ash street, Waltham, received a severe injury to one hip on Monday as he was shifting gears on an automobile truck he was driving on Centre street, Newton. He was taken to Dr. Cumming's office and then removed to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance.

Charles Melcher, 29, of Locust street, Dorchester, received an injury to his back on Wednesday afternoon in an automobile collision at the corner of Commonwealth avenue and Centre street, Newton Centre. He was taken to the Newton Hospital. Since the automatic signals replaced traffic officers along Commonwealth avenue, complaints have been made that a number of automobile drivers have been ignoring the signals.

Frederic Wood of 25 Central street, Auburndale, was driving a car about a week ago when it collided at the corner of Commonwealth avenue and Auburn street with a car driven by Patrick Nee of Brackett street, Oak square. Several days after the accident, on Wednesday, Wood reported to the police that he had received an injury to his teeth in the collision.

Annual Winter Rally Of Newton Boy Scouts Held At West Newton Armory

Large Attendance Witnesses Demonstration of Scout Activities Won by Newton Highlands Troop

On Friday evening, Feb. 10, the annual winter rally of the Norumbega Council was held at the Armory in West Newton. There were about 1000 people in the audience and nearly 500 Scouts and Sea Scouts in attendance.

The rally was won by Troop 4 of Newton Highlands with 13 points; second place taken by Troop 1 of Newtonville, with 10 points, and third by Troop 11 of the Corner, with 8 points. Troop 7 of West Newton took fourth place with five points and Troops 5 and 19 of the Centre tied for fifth place with four points each.

The meet started at 7:21 o'clock with a fanfare by Division 2 of the Council Drum and Bugle Corps, and the whole Corps, under Drum Major Richard Schroeder and Junior Drum Majors Alfred Brown, Jr., and Robert Spooner, gave a 10-minute concert which was excellent.

Just at the close of the concert the staff marched in under the leadership of Commissioner Woodbridge. The staff was composed of President Halliday, First Vice-President Marney, Deputy Commissioners Stone, Varney and Bartram, Scoutmaster Gilcreas, Clerk of Events, Honorary Commissioner Irwin, Regional Scout Executive H. B. Converse, Portmaster R. H. Brown, Chief Judge Ralph Whitman of the Algonquin Council, Scout Executive K. B. Canfield of the Quincy Council, Dr. D. L. Lynch, James R. Warren, Recorder, and Mr. William Breed, who assisted Mr. Gilcreas.

The troops and audience were placed, all ticket taking, ushering and guard duty was efficiently performed by the Sea Scout Ship 13 under Skipper Morgan H. Harris.

At the close of the concert, Scoutmasters were called front and centre by the Adjutant, Scout Executive Bruce, asked to report on attendance and were given final rally instructions.

New Troop Introduced

The Council was then turned over to the Commissioner, who conducted the color ceremony, in which all American colors were marched forward and massed. Following the ceremony, Troop 3 of Nonantum, under Scoutmaster John E. McLeod, was marched forward and introduced. Scout Brown of Troop 10 led the Council in a rousing cheer for the "baby" troop, which responded with a snappy salute.

Rally Events New

The Council was then given over to Mr. Gilcreas, Clerk of Events, who first called out the Friction Fire contestants, of whom there were about 40; Troop 1 took first place, Troop 5 second and Troop 3 third.

In the attempt for the world's championship, the best time of 12 odd seconds was made, which was about two seconds more than the time of Troops 1 and 5 in troop tryouts.

Knot-Tying Rescue

A new Council knot-tying contest, taken from the Brockton Fair contests, was tried out. It was for the purpose of actually showing practical use to which knots might be used. It consisted of a knot-tying rescue.

HERE is a weighty argument for a thrift account. The home that has a baby and no account, is giving short weight to the baby.

Registrar Goodwin Speaks At Newtonville

Addresses Claffin Club on Boston Elevated Railway Question

At the monthly meeting last Friday evening of the Claffin Club at the Newtonville M. E. Church, Mr. Frank A. Goodwin, Registrar of Motor Vehicles, discussed the Boston Elevated Railway situation.

"There is only one solution of the problem," he declared, "and that is Government ownership of this system, because it retains to the car rider the millions he has put into the road during the past nine years. If this road is taken over the State can borrow money for 3 or 3½ percent, while today the car rider is paying 6, 7, and 8 percent."

Mr. Goodwin said that there are four propositions upon which the Legislature may act.

"First," he said, "it may do nothing at all; second, it may extend public control; third, it may turn the road back to the stockholders under the provisions of the contract, or, fourth, have Government ownership."

The Registrar believed that the third was better than the other two, but declared that a certain provision contained in the control bill makes it impractical to return the road to the stockholders.

Mr. Goodwin said that instituting Government ownership "is no greater departure from our present system for the State of Massachusetts to run its transportation system than it is for the United States Government to run the post office or the city of Boston or the Metropolitan District to run the water department."

APPOINTED RESERVE POLICEMEN

The Board of Aldermen of Newton having authorized the establishment of a reserve force in the Newton Police Department, Chief Burke has appointed from the list of eligibles the following men—Daniel W. Keating, 24 John street, Newton Centre; James F. McHugh, 49 Eddy street, West Newton; John J. McGrath, 1617 Washington street, West Newton; Herbert L. Pollock, 427 Albenmarle road, West Newton; William H. McHugh, 49 Eddy street, West Newton; Cornelius Dwyer, 14 Adams terrace, Newton; Joseph B. O'Connor, 242 River street, West Newton; Joseph M. Greeley, 14 Nonantum place, Newton; Joseph L. Davis, 62 Cottage place, Upper Falls; Robert J. Tompkins, 509 California street, Newtonville.

NEWTON CHORAL SOCIETY

The usual rehearsal was held Tuesday night with a good attendance, and several new tenors were very heartily welcomed. The evening was spent in study of Francis's "Psalm 150," Cesar Cui's "Song of Your Wings," and Osmond's "In Piccadilly."

Mr. Lang is a very painstaking conductor, and he feels that his singers should go over the more difficult passages until they get them right, which makes the work very valuable as a training for singers. Marked improvement was shown by the chorus in the work done, and in return for his various criticisms, Mr. Lang encouraged the singers by telling them that the quality of tone on the lighter pieces was very beautiful. The next rehearsal will be Tuesday evening at 7:45 at Central church, Newtonville. New members are welcome.

troop and then charged Mr. Center with his new duties, asking him to take the Scout oath.

Mr. Center asked the backing of the troop, stating that he would endeavor to carry on the fine work started by Mr. Settle and that he hoped the Scouts would regard him as their "Scout Dad." He stated he assumed he had all the resignations of Scout officers. He then appointed Eagle Scout Robert Spillman as acting Junior Assistant Scoutmaster, Charles Kirkpatrick as Senior Patrol Leader and reappointed the former Patrol Leaders and assistants, stating that appointments were for 60 days and that the troop would then hold an election. He told the appointees that if they made good the Scouts would give them a square deal by re-electing them if they made good in the 60-day period.

Mr. Center then asked Mr. Settle to conduct the closing ceremony and the troop committee then served refreshments to the group.

Why Own Your Home?

To own your home is a duty you owe your wife and children—just as important as life insurance. In the event of your death your family need not "move out" because they cannot pay high rent. You have left them more than a home—something tangible upon which to realize dollars when needed.

The man who invests in a home is richer than the man who invests in rent receipts, not only in dollars and cents, but greater still—in peace of mind.

The Rainbow Revue A Great Success

Local Talent Gives a Fine Exhibition at Newton Centre

On Friday and Saturday evenings, February 3rd and 4th, under the auspices of the Newton Centre Women's Club, Mr. C. Hassler Capron produced the Rainbow Revue of Revues in the Club House. This musical extravaganza consisted of two acts of eleven scenes of cleverly conceived effects of color and motion and music most successfully worked out in minute detail. The music was furnished by Louis Hafermehl's orchestra.

At the first rise of the curtain Norman Powers and Ralph Stuart were keeping bachelor hall and reminding of pleasant summer days spent with fascinating maidens and as Mr. Powers sang "Smoke Rings" how the softened light visions of these girls materialized in the fireplace: Jean, Dot, Kitty, Bea, Helen and Peg, taken by Misses Morgan, Scudder, Harlow, Holmes, Ridgway, Young and Stuart.

The next scene was an ambitious performance by Priscilla Wright called "A Bit of Pep." This ten-year old girl gave an exhibition of gymnastic and acrobatic dancing which showed great suppleness and control.

Scene 3 was a presentation of ten girls of colonial days charming in crinolines and little oval hats with streamers; Jeannette Fink sang the solo, "Old Fashioned Girl" and a chorus of crinolines girls with colorful dresses came in for stately dance. The Lamp Doll, Norma Morgan, gave a graceful interpretation and Miss Fink closed the scene with the song "Crinolines Days."

Scene 4 was a page out of the Fairy Tales played by little girls. Dorothea Barton sang "Little Red Riding Hood" and a chorus of ten little girls in red riding hood costume attended her in chorus and dance. Eleanor Colony as the fairy prince escorted Red Riding Hood up the chance steps to the altar attended by six petite bridesmaids. There Priscilla Wright stood as minister for her little ceremony.

Scene 5 was one of the most effective of all the evening's offerings. Five swings, the ropes strung with roses and colored lights, were occupied by five lovely girls: Misses Fink, Morgan, Ridgway, Scudder, Stuart, in summer frocks, five swing men: Messrs. Powers, Stephenson, Stuart, West and Pratt attended the girls and swung them far out into the hall as the orchestra played the rhythmic melody. Miss Fink in the centre swing sang the solo, "Come and have a swing with Me."

After an intermission the second act opened with a beautiful setting of Fujiyama in the distance mirrored in the sheen of a blue lake. Trellises covered with wisteria completed the effect of a garden of Japan bathed in moonlight. Mr. Don Howard, who is master of ceremonies at Club Karnak in Boston, sang "The Japanese Lover." Mr. Howard's voice has a sympathetic quality and a pure tone that drew great applause from the audience. Exciting Track Meet Won By Huntington

Two New Track Records—Andover Intercollegiate Tomorrow

Yesterday afternoon on the Newton high school indoor track the Huntington school track team won from the Newton high runners, 35½ to 32½ in one of the most exciting meets of the season. The orange and black outfit was without the services of Jimmie McCrudden, star 1000-yard runner, who injured himself last Saturday. McCrudden would undoubtedly have won his event had he been fit to run, but Coach Enoch took no chances with his star who will probably enter the Andover meet tomorrow. The loss of McCrudden cost Newton the meet as first place in the 1000 would have swung enough points to put them on top.

Two new track records were established one by a Huntington runner and the other by the Newton relay team. Joseph Murphy of Huntington was caught in 36.15 seconds in the 300-yard run which broke the old mark established by Walter McQuiston and equalled a few weeks ago by Nathan Pearson by one-fifth of a second. The relay race which the Newton team won by a narrow margin was also run in new figures. Romaine Cole, Fowler Cole, Nathan Pearson and Captain Malcolm Reed were clocked in 1 min. 20.45 seconds. The summary:

30-Yard Dash—Won by Ford, H.; Smyth, H., second; F. Cole, N., third. Time, 3.45s.

30-Yard Low Hurdles—Won by R. Cole, N.; Ricker, H., second; Smyth, H., third. Time, 4s.

300-Yard Run—Won by Murphy, H.; Ford, H., second; tie for third between Pearson, N., and Ricker, H. Time, 36.15s. (New track record).

600-Yard Run—Won by Malloy, H.; Reynolds, Newton, second; Conley, H., third. Time, 1m. 23.25s.

1000-Yard Run—Won by Bartlett, H.; Burton, second; Adams, N., third. Time, 3m. 21.25s.

Running High Jump—Won by Ebel, N., 5ft. 9in.; Shilney, H., second; 5ft. 8in.; Kavanagh, H., third, 5ft. 5in.

Putting 12-Pound Shot—Won by Gatchell, N., 42ft. 9in.; Pescosole, N., second, 41ft. 1in.; DeMille, N., third, 40ft. 2in.

Relay Race—Won by Newton (R. Cole, F. Cole, Pearson, Reed); Huntington (Smyth, Loker, Murphy, Ford), second. Time 1m. 29.45s. (New track record).

Andover Meet Tomorrow

Newton high has entered its full strength with the possible exception of Jimmie McCrudden in the Andover interscholastic meet tomorrow. McCrudden cut his right leg while splitting wood last Saturday and the injury (Continued on Page 12)

Morgan, Murphy, Ridgway, Stratton and Wilbar gave a Japanese dance. Miss Grant, specialty dancer in Geo. Colman's Company, gave several graceful and finished dances as Scene 2.

Scene 4 was a Country Club group of Rainbow Girls with gay parasols. Good singing was done by Miss McClellan and Mr. Pratt. Mr. Howard then sang "The House by the Side of the Road," to music composed by Mrs. Galesian. The final scene was in every way a grand climax to the show. Specialty dancing by Miss Barton and Miss Morgan and by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Stuart was followed by the formal entrance of six girls gorgeously attired as sun rays of rainbow colors—and attended by pages. The little motionless sun idol, Priscilla Wright, rose and interpreted a dance of the idol and as the radiant assemblage of rays and pages were grouped on either side of the stage, a central curtain at the back was drawn and the brilliancy of the previous pageant culminated in the splendor of the setting of the Golden Sun Girl, Miss Mildred MacDonald.

Many chairmen contributed by their efforts in making this year revue a success. Refreshments were served and after the floors were cleared dancing was enjoyed.

Appalling Amount of Cruelty To Children in Massachusetts—Kelso

Executive Secretary of Social Agencies of Boston Addresses Central Council on Welfare Measures

At the meeting of the Newton Central Council, February 14th, Mr. Robert W. Kelso, Executive Secretary of the Boston Council of Social Agencies, gave an address on Welfare Measures for the Better Town. Mr. Kelso stated that unquestionably the problem of the Better Town is the problem of better social relationships. Society today differs greatly from that of a century and a half ago because of the mechanical changes which have taken place. The development of the steam engine introduced a long line of other inventions, all of which have so changed the economic principles of life as to create a new social order. Nor is the change yet completed. Our communities are still in the process of finding themselves.

In America machinery has tended to attract the population from the farm to the city until over half the people of the United States are living in urbanized communities. Yet these people must be supported by the products of the land; produce which is shipped from all over the world. So long as transportation is unimpaired city life goes smoothly, but any war or disaster which necessitates an embargo results in untold suffering to these same centres of population. All of this indicates that the background of any modern town or city is a fragile, delicate thing easily disrupted by disease or calamity. It is entirely in contrast with the hardy, practically independent pioneer communities of 150 years ago. In spite of this fact we are only now learning to look after diseases and that is far too late a time to take action. We have not yet learned to look after health at all. We have barely begun to think about preventive and educational health measures.

Then, too, despite a few great fortunes and much apparent wealth in America practically three out of every ten people are below the minimum of social competency. This large section of the community are lacking the advantages needed for common decency and incidentally serve as a good place for the spread of contagious diseases.

In Massachusetts which is definitely a law abiding state there is an appalling amount of cruelty inflicted upon children. All these situations demand consideration by those who are endeavoring to create better communities. The three corner stones of social competence in any community are of course the home, the church, and the school. In each case they are what we make them. At the present time we are not making much of the church in modern society despite the fact that mankind is essentially spiritual. The school, which of course has the church as its foundation, is the most profound and important American institution. It offers the greatest opportunity of social contact between the child and society. In spite of all the fineness of this institution in the past it is at the present time making tremendous strides forward and introducing new processes of learning to greater extent than ever before. The school is now undertaking to fit people for the conduct of daily life. It is now with the help of the home and church teaching health education as the foundation of living. A sound body must first be built up before the mind can be adequately trained.

The home is the weakest of these three elements. It has felt most directly the economic change in the community life because it is an economic reflex. The changes have been so swift that it has been impossible for them to be met. The family no longer centres around a fireside. Its members are all out in the community.

community. As a result the community must be definitely studied and developed to meet these changing needs. It becomes essential therefore to build up a community conscience in order to accomplish such definite ends as city and town planning. Only thus may adequate leadership for youth be developed. Organized social agencies of which there are over 500 in Eastern Massachusetts are now trying to do just this and to take advantage of the group spirit of youth to teach such constructive principles as loyalties, honesties, good sportsmanship and so on. All of this is being done not only in an effort to repair the damages which is indicated by the large numbers of prisons and reformatories but to prevent the spread of lawlessness in the communities.

Federated social work in the present American community is essential in order to combat the evils of urban life. Not only is the financial stability of such organizations important but the functional co-ordination of their several efforts is essential. The foundation problem for each agency to face is the meeting of a real community need. After that the problems of co-operation, of finance, of adequate program building, and of serving as a clearing house for its members, or various mutual problems can be taken into consideration. The most important task at the present time is creating a better town and to build up vitally the home, the school and the church.

Mr. Kelso very kindly answered several questions from the member agencies of a Central Council. The first question dealt with the value of a council such as this to its constituent members. It may serve as a neutral ground for the discussion of problems; as a clearing house on public purchasing; as a social service exchange; as a research department giving assistance in case of surveys and studies; and a joint publicity effort which shall interpret to the entire community the problem faced and the real efforts being made to meet them.

Another question brought out the statement that it is possible to have a council of social agencies without having a community chest. Money raising, although important is a secondary consideration with such a group. Functional interplay is its primary objective.

The question was also brought up as to the right of an organization to use funds contributed for its own work for the maintenance of such a council. A careful study of the question made in Boston indicated that a social agency engaged in any phase of social work can, unless there is an expressed prohibition in its constitution or a phrase in some will or deed of gift, use a portion of its unrestricted funds to send delegates to such a conference, rent space to carry on such work or have membership in such a council as shall be for the benefit of its own work and the whole community.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

NEWTON SEXTET
TOPS CANTABS

Newton High and Melrose High hockey teams were the victors last Friday night in the opening games of the round-robin series for the championship of the Greater Boston Interscholastic Hockey League at the Arena in two games of high class play. The Orange and Black outfit defeated Cambridge Latin 2 to 0 and Melrose was rather lucky to win from Arlington, 3 to 1. Tomorrow afternoon Newton and Arlington will cross sticks while Melrose and Cambridge Latin are attempting to put each other out of the running.

Newton High looked like the class of the four teams that took the ice and had it not been for the fine playing of Daniel Foley, Cambridge net guardian, the score would easily have been five or six to nothing. Dan Harrington, the Newton goalie, saved his team from being scored on twice after time by his playing which drew the applause of the large crowd.

Newton High scored in the first and third periods while the Cantabs were never threatening except in the second session. Fred Harlow, Cambridge star, had a few chances to score but Harrington swept the disc aside on each occasion. Bob Bennett, Newton's defence player, started the scoring in the opening period. After dribbling the length of the ice he uncorked a beautiful shot that found the strings. The third period had only been under way 20 seconds when Frank Spain raced down the rink and made a neat pass to Captain Jimmy Brown, who shot the puck into the cage from the left corner of the rink.

Until the outcome of tomorrow's games are determined there are possibilities of Melrose being the series winners or of a tie between two or three of the four teams entered. Newton needs one more victory to insure a tie unless Melrose should provide an unexpected surprise and win over the Cantabs tomorrow and over Newton on the holiday. In this event Melrose would win the title with a clean slate. But the McDonald outfit, next to Newton, is the strongest in the series, and it is difficult to see how Melrose can win from them. Newton, too, should win from the Poole outfit on the holiday. These two defeats would eliminate Melrose and it means that a victory for the orange and black over Arlington should make it plain sailing. If Arlington should win tomorrow and Cambridge defeat Melrose all four teams would be even with a victory and a defeat, in which case the two winners of the holiday would be tied for the honors. Should Newton lose and Melrose win the latter would then be at the head and Dr. Martin's outfit would need a win on the holiday to even get a tie. While Newton seems the class of the four teams by a considerable margin, schoolboy sports often provide the unexpected and it is never a sure thing until the final whistle blows.

The undefeated Everett High quintet hung up its 13th consecutive win of the season at the expense of the Newton Five Tuesday on the Everett floor 24 to 14. Jackie Fisher, Everett star, played his usual fast game and scored more points than the entire Newton team. He caged seven goals from the floor and two from the foul line for 16 points. Donald Parker led for Newton for four points, closely followed by deMille and Payne with three each. The Everett second team defeated the Newton seconds, 27 to 13, in a preliminary game.

The Newton Centre Squash Racquets team in Class C of the Massachusetts State Association matches held onto the top berth in its division Saturday by defeating the Harvard freshmen, 3 to 2. Walker, by virtue of its clean sweep over Weston, crept to within two points of the local team. In another match the Newton club won out the short end of a 3 to 2 count with the Harvard Medicos.

Local Team Leads

Country Day Tracksters Lose

Brownie and Nichols defeated Country Day school on the former's track Monday afternoon, 37 to 26. Country Day swept the dash with Ladd, Bigelow and Robbins finishing in that order. Bigelow also placed third in the 300. Joe Cobb finished second in both the 600 and 1000 yard runs and tied for second in the high jump. Crosby Greene tied for first in the shot put and placed third in the broad jump. His brother, Roger Greene, nosed him out for second in the latter event by a quarter of an inch.

Crosby Wins for Exeter

Captain Wilson Crosby, a brother of Edgar Crosby, ex-Harvard athlete, earned for himself a place in the hall of fame of Exeter Academy in the annual Exeter-Andover hockey game last Saturday at the Arena when by his wonderful exhibition of skating, stick handling and dodging he penetrated the Andover defense to tally the goal which dissolved a 2 to 2 tie and brought victory to the New Hampshire outfit in the second of two five-minute overtime sessions.

The team battled without a score for two periods and for five minutes of the third regular session before Exeter tallied the first goal. Andover tied it up a minute later and five minutes afterwards Exeter again took the lead. From then on until the closing minute of play the Andover players battled doggedly to knot the score and the centre ice, Cushman, by an exhibition of marvelous hockey succeeded in his effort with but half a minute to play. The first five minutes of overtime was scoreless and it was midway of the second extra session before Crosby drove the puck past the Andover goalie.

Country Day Six on Trip

The Country Day school hockey squad under the supervision of Coach Austin Chute, left last night for Lake Placid on the first long trip that a Country Day team has taken. The object of the trip is the second annual private school winter sports tournament at the popular spot in the Adirondacks. The local sextet will compete with four other prominent private school teams in a series of hockey games. The team will return Monday. Eleven boys are making the journey and they have high hopes of coming back with honors. While the season's record has not been as good as the past few years because of the loss by graduation of John Garrison, who is now playing for the Harvard yearlings, and because of the enforced postponement through lack of ice of many of the scheduled games the team has done well in the games it has played. It opened the season with a defeat at the hands of Belmont Hill but since that time won every contest except that with Boston English which was held to a 1-1 tie.

Blue Triumphs Over Green

Owen and Mates Swamp Princeton

Captain George Owen and his mates of the University Club hockey team swamped the Princeton varsity sextet in the Hobey Baker Memorial rink at Princeton last Saturday night by a score of 12 to 1. Owen tallied twice, as did Clark Hodder, both of whom are former Newton and Harvard athletes. Ted Leonard had little trouble in the net for the Club team as the outer defence continually stopped the Tigers' attack.

B. U. Tops Bowdoin

The Boston University hockey team captured a 5 to 2 victory from the Bowdoin sextet last Saturday afternoon at Brunswick, Me. The feature of the games was the individual playing of Captain Gyp Lawless of the Terriers. The West Newton youth scored one tally as did Holmes Whitmore, another local member of the Hub team. The Polar Bears' two goals were scored by former Newton youths, Harry Thayer and Stuart Stone. Winslow Howland of Auburnville played a nice game in the net for Bowdoin while Dick Thayer, brother of Harry, was Bowdoin's best man.

Stout Plays for Worcester Academy

Another Newton man has taken to the ice game after leaving the high school. He is Victor Stout who made the Worcester Academy ice team this year as regular wing. He never played on the high school sextet but his playing in amateur circles has always made a hit with the followers of the game and he has evidently been making an impression in the Centre City for he is spoken of, as a promising player. At present he plans to go to Wesleyan and the Middletown college will find him a welcome addition to their baseball circles as well as on the ice.

The first five minutes of overtime was scoreless and it was midway of the second extra session before Crosby drove the puck past the Andover goalie.

Country Day Six on Trip

The Country Day school hockey squad under the supervision of Coach Austin Chute, left last night for Lake Placid on the first long trip that a Country Day team has taken. The object of the trip is the second annual private school winter sports tournament at the popular spot in the Adirondacks. The local sextet will compete with four other prominent private school teams in a series of hockey games. The team will return Monday. Eleven boys are making the journey and they have high hopes of coming back with honors. While the season's record has not been as good as the past few years because of the loss by graduation of John Garrison, who is now playing for the Harvard yearlings, and because of the enforced postponement through lack of ice of many of the scheduled games the team has done well in the games it has played. It opened the season with a defeat at the hands of Belmont Hill but since that time won every contest except that with Boston English which was held to a 1-1 tie.

SPORT NOTES

Blue Triumphs Over Green

The Yale hockey team defeated the Dartmouth six Saturday at Hanover in a close and exciting game by the score of 4 to 3. Palmer, Yale star, caged all of his team's points. Captain Dick Vaughan played his usual excellent game at centre ice for Yale while Dick Rogers, another local boy, teamed well with Captain Myles Lane of the Hanover outfit. Tomorrow the Green team tackles Harvard at the Arena.

Owen and Mates Swamp Princeton

Captain George Owen and his mates of the University Club hockey team swamped the Princeton varsity sextet in the Hobey Baker Memorial rink at Princeton last Saturday night by a score of 12 to 1. Owen tallied twice, as did Clark Hodder, both of whom are former Newton and Harvard athletes. Ted Leonard had little trouble in the net for the Club team as the outer defence continually stopped the Tigers' attack.

B. U. Tops Bowdoin

The Boston University hockey team captured a 5 to 2 victory from the Bowdoin sextet last Saturday afternoon at Brunswick, Me. The feature of the games was the individual playing of Captain Gyp Lawless of the Terriers. The West Newton youth scored one tally as did Holmes Whitmore, another local member of the Hub team. The Polar Bears' two goals were scored by former Newton youths, Harry Thayer and Stuart Stone. Winslow Howland of Auburnville played a nice game in the net for Bowdoin while Dick Thayer, brother of Harry, was Bowdoin's best man.

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

If I should take a day off and canvass the city, asking each person I encountered, "Don't you think Governor Fuller has made a good Governor?" I doubt if I would find many negative answers. On the other hand, I am sure that I would get numerous hearty expressions of approval of his administration. Regardless of party politics I am sure that men and women everywhere in the city would praise our present chief executive.

That being the case, I would take the liberty of addressing these same admirers of Governor Fuller with a further query, "Why don't you let the Governor know your regard for him?"

They, no doubt, would come back at me with, "What do you mean, write a letter?"

And my reply would be, "No, by attending the public reception that is to be held in the Hall of Flags at the State House from 10:30 to 12:30 on the morning of Washington's Birthday."

Without any attempt to pose as a prophet I can safely say that this is the last time Governor Fuller will stand in line to shake hands with the citizens of the Commonwealth who come to him with, "Congratulations, Your Excellency." That he is now serving his last term in that capacity even his closest friends will admit.

Very well then, why not take a couple of hours of your holiday and present yourself at the State House on this patriotic occasion? We in Newton are prone to applaud the spirit displayed by those who attend Governors' receptions on Washington's Birthday, but somehow we don't go any further. We seldom think of going ourselves. That is, most of us act that way about it.

Still, there are those who do go and go regularly. I think I should mention one man, who may not thank me for this publicity, and that is Representative Arthur W. Hollis. Long before he went to the Legislature he began attending these receptions with the members of his family and as far as I know hasn't missed one in years.

He, of course, is not the only one, but I honestly believe that the whole Newton delegation at the State House on Washington's Birthday could be transported in one Elevated bus and that vehicle not crowded. There is a good deal to be derived from a trip to the State Capitol and a handclasp with the Governor of Massachusetts. If you don't believe me, try it.

There is, in my opinion, good grounds for the complaint that many automobilists drive at night with one or both headlights not burning. Somebody has said that the police should be more strict and not permit this flagrant violation of the automobile laws. For my own part I have been inclined to agree with those who insist that a more rigid enforcement of the law would bring about desirable results.

It happened, however, that I encountered Mr. Frank A. Goodwin, State Registrar of Motor Vehicles, with whom I have had friendly relations for a number of years. I said to him, "Out in Newton some of us feel that a lot of auto drivers are getting away with murder in that they drive cars with one or two headlights not burning. Whose fault is it that they are not hauled before the court?"

To this Mr. Goodwin replied, "The only way in which to enforce the headlight law in Newton or any place in Massachusetts is through my office. You talk about the police, but let me show you how that works out. A policeman sees a car without lights. He has got to chase that driver and then get out a complaint and bring him into court. The man tells a story of not knowing that the lights had gone back on him and the judge places the case on file. I am not finding any fault with the disposition of the case, but I can see where a policeman gets disgusted and does not hurry about putting another man into court for the same violation."

"With my inspectors on the roads the case is different. An inspector can hold up a driver and compel him to fix his headlights. If he doesn't he can take away his number plates, which is a pretty good way to bring the man to terms."

"The inspectors of my department take their vacations in November, December, January and February. During the other months of the year we have a full force of inspectors at work. About the first of March we start in on the thorough inspection and the lights are one of the things we get after. We are planning an intensive campaign this Spring and headlight offenders will know it."

The brilliancy of Newton Centre square at night is a source of satisfaction, or should be, to the residents of that section. Also, it is the cause of envy among the residents of other villages. I am glad for the residents of Ward 6 that they have been thus favored. I wish the residents of Wards 1 and 7 in Newton Corner (I still dislike to use the word "corner") could boast of as glorious a nightly illumination.

Now I have no wish to give away any secrets nor do I wish to be put down as a "night owl," which I can prove I am not, but here is something that hasn't been taken into consideration. Down in Newton Corner—did I say down? Well, I was speaking from a Newton Centre viewpoint. At any rate, in Newton Corner there is much activity all night, while in Newton Centre things are usually quiet, beginning in the shanks of the evening. There is just this to be considered. Is it intended by the powers that be to encourage gay night life in Newton Centre by supplying almost dazzling illumination, or discourage nocturnal revelries in Newton Corner by keeping the place in semi-darkness?

Personally, I have an idea that good habits have become so firmly fixed that no one would think of breaking away. I doubt if a night club in Newton Centre would have any appeal because of this very fact. Understand, please, that is no intended reflection, even by comparison, upon the residents of Newton Corner. They haven't, as far as I am able to observe, any keener appetite for night life.

But the fact remains that there is all-night car service at Newton Corner and that at all hours of the night there are many people passing through the square. The police who are on nights from one to eight o'clock a. m. tell me I have no idea how many people are wide awake in Nonantum square when the rest of the city is asleep or should be. It may not be true that because a man chooses to stay out all night when he ought not that the taxpayers must provide him electrical illumination. I am against any such idea.

I do insist that the street lighting system of Newton is not a question of personal conduct, but of actual needs—of public convenience, health and necessity. Any other attitude is unsound. I am eager to learn why there isn't a definite program looking toward the establishment of improved lighting conditions.

While the city is in the mood for buying land why not a slice off Elmwood street, Newton. Here we have the Elliot block in the process of demolition. A new block is to take its place. Fine! An improvement in the appearance of the square and pretty good business, I should say.

I wonder how many agree with me that it might be worth while to widen Elmwood street not only at the corner of Centre street but its entire length. What advantage would there be in that, somebody asks? Just this—a diversion of traffic from the south to Park street, without passing through Nonantum Square. But they don't need to pass through the square, says the next heckler. I know they don't, but if you are a stranger and coming down Centre street from the south you have passed Elmwood street before you know it. If Elmwood street was wider a driver might be induced or tempted or persuaded to turn right to get to Park street or Tremont street and Brighton Hill.

Well, maybe that is too hypothetical. Very well then let us come down to the question, "Does Elmwood street, need to be widened?" And let us answer with, "Yes, it does." In the first place it is a "feeder" for Centre street—a thoroughfare through which there is constant travel. It has an automobile complex, not only because of the garage and the auto salesroom on the street itself, but because of the several garages and auto repair shops on Brook street. And Brook street is a one-way street and cars must come out into Elmwood street. Baldwin street is narrow, one of the narrowest in the city, and is really not a worthy outlet.

Therefore with Elmwood street narrow as it is and Baldwin street narrow there is an inevitable traffic congestion. One need only to give a casual glance, much less make a study of the situation to be convinced that Elmwood street should be widened. What better time for the undertaking than now when the land at the southern corner of Centre street is free of any structures?

Mention was made in the above paragraph of one-way streets. I am informed by one who drives through Newton a great deal every day on business that we do not take our one-way street regulations any too seriously. This man says that the sign or arrow or sign-arrow or arrow-sign is sometimes laughed at.

Maybe we have too many one-way streets that should not be so designated. My informant insists that he has seen men deliberately drive the wrong way on a one-way street without fear of detection. Of course there is nothing smart in doing that—anybody can get away with petty violations of the city ordinances. But what is the reason they are convinced that a city ordinance is not to be taken any too seriously?

Either a one-way street should be maintained as such and the rule or ordinance completely enforced, or the sign removed. It brings the whole set of city ordinances into something akin to contempt to have some one of them violated daily by regular citizens who otherwise represent the best type of citizenship.

Why don't we go over our one-way streets and see if we haven't been too strict. Maybe the original farmers of the traffic regulations were too inclusive in their designation of these one-way thoroughfares. I have as been they may have been. If not, let us find out why the arrows are not accepted as a sign of authority. It's past the joking stage and should be studied at once and settled.

The amended city ordinance which provides that a property owner must pay the entire cost of installing water supply connections from the water main to the building served is a step toward making that branch of the city service self-supporting. As far as that goes it is the one branch that really makes money for the city, speaking in a general way.

Now there must be other departments, and no doubt there are, who do work for the taxpayers and for which the latter make part or full payment. I do not believe that the idea has been extended as fully as it might be. The special committee on water of the Board of Aldermen, however, has set a good example. I mean by that it has opened a subject of which there may well be a general study made.

In the State departments the idea of the Governor that each department

BUYING STOCK IN NEW PROMOTIONS

The appearance of this Service Message in these columns is evidence that this publication subscribes wholeheartedly to the principles of the Boston Better Business Bureau, and co-operates with the Bureau in protecting you . . . even to the extent of refusing to accept the advertising of firms whose advertising and sales policies are proved by the Bureau to be contrary to the public interest.

Statistics show that out of every hundred new enterprises started, only thirteen make any kind of a success. The majority of all promotions offered the public are new enterprises.

The newer it is the better the chance of selling it to the inexperienced, because the less opportunity there has been for it to prove its value. Extravagant prophecies can be made, and who can say definitely that they will never be fulfilled.

Herein lies the explanation of why the so-called investments which are offered to the public by the gold-brick professionals are in almost every instance new things.

Each individual will have to decide for himself whether or not he can afford to speculate in new promotions. Know something of the chances you are taking! Facts regarding new promotions which you can secure from the Better Business Bureau without charge will help you.

BOOKS FOR VERMONT

The public libraries of Vermont have been hard hit by the recent flood. Some have been completely destroyed, others badly damaged. Many villages and rural communities have thereby lost their only cultural and recreation centers. Have you some good books you can spare for them? The Newton Free Library will gladly receive such books, which will be forwarded to Vermont through the Massachusetts Library Club.

Recent books and good editions of standard authors are wanted. Magazines and encyclopedias are not solicited. Books for this purpose may be left at the main library, or at any of the branch libraries; they may also be given to the driver on the house-to-house delivery routes at Oak Hill and Chestnut Hill. All such books should be in before March 1st, as shipment will follow immediately.

Money may be given if desired, and will be used for the purchase of books and for library supplies necessary to carry on the work in the stricken communities.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of the late Leonard A. Jackson of West Newton wish to express their appreciation to all the organizations and individuals for the sympathy extended them in their recent bereavement.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

Guest Night is the delightful occasion of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club next Monday evening, in Emerson School Hall. The business meeting opens at 7:30 o'clock, with the president, Mrs. Robert B. McLaughlin, presiding. The program which follows will be presented by Mrs. William H. Belger, one of the Club directors, and it promises to be a most entertaining one, as a Guest Night, of course, should be. S. Platt Jones, humorist, entertainer, has for fifteen years given character studies that for humor and thoughtful portrayal have been pleasing critical audiences, and he will impersonate, entertain, and give monologues that are sure to be fascinating.

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

The annual dramatics, postponed from early December, is to occupy the attention of members of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club next week, as it has the cast and committee for weeks past, during the period of rehearsals.

Owing to the recent fire in Lincoln Hall, an eleventh hour change in plans for presentation has been forced upon the Dramatic Committee and instead of the one performance, scheduled in the hall for Tuesday evening, February 21st, announcement comes from the chairman, Miss Marion O. Whitcomb, that the Congregation Parish House has been secured for Monday and Tuesday evenings, February 20th and 21st. While the membership and guests will thus be divided into two parties, facilities for hearing and seeing the players will be much enhanced, as only the large room in the Parish House is to be used, thereby bringing the audience into closer proximity to the stage.

As has been before noted, the play to be presented this year is Philip Barry's three-act comedy "You and I," which is one of the "47 Workshop" dramas, carrying with it an appreciative dedication to Prof. Baker. The leading part, developed by Henry Warner, when he appeared in "You and I" in the Plymouth theatre, four or five years ago, is to be interpreted in the local production by Ernest G. Haggood, who is no novice in amateur theatricals, and whose careful reading of the lines and clear diction is sure to carry the part through with a near-professional touch. Another well-known amateur in the cast is Robert S. Allingham, a young man who has frequently appeared with local groups of players. Mrs. Thomas D. Ginn, better known possibly in her professional role of soloist, is to be the leading woman in the comedy, and others completing the company include Miss Dorothy Shute, Mrs. Arthur T. Monahan, Carl M. Penny, and Maurice L. Quinn.

The cast is being coached by Mrs. Arthur F. Brown and Miss Marion O. Whitcomb, the latter, in charge of the entire affair. Music is to be furnished during the evening by the Forte Trio, composed of violinist, cellist, and pianist.

Members who have not secured their tickets should apply at once to Mrs. C. W. Hawkes, 25 Saxon road or to Mrs. A. F. Brown, 170 Woodward street, as membership tickets alone do not admit to the annual dramatics.

West Newton Community Service Club

A social event, and one that at the same time will be productive of many good works, since it is in behalf of the Philanthropic Fund of the West Newton Community Service Club, will take place on Tuesday, the 21st, at 2:30 o'clock in the West Newton Neighborhood Club. Club members and friends of the Club who enjoy a good game of Bridge and the friendly sociability that accompanies it, are looking forward to this date, and are hastening to purchase tickets at the nominal $1 from Mrs. Joseph Fuller, chairman in charge, 33 Fountain street. Club members should note the change in date of this festivity, which was originally announced for February 28th.

Newtonville Woman's Club

Newtonville Woman's Club members who have clothing problems may have them solved at the morning clinic, February 21st, between 10:30 a. m. and 1 p. m. Could any announcement be more amazing and carry more thrills! The clothing clinic moreover, has three different departments, too: one on "Hair Arrangement" which will be conducted by Miss Beatrice Bowry, a graduate of Normal Art School; "Color Clinic," by Miss Margaret Miller, also of the Normal Art School, and "Clothing Budget Clinic" by Miss Harriet E. Ainsworth, director of the Clothing Information Bureau at Filene's. Club members may come prepared to ask any question which has been perplexing them.

The "Fashion Fete," a review of the newest styles, will be conducted by Miss Ainsworth at the regular afternoon meeting and models from the Club will assist her in wearing the clothes. All of which adds thrill upon thrill in a wonderful day for women. This fashion show is made possible through the generosity of Wm. Filene's Sons Co.

State Federation

RADIO. A thirty minute program of music will be the holiday attraction next Wednesday at WNAC. At 10:30 o'clock Mrs. Mina G. Del Castillo, General Federation, chairman of the division of "Music in the Community" is to give a talk on "Women Composers" illustrated with music. This will be followed by a musicale including groups of songs by Miss Irma Hamilton, soloist, and piano selections by Mrs. Castillo.

MIDWINTER MEETING. Friday, February 24th, at 8 o'clock, members of the State Federation, whether delegates or interested Clubwomen, will meet in the High School on Broadway, Everett, for the Midwinter meeting. Mrs. Mabel F. Barstow, official Song Leader, will lead the singing of "America the Beautiful," with Mrs. F. Otis Drayton, chairman of Music, "presiding" at the piano. The Salute to the Flag will be appropriately, led by that connoisseur on flag etiquette, who keeps us in the straight and narrow way of correctness, Miss Marion H. Brazier, whose keen desire for said correctness led her to form the Old Glory Club, of which she is president. There follows the invocation, greetings from the Commonwealth—person not stated; greetings from the City of Everett, by Mayor James Roche; the welcome from Miss Lucy B. Slocum, president of the hostess Club; the response by the State president, our beloved Mrs. Arthur Devons Potter; minutes of the autumn meeting; rules of the convention and business. Two addresses, one by the General Federation Meeting, and one on its recording secretary, and then business will be relieved by assembly singing. The Legislative program—the issue of which is being voted upon, will be presented by Mrs. John H. Kimball, chairman. Along legislative lines, also, there will then be three speeches: "History of the Council" by Mrs. Esther Andrews; "Law Enforcement," by Attorney-General Arthur K. Reading; and "Pending Legislation," by Mrs. Susan W. Fitzgerald, and Hon. John C. Hull. Report of the Resolutions Committee will be made by its chairman, Mrs. Robert J. Culbert, and report of the Credentials Committee by its chairman, Mrs. William H. Emerson. Luncheon will follow with appropriate announcements as to where and how immediately preceding, for informing those present.

At 1:45 there will be a musical program, furnished by Franklin Field, Baritone, with Mrs. Grace Coburn at the piano. Mrs. Bert S. Currier, director of the Seventh District, will give greetings for the hostess district. New Clubs will be presented, each by its president, which include: New Century Club of Hinsdale by Mrs. Edgar Thomas; Tatham Women's Club of West Springfield, by Mrs. W. E. Faulkner; Acanthus Club of Vineyard Haven, by Mrs. Therese Tucker; Fortnightly Club of Northfield, by Mrs. Harry A. Lewis of East Northfield; Unity Woman's Club of West Roxbury, by Mrs. Lawrence J. Ostlund; Cohasset Woman's Club, by Mrs. Burt M. Bristol; The Gift Club of Charlestown, by Mrs. Wm. M. Sturdy; and the Hopdale Community House Woman's Club, by Mrs. Helen D. Kent.

Sometime during the session Mrs. Hugh Reid Griffin, Founder-President of the American Women's Club of London, who is to visit Mrs. Frederick S. Blodgett of West Newton, one of our own Clubwomen, during the week of the midwinter meeting, will be one of the speakers.

Mrs. Azel A. Packard, chairman of the International Relations Committee, will report the recent "Conference on the Cause and Cure of War." President Roscoe W. Thatcher, M. A. C. A., Amherst, will speak on "Education for Citizenship." Mrs. Ernest R. Brackett, chairman of Transportation for the Biennial at San Antonio, Texas, will give instructions for this trip. The Credentials Committee, Meetings Committee, Mrs. William J. McDonald, chairman, and Resolutions Committee, and other routine announcements will end the day's work and pleasure.

GOVERNOR'S RECEPTION. It is pleasing to learn that the State Federation has not been neglected in the list of organizations invited to send official representatives to the Governor's Reception of February 22nd, which takes place annually on Washington's Birthday in the Hall of Flags State House. About fifty from this organization will meet there. The reception lasts from 10 to 2:30 o'clock. Doubtless many Clubwomen not officially representing Clubs will attend this public reception.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

The regular business meeting of the Newton Centre Woman's Club at 2:30 p. m. on Thursday afternoon, February 23rd, will be followed by a program in charge of the Art Committee. It is to be an illustrated lecture on "Early America, Facts, Fashions, and Furniture," by Miss Grace Weston. The chairman of the Art Committee is Mrs. Cornell Appleton. Tea will be served following the program, under the Social Committee, of which Mrs. Joseph E. Bishop is the chairman. A Food Sale will be held in the lobby that afternoon in the care of Mrs. Charles A. Riley of the Activities Committee.

On the evening of February 29th, a Leap Year Dance will be held at the Clubhouse. A number of unusual features are planned and Mrs. John E. Whittey of the Activities Committee promises an interesting evening. The subscription is $1.50 and Club members have just received their invitations. The patronesses for the dance are Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr., Mrs. John F. Capron, Mrs. George H. Crosbie, Mrs. Emile A. Barrier, Mrs. Harry C. Gibson, Mrs. S. Hardy Mitchell, Mrs. Carl M. Bigelow, Mrs. Frank Stewart, Mrs. James Watson, Mrs. A. Oram Fulton, Mrs. C. E. Jeffrey, Jr., Mrs. J. Edward Patterson, Mrs. John R. Perry, Mrs. George E. Squier, Mrs. George A. Remick, Mrs. Roland Stuart, Mrs. Benjamin F. White, Mrs. J. Herbert Johnson, Mrs. Ralph E. Stuart, and Mrs. Edward D. Leonard.

Newton Community Club

Members of the Newton Community Club, through the wisdom and efficiency of their Program chairman, Mrs. Sidney Peterson, live upon a balanced diet, which makes for the welfare and satisfaction of all concerned. From the humorous, entertaining talk on evolution of dress and manners—which may be likened to the dessert, sweet and fattening, for by laughter do all wax fatter, as the saying is—last week by Mrs. Hale, to the serious, educating discussion to be given on Thursday, February 23rd, at 2:30 o'clock, by Dr. Henry Noble MacCracken, which may be likened to the "piece de resistance," the meat of substance and an energy builder of solid thought, is the all-round diet proven.

Dr. MacCracken, after attaining all manner of interesting degrees, and passing from honor to honor through his knowledge of matters educational, has been president of Vassar College since 1915. Besides having B. A. and M. A., and Ph.D., and LL.D., and having instructed in English in the Syrian Protestant College and at Yale, and at Smith, he has written books and articles on education, until it is quite evident from the above array that he is eminently suited to give some lecture in Underwood School Hall on that afternoon that the Club members will be glad to hear. His subject, as a subject, has not been stated, but what matters a mere title, since it is sure to be of interest.

Interest, also, is growing rapidly in the Course of Financial Lectures which Mrs. Nathan Heard and her Education Committee are arranging, so that the announcement that the first of these lectures is scheduled for March 1st, in Underwood School Hall, at 3 p. m., will be welcomed. This is an opportunity offered through the courtesy of the Old Colony Trust Co., who sends one of its able officials to give financial advice and information, such as has been given in similar popular talks throughout the Metropolitan District. The object is to give a wider knowledge of financial affairs, and enable women also to know of and utilize to greater extent the facilities of banks and trust companies. The Education Committee is glad to add that the Newton Trust Co. is likewise co-operating, and if this first Talk is successful others will follow.

Waban Woman's Club

The fourth and last Current Events lecture will be given by Miss Eunice Avery on Friday, February 24th, at 2:45, in the Union Church. Miss Avery's lectures have been very popular, and the subject of the third lecture "American Politics" proved so interesting to the members of the Waban Woman's Club that she has kindly acceded to their wishes, and promised to continue on the same topic in her next lecture. The fourth lecture, therefore, will deal with the next presidential election and candidates.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

The next meeting of this Club will be on Friday, Feb. 24th, in the Unitarian Parish House, at 2:30 p. m. It will be in charge of the Legislative Committee, Mrs. Louie A. Bacon, chairman. Mrs. Lewis Jerome Johnson, speaker for the afternoon will give a talk on "A Pilgrimage to Geneva," a subject dealing with International Relations. Mrs. Arthur Campbell, a Club member and native of France, will sing in French costume. Tea will be served. The food sale which was announced for this date will be postponed until the 23rd of March.

Dressmaking Course

A most interesting Course in Dressmaking is being planned by the Women's Educational and Industrial Union for Newton women who will speedily express their desire for such instruction. Mrs. Harry W. Burnham, chairman of the American Home interests, is aiding in bringing this worthwhile Course to Newton, a people, and it doubtless will soon be taken up by the various Clubs and through their Home Economics and allied chairmen be announced as a wonderful possibility. It was at first hoped that the first lecture and demonstration would take place on the 24th, and this may prove true, with the morning session at 10 o'clock, another in the afternoon, and still a third in the evening, to suit all hours of leisure. Mrs. Florence Amidon of Newton, the clothing instructor for the Union, will conduct the Course which is especially for mothers. She will show them how to make dresses for their daughters, and how to develop individuality and style

The largest attendance of the year greeted Miss Bessie M. Stratton and Mr. Arthur LeBlanc on Monday evening at the meeting of the Fellowship Club.

Miss Stratton read several selections and responded to an enthusiastic request for an encore, and Mr. Arthur LeBlanc, the violinist, rendered a fine program.

All were charmed with Mr. LeBlanc's fine playing and he was called upon to respond several times with additional selections. Miss Mabelle Butler accompanied him on the piano.

After the program was completed Mr. H. W. Bascom presented Mr. F. O. Stanley, through whose courtesy the musical part of the program was made possible. The members of the club showed their appreciation by greeting Mr. Stanley with hearty applause. He said that he was very glad that they enjoyed the music and closed his remarks with a good story. Another selection was requested on the violin and Mr. LeBlanc very kindly responded.

The next meeting of the Fellowship

Club will be held on Feb. 20. The Rev. Charles L. Seasholes, pastor of the Baptist church in Watertown, will be the speaker. Mr. Seasholes is a graduate of Newton Theological Seminary.

A number of Newton boys attended the Hi-Y Club meeting held at Quincy on Saturday, Feb. 11. The object of the conference was to spread Hi-Y ideals in a larger way throughout the whole of Greater Boston. Edward Warren, president of the Newton Hi-Y Club, played an important part in the Greater Boston conferences.

The Torch Club is showing moving pictures on Friday night, Feb. 24, and Saturday morning, Feb. 25, hoping to raise some money for the purposes of their club. Harold Scholl, Harold Kent, Howard Pierce and Robert Chapin were voted into membership at the last meeting and will be inducted into the full fellowship of the club at the first meeting in March.

A very interesting trip to the U. S. S. Lexington was conducted on Feb. 11. Mr. Thompson, assistant boys' secretary, was in charge of the 28 boys who made the trip to the Army Base in South Boston. A sailor was courteous, assigned to the group and conducted them through the ship. The next educational trip will be on Feb. 24, when each one of the Redmen's clubs will visit the different candy factories of Boston.

February 22, Washington's Birthday, is Boys' Hobby Day. There will be three classes of exhibitions, namely, Class 1, Collections such as stamps, coins, etc.; Class 2, Handicraft, articles made from wood, paper, metal or cloth, such as boats, birdhouses, toys, etc.; Class 3, such art work as burnt leather, burnt wood, drawings, mountings. Prizes will be offered in each class.

February 13 to 20 is Right-of-Way Week at the Newton Y. M. C. A. The opening supper was attended by 12 boys and six men who composed the teams who are endeavoring to secure subscriptions for "Association Men." Mr. R. M. Patterson, the chairman, outlined the plans to the boys and their coaches and gave them counsel on salesmanship so that they might present to the citizens of Newton in the most attractive way the advantage of subscribing to the official paper. The coaches are: Mr. Hugh Boyd, Mr. Arnold Barker, Mr. Dwight Colburn, Mr. Albert Aston, Mr. Walter Hodgdon and Mr. W. R. Perry. The teams are composed of the following boys: Joseph Benson, Edward Fleming, Gervon Crummett, Howard Pierce, William Barba, Norman Stoney, Harold Kent, Kenneth Lane, Andrew Kasper, Jr., Donald Plouff, Herbert Gallagher and Leon Huston.

Mr. Walter H. Gregg gave a very interesting talk on "Swordfishing" to a group of employed boys on Saturday evening, Feb. 11.

The Employed Boys' Square Club heard a lieutenant in the United States Aviation Corps give a talk on "Aviation" on Thursday evening, Feb. 9. The employed boys are showing great interest in these clubs, which are growing rapidly and developing some interesting programs.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

Two extra cross-bars have been recently placed on the telegraph poles along the right of way of the Boston & Albany railroad running through this city on the main line. The wires on these new bars are quite near the ground—about 10 or 12 feet. The city ordinance relating to wires specifies that no wire shall be less than 20 feet above the ground. The telegraph wires on the lower end of Charlesbank road project over one side of that street. While these wires ordinarily do not carry a high voltage there is always the danger that they may become charged by coming in contact with a highly charged wire. They are a menace when placed so low. Children may be tempted to touch them with some rod or pole which would carry the current on a wet day.

Since Elliot Block was erected over 50 years ago its tower has been a favorite home for many pigeons. As the wreckers started to tear down the tower the pigeons which had been dwelling in the tower placed new around the neighborhood in bewilderment. They still may be seen roosting on the remains of the nearly dismantled structure.

Frank B. Cummings of this city, director of the Division of Animal Industry of the Commonwealth, to whose lot fell the unenviable task of supervising the restraint of dogs for 90 days in the Greater Boston area, complains that the police in many places have not been co-operating to assure the enforcement of the restraining order, which was issued to afford relief and protection to persons and animals. Certainly all the police in Newton have not been co-operating. Some of the patrolmen here apparently think it beneath their dignity to take hold of unrestrained dogs and lead them to the police station or to a box until they will be taken to the dog pound. And a large number of dog owners in this city, if the number of dogs running around loose is to be taken as evidence, have not been paying much attention to the restraining order. If some of these persons, or members of their families, had been bitten by a dog afflicted with rabies they would realize the physical suffering which the Pasteur treatment entails, not to mention the nervous strain which is endured by the ordinary persons who becomes the victim of a "mad dog."

Members of the Metropolitan police force and police in Waltham and other places have been ordered to take action against persons who are ignoring the automobile laws. Owners and operators of automobiles which have defective headlights or tail-lights, who operate cars with the number plates so placed, or so covered with dirt and grime as to be unreadable are not being allowed to go unmolested in many places. This matter is one that is becoming more serious and should receive attention in Newton. There are all too many cars being operated in this city with but one light light working. Registrar Frank Goodwin has remarked recently that the police do not take more interest in enforcing these laws because they will not be backed up by the district court judges when offenders are brought into court. He promises to have his inspectors take drastic action during the coming year against motorists who pay no heed to the laws regarding lights and number plates on their cars. But, in the meantime, it is quite probable that the Newton police would receive proper co-operation from the justices in the local court if they campaign against offenders of this type. Judge Bacon and his associates have received much favorable commendation for the manner in which they have co-operated with the police in the enforcement of the automobile laws.

WINTER CARNIVAL

The first winter carnival of the Brae Burn Country Club took place Saturday night, the grounds and skating pond being gay with Japanese lanterns and electric lights.

Conditions were ideal, much different from those that have twice caused the postponement of the event. While the crowds were swaying and gliding across the dimly lighted ice, a hurdy-hurdy offered their lusty selections. The toboggan slide was in fine condition and attracted about 200 of the merry-makers, more than 1000 more covering the ice, which was in excellent condition despite the fears of the officials, who thought that it would be necessary to clear the surface to keep it fit.

A huge bonfire was lighted at 8 o'clock on the banks of the pond and not drinks were served to the skaters. An exhibition of fancy skating and ice waltzing occupied the crowd's attention for over an hour and a half. Well known performers who took part in the exhibition included Robert Emerson of Cambridge and the following Brae Burn members: Charles Wyman, ex-national junior champion skater, Mr. and Mrs. Eldridge Watson, Miss Jerry Carlton, Miss Faith Garrison and Robert Walsh.

The committee was headed by J. N. Eaton, chairman, who was assisted by Dan Keefe, golf pro, who has charge of the skating house during the winter.

"THE TRIANGLE"

The action of the city in taking the land at the junction of Commonwealth avenue, Walnut and Homer streets is costing the tax payers a substantial amount of money. A bond issue of last July of $80,000 has just been followed by an appropriation from the taxes of this year of nearly $45,000 more.

ROTARY CLUB

Hon. Charles P. Howard, chairman of the State commission on Administration and Finance, was the speaker Monday noon at the weekly luncheon of the Newton Rotary Club held at the Woodland Golf Club.

Mr. Howard told of the improvement in the administration of the State's affairs due to the adoption of the budget system and the reduction in the number of departments from 101 to 29 due to the work of the Constitutional convention.

Before that time each department came before the Legislature each year with its own requests, regardless of the total expense of the State as a whole. Now the budget is prepared by Mr. Howard's commission late in the fall from estimates submitted by all the departments and the budget framed by the commission is then turned over to the Governor for his recommendation, so that the Legislature has now a complete picture of the finances of the State when it considers the budget. Besides the budget control, the commission has a comptroller, who passes upon all contracts and supervises the proper appropriation to which bills should be charged.

There is also a purchasing department which not only buys in large quantities but also has chemical analysis made of such materials as coal, flour, etc., and which has resulted not only in a saving in price but insuring a better quality of materials. In the item of printing alone Mr. Howard stated that the cost in 1922 was $806,000 and in 1926 had been reduced to $458,000.

This system had had its part in a reduction of the State debt from $40,000,000 in 1919 to $14,400,000 in 1927 and which would be further reduced some $2,000,000 more this year if the Governor's budget recommendations were approved by the Legislature. Incidentally, Mr. Howard stated that Massachusetts was the only State in the Union which had actually reduced the amount of its State debt since the World War.

ROTARY PARTY

The Newton Rotary Club observed St. Valentine's day with an enjoyable party at the Woodland Golf Club on Saturday evening. After an exceptionally good dinner an entertainment was provided under the direction of George J. Marton, followed by dancing.

to music furnished by Louis Haffermehl and bridge for those who did not dance.

HOLWAY—RIMBACH WEDDING

Trinity Church, Copley square, Boston, was the scene at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon, Feb. 11, of the wedding of Miss Frances Isabelle Rimbach, daughter of Mrs. Mabelle Bartlett Rimbach of Boston, and Rye, N. H., and Jamieson Edward Holway, son of Mrs. Jamieson Edward Holway of Belleville, N. Y., and the late Mr. Holway.

Rev. William E. Gardner, assistant rector of Trinity Church, performed the ceremony.

Miss Elizabeth Thurgood of Boston attended the bride as maid of honor. Ralph A. Carson of Belleville was best man. Augustus Thurgood of Newtonville and Philip B. Heintz of Brookline, uncles of the bride's mother, served as ushers. Mrs. Rimbach gave her daughter in marriage.

Following the ceremony festivities were received at the Copley Plaza Hotel. After March 1, Mr. and Mrs. Holway will reside at 61 Morton street, New York City.

Mrs. Holway is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, where she was a member of the class of 1923. Mr. Holway was graduated from Princeton with the class of 1920. The engagement was announced quite recently.

EDITORIAL

One of the most disheartening things with which public officials come in contact, is the utter indifference of the average person to comply with rules and regulations designed for their own good. The only person who could actually do as he pleased was Robinson Crusoe. In a complex civilization, there are many things which must be considered if the good of the whole is to be protected. A recent example is the public indifference to the order to restrain dogs from running at large. This order was made on account of the rapid increase in one of the most dreaded diseases of the generation. With 108 cases reported in the month of December in a small area of Massachusetts, it should have been the duty as well as the desire of dog owners to do everything in their power to assist in stopping this horrible disease. Instead we have the spectacle of so called "good" American citizens ignoring the order, and setting up their individual judgment of what is best for the community, regardless of consequences. When we consider the many ways in which American citizens abuse the constitutional rights of others to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, we are almost inclined to invite Mussolini to rule this country for a short time and use stern measures on every delinquent.

We have little sympathy with the apparent case-law which seems to exist at the State House over the proper solution of the Elevated problem. We can easily understand the attitude of the stockholders representatives in the Legislature in advocating a return to private management of a property which has been put into splendid condition by the taxpayers of the Metropolitan district. It can easily be assumed that if this is done, some years later when the property has again been depreciated, it would have to be taken over again by public control and the process repeated. Public ownership, of course, is out of the question and it therefore seems as if Mr. Harriman's measure for a continuation of public control is the only reasonable suggestion before the proper solution of the matter.

We have considerable regard and respect for the work Mr. Frank A. Goodwin is doing as Registrar of Motor Vehicles, not only for the efforts he is making to protect the lives of pedestrians and to make the streets safe for the reasonable use of motorists. We even endorse a large part of his recommendations of courts on matters affecting the automobile. But when Mr. Goodwin steps outside of his own department to criticize such matters as taxation, the salaries paid to State employees and the problem of the Boston Elevated, we believe he is entirely out of his element of usefulness.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

The high spots this week in legislative affairs were the hearings on the proposed padlock bill and that on jury service for women. The padlock law will assist the State police in their much needed supervision over the road houses and by preventing the reopening of such places after conviction. It is most desirable legislation. Jury service for women will continue to be a debatable question. Bills this year called for compulsory service as jurors and for optional service. If any action is to be taken on this question it certainly ought to begin with optional service.

At a recent committee meeting on a bill to prevent the solicitation for automobile rides, Senator Myose of Waltham highly praised the system inaugurated in Newton by the pupils of the high school. A bill which ought to pass was that heard last week by Municipal Finance under which a city council four-fifths vote could increase items in the budget. Under the present law, the board of aldermen can only reduce or strike out items recommended by the mayor. It has no initiative of itself, except through a roundabout and cumbersome procedure. In some instances, Newburyport for instance, it is conceivable that the city council might have better financial views than the mayor.

We hear that the election laws committee will refer to the next session most of the recommendations of the recess committee on revision of the election laws. This committee, even when the writer was a member of it, was always timid on any proposed changes and evidently intends to pass the buck to future committees.

Another instance of the supineness of the average legislator is the adverse report on the bill to change the constitution relative to the election of the four minor State officers. This bill was the first step towards the short ballot and could only muster three votes in committee in favor. A bill which ought to have a favorable report will be heard next Tuesday by the pension committee and which would allow the Commonwealth to retain for one year the services of Mr. H. H. Boynton, who would otherwise be retired on account of age in June. Mr. Boynton is the authority on matters of elections and with a presidential election coming it is highly desirable that his experience and knowledge should be available.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S FORUM

Miss Hazel Wood has been chosen to star in "The Dragon's Head," a musical comedy which is to be the main feature of the annual entertainment of the Young People's Forum of Waban. Mr. Allan Bliss will play opposite her in the part of Bobby. The entertainment, which consists of dancing to the strains of a popular orchestra, inter-two short songs-and-dance acts, is to be given April 14 in the Waban Neighborhood Club.

Miss Betty Bates, Miss Isabelle White, Mr. Donald Charlton, a snappy chorus and a men's quartette will form a background for a pretty story of how a modern prince kills an up-to-date dragon for his beautiful princess. Mrs. C. H. Gove is coaching the music is under the direction of Mrs. William Stevenson, Mr. Dunbar Holmes is business manager, Miss Muriel Andrews is art director and Mr. W. Bradford Gove is the fifth member of the committee.

Dr. Brewer Eddy was the speaker at the Church Institute, conducted by the Union Church in Waban, Sunday evening. Miss Louise Cane played a harp solo before Dr. Eddy was introduced by the Rev. Joseph C. MacDonald, rector of this church. Dr. Eddy talked on "Religion and International Affairs." "Is the missionary a trouble maker in international affairs?" asked Dr. Eddy, and he continued asking questions throughout his talk. His main object was not to tell his listeners anything but to put up to them certain questions about religion and world affairs which might cause them to see this subject in a new light.

Would we let Germany sell goods free of duty in America as a possible competitor with our factories not only in order that she might pay off her own debts to us, but that she might improve her own wellbeing? "If 100 percent Americanism came into contact with 100 percent Christianity, what would happen?" "The Chinese," continued Dr. Eddy, "by contact with Jesus through our missionaries, will soon come to the point where we shall have to decide whether or not we shall give them money to help them become our competitors. Then will come the real Christianization. Sometimes we must choose between using Christianity in our economical relations with other countries. Will the effect of Jesus be strong enough to overcome our selfishness in this decision, which we must make so soon?"

Next week, due to the illness of Dr. Strong, who was to speak, Mr. Luther Fowler, a big figure in the diplomatic world, will speak.

The Forum is to have a food sale in the vestry of the Union Church on Saturday, March 3, under the direction of Mrs. Alexander L. Stephen.

NEWTON LODGE PAST EXALTED RULER NIGHT

Newton Lodge No. 1327, B. P. O. Elks, held a very interesting meeting on Thursday, Feb. 9th, at its home on Center street, where all the past exalted rulers took over the chairs held by the present officers and performed the initiatory work on a number of new candidates.

A most impressive tablet service was held for two of its members who had recently passed away, Leonard Jackson, Est. Lecturing Knight, and Ralph B. Haywood. Nominations for officers for the year 1928 and 1929 were made as follows: Frank L. Wilcox, Exalted Ruler; William Noone, Est. Leading Knight; William Hopkins and Charles Barrows to contest for the office of Est. Loyal Knight; J. Edward Callanan, for many years secretary of the lodge, and Geo. P. Brophy to contest for the office of Est. Lecturing Knight; Thomas F. Coppinger, chairman of the Visiting Committee, Secretary; Vincent M. Turley, Treasurer; M. J. Hanley, Tyler; Stephen Hughes and Walter T. Hanigan to contest for the office of Trustee for five years; Robert A. Vachon, Delegate to the Grand Lodge, and Wm. E. Earle, Alternate to the Grand Lodge.

Thomas J. Brady, Past Exalted Ruler of Brookline lodge, District Deputy G. E. R., was the principal speaker of the evening, where he spoke of his travels among the different lodges in his district and the work they were doing. He congratulated the past exalted rulers for the wonderful way they carried out the Initiatory work on the new candidates.

ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the lot owners of the Newton Cemetery, held at the Administration Building on Saturday, February 11th. The verbal report of the President showed that the Trustees had given careful consideration to all matters during the past year and congratulated the lot owners on the strength and standing of the Corporation. The perpetual care funds of the Corporation are now in excess of $400,000. The report of the Superintendent showed more new work in process of construction than at any time in the history of the cemetery. The total number of lot owners at the present time is nearly three thousand. The following Trustees were elected: Messrs. William F. Bacon, James E. Clark, Henry B. Day, George M. Fiske, Frank J. Hale, Fred R. Hayward, Seward W. Jones, William H. Rice and H. Wilson Ross. At the Trustees' meeting, following the annual meeting, the following officers were appointed: William F. Bacon, Pres.; William H. Rice, Vice Pres.; H. Wilson Ross, Supt., Treas., and Clerk, and Nils H. Mattson, Asst. Supt. The Finance committee is composed of the following Trustees: William F. Bacon, Chairman; Seward W. Jones, Henry B. Day, Frank J. Hale and H. Wilson Ross.

CHILDREN'S MUSEUM

Nothing in Nature has a harder battle for existence than trees, according to the Massachusetts Forestry Department bulletin. Fire, costing thousands of dollars a day, and insect pests of 200,000 varieties which attack the forests are the greatest dangers to the nation's forests. The problem in Massachusetts will be discussed by Harold O. Cook, M. P., Chief Forester of Massachusetts at the Children's Museum of Boston on Sunday, February 19 at 3:30.

Mr. Cook will illustrate his talk with official pictures and give a vivid description of the forests of this State. The fact that it takes sixteen acres of spruce trees to furnish pulp for one Sunday edition of a metropolitan newspaper helps us to realize the fact that the supply is being diminished four times as rapidly as it is replenished by reforestation. "Turkey" by Hassan Byron, a native of that country, will be the talk on the Museum program for Saturday, February 18 at 3:00 p. m. This is the fourth of the series of travel talks by members of the Boston Cosmopolitan Club arranged through the Travel Club for boys and girls at the Museum.

Special programs every day in the week are arranged for Washington's birthday week at the Museum, beginning February 20.

Zuni Indian stories will be told at the Story Hour on Saturday morning at 10:30.

NINETY-THREE YEARS OLD

On the afternoon and evening of Saturday, Feb. 11, there was observed at the residence of Mrs. J. C. Moynihan, 53 Cross street, West Newton, a celebration of unusual significance.

In the centre of a beautifully decorated table was a birthday cake encircled by an unbroken ring of 93 candles lighted in honor of Mrs. Moynihan's mother, Mrs. S. E. Byron.

During the afternoon, Mrs. Byron was at home to her friends who called in great numbers to congratulate her and leave their gifts.

The evening was devoted to a family reunion at which four generations were present. Mrs. Byron, whose mind is as clear as the minds of the younger generation, entertained her guests by giving reminiscences of her girlhood days, days of starch and crinoline.

The picture made by the lovely old lady, still lovelier in her lavender shawl, with hand upraised to carve the cake, will long and tenderly be remembered by those present.

LEAVES MONEY TO CHARITY

The will of the late Mrs. Ellen Bambrick of Peabody street, Newton, who died on February 3rd, was filed this week in the Middlesex Probate Court. Her estate which was valued at $10,000 was largely left for benevolent purposes. Specific bequests included $1000 to the Home for Destitute Catholic Children, $500 to the Little Sisters of the Poor, $500 to the School for Crippled Children, $300 to St. Joseph's Home, Roxbury, and $300 to the Home for the Blind at Jersey City. Bequests of $2500 were made to relatives and a friend and the residue was donated to the Jesuit House of Studies at Weston.

THE PROPOSED PARKWAY

February 16th, 1928.

To the Editor:

Since the publication of the note in your paper last week about the proposed parkway or boulevard from a point at or near the junction of Hammond street and Newton street in Brookline and to the junction of Beacon street and Glen avenue in Newton, House Bill 438, several persons have asked me to explain more about the proposed route and the reasons for not liking them. If the reader will take a Newton map they can probably follow the outline of the suggested routes as shown upon the plan at the City Engineer's office at City Hall, Newton.

Beginning at the Junction of Hammond street and Newton street, Brookline, the favored line I believe passes through the middle of Saw Mill Brook and Swamp in a straight line omitting the border road idea as laid out by the former Metropolitan Park Commission and then in about a straight line to Heath street. Then through land of Healy, Hammel, and Sonsini to Boylston street. Then crossing Boylston street through land of O'Laughlin and Driscoll, through Stanley land and the Gabrielle Annunzio Club of Newton land to Madoc road.

From this point two routes are suggested and shown on the plan. The first over Carlisle road to Elgin street, then across Warren street to low land between Warren street and Burnham's mill then by a turn at about right angles to connect with the under pass at the railroad to Beacon street.

The other route follows Madoc road to Langley road then over Langley road to Warren street and over the straight line splitting the Saw Mill Brook meadow in two instead of following the park road along the border as proposed by the late Park Commission would indicate this hurried traffic without any advantage from houses abutting upon the new road thereby increasing taxable property.

Glen avenue route is too devious and too dangerous, looks as if the effort to save a railroad bridge is done at the sacrifice of public convenience and safety at a very bad point to enter Beacon street going either way.

The other route shown over Madoc road and Langley road is too steep and too dangerous. It runs through closely built up property with ledges and high retaining walls at the steep portion. It would enter Newton Centre Square at the most congested point which will be more so when the Newton Post Office is finished on Summer street. This is now under construction.

The way out of this is to go to the original line as laid out through Newton with such modifications as need be near Boylston street, and build the new bridge opposite Hobard road. This would avoid the bad connection point at Beacon street, would avoid excessive steep grades, would avoid closely built up country and would give a connection along which property could develop—thereby giving addition land to market into house lots and increase the revenue to help pay for this construction. Better to build in new territory than to tear down old to no advantage. I hope the original route will prevail and be adhered to.

HERBERT J. KELLAWAY.

LINCOLN'S PLEDGE

"Let every American, every lover of liberty, every well wisher to his posterity, swear never to violate in the least particular the laws of the country, and never to tolerate their violation by others. As the patriots of seventy-six did to the support of the Declaration of Independence, so to the support of the Constitution and laws let every American pledge his life, his property, and his sacred honor. Let every man remember that to violate the law is to trample on the blood of his father, and to tear the charter of his own and his children's liberty. Let reverence for the laws be breathed by every American mother to the lisping babe that prattles on her lap; let it be taught in schools, in seminaries, and in colleges; let it be written in primers, in spelling books, and in almanacs; let it be preached from the pulpit, proclaimed in the legislative halls, and enforced in courts of justice."—Abraham Lincoln.

Pasquale Antonellis, who conducts a store at 177 Adams street, Nonantum, was fined $10 in the Newton court yesterday for employing a minor under 14, and $15 for allowing him to work on a machine. He was prosecuted by the State Board of Labor and Industries as a result of an accident a few weeks ago when a child of 13 had some of his fingers amputated while operating a meat grinder in Antonellis' store.

Harold Allen, 19, and James Allen, 22, of Meadville, Pennsylvania, two brothers who are on a long hike, a long way from home, were taken into custody by Patrolman Loughlin Wednesday night on Commonwealth avenue, charged with vagrancy. They had a warm place to sleep that night at police headquarters and got a good breakfast yesterday morning, after which their cases were placed on file—and they departed on the long trail for Meadville.

POLICE NEWS

Oswald Sorenson of 23 Woodrow avenue, Newtonville, reported to the police on Friday that someone had entered his yard and stolen a door off his automobile.

William F. Sampson of 256 Water-town street, Nonantum, was arrested at his home on Saturday morning by Sgt. Moran and Patrolman Walker on a warrant issued by the Waltham court. He was turned over to the Waltham police. Recently an automobile owned by John C. Phelps of Watertown was stolen in Waltham and later found abandoned in Newton. The tires and rims had been removed from the car. It is alleged that the tires were later offered for sale in Watertown by Sampson.

In the Waltham court on Monday Sampson was sentenced to three months in the house of correction. He appealed and was held in $500 bonds.

State Health Inspector Henry Mossman of Newtonville is making determined efforts to compel storekeepers in this city to obey the food laws. Monday he had for the fourth time within the past two months a storekeeper in the Newton court for not having cold storage eggs properly marked. Mr. Mossman testified he had purchased cold storage eggs at the store of Felix Olivieri, 310 Watertown street, Nonantum, without the container holding the eggs having been marked as the law provides. Olivieri stated that he had informed Mossman that the eggs were "cold storage." A fine of $10 was imposed.

John Lorina was arrested at 42 Pine street, Waltham, last Friday on the charge of arson. Lorina formerly resided at 1249 Centre street, Newton Centre, and on December 29 the apartment where he lived was the scene of a fire which did considerable damage. Investigating the cause of the blaze, Chief Randlett discovered circumstances which caused him to notify the State fire marshal's office. State officials made an investigation and following the submission of their evidence to the grand jury, Lorina was indicted.

Domenic Antonellis, 22, of 46 Lincoln road, Newtonville, was fined $100 in the Newton court on Saturday on the charge of driving while under the influence of liquor. For having metal knuckles in his possession, when arrested, he was given a suspended sentence of six months in the house of correction. For driving without a license Antonellis was fined $5. Three companions who were with him the night he was arrested testified they had drunk nothing. Another member of the party admitted having taken wine; Antonellis testified that it was not wine, but orange juice, that he had imbibed.

ARRESTED FOR WABAN BREAK

Edward H. Bland, colored, of Natick, formerly of West Newton, was arrested in a South End pawnshop at Boston on Monday night by Inspectors Goode and Shaughnessy of the Newton police force charged with breaking and entering, larceny, and the desertion of his wife and five children. Last November the home of Walter Noyes at 659 Chestnut street, Waban, was burglarized, and Bland's arrest followed nearly four months' trailing by the Newton officers. On the burglary charge he was indicted by the grand jury for trial before the Superior Court at Cambridge. He will be tried on the desertion charges in the Newton Centre court on March 14.

OLD RESIDENT DEAD

Mr. Henry H. Carter, 83, for 50 years a stationer on Ashburton place, Beacon Hill, Boston, died Sunday at his home, 161 Highland avenue, Newtonville, following an illness of a week.

Retiring from the stationery business a number of years ago, Mr. Carter had since been connected with the wholesale paper business of John Carter & Co., Inc., 593-599 Atlantic avenue, Boston, a business founded by his brother, John Carter, and now headed by his son, Albert P. Carter, as president.

Henry Harrington Carter was born in Boston and removed to Newton 81 years ago, living in Newtonville for 55 years. Timothy Harrington Carter, father of Henry H. Carter, is said to have established the Old Corner Bookstore more than 100 years ago. Two of Timothy's brothers, John and William Carter, formed a partnership in the paper business in 1862, and a cousin, John Carter, later joined them in the Carter Brothers & Co., as the company was known in those years. John Carter, the cousin, bought out the ink business which the firm conducted, and from that separation developed the Carter Ink Company, Cambridge.

William Carter died while the firm of Carter Brothers was in existence, and John Carter left his business to help run the paper mill, but he afterward returned to the wholesale distributing field, under the firm name of John Carter & Co., and became an outstanding factor through a long and successful career as a merchant.

Mr. Carter is survived by his widow, Mrs. L. Augustus (Payne) Carter, formerly of Bangor, Me., whom he married 55 years ago, and one son, Mr. Albert P. Carter, a well-known Boston lawyer and a former president of the Newton board of aldermen.

Mr. Carter was treasurer of the New Church Theological School, Cambridge, up to the time of his death, and a member of the Newton Club and the Boston City Club.

The funeral services held on Wednesday afternoon at the Church of the New Jerusalem, Newtonville, were largely attended. Rev. William L. Worcester of Cambridge officiated, and was assisted by Rev. John Goddard. Miss Elizabeth Worcester was the soloist and Reginald Capon, organist. The pallbearers were Albert P. Carter, William W., Edward H. and Henry H. Cutler of St. Paul, Minn., and Warren G. Hill of New Bedford. The ushers were Richard B. Carter, Hubert L. Carter, Philip W. Carter, C. J. Macomber and Robert Carter. Burial was in the family lot at the Newton Cemetery, following cremation.

ANNE E. COSTELLO

Miss Anne E. Costello died suddenly Friday morning at her home on Quinobegun road, Lower Falls, of heart failure. She was for many years a teacher of sewing in the Newton schools and her sudden death will be keenly felt by her associate teachers and many pupils.

Her funeral service was held from St. John's Church, Newton Lower Falls on Monday morning, where a solemn requiem mass was celebrated by Rev. McMahon, assisted by Rev. Dolley as deacon and Rev. O'Brien, sub-deacon. Interment was in Needham Cemetery. Floral tributes were received from the Kendrick Home Economics Club and from the teachers and pupils of the Pierce, Davis, Williams, Burr and Hamilton schools. She is survived by four sisters, Mary, Eleanor, Alice and Louise, and one brother, Dr. Francis J. Costello.

OLD RESIDENT DEAD

Mr. Sylvanus G. Morse, a resident of Newton Centre for many years, died Tuesday at his home on Loring street following a long illness.

He was born in Skowhegan, Me., 66 years ago, and as a young man took up photography at Exeter, N. H. Some thirty years ago he came to Boston and was engaged in business as a conveyancer.

He was active in the affairs of the First church of Newton Centre, served as a deacon and at one time was president of the Men's Club.

He was a widower and is survived by one brother and one sister.

Funeral services are being held this afternoon from his late home on Loring street.

FORMER RESIDENT DEAD

Mrs. Harriet Elizabeth Smith, the widow of the late William H. Smith, former well-known residents of Auburndale, died Tuesday at her home in Beverly, after a long illness. Mrs. Smith was born in Boston, and was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marlborough Williams. She is survived by one daughter, the wife of Representative Arthur W. Hollis of Newton and three sons, Sidney L. Smith of Hartford, Conn., P. Marlborough Smith, and Leighton B. Smith of Beverly.

Mr. Dyer, who was born 74 years ago in Rockland, Maine, moved to South Portland when a boy and came to Newton about 50 years ago. He was a painter by occupation, retiring several years ago. He was a member of the Eastern Star and of Ligon Lodge, L. O. O. F. of Portland, Maine. He is survived by his widow and two daughters, Mrs. Mildred Milliken of West Newton, and Mrs. Ethel Williams of Windsor, Connecticut.

MARJORIE EDWARDS LILLIE

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Edwards of 21 Magnolia avenue and was born in Newton 25 years ago. Her funeral service was held yesterday afternoon at Grace Episcopal Church, Rev. Laurens MacLure officiating. Burial was in Newton Cemetery.

DEATH OF MRS. HAMMOND

Funeral services for Mrs. Alice Wright Hammond, the wife of Dr. Harry W. Hammond, were held at her late home on Northgate park, West Newton, Sunday afternoon.

Rev. Frank G. Potter of Dorchester Lower Mills, former pastor of the Immanuel Methodist Episcopal Church of Waltham, officiated and Mrs. Blanche Porter Wentworth sang the selections, "In the Garden" and "Under His Wings." The casket was banked with exquisite flowers and among the gathering were many former associates at City Hall.

Mrs. Hammond, daughter of Mrs. Ellen E. and the late Asher A. Wright, was born in Chester, Mass., but lived most of her life in West Newton, being a graduate of the Newton High School. She is survived by her husband, her widowed mother and one brother, Arthur L. Wright, professor of Mathematics at State College, Pennsylvania. For 27 years she was employed as clerk in the office of the Newton City Treasurer, leaving to become private secretary to H. B. Day of Boston. Upon her marriage to Dr. Hammond she resigned her position and their honeymoon was spent in touring the West. Mrs. Hammond was a member of the Eliot Congregational Church of Newton Corner.

Mrs. Hammond had for a number of years been an active member of Hawthorne Rebekah Lodge No. 57 of Waltham, serving as its Noble Grand in 1913-14, and later as its financial secretary, an office from which she resigned last October. She was also a member of the H. B. Club of Hawthorne Lodge and of the Appalachian Mountain Club.

The body was taken to Chocoma, N. H., where there was a committal service at the grave in the family lot.

Ernest Winsor died suddenly Saturday at his home at 391 Hammond street, Chestnut Hill, in his 76th year.

CHANGE VOTING HOURS

To the Editor of the Newton Graphic.
I have been giving a little thought to your very interesting tabulation of the vote by precincts in the last city election, and the pertinent comments upon the low percentage of the registered voters that take part in the election. It strikes me that some improvement might result from a change in the hours of voting. Certainly the hours from 6:30 to 4:30 are poorly selected for accommodating those voters who spend their working hours in Boston.

Three trains leave Riverside for Boston before 6:30 and seven more during the following hour. The voters who use these trains leave their beds between 5 and 6:30 o'clock, long before daylight in early December; and to ask them to set the alarm clock a half hour earlier in order to vote in a contest for alderman at large in some neighboring ward is putting quite a strain upon poor human nature. Of course hardly any of them are able to leave Boston in the middle of the afternoon to vote before 4:30.

If voting hours were placed say from 10:30 a. m. to 8:30 p. m., there would be a fair opportunity for every one and I believe a larger vote would result. There may be some serious objection to such a change, but I doubt that its importance is commensurate with that of getting out the vote.

in children's clothing. The frocks demonstrated will be for school, party, and dancing, and the Course should be of especial interest to the High School girl, who will find that her mother is making these alluring adornments for her. Clubwomen interested may apply at the Union for further information, 264 Boylston street, or direct to their Club Home Economics chairman, or to the Newton Federation chairman, Mrs. J. Porter Russell, some of whom will be able to tell them just how far plans have materialized for the Clubs as a whole.

RECENT EVENTS

Newton Community Club

The Newton Community Club held a most interesting meeting last Thursday afternoon, as usual in Underwood School Hall. Announcement was made by Mrs. William W. Colton, corresponding secretary, of the first Financial Lecture which will occur on March 1st, at 3 p. m., in the Committee room at the rear of Underwood School Hall. Mrs. Harry W. Fitts, president, turned the next portion of the meeting over to the Legislative Committee, Mrs. Robert C. Howard, who introduced the speakers on the question that the State Executive Board has voted to present to Clubs for action before the midwinter meeting of the 24th. Mrs. Willard Woodbury, a former Legislative chairman for the State, spoke in favor of endorsement or disapproval of bills by the State Federation as a body. She cleverly applied the guns of the adversaries, as she thought, by admitting many of their arguments, namely: that education is needed, and this is a long process (an admission that later recoiled upon her unexpectedly, due to the quick wits of her opponent, Mrs. Spear), that we have been exploited and used in the past, so discrediting our intelligence and the value of our endorsement, and that the General Federation endorses policies not bills, so that we do not need to endorse bills to follow them. She brought out the one point that in sending delegates to a meeting the Clubs signified their willingness to have, say, one thousand women, decide for seventy thousand, this being obligatory just as all other representative government is today, but she stressed the need of having delegates informed, and worthy of trust. She flattered the women by showing their rise in power, whereas a few years ago a woman could not have gotten an interview with a prominent politician, today she sits in her office and pushes a button and he comes to her.

Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr., Legislative chairman of the Newton Federation, who is courageously speaking on her opinion on the question, made some telling points for the opposition. She stated that there have been many splendid fields in which Clubs have worked during the past year besides legislative endorsements, such as art, literature, education, etc. She retorted on the educational policy needing more than a year to become informed and that one year of it, therefore, was not a fair trial. She further made the indisputable and unanswerable point that bills become so changed from their inception to final form as enacted that they are almost unrecognizable as the original one. She pointed out the danger of endorsement, and she pointed out the fact that there is still the most useful way of influencing legislation by going direct to the legislators, as individuals, rather than as a delegate body. She then spoke of the compromise measure that is planned for substitution about which Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole had talked with her that morning. The text of this was not known, but it would offer, it was said, the power to the State Board to endorse in crisis or emergency.

Mrs. Howard asked for an informal expression of opinion on the three questions. Four Club members voted in favor of endorsement or record of disapproval. Somewhat over thirty voted against endorsement. And about the same number voted for compromise. It can not be questioned, therefore, that the feeling of the Club is against the question of endorsement as it now stands.

The program then passed on to merrier matters, with Mrs. Fitts introducing the lecturer, Mrs. Beatrice Forbes Robertson Hale, with a bit of grace and wit. Mrs. Hale's lecture on "Clothes and Manners" was not only interesting but charming as well, with plenty of humorous touches which pleased her audience to laughter that was spontaneous and a tribute of approval. She gave an amusing history of the various changes which have overtaken the "skirt," which was and still is the basis of all costume, men's or women's, though the former may not realize it. The outwary of today is simply the evolution of the skirt that had to be parted, then pinned back, then cut, for the convenience of men in riding, and the skirt is still domed as a mark of high rank by the college graduate, the doctor, the lawyer, the priest, and the king, a relic of the days when the trailing skirts of animals proved success and superior prowess. The more successful the man through all the centuries the more elaborate the trailing garments and skirts of himself and his wife in proof thereof? Not the least of Mrs. Hale's success as a lecturer was due to her acting ability of demonstrating the various eras of dress. Her comments on former styles, as bathing skirts on veils as an allure for susceptible mankind, on "rats," on bustles and the Grecian bend, and the still padded shoulders of men, were delightful. We discover that women have achieved the best in dress, and that men are still in slavery, since they suffer from the high collar, "shoot their cuffs," and have to take off their coats to drive a nail.

Her summary struck the proper idealistic note as showing that freedom in dress, in manners, and in thought had made the American woman able to make friends world-wide, and to open a new friendship of democracy.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served, and many stayed to enjoy this pleasurable half-hour of social intercourse.

Newton Federation

The West Newton Women's Educational Club esteemed it a great honor to be hostess for the Newton Federation at the midwinter meeting on Friday afternoon, the 16th, in the Unitarian Church, and as one tribute in proof thereof presented most beautiful bouquets to all in the limelight that added greatly to the background. The president, Mrs. Fred M. Blanchard, welcomed the guests in behalf of the Club, and turned the meeting over to Mrs. J. Porter Russell, president of the Federation. Mrs. Russell opened the afternoon with a prayer which she stated had been written by a Catholic priest, a Jewish rabbi, and a Protestant minister, in the west. She showed a pretty courtesy by having upon the platform and introducing Mrs. George C. Phipps, the first president of the Newton Federation, of whom the West Newton Club is very proud, because she has been a member for 46 years and is now its oldest member. The three vice-presidents of the Federation were also on the platform and presented: Mrs. Richard O. Walters, Mrs. Harry S. Wells, and Mrs. Joseph A. McDonald. The Federated Chorus gave much enjoyment by singing several varied selections, under the leadership of Mrs. Florence Hale Ginn, of Newton Highlands; with Mrs. Lucy Simmonds accompanying; and Mrs. Clinton H. Kyle, as soloist.

Hon. B. Loring Young, speaker of the Massachusetts House, who had been announced as "New England, Whither Bound," gave a talk upon the textile industry of the State, asking many questions which he desired to have the women answer in an effort to remedy certain conditions.

Pleasing refreshments, daintily served, completed a happy occasion for the West Newton Club as hostess.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

The fourth luncheon of the year by the Home Economics Class of the West Newton Women's Educational Club was held on Thursday, February 9th, at one o'clock in the Unitarian Parish House, with Mrs. Harry S. Wells, chairman, Mrs. Joseph A. Olin, chairman of the American Home Department of this Club, spoke of the meeting she attended in Newtonville at which Mrs. Burnham was a guest, explaining her idea of the three R's for the home, Religion, Routine, and Responsibility. Mrs. Leroy Gulon, chairman of the American Home Department of the Newton Federation, spoke of two projects to come in Newton—one a series of cooking demonstrations by the Glenwood Range Company, and a series of lectures by the Old Colony Trust Company telling women how to handle money to better advantage. The members of the Class then enjoyed three interesting moving pictures given by the Industrial Film Co., on the manufacture of tea, sugar refining, and Shredded Wheat.

There was a good attendance at the meeting of the Travel Class, held at the home of Mrs. Gilbert R. Jones, Eddy street, West Newton, on Monday, February 13th. A paper was read by Mr. Herman R. Place on "Philadelphia." A short outline of its history was given, and many interesting points were described. Philadelphia stands among the first for its development of Education, Art, Science, Industry and Commerce. It was there that the first and second Continental Congresses met, also where the Declaration of Independence was debated and adopted, and where the Congress received the French minister, the first foreign representative in this country. Philadelphia may well be proud of her many distinctions.

Mrs. Fred M. Blanchard also read a most interesting paper on "The New United States," telling that we now live in an automobile age which has had great influence on the United States. She also told of the great strides made in aviation. The value of the possession of Alaska, Cuba, Porto Rico, Panama Canal Zone, Hawaiian Islands, Philippine Islands and Virgin Islands was clearly described. Alaska is valuable for its minerals, fish and fur, and in the future will be very valuable for its coal. The island possessions give us the tropical fruits, spices, coffee, tea, sugar, rubber and some minerals. The Virgin Islands are valuable to us because they guard the entrance to the Caribbean Sea. Tea and a social hour completed the afternoon.

Monday Club

The program of the Monday Club of Newton Highlands on the afternoon of the 13th consisted of a most interesting paper given by Mrs. Florence E. Foster, telling of their winter in California, especially their trips among the Indians, studying their history and ways and occupations, and bringing home and showing to the club prizes of pottery, beads, etc., made by them. Mrs. George W. Barker of 31 Duck street, who was hostess for the day, read an article on the Lincoln by Hon. Willis Morrow, refuting some of the untrue or exaggerated stories circulated concerning them and also a story about the son, "Tad" Lincoln. Refreshments were served.

Auburndale Review Club

Never have the members of the Auburndale Review Club and their fortunate guests had a more enjoyable Guest Night than on Tuesday, when they met for a Valentine Party in the Chapel of the Congregational Church. Favors of valentines for special guests, flowers for the especially honored ones, valentine decorations about the balcony, festive tables for the guests in groups, an attractively arranged stage setting, festive evening gowns, and escorts in evening dress, also, made a most attractive scene. Mrs. B. W. Wells, the president, opened the meeting with a most graceful and gracious speech of welcome—this following a reception with various Club officials in line. With Mr. Wells, the president had at her table as her honored guests, Mrs. Joseph Congdon, 12th district director, and Mr. Congdon; Mrs. J. Porter Russell, president of the Newton Federation, and Mr. Russell. The second table of honored guests had out-of-town presidents and their escorts, and others of note especially invited.

Mrs. Joseph Congdon gave a most inspiring picture of the Federation of Women's Clubs encircling the globe, and with her, her audience felt the thrill of which she spoke in this thought that the sun never set upon the Clubs affiliated with the General Federation in our United States.

Mrs. J. Porter Russell also spoke briefly, and ended with an amusing "story."

Mrs. Walter Van Patten Steiger, Program chairman, introduced the "Vaudeville Show," and promised surprises that kept her audience expectant. Mrs. Arthur Farley "welcomed" the gathering in a clever series of verses, that quite broke whatever ice may still have remained after the preceding delightful bits. Miss Ruth Perkins of West Newton gave joy in her wonderful contralto voice in a series of songs, and her golden notes were enhanced by her appearance and personality, as was evidenced by the reception she had. Newton boys composed the orchestra that played at intervals, and enlivened the Grand March when all paraded about the room, and in reverse rows quite lost their partners and made new acquaintances, amusement over which banished formalities. Roger De Witt played upon the saxophone what he termed "Saxophobia." Mrs. Robert Aborn gave a monologue on an Author's Reading, and such an affair surely could never have happened, even in a country town!

During the intermission, and following the "parade," refreshments were served at the various cozy tables, and "folks just visited" either at their own table or among friends.

Then was given a one act play, "The Rehearsal." Mrs. Stephen Wright as the "stricken" father struck all with amusement, especially when her pipe, which was most troublesome of management, became turned upside down. Miss Florence Bridgeman's concern over her "properties," some of which she had never heard of, and if she had, she knew not what they were, or whether they were properties or not, for her to be concerned about, was ever present, and ever comical. The wailing of the leading lady was of a fearful and wonderful sort.

Black coffee was served as a restorative after this "travesty," and all voted the evening a success.

OVER $450,000,000 ASSETS

The principal feature of the recent annual meeting of the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Co. was the presentation of the annual report by President Walton L. Crocker showing the company's financial condition and progress. During the past year the assets have passed the $450,000,000 mark.

The new insurance in force has been increased by over $250,000,000, making the gross total insurance in force $2,764,000,000, indicating that probably in another year this item will exceed three billions of dollars.

This insurance is carried on the lives of people holding over 6,250,000 policies.

The company wrote large and small policies ranging from less than $100 up to $300,000. These larger policies include many that have been taken as business insurance to protect firms, corporations and other business enterprises against the premature death of valued men or chief supporters.

This form of life insurance, said President Crocker, was becoming quite general. He also referred to the increase in "Estate protection insurance," which provides ready money against asset depreciation, or inheritance taxes, and to preserve the estate intact, enabling the desires of the testator to be carried out in full.

Attention was called to the health promotion work of the company, its activity in distributing over 1,000,000 copies of health literature, its radio broadcasts and warnings regarding carbon monoxide poisoning, and various co-operative activities with public health officers, which included lectures through moving picture programs, accident prevention campaigns, and service by the company through trained nurses in the case of sickness and accident. More than 400,000 visits were made by those connected with the John Hancock Nursing Service during the year 1927.

ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting and dinner of the Albario Golf Club will take place next Monday evening at the Newton Club, Newtonville, dinner being served at 6:30 o'clock. Amendments to the by-laws will be discussed and officers elected.

GIRL SCOUTS

On Thursday, Feb. 9, the Senior Patrol leaders of the Newton Girl Scouts had a get-together at the Girl Scouts headquarters in Newtonville. This was the first meeting of its kind that has ever been held in this council, therefore a large part of the time was spent in organization. It was decided to form a Senior Patrol Leaders Association which would meet three times a year, once in the fall, once in the winter and once in the spring. The spring meeting to be an overnight hike to Camp Mary Day. Officers were elected as follows: Chairman, Ethel Richards, Troop 14, Waban; vice-chairman, Mary Stephen, Troop 14, Waban; secretary, Betsy Walworth, Troop 13, Newton Centre; program committee, Jane McGregor, Troop 10, Newtonville. It was voted that the association take over one piece of work for the council every year. This year the work will be the planning and execution of a Girl Scouts Open Service, to be held at the high school on Sunday afternoon, March 4. Girl Scouts from Brookline, Waltham, Wellesley and Needham will be invited to this service as well as parents and friends of Girl Scouts. The program will be in charge of the program committee.

Eleven girls of Troop 22, Newtonville, gave the candlelight service at the Newtonville Bridge party at the Newton Club on Wednesday, Feb. 7. They were asked to repeat it later in the afternoon at Troop 28's investiture. The following girls took part: Peggy Caswell, leader; Barbara Mildram, Barbara Harrington, Barbara Cole, Phyllis Guilford, Betty Bickel, Cryan Cobb, Madeleine Merritt, Janet Cryan, Constance Southgate, Jean Scribner. Troops 1 and 22 made 100 valentines at their monthly community service meetings and a committee of four from each troop will deliver them at the Peabody Home and the Newton Hospital on Valentine's Day.

On Saturday evening, Feb. 18, Troop 14 of Waban will present a moving picture show at the Angier School in Waban. The films shown will be "The Rough Riders," an exciting story of Theodore Roosevelt and the Spanish War. Three members of the Leaders Training Course, held in Waban at the Union Church, were invested as tenderfoot Girl Scouts on Thursday, Feb. 9. They were Mrs. Arthur Soule, Hartford road, Waban, and Mrs. R. Buell of Wellesley Farms. A large group of leaders who have already received their tenderfoot pins are working enthusiastically on the second class test and hope to receive their second class badges before the end of the month.

A great many Newton Girl Scouts and Girl Scout officers went to the Boy Scout rally at the West Newton Armory on Feb. 10. The balcony was reserved for Girl Scouts in uniform and the girls more than filled the allotted space.

Thirty Girl Scouts of Troop 25 and Captain Freeman enjoyed a skating party at the Brae Burn Country Club on Tuesday a week ago in place of the regular troop meeting. Cocoa and crackers were served for the Girl Scouts, who had a glorious time.

Marjory Tyler and Lois Dales received gold stars for perfect attendance and Wilma Hooper and Grace Crosby silver stars for missing only two meetings during the past year. These girls joined Troop 25 when it was organized a year ago.

SCHOOL NOTES

LEVI F. WARREN SCHOOL

The Boys' Cooking Club

Sixteen boys are to be found in the Domestic Science Department under the direction of Miss Tracy, the last period on Thursday, or the club period. These boys are learning the arts of cookery.

They have a wonderful room in which to work. It is well lighted, has two sinks, five gas stoves, six tables which seat four each. The other equipment such as pots, kettles, spoons and other things are so new that they are a pleasure to work with.

The boys' first lesson was on tomato soup which did not turn out very well. The next lesson was spent on making vegetable soup. This was a great success. During the last lesson they prepared potatoes. All this is in preparation for a dinner to be given the men teachers.

The Warren Players
Our dramatic club, the "Warren Players," is divided into two sections, one for the Seventh Grade, and one for Grades Eight and Nine. The officers of the latter are Mary Elizabeth, Kever, president, and Herbert Levenson, secretary.

On Thursday, February 9, two very well acted plays, "The Man Without a Country," and "Mary's Garden," a thrift play, were read. Both had been rehearsed at a previous meeting. Following these the club members were divided into groups of five, which for a few weeks will give charades. Two extremely clever ones were given on Thursday, before the meeting was adjourned.

Seventh Grade Reading
The seventh grade Social Studies classes under Miss Hasty, have been studying the age of chivalry and feudalism. A list of books on these subjects was suggested by Mrs. Sloan of the Library. This list included: "Ivanhoe," the "Black Arrow," "King Arthur stories," "Robin Hood" and many other interesting bits of literature. "Robin Hood" seemed the most popular as one hundred forty-seven children read it. Next to that came "King Arthur stories" and the "Prince and the Pauper." More pupils in 7 GL5 read books from this list than any other division, although 7 GL3 and 7 GL4 came next.

Seventh Grade Dramatic Club
To learn the wise quotations of famous men, the seventh grade dramatic club each week, brings a quotation to club to memorize. Thus by the end of the year they will have learned a great many.

At present they are working on a play entitled "King of England." The background is an island in the South Seas, the characters are:

Lulu, an impulsive, pretty, slender girl, the daughter of;
Riply Aranogon, the king of the South Sea island. Riply has been expelled from two foreign colleges, and prides himself on the English he has learned while there.

Soco Wala, a negro, who is the most dependable of Riply's servants.
Kawa, a cannibal king of the other side of the island, who is deeply infatuated with Lulu.

While one part of the club works on the play, the others are dramatizing the poem entitled "The Raven," by Edgar Allan Poe.

New Song Books
At last the new song books for the school have arrived and singing will be a part of the regular Tuesday Assembly program.

F. A. Day Junior High
In commemoration of the two national heroes who are so close to the hearts of all American boys and girls, especially during this month, the assembly was of a patriotic nature. Members of the Boy and Girl Scouts, in uniform sat on the stage and took an active part in the program which opened with the singing of America by the whole school. Revellie, played by John Tibbits, the Governor's Proclamation of February 15 as Spanish War Day, read by Barbara Mildram; The Standards of Washington, troop one, Boy Scouts; Trumpet Solo, Natalie Chase; The Ideals of Lincoln, Girl Scouts; Call to Colors and Salute to Flag, played by John Tibbits; Two Marches, Troop One, Boy Scouts; Bugle Drum Corps. The latter part of the program was taken up with an address by a member of the Grand Army and a patriotic instructor, Mr. Stoddard, who told us of a few personal characteristics of Abraham Lincoln.

The Boys' Basketball teams, A and B, played the two Levi Warren teams this week Tuesday and defeated them.

Stearns School News

Nearly all of the rooms in the Stearns Building have recognized the birthday anniversaries of Lincoln and Washington in some special manner. The bulletin boards have displayed portraits of these two great Americans at various periods of their lives.

One of the most complete galleries of pictures has been located in Mrs. Goddard's class room. Also to be found in this room were two tables with carefully cut figures depicting the homes of the two great Presidents.

Instrumental and vocal music, with a brief description of life and customs in the Philippine Islands, will be the contribution of these young men to the service.

WOMAN'S BODY FOUND

While searching along the Charles River above the Riverside Recreation grounds yesterday noon for the body of a woman who had been missing since Monday, Serg. McLean of the Metropolitan police and Joseph Milner found a badly decomposed body partly covered by ice and snow on the edge of the river in shallow water. The body was supposed to be that of Mrs. Isabelle Jewett of Providence, Rhode Island, who disappeared on November 25th. Mrs. Jewett with her husband and little daughter had been on a visit to her father-in-law, Fred B. Jewett of 25 Ashville road, Lower Falls, and she disappeared after she had bid good-bye to her husband when he departed on a train for Boston to return to Providence. The remains were identified last evening as those of Mrs. Jewett.

STOP COASTING AT BOYD PARK

Parents of children in the neighborhood of Boyd park were quite indignant following the last couple of snowstorms when employees of the Playground Department sanded the playground there to prevent coasting. Boyd Park playground is located in the hollow formerly occupied by Boyd Pond. Children of the vicinity for years have enjoyed coasting down the banks on the east side of the playground. Being unable to coast on Gardner street, which, prior to the common use of automobiles, was a favorite coasting place, the little ones had only Boyd Park to coast on.

Supt. Ernest Hermann of the Playground Department upon being interviewed regarding the coasting situation at Boyd Park said, "Regarding the coasting privilege on the south end of Boyd playground, owing to the danger of sliding into the brook which is raised during the winter months for skating purposes, we had to curtail the coasting at this end. We also found that the children got hurt by sliding into the brook backstops. The wire netting on the backstop has been ruined several winters in spite of precautions. We now sand the bank of this hill the moment there is any danger from coasting, believing that it is in the best interests of the children. We allow coasting in the center of the playground. We are, however, quite handicapped by the fact that we cannot prevent short-cutting across the playground from the Watertown end. If we had a suitable fence around the whole playground we could stop this and also prevent a great deal of mischief that is done by boys at the Watertown end. The Playground Commission has recommended several times that a suitable fence be erected around the whole playground.

The usefulness of the playground would be increased by about an acre if the brook could be covered and the whole playground raised a number of feet.

It is a pity that owing to the brook and the high bank so much of the land cannot be used (at Boyd Park) for regular playground purposes.

Since the City has stopped all coasting on our streets, sooner or later we shall have to furnish some simple slides on this playground."

MUCH MEASLES

The report of the Newton Board of Health for the month of January shows that 457 cases of measles were reported during that period. Unusually severe cases were not reported by parents who did not have physicians for children. The cases reported were divided as follows:

Ward 1, 117; Ward 2, 156; Ward 3, 25; Ward 4, 72; Ward 5, 6; Ward 6, 13; Ward 7, 28. Other cases of communicable diseases reported were—diphtheria, 2; mumps, 3; scarlet fever, 3; whooping cough, 35; chicken pox, 24. Of pulmonary diseases 13 cases of lobar pneumonia were reported and 7 cases of tuberculosis. During the month 70 persons, 37 males and 33 females, died in Newton. In January, 1927, the number of deaths was 47.

WATER TOWER GONE

One of the landmarks in Auburndale was removed last week when a gang of workmen from the Middlesex and Boston Street Railway Company tore down the high water tower in Norumbega Park.

The tower was situated on a knoll and bore a large illuminated sign which could be seen for many miles. Improvements in the Park and the removal of the water tower necessary.

TWO ALARM FIRE

Another two-alarm fire occurred this morning when Box 24 was pulled at 6:39 and 6:42 for a brisk blaze in the cement-block building at 13 Hawthorn street, Nonantum, occupied by the Newton Pressed Steel Company, makers of radio loud speakers. The interior of the building was completely burned and the stock will be a total loss.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

Alderman Fred Woodcock of Ward 2 has taken a definite stand on the matter of granting permits to children to participate in entertainments. He contends that school children should not be permitted to participate in an entertainment on any night other than a Friday or Saturday night. Mr. Woodcock was for a number of years a member of the Winthrop School Board and that body adopted this rule on the assumption that a child who is up late on a night is apt either not to attend school the next day, or to be so tired as unable to give the proper attention to school work that day.

Newton, like many other New England communities, is feeling the depression in the textile industry. The manufacture of textiles for over a century was New England's leading industry. The chief cause of the hundreds of idle worsted and cotton mills in New England is the prevailing style in women's wear. Silk and rayon instead of wool and cotton, and not much silk and rayon. Many thousands of men and women are idle in New England. The effect of closed textile mills is being severely felt in all lines of business in New England. If the women and girls of New England desire prosperity to return to this section they can be of vital assistance by again wearing clothing made of wool and cotton.

It has been the popular impression that the vogue of abbreviated and diaphanous garments has made the fair sex healthier and harder. But reports from state health departments in various parts of this country show an alarming increase in tuberculosis due to insufficient clothing. If such reports continue possibly the worsted mills in New England may again resume their former activity.

HUNTINGTON DEFEATS NEWTON

may keep him out of further competition until the State meet on March 3rd. If right he will be entered tomorrow but there is some question as to his being fit to run. His loss may cost the orange and black outfit the meet as he was counted upon for five points in his favorite event the 1000-yard run.

He and Walter Langley of Lowell are looked upon as the two best runners at this distance in the state.

Newton did not fare badly in the drawings for places in the 300, 600, and 1000-yard runs which were announced yesterday. In the 300-yard run Pearson and Fowler Cole, Newton's two best are slated to run on the pole in the second heat and number seven in the third heat. Pearson will probably get the pole position.

In the 600-yard run Captain Malcolm Reed and Dick Reynolds will take the eighth place in the second heat and the third position in the third heat with Reynolds in the more advantageous berth.

If McCradden runs he will take the third position in the first heat which will give him a chance to get out in front. Other Newton runners are drawn for 19th in the first heat and 15th in the second heat.

In the hurdles Romaine Cole is counted on for points with a possible first over Janis of Lawrence and Reed of Brookline the two other best time toppers in the state. Fowler Cole may score in the dash while Kilde has a chance in the broad jump.

Catchell has an outside chance to place third in the shot although Tremblay and Janis of Lawrence are slated for first and second and a Fairhaven lad has heaved the weight over 45 feet.

Reed and Reynolds will fight for top honors in the high jump with the Newton boys having the better of it in past performances.

The Newton high relay team of Romaine Cole, Fowler Cole, Nathan Pearson and Captain Malcolm Reed will make the fly in the relay races.

The quartet set a new record for the Newton track yesterday and is in fine form to show their heels to the rest of the field. Earling Bearisto has been coming along in fine shape the past two weeks and if anything happens to the regular relay runners he will take their place with little if any loss of strength. Eighteen points should come pretty close to winning the meet and Coach Enoch has a well-balanced aggregation that has the ability to come through. Their chief competitors will be Lawrence, Medford and Brookline with the former looked upon as the favorite.

Cain Trade Periled
by Railroad Rebates

Serious troubles were encountered by Chicago traders in the early nineties through the practice of accepting railroad rebates. The railroads of the time were keenly aggressive, and they inaugurated a war of cutthroat competition, giving rebates to heavy and regular shippers—a sort of bidding for business. At first the rebates were welcomed by shippers, who were flattered by the thought that they were getting something for nothing. The practice became such an abuse that more than one great firm faced financial disaster because of it. No one ever knew just how great was the rebate that his competitor obtained and the whole situation added a trade hazard that was immeasurable. The rebates ran from 10 to 25 per cent of the published tariff. It was, of course, difficult for the concern that was able to obtain only 10 per cent rebate to compete with the one that got the 25 per cent reduction. Another phase of the rebate system was that the rebate was merely a sort of "gentlemen's agreement" between the trader and some high official of the railroad. Nothing ever was written about the rebate. The "gentlemen's agreement" sometimes became a disagreement and there was then no way to force the railroad to live up to the understanding.—James A. Patten, in Chicago Daily News.

Plan Testimonial Performance Mar. 8

Citizens Sponsoring Testimonial To the Late Leonard A. Jackson

Citizens of Newton will be given an opportunity of honoring the memory of the late Leonard Jackson at a testimonial performance to be conducted at the Community Theatre on the night of March 8. Mr. Jackson, while serving in his capacity of Inspector of Milk for the Newton Board of Health, was killed in the tragic West Newton explosion several weeks ago.

The testimonial performance will start at 11 o'clock at night and professional talent from the leading Boston theatres will be presented. Bob Emery, "Big Brother," will be Master of Ceremonies.

Arrangements have been made with the Middlesex and Boston Street Ry. Co., to furnish motor buses after the performance, the buses to run to all important sections of the city. A long list of representative citizens is sponsoring the affair, with a working committee in direct charge of the performance.

The larger committee comprises Mayor Edwin O. Childs, chairman; Judge W. Lloyd Allen, Judge William F. Bacon, Chief of Police Bernard F. Burke, Dr. Cecil W. Clark, President of the Newton Rotary Club; Dr. Francis George Curtis of the Newton Board of Health, Ralph L. Fox, Noble Grand of Newton Lodge of Odd Fellows; James P. Gallagher, President of the Kiwanis Club; Former Mayor Charles E. Hatfield, Commander Donald M. Hill of Newton Post 48, American Legion; Rep. Arthur W. Hollis, Chief Clarence W. Randlett of the fire department, Frank L. Richardson, Vice President of the Newton Trust Company; Rep. Leverett Saltontail, G. Wilbur Thompson, President of the Newton Chamber of Commerce; Robert A. Vachon, Exalted Ruler of Newton Lodge of Elks; Sinclair Weeks, President of the Board of Aldermen and Thomas W. White, Collector of Internal Revenue.

The active committee comprises Will White, Manager of Norumbega Park, chairman; William M. Cahill, treasurer; W. C. Fogwell, Frank L. Wilcox, Clyde Holmes, Manager of the Community Theatre; Alfred M. Russell, Agent of the Board of Health; Harold F. Young, Assistant City Clerk; Thomas A. Franey, Alderman Edward H. Powers and Leo Taffe.

The latter committee, at a meeting on Sunday, reported that the spontaneous demand for tickets had already become so apparent that telephone orders could not be accepted. All tickets will be exchanged at the box office of the Community Theatre on or before March 7, for a reserved seat.

Will White and Clyde Holmes were appointed to handle the talent and they have already secured the services of several acts from Boston. William M. Cahill, Assistant Treasurer of the Newton Trust Company, was appointed treasurer of the committee and all checks for reservations or donations may be sent to him, in care of the Community Theatre.

On Monday afternoon, March 20, Leonard Jackson, in his capacity as Inspector of Milk, stepped into a

Col. Theo. Roosevelt At W. Newton Men's Club

Son of Late President Speaks At Father and Sons' Night

Friday evening, February 17th, was one of the most successful and splendidly inspiring meetings which the West Newton Men's Club has ever had. Colonel Theodore Roosevelt was secured by the Committee, composed of Sinclair Weeks, Robert A. Whidden and Roland F. Gammons, president, secretary and treasurer respectively of the Club, to speak at this Father and Son affair.

The meeting opened with dinner at 6:30, the Boy Scout Drum and Bugle Corps of Division I, under the leadership of Robert Spooner, played as the men and boys came into dinner.

The dinner was followed by a brief presentation of President Halliday and Scout Executive Bruce, of Norumbega Council and then a demonstration of Scouting by members of Troop 7 of West Newton. Scout Master Maxwell Gaddis, who has developed the Troop remarkably during the past few months, was sick in bed, but the Scout program was carried out according to his plans.

Scouts under Junior Assistant Richmond Eddy demonstrated first aid on the victim of an imaginary automobile accident and then followed a friction fire demonstration, which was first explained by Eagle Scout Robert Brandt. Assistant Scout Master Chester N. Reed was in general charge of the Troop in Mr. Gaddis' absence. The Scout program closed with music by the Drum and Bugle Corps, which had first greeted Colonel Roosevelt with three ruffles on bugles and drums, as he entered the hall.

President Weeks then introduced the Colonel who spoke most inspiringly of the relationship of his father to the children of the Roosevelt family. He told of the famous point-to-point hikes, the romps of "Teddy" with his children, for he was never too busy to play with them at playtime. He spoke very highly of Scouting and told of his many experiences as a member of the National Executive Board. He closed by telling the boys, particularly, of some of his experiences on the famous hunting and exploration trip which he and his brother took in search of the famous "ovus poli."

Did the boys like it? How they flocked around the Colonel after the meeting to shake hands with him, ask a thousand questions and to get his signature. Men and boys agreed it was a wonderful and most inspiring evening!

ALDERMAN BLISS RESIGNS

Alderman Henry M. Bliss, who has represented the Chestnut Hill precinct of Ward 6 at City Hall for several years, tendered his resignation to the Board of Aldermen at its meeting on Monday night. He stated that his business demanded that he be away much of the time and he finds himself unable to attend all the meetings. On motion of Alderman Pratt the resignation of Mr. Bliss was accepted with regret. The Board of Aldermen will select his successor on March 5.

small store at the corner of River and Lexington streets, West Newton. A few minutes later the entire building was torn to pieces by a terrific explosion that took a total of six lives. Jackson's body was recovered hours later. On Thursday, Feb. 2, he was given a soldier's burial, an honor due him as a veteran of the world war and member of the American Legion. His status in the employ of the city of Newton did not entitle his widow to a pension. A bill to give her one is now before the Legislature. In the meantime, however, leading citizens insisted that something be done to show their appreciation for Jackson's memory. The testimonial performance on Thursday, March 8, is the result.

"That's That" Plays To Large Audiences

Third Annual Show Makes Big Hit At Newtonville

The third annual show of the Central Club of Newtonville was held last Friday and Saturday evenings in the High School auditorium in Newtonville, each performance attracting a large audience.

The play was entitled "That's That" and was written by Sheldon M. Fisher and directed by Adele Hoes Lee, and was under the management of Fred M. Blanchard, chairman of the Show Committee.

The plot is slender and only sufficient to introduce a dozen or so specialties.

The scene opens on the Newtonville golf course, the curtain being up for the audience was gathering. One of the golfers receives a letter from a friend down South stating that all the characters in Uncle Tom's Cabin are still in existence, and by some clever stage work, the scene immediately shifts to a Southern plantation. The singing of the "Swanee River Trail" by Mr. Robert Nagle received well deserved accolades and the dancing of the Crinoline girls (?) was exceptionally good. Messrs. Ross, Cooper, Timmie and Wilson making stunning looking lads.

The third scene took place in the lounge of the Newtonville Golf Club and all the Southern characters had been brought North for this occasion. This act included the best singing of the entire show, and Mr. F. C. Rodman's composition, "Happy Land," as sung by Mr. Charles H. Grant, accompanied by Mr. Rodman, was the musical feature of the evening. Mr. Richardson and Duddy Williams had some clever lines and his song "Nobody" had many local hits. "Jake" Stafford as Professor Dardenelli gave a clever sleight-of-hand performance, his finale being the transformation of the Southern Colonel into Fred M. Blanchard (himself). This transformation was accomplished by means of a cloth cabinet. When the cabinet was taken away, Friday evening, the full-fledged splendor of Mr. Blanchard's white flannel suit was somewhat marred by the fact that he had forgotten to remove the leggings of his former character of the Colonel.

Mr. Blanchard immediately organized a minstrel show, with H. O. Billings, H. W. Twigg, N. G. Koulson and Stanley Kimball as end men, put over a laughable program of jokes and songs. A distinguished visitor proved to be G. F. Whitmore, made up as President Coolidge, who explained that his famous remark, "I do not choose to run," referred to his refusal to run for the 9:28 train. H. W. Joyce gave an appropriate sermon on "Old Mother Hubbard" and there was a clever dance by two young girls, Dorothy and Betty Brackett, as "The Little Tin Soldier."

A dancing act by A. E. Nichols, W. C. Miller, J. M. Fowler, A. T. Pitt, S. C. Brown and W. H. Hartford made up in pep and costume what it lacked in feminine grace and charm.

A novelty in the program was given by W. P. Fowler as Tony, who made up as an umbrella man, climbed onto the stage over the footlights and gave a song entitled "Pasta fa Zoola." Tony's stage business during the rest of the performance added greatly to the pleasure of the audience.

H. D. Billings as Sam Jackson and Brewer Eddy as "Topsy" were remarkably good and the singing of a professional male quartet was much enjoyed.

Pupils from the Perkins Institute for the Blind were guests of the club.

HUNNEWELL CLUB

Members of the club and their guests had a most enjoyable evening on Tuesday when two little plays were given by local talent in a most pleasing fashion. Open house followed the dramas and the bowling alleys and card rooms were well patronized.

Aldermen Seek Lower Light And Power Rates

Citizens Object To Pole Locations—Other Business Transacted

The regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen was featured by a motion made by Alderman Bail asking that a resolution be passed requesting the Mayor to have City Solicitor Bartlett seek a reduction in the rates for light and power furnished by the Edison Company in Newton. Mr. Bail remarked that "eleven months ago Governor Fuller had started war on the lighting companies of this state to bring about lower rates. Many have done so and the Aldermen of Newton should go on record favoring lower rates for this city."

Alderman Heathcote asked Mr. Bail, "Do you know how the rates in Newton compare with those charged in other communities by the Edison Company?" We should have facts and figures before we do anything on this," Mr. Bail replied that "he is no lighting expert but he does know that Springfield, Worcester and Cambridge are getting lower rates." He added that this matter is about to come before the Public Utilities Commission and this resolution will enable the City Solicitor to look after the interests of the city. The resolution was passed by the Board.

The first matter to come before the meeting was a hearing on the petition of the Electric Rug Washing Company for a permit to install a 500-gallon gasoline tank at 3 Bridge street in the barn formerly used by the Aetna Mills. No person appeared to object.

Albert T. Stuart appeared and asked for a permit to erect a 50-car public garage and to relocate two pumps and install an additional pump at the filling station located at 1149 Walnut street, Newton Highlands. He stated that he plans to erect a modern garage and improve the property at this place, improving the premises and affording a setback which will be of an advantage to surrounding property.

C. F. Leatherbee of 100 Prince street, West Newton, appearing for Miss Carroll of Prince street and Miss Freeman of Mount Vernon street, objected to the petition of the Edison Company for a permit to place 5 poles on Mount Vernon street. He argued that this is a very high class neighborhood and the poles would mar the beauty of the street.

Mr. R. M. Chase, representing his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Chase of Hillside avenue, protested against the erection of the poles. He remarked that the objectors have no desire to make it hard for Mr. Crosby, but in deference to the old folks who have resided for most of their lives in this neighborhood, who admire its attractiveness, and who object to their view being spoiled by the poles, he hopes that some other way will be found to bring the service to the new houses.

Another attempt of residents on Whitney road to get a sewer in that street brought Thomas Parker and Daniel Watson to ask for this improvement. Daniel Irwin of Commonwealth avenue, appearing for Clara Dumas of Upland road, again appeared.

Spain Scores Thrice To Beat Melrose Six

Newton High Hockey Team Wins League Title in Exciting Game

Frank Spain, star centre ice of the Newton High School hockey team, was the big factor in enabling the orange and black sextet to defeat Melrose High, 3 to 1, in the final game of the Greater Boston Interscholastic Hockey League championship series at the Arena on the holiday afternoon. The victory brought the championship crown to Newton High for the second consecutive time and the seventh since Dr. Oscar Martin took over the coaching position, eleven years ago. Spain, who was playing his last hockey game for Newton, as he will graduate in June, towered head and shoulders above all the other players on the ice and scored all three points for the winners. He was ably supported by his teammates, Captain Jimmy Brown, Joe Gilligan, Bob Bennett and Langdon Powers. Dan Harrington played a wonderful game in the net, turning shot after shot aside. He totalled 24 stops against 11 for Kinney, the Melrose goalie. The one shot that got by Harrington was scored by McDonald in the first period.

The game was fast and hard fought throughout. Four players were sent to the penalty box, while players on both teams committed offenses which warranted two-minute suspensions. Continually the Newton players passed to Spain, who peppered the Melrose net with shots from all conceivable angles and distances. About five minutes after the opening face-off Spain came down the centre of the rink to the points and drove the rubber between them into the net. Another five minutes was played before Gilligan and Bennett, the Newton defence pair, stopped a Melrose forward, McDonald, Melrose substitute left wing, scooped the puck away and shot it into the cage for the tying score.

Less than half a minute after the opening of the second period Spain outguessed the Melrose defense by making a long shot, true to the mark, and the orange and black was again in the lead.

Early in the third period Spain was nearly rendered "hors de combat" when he was body-checked so hard by Jack Harris, Melrose forward, that he fell on the ice, striking the side of his head a severe blow. Wilkie relieved Spain while the latter enjoyed a short rest before pluckily returning to the game. Shortly after he again took the ice he teamed up with his captain, Jimmy Brown, to successfully complete one of the prettiest scoring plays many of the spectators had ever seen in schoolboy hockey. Brown had scooped the disc away from a Melrose player and by clever dribbling reached the blue line. Spain had been on Brown's left, but suddenly shifted and crossed over to his right. Brown laid a nifty pass right on Spain's stick and the latter drove in his third point.

For the remainder of the game the Melrose players gave their best in an effort to score, taking many long shots which Harrington turned aside in a brilliant display of goal tending.

In the other game of the afternoon the Cambridge Latin and Arlington High sextets battled to a 2 to 2 tie, with two five-minute overtime periods failing to change the scoring.

M. & B. RAISES PAY

The question of a wage increase, which has been hanging fire for some time between the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway and its employees, was settled on Tuesday, when a referendum vote was taken on the offer of one cent an hour to the men. The voting was held in the car barns at Waltham, Lexington, Natick and Auburndale. Of the 179 votes cast, 96 favored the offer and 83 objected to it. The raise, which is retroactive to January 1st, makes the wages 64 cents an hour for operators of buses and one-man cars, and 59 cents an hour for motormen and conductors on two-man cars. Last year a similar increase was given by the company.

Objects To School At Cabot Park Plgd.

Playground Commission, School Committee and Aldermen Confer

The long deliberations of the joint committee of Aldermen and School Committee members over the site of a new school at Newtonville almost came to a successful culmination last week when a conference was held with the Playground Commission. It was revealed then that the site desired was at that end of the Cabot Park playground next to Cabot street. In the opinion of the School Committee and their associates from the Aldermen, this would be an ideal site, located as it is next to a large playground and in the midst of a rapidly growing district.

The idea did not, however, meet with the approval of the Playground Commission. Its members feel that Newton not only will need in future years all the areas it now has for playgrounds but that additional land will be desirable. The Playground commission had yielded land at the Lower Falls playground for a school site and with this request for another concession for school purposes, members of the playground body decided "that enough is enough," and that the yielding of more playground sites for school purposes might develop into a regular practice. Land on the other end of Cabot Park, near Newtonville avenue, was tendered as a site for the new school, but this suggestion was turned down by the school committee because of the proximity of this site to a factory and freight yard. Neither was the suggestion that land be taken to the west of Laundry Brook because of the expense involved. It was proposed that the property of the John A. Andrew Home on Washington Park, next to the Claffin School be taken, as it was understood that the management of this institution for veterans of the Civil War and their wives desired to dispose of this property. It was learned that such is not the case.

Members of the committee of aldermen and school committee members composing the joint committee on new school buildings deny that there is anything but harmony between them and the Playground Commission. When it was ascertained that the latter do not favor the taking of the site at Cabot Park, the joint committee took measures to recommend another site and it is probable that at the next meeting of the Aldermen the taking of this site will be asked for. The matter of selecting sites for school houses is within the province of the Board of Aldermen, subject to consultation with the School Committee. It has been the practice to defer to the wishes of the latter body in this matter and undoubtedly the aldermen will work in harmony with the School Committee in this matter.

Two-State Basketball Tourney At Local Y.

Lowell Boys Team Victor—Many Close Games

The annual boys Two-State Y. M. C. basketball tourney was held Tuesday and Wednesday of this week with the Lowell team winning in a field of fourteen teams representing associations in Massachusetts, Rhode Island and New Hampshire. Preliminary rounds were played Tuesday evening at Newton, Malden and Everett. The semi-final and final rounds were played the holiday morning and afternoon on the Newton floor.

Tuesday night at Newton the local five, the first to represent the Newton Y in several years was eliminated by the Northampton team, 33 to 14. Richard Wells, William Earle, George Marsh, William Florig, Charles Dolbler and John Simonds composed the Newton squad which has enjoyed a fairly successful season under the coaching of assistant physical director, V. A. Anderson. In the other first round game on the Newton court Somerville defeated Concord, N. H., 33 to 29. At Malden on the same evening Boston won from Cambridge and Lynn won from Providence, R. I., while at Everett the first round winners were Brockton and Chelsea with Nashua, N. H., and Quincy being eliminated.

The second round games were played the same evening with Lowell losing out Fall River, both teams having drawn byes for the first round, 29 to 27 in an exciting finish and Northampton outclassing Somerville, 48 to 25 at Newton. At Malden Boston defeated Lynn 37 to 35 to get into the finals while the survivor at Everett was the Chelsea team in a 20 to 18 victory over Brockton.

Wednesday morning the four teams in the semi-finals, Chelsea, Lowell, Northampton and Boston, engaged in two games at the Newton floor with Chelsea having a 24 to 22 edge on Boston and Lowell a 32 to 30 win over Northampton. In the afternoon the Lowell team had little difficulty in upsetting the aspirations of the Chelsea outfit and ran up a score of 35 to 12 to capture the honors. The winning association was awarded an engraved shield and the individual members of the team with medals.

The tournament was conducted by the basketball committee of the Physical Directors' Association of Massachusetts and Rhode Island Y. M. C. A.'s of which F. W. Prechtel of Somerville is chairman. The officials in the semifinal games were Brit Bowler, coach of the Newton Y senior team, and Frank Simmons, athletic trainer at the Newton high school. The final game was refereed by Lester with Donald Cunningham of Newton as umpire.

The local association under the supervision of Clyde G. Hess, Boys' Director, entertained forty-five boys who took part in the games at Newton. Local citizens offered the hospitality of their homes that the lads might have a pleasant stay.

NEWTON FOURTH IN ANDOVER MEET

The Newton high track team placed fourth in the fourth annual Andover interscholastic track meet at Andover, last Saturday which was won for the second consecutive year by Medford. Medford scored 23 points, Lawrence 19 1/2, Lowell 16 and Newton 15, with eleven other schools figuring in the point division from 10 points down to a half a point. Three points were awarded the school whose athlete benefited Medford in two events, the hurdles in which Frank White topped the timbers in 5 1-5 in the first heat only to be shut out in the finals and in the relay race when the Medford four outdistanced Newton and lowered the record. John Janis of Lawrence equalled White's time in the finals of the hurdles to gain three additional points for his team. Walter Langley of Lowell covered 1000 yards in the record time of 2m 26 4-5 to take first place over Jimmie McCruden, the Newton star.

Newton scored its points in the 1000-yard run, relay race, high jump and broad jump. Jimmie McCruden, who had not had a track shoe on for two weeks before the race because of an injury to his leg, ran a pretty race, winning his heat in 2m 29s. Coach Enoch held the watch on him and he was keeping to a 2m 25s schedule all the way until the last half lap when the result of his layoff made itself manifest and he took 19 seconds to cover the last 85 yards. In the second heat Langley's time was fast enough to give him first place and McCruden placed third in the second heat but was too far back to get into the point division.

Coach Enoch saved Captain Malcolm Reed, Dick Reynolds, Nathan Pearson and Fowler Cole for the relay with Medford and hoped to see them break the existing record but Coach Eddie Pigeon's four was too fast and beat the orange and black runners by nearly ten yards for a new record of 2m 24 3-5. Newton's time was fast enough to give them third best time for 4 points with Lawrence taking second best.

Edward Ebelhare added five points to Newton's total by winning the high jump over Anderson of Salem and Janis of Lawrence. The Newton jumper cleared 5 ft. 10 in. but failed in an attempt to break the record. Robert Kinrade raised Newton's total to 15 points by taking second in the broad jump with a leap of 9 ft. 8 in. His best effort was a quarter inch shy of the distance made by Alfred Morin of David Prouty school of Spencer, who won the event. Morin also won the 40-yard dash to make him the only double winner of the day.

Romaine Cole deserved a better fate in the hurdles when he was shut out of third place in the finals when the judges picked Chris Clifford of Brockton. Janis won the event, with Hoses of Somerville second. Fowler Cole took third in the first heat of the dash but was shut out in the semi-finals. Hamilton Kollmyer won the second heat of the 300-yard run over Badaracco of Brookline and Shea of Lynn Classical but failed to show in the final heat.

B. A. A. Meet Tomorrow

Newton high will enter a strong relay team in the B. A. A. meet tomorrow afternoon. The quartet will oppose Brookline high over a mile route with each man running a quarter. Captain Malcolm Reed and Dick Reynolds are sure of being two of the members of the team. Nathan Pearson has an excellent chance of being the third man but who the fourth runner will be is a toss-up. Earling Beardsley, Fowler Cole or Jimmie McCruden have an equal chance of being selected. Time trials over the 440-yard distance have been held but results were not given out. Should McCruden not run on the relay he will enter the 1000-yard distance where he will run against the stars from the various prep schools. Ebelhare will enter the high jump and hopes to clear 6 feet which should assure him of getting into the points. Romaine Cole has been entered in the high hurdles but may not run as Coach Enoch is afraid he will take a tumble over the high barriers which he is not used to and it might keep him out of the state meet a week hence. Johnny Mullen, Fowler Cole, Hamilton Kollmyer and some of the others will probably compete in the dash. With the state meet but a week away the Newton mentor will not allow any of his stars to take chances and as the class of competition will be pretty stiff there is nothing gained in allowing the boys to run.

SPORT NOTES

Cobb Only Point Scorer

Joe Cobb of the Country Day School track team was the only point scorer for his team in the private school track meet at Soldiers Field on Wednesday. Cobb placed third in the 600-yard run, to chalk up two points.

Capt. Bryant Wins Two Firsts

The Dartmouth swimming team kept its league record clear by downing Penn. 49 to 22 in the Hanover pool last Saturday. Dartmouth took every first place but one with Captain Joe Bryant of West Newton winning the 50 and 100-yard events to keep his record clear. In addition the local athlete swam anchor on the relay team which tied the record established last year.

Yale Candidates Report

Forty odd candidates for the Yale varsity baseball team reported to Coach Joe Wood on Monday. Captain Dick Vaughan, who is also captain of the hockey team, did not report as he will continue with the ice team until the end of the season.

CLOSES SEASON WITH FIFTH WIN

The Newton high school basketball team closed its first season on the basketball court since 1914 with a 21 to 17 victory over the Beverly high school quintet on the Beverly floor Saturday night. The victory was the fifth on a schedule of 12 games, the majority of which were with teams far beyond the ability of the local aggregation. On the whole the season's record may be regarded as a successful one after taking into consideration that the five was pitted against teams of much greater experience and it may also be taken as a criterion of an even better team next winter when these same opponents should find the orange and black offering better competition. Such teams as Everett, Cambridge Latin and Rindge which won easily two games each from Coach Green's outfit will find themselves against stiffer opposition another year. Newton's other defeat suffered by Coach Ward's quintet at Watertown high by a narrow margin. Newton's five victories were gained over Needham, Beverly and Belmont with the two first named schools on the short end in home and home games. Newton outscored Coach "Poly" Harris' five on the Belmont floor but did not meet them in a game at Newton.

In Saturday night's game Donald Parker and Spencer deMille excelled for Newton, each with four goals from the floor. Harold Hamm tossed in one from the floor for two points while Fred Becker caged two free tries for the same number of points. Schwartz added the other point on a shot from the foul line.

Only four members of the first year squad will be lost by graduation next June. They are Captain Billy Pearce, Fred Becker, Spencer deMille and Bernard Rockwood. For a nucleus Coach Green will have Donald Parker, the outstanding player on the team this past season, and Harold Hamm as forwards, Norman Payne as centre, Schwartz and Fuller as guards. In addition Coach Frank Simmons of the second team has a number of excellent players who will make a determined fight for first team berths. Foremost of these is Jim Kirkpatrick, whose playing at forward and centre was a big factor in the success of the team.

Squash Team Adds To Lead

By defeating the Walkover team, 3 to 2, the Newton Centre team added to its hold on first place in the Mass. Squash Racquets Association interclub series in Class C Saturday on the Brockton club's courts. The local team now leads the Shoe City players by three points. While the match was one by the smallest possible margin the individual matches were quickly settled with the exception of but one match. A. O. Wellman, E. Alvord, W. E. Pattison, of the Newton Centre team and W. E. Keith of Walkover disposed of their opponents in three straight games, the latter defeating P. M. Goddard. In the other match G. P. Buell forced F. A. Parmenter of Walkover into a fourth game before accepting defeat by taking the third game by a four point margin. In another match of local interest the Newton Club team won from the University Club 4 to 1.

Cleveland Wants Hunnefield

Bill Hunnefield, the Newton ball player with the Chicago White Sox, may become a Cleveland Indian before many days. Manager Bill Evans, formerly American League umpire, wants "Honey" and Joe Judge, first baseman of the Washington Senators to round out his infield. Cleveland bid for the pair at the annual league meeting, but nothing came of it. No other bids were received and, as both teams have star players they do not need Hunnefield or Judge, a deal is practically certain. It is stated that cash, players or both will be offered for the pair.

Bryant Again Double Winner

The Dartmouth swimming team met defeat in a meet with the Princeton mermen on the holiday in the Tigers' pool, 23 to 39. Bryant, Green leader, was the outstanding star of the meet, winning, as usual, both the 50 and 100-yard events in addition to swimming anchor on the relay team, which lost by a narrow margin. The outcome of the meet hinged on the relay race, which, if the Hanover four won, would have tied the score at 31 all, as the race counts for eight points.

Y Wrestlers Beaten

Last Friday night at the Newton Y. M. C. A. the Boston Y wrestling team won from the Newton matmen, 19 to 6. Spriano of Boston, who has been invited to participate in the Olympic tryouts, won his eighth consecutive bout this year in the 160 pound class by a fall in eight and a half minutes over Vachon of Newton. He also wrestled Gus Carlson of Newton in the 175-lb. class and won the decision. Arsenault of Newton in the 147-lb. class was the only Newton wrestler to win. He got a decision over Menitt of Boston. Santall of Newton won the 118-lb. class bout by default.

Whitmore Out For Nine

Howard Whitmore, former Newton high school star pitcher and a member of the hurling staff on the Harvard varsity nine last spring, was among the candidates to report to Coach Fred Mitchell Monday in the Harvard baseball cage. Whitmore is expected to be one of the first string twirlers this season.

Rogers High Scorer

Dick Rogers, West Newton boy on the Dartmouth hockey team, was the high scorer in the game on Wednesday with the Brown sextet at Hanover, which the Dartmouth team won easily, 15 to 0. Rogers accounted for four of his team's goals. Phil Lingham, at right defence for the Brown sextet, played well.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

"You seem to have a good deal to say in your column about automobile headlights and night driving," said a loyal friend of mine, "let me tell you a discovery I have made."

"Did you know," he went on, "what a help hosiery is to drivers in picking out lady jaywalkers? Yes, sir, this new shade of feminine stockings shines right out in the night, almost as brilliantly as white."

I thought him a joker at first, but he was serious.

"I am not trying to be funny and my family will bear me out in what I say. You can see a woman who may be running across the street between corners much more quickly if she wears that popular new shade of hosiery. Short skirts enable them to travel faster with their feet and brilliant stockings act as a warning light."

If I had not known my friend to be a type of man who would not treat such a subject with facetiousness I would not have repeated his observations here.

It made me think, however, of what Registrar Goodwin said earlier this week about women automobile operators—"On the whole, I think the girls are doing very well."

Although it may seem a little unusual I heartily advocate painting the town—not red, but white. It would be quite proper, I am sure, as under the plan I suggest there would be the approval of the police authorities. In fact I haven't a doubt they would like to do it themselves.

Application of the paint, I believe, is necessary to a better enforcement of automobile regulations. Every village square would be the happier for it. The idea would not be new but more definite than in the past. It would be for the good of automobile drivers and pedestrians as well.

As things are at present we have faint lines here and there which are intended to show where we should walk, if pedestrians, and where we should drive and park if drivers. The trouble is they are almost obliterated. You may possibly find a few traces of paint but nothing to forcibly attract the eye and less to guide the feet.

If Newton is to be made auto-regulations conscious instead of resistant paint has got to be used. I notice that the taxi stands on the job. They have marked with yellow paint the area allotted to them, politely indicating that they expect other automobilists to keep off their territory.

Now then it isn't to be expected that we can have in Newton a complete enforcement of traffic regulations unless the people who are to observe them know what they are expected to do. If there are two distinct white lines indicating a crossing the foot-travelers may confidently believe they are walking where they should. If at the curb the street is marked in white paint "Do Not Park Here" or "Park Parallel to Curb" or "Park at an Angle" the automobilist may govern himself accordingly.

Until white paint is used for these markings things are going to be in a mussy state. A policeman, knowing the rules, is bound to have a clash with a driver who doesn't know them. A mean argument is likely to follow. Why not avoid all this and at the same time make conditions as they should be? Again, I say, let's paint the town.

What can we do to get a new Post-office for Newton? Yes, I mean Wards 1 and 7, or Newton Corner if that is more descriptive. The volume of business there, I am credibly informed, is three times greater than any other postoffice in this city, but for 20 years we have had to get along the best way we could.

Consider the quarters. In the first place they are not as large as some of the smaller stores. I recall that during the Christmas rush people were packed into a small space. Two lines of men and women with bundles to be mailed completely choked up the whole works. Anybody desiring to get to a lock-box had to break through. The situation was deplorable, but, as everybody was in a hurry, little complaint was heard.

Of course the public must expect to take what is handed by the postal authorities, but as far as I can recall a good, rousing protest will get something after all. Way back in 1920 it happened that I was traveling through the South with President Coolidge, then a candidate for Vice-President. In Middleboro, Kentucky, of which I doubt if half-a-dozen readers of this column have ever heard, they had a splendid postoffice building, with only Federal offices. Think of that! Newton would be so upset if any such structure were built here they wouldn't think of writing letters.

So amazed would they be at the grand style of the building.

Doesn't this show we could have a better postoffice in Newton if we went after it in the way we should? Newton is solidly Republican, or at least by a large majority, and doesn't need the political attention received by cities where the political complexion is doubtful. That makes some difference. But why not reward us for it? Why punish us?

Perhaps you will say the question should be settled on its merits. I agree with you. Yet, at the same time, I want to see a new postoffice in Newton Corner. Think of what we have now—one with a door that doesn't stay closed unless locked and hardly enough room in which to swing your arms when fishing in your pocketbook. If only some of our local organizations would start the clamor I think there would be results. It is nice to be amiable and complacent but it is better to have those qualities along with a nice new postoffice of proper size and up-to-date equipment.

We need these places, or at least we could use them. They would be centrally located and easily accessible. Traffic would be required more at night than in the day and this would fit perfectly with the fact that fewer trains are run at night. I mean by that the evening's entertainment would not be so often interrupted by the choo-choo cars.

Supposing we were listening to a concert. The conductor would have only his music but a timetable before him. I mean the musical conductor, of course. When he was aware that a train was about to arrive he could suspend the program and refuse to take any encores until the last chug of the locomotive had died away.

If it was a boxing match or an athletic meet the noise of the engines would make little difference. In fact it might drown the cry of pain caused by a whack on the nose. This would make prize fights seem or sound less brutal.

If it was dancing for which the hall had been engaged a competent jazz orchestra would have no trouble making itself heard above the racket of the rails. I don't know but somebody might compose a symphony in which the two might be combined with inspiring results.

Before I go any further with this idea I would like to hear from some reader. I want to set on the right road. Any suggestion will be kept secret unless the writer expresses a desire for publicity.

In these days when so many business concerns, manufacturing enterprises and countless other commercial enterprises have their speakers' bureau it isn't so difficult for this organization or that to obtain somebody to address a meeting. Naturally the speaker has an idea he wants to put before his hearers. If he can arouse a greater interest in the particular thing his firm sells or in the industry in general he has accomplished his purpose.

I have never heard anybody complain that they were not entertained. Some topics are far more absorbing than others, but the method of spreading information is a good one. People like to learn, although they may prefer the most palatable way possible.

Once in a while I hear of a city official who has spoken before some club or society or lodge. We, of course, have our eloquent Mayor, who gives as many pleasant hours by his felicitous speeches. Still, I wonder if we could not get even more out of City Hall in the way of knowledge.

Municipal affairs are something of which the average citizen learns more by second hand than actual contact. I am sure if he got his learning from the man who does the work as the city's representative it would be doubly worth while. I don't know any better way than to establish a speakers' bureau at City Hall. That isn't a jest, but as earnest a statement as I have made.

Suppose it were known by clubs, societies, lodges, etc., that some city official could tell a lot of things about the running of his department that isn't common knowledge, and, furthermore, that such a man was available as a speaker, I believe it would provide a splendid attraction for most any occasion.

There are to be obtained nowadays motion pictures through a minimum of expense—$1000 say for a machine, lights, etc. And these can be run off any place without fire hazard. A screen, seven feet square, serves the purpose admirably. Certainly the investment is a small one and I believe the return to the city itself would be invaluable.

There are many things about the city we could learn in this way and have the information not only brought to us by speakers but shown on the screen in an entertaining way. It isn't a wild scheme when you stop and think about it. The details, I am sure, could be worked out with comparatively small expense.

What I would like to see is to have the City of Newton sell Newton to its citizens. It would keep the customers satisfied and pleased, I am sure, and after all, is that good business all around?

I was talking with a prominent woman who had directed a successful indoor entertainment. It was one of those affairs in which many people participated and which proved of much public interest. Moreover, it was conducted with marked efficiency. There were committees for everything and these committees did their work well. Naturally the affair turned out to be a complete success.

So impressed was I that I took occasion to praise the organization members and congratulate their leader. She smiled and replied, "Now tomorrow I've got to do the cleaning up. There is never a committee for that."

"Somebody will assist you, won't they?" I asked.

"Possibly," she replied, "but did you ever hear of a Committee on Cleaning-up Afterwards?"

That was a new one. I had to confess I never had. "A Committee on Cleaning-up Afterwards." Not a bad idea. We have a Committee of Arrangements, a Press Committee, an Entertainment Committee, a Supper Committee and all varieties of committees, but never a Committee on Cleaning-up Afterwards.

Maybe this idea, if carried out, would make things easier for everybody. I wonder if it wouldn't be a good thing if adopted. Anyway, there's the suggestion and I have no hesitation in pushing it along even if it is not original.

Dr. C. W. Clark, President of the Newton Rotary Club, received today from President Laurence Mansfield of the Salem, Massachusetts Rotary Club a cordial invitation in behalf of his club for every member of the Newton Club to attend the Spring Conference of the Thirty-first District of Rotary International, which is to be held in Salem on Monday and Tuesday, April 23 and 24.

President Mansfield writes that the Salem Rotarians are making elaborate plans for the comfort and convenience of the visiting Rotarians and that they intend seeing to it that every man coming to the Conference has the time of his life.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

C. L. S. C. of Newton Highlands

Mrs. Edward G. Swift, 25 Woodcliffe road, opens her home to entertain the members of the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. on Monday afternoon, the 27th. The meeting, which begins at 2:30 o'clock, will be in charge of Miss Cora Stanwood Cobb who will read a paper on "Sir Isaac Newton." Miss Cobb has attained a reputation as a writer and lecturer, and her paper on this "Great Thinker"—such being the general topic of the mid-year meetings of this Club—is sure to be most interesting in her presentation of the "thinking" of this man that so decidedly and effectively resulted in the awakening to the law of gravitation.

Monday Club of Newton Highlands

On the same afternoon, February 27th, at the same hour—2:30—another of the smaller but most interesting of the Newton Highlands Clubs will be discussing field and forest, and the man who is rated as leading nature lover and authority. Mrs. Emma A. Proctor will read a paper on "Saving the Red Woods," and Mrs. H. J. Fewkes will have the equally fascinating opportunity in one on "Luther Burbank." Mrs. C. G. Wetherbee is hostess for the Club at her home, 47 Terrace avenue.

Waban Woman's Club

Dr. J. Edgar Park, president of Wheaton College, is to be the speaker for the Waban Woman's Club at 2:30 o'clock on Monday, February 27th. His topic is "What a College Education is Supposed to Do." The meeting is under the direction of the Education Committee, Mrs. William G. Brown, chairman, and will be followed by a social hour and tea. Dr. Park needs no introduction to a Newton audience, and his wit and humor are sure to find opportunity for expression in a lecture so entitled. In bringing out what a college education is supposed to do, and what it often, alas, has done, or may do, there is likelihood of many differences.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

The Travel Class of the West Newton Women's Educational Club will meet on Monday afternoon, the 27th, at the home of Mrs. H. F. Hartwell, 28 Davis avenue, with Mrs. Hartwell and Mrs. Arthur D. Batson as the hostesses. Mrs. Gilbert R. Jones will give a paper on "The Manufactures of the United States," and Mrs. George D. Thomas one on "Washington, D. C."

Auburndale Review Club

On Tuesday morning, the 28th, the members of the Auburndale Review Club will meet at Mrs. W. H. Medlicott, of 90 Hancock street and start the last quarter of the year's study on "European Literature" with some of the German writers and their works. Miss Florence Bridgman will give a general outline of the periods to be included, and Mrs. George S. Adams will describe in particular the one called the "Storm and Stress Period." The last paper will be by Miss Elizabeth Rider on "Goethe."

Newtonville Woman's Club

The Literature Class of the Newtonville Woman's Club is going to have a most wonderful time on Tuesday afternoon, the 28th, when they will live over in discussion "What Books Do You Like to Read Again, and Why?" They will meet at the home of Mrs. G. W. Auryansen, 43 Judkins street, at 2:30 o'clock.

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

The only event on the Newton Highlands Woman's Club calendar for the week, is the lecture in the Workshop, Tuesday morning, the 28th, at 9:30, under the direction of the American Home Committee. This will be the second in the course, which was inaugurated in January, and the speaker to be presented at this time by Mrs. Richard A. Cody, chairman, is Miss S. Agnes Deane, who will speak on "Expense Control through Standards." This expert on budgeting has already delighted Newton women by her humorous presentation of a practical subject, and her lecture on "control" is sure to be clever and worthwhile.

An advance notice for March is here given, however, as it is sure to be welcomed. As the demonstration lecture given in January by Mrs. Carolyn W. Bixby was so well received, Mrs. Bixby has been secured for two additional lectures in March, the dates being Wednesday, the 21st, and Friday, the 30th, "Sunday Night Supper Suggestions" will be the subject of the first talk, with the choice of the second left to subscribers of the course. Tickets for the extra talks may be secured of Mrs. Cody.

The Newton Highlands Club is succeeding in presenting for the benefit of members decidedly sensible and "taking" topics. Nothing is more vital in the life and sphere of woman's responsibility than to make the income go as far as possible, and to provide pleasing and appetizing "spreads" for family and guests.

Social Science Club

"Leonardi da Vinci" will be the subject of Mrs. George Angier's paper at the meeting of the Social Science Club at 10 o'clock on Wednesday. Mrs. William G. Soule and Mrs. Henry A. Nealley will be the hostesses.

State Federation

Mrs. William R. Alvord of Detroit, chairman of the Department of Civic Citizenship in the General Federation of Women's Clubs, honor guest of the State, will broadcast "American Citizenship" at WNAC next Wednesday, the 29th, at 10:30 a. m.

Suzanne Wayland Chick, Contralto, of the Maiden Musical Club, may be heard at 10:40 in a group of songs. Miss Marion C. Nichols, chairman of Civil Service will present a message at 10:50 and Mrs. Walter Thompson, guest speaker, from the Literature Department, headed by Mrs. Harlan T. Stetson, will be on the air at 11:30 with a talk on the possibilities of a "Children's Theatre."

Newton Centre Woman's Club

On February 29th, a visit has been arranged for members of the Newton Centre Woman's Club by Mrs. W. Cornell Appleton, chairman of the Art Committee, to the Fogg Museum, with a promise of unusual interest to art lovers.

Many unique and entertaining features will be introduced at the Leap Year Dance, to be given at the Club House on the night of February 29th, arranged and carried out by Mrs. John R. Whittlesey, chairman of the Activities Committee. Another pleasing thing in connection with the dance at the Club House, is a supper to be served, during the evening, including hot dishes. The list of patronesses for this dance follows: Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr., Mrs. John F. Capron, Mrs. George H. Crosbie, Mrs. Harry C. Gibson, Mrs. S. Hardy Mitchell, Mrs. Carle M. Bigelow, Mrs. Frank Stewart, Mrs. James Watson, Mrs. A. Oram Fulton, Mrs. C. E. Jeffrey, Mrs. J. E. Peterson, Mrs. John R. Perry, Mrs. George E. Squier, Mrs. George A. Remick, Mrs. Roland Stuart, Mrs. Benj. F. White, Mrs. J. Herbert Johnson, Mrs. Ralph E. Stuart, Mrs. Edw. D. Leonard.

Newton Community Club

Mr. W. Herrick Brown, whose lectures on finance for the Old Colony Trust Co., have been given to such crowded halls that many eager to imbibe knowledge of trusts, wills and investments, have had to be turned away, even though the lecture has been repeated to take care of this state of affairs, is to speak in Underwood School Hall committee room, on the afternoon of March 1st, at 3 o'clock. Mrs. Nathan Heard, chairman of the Education Committee of the Newton Community Club, has the honor of having secured this unusual opportunity which she offers not only to her fellow members, but to all women of Newton.

A special invitation is issued to all Club women, or others, of the Newtons, to join in this excellent information lecture, the only stipulation being that they, the chairman of the Committee know they are going to attend. That such an invitation is issued will be much appreciated by women not only of business training, but those who wish to become informed on financial affairs, and it is to be expected that the speaker will have a crowded hall.

In order that the demand for seats may be met, and in order, too, that proper seating facilities may be provided, and that many who would like to hear him may not be disappointed and turned away after the trip to the school, tickets will be issued, but without charge, as this course—if such it proves to be—is free. These may be secured from the Education Committee, while it would be appreciated if these are secured, it is not absolutely compulsory, so that women from other sections need not feel barred out if they have no ticket.

The Newton Trust Co., is also co-operating in this giving of information. Newton women are sure to find much of value in legal facts, as well as in sound advice in this presenting of financial affairs.

Auburndale Woman's Club

The next regular meeting of the Auburndale Woman's Club will be held on March 1st. Mr. Joseph E. Connor, the speaker for the day, will have for his subject: "The Dover Road." Mr. Connor is head of the Department of Public Speaking at Emerson College of Oratory, Boston. He is considered a distinguished interpreter of dramatic literature, so that the program chosen by the Juniors for their entertainment of the Seniors should be most successful. In a social hour following, while tea is served, mothers and daughters will have opportunity to meet their friends' daughters and mothers.

Community Service Club of West Newton

March 2nd is the date of the next lecture in the series of Current Events by Mrs. Claude U. Gilson for members of the West Newton Community Service Club. These interesting and worthwhile talks are being held in the Unitarian Parish House, at 10:40 a. m., on the dates set.

Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands

On Saturday afternoon, March 3rd, at 2:30 o'clock, the Shakespeare Club will be the guest of Mrs. Mary C.

Blakemore, at the home of her niece, Mrs. William Forrest Pillsbury, of 22 Berwick road, Newton Centre. The program will be a Review of the play "King John," by Mrs. H. W. Drew, this being the play whose separate acts have been occupying the past few Club meetings.

RECENT EVENTS

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

The Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club enjoyed a real treat at their meeting Monday evening, February 20th, at the Club Rooms, when S. Platt Jones, impersonator and monologist, entertained. Especially interesting was his characterization of the red-headed school boy, with a cold, reciting "The Charge of the Light Brigade." His tribute to the G. A. R. was touching and he said he wanted "the young people to realize the part taken by the G. A. R. in the making of United States History." Mr. Jones' fifteen years of platform experience has given him a professional introduction to many and won for him many friends. His character studies are chosen with a thought of clean, wholesome humor, and a desire to make his work as varied as possible, a combination that makes for success.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The regular meeting of the Newtonville Woman's Club was held on Tuesday, February 21st, at 2:30 o'clock, in the Central Church.

In connection with the Filene Fashion Show, which was held at the afternoon meeting, three clinics were held at the church in the morning under the auspices of Wm. Filene's Sons Co. At these clinics fashion experts advised any who wished it as to colors and styles, etc., suitable to each individual.

In the afternoon under the direction of Miss Harriet Ainsworth, fashion expert from Filene's, a number of models displayed advanced fashions for spring and summer. The models were all picked from the Club membership to the great enjoyment of their fellows. All styles of dresses, ensembles, sports models, afternoon and evening dresses were displayed with the accessories suitable to each costume. As a grand finale there was a wedding procession with two bridesmaids, a maid of honor, and a bride, a fitting ending for a very pleasant afternoon.

BENEFIT SHOP

The Benefit Shop at 5 Washington terrace, Newtonville, is open for business and for receiving donations Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 10 to 12:30 and Monday nights from 7 to 9. Donations will be called for by notifying Mrs. Van Hosen, C. N. 1898-W.

The Shop has proved a success and the generous sum of money already turned over to the fund for the new hospital is proof of this success, but its continued success depends on continued donations. We need children's clothes and shoes very urgently, men's suits and shirts and separate trousers; we need books and bedding. There is a great deal of suffering from lack of work and these necessities of life that we sell so low mean a great deal to people who hesitate to accept charity. Will you send your help and ask others to do the same?

By Edw. H. Powers

Representative Arthur W. Hollis was one of those who opposed the bill before the Legislature which seeks to allow busses on highways to have a maximum length of 33 feet instead of 28 feet, as at present. Most persons in Newton will agree with Mr. Hollis. Nearly every autoist can testify of busses rushing by at high speed and then cutting in perilously close. Too many accidents and fatalities have already been caused by big busses operated at express train speed by reckless drivers to allow this menace to be further increased by making the busses 5 feet longer. Our highways were not intended for big busses and huge freight trucks which hide the view of the ordinary autoist and force him off the road.

Frank A. Goodwin, Registrar of Motor Vehicles, has accomplished much good in making our highways comparatively safe. But Mr. Goodwin has lost much of his popularity by his activities in matters apart from his duties. The impression has become prevalent that Mr. Goodwin craves publicity. Just what good he expected to accomplish by his recently made statement regarding the illegality of traffic signals is a question that is puzzling the average citizen. Huge sums have been spent in this state by cities and towns on traffic signals for the purpose of safeguarding lives and property. While many persons knew that there has been a technical question as to the legality of these signals because of the "foot law" passed some years ago which gave vehicles approaching from the right the precedence at a street intersection, 99% of autoists realized the value of traffic signals and obeyed them willingly. Mr. Goodwin issues a list of fatalities to the press each week and exhorts the public to co-operate in saving human lives. The attitude he has taken on traffic signals will not tend to lessen the number of automobile accidents.

An increasingly large number of Newton women and men are learning that in the neighboring city of Waltham is a large mercantile establishment where dry goods and clothing for men, women and children can be purchased to better advantage than in Boston. For 39 years the Clifford S. Cobb Company has been building up an enviable reputation by selling merchandise of high quality at less than Boston prices. The fact that they can secure better values there, together with its nearness to Newton, freedom from traffic congestion and ample parking space nearby is causing more and more Newton people to travel to Waltham to trade at the big Cobb store.

One of the proponents of the bill to legalize professional sports on Sundays is Mr. Charles Adams, owner of the Boston "Bruins," the professional hockey team, and interested in the Boston National League Baseball team. In the hearing before the committee of the Legislature dealing with this bill, Mr. Adams stated that he is an official of a large corporation operating hundreds of grocery stores and markets, "The First National Stores" employing thousands of men whose only opportunity to see a baseball game is on Sundays. Would it not be an excellent idea for Mr. Adams' corporation to allow their employees an afternoon off each week for recreation. Most independently owned grocery stores and markets do this.

MUSICAL COMEDY

Parish Hall of the Church of the Messiah held a capacity audience last Friday and Saturday evenings, when the musical comedy, "In Hot Tamale Land," was given by the Young People's Fellowship of the Church of the Messiah, Auburndale.

Burton Worth as Bobby Hunter was exceptionally fine. Mr. Worth is a Waltham boy and recently starred in "The Goose Hangs High," which was given at the Fine Arts Theatre in Boston.

Ann Wood, Edwin Ovington, Helen Bosworth and Mildred Beardsley were also worthy of mention, all of them taking their parts in a splendid manner. Others of the cast were J. Roger Purney and Celia Lindsay.

Stubbs Scores In Short Tilt

New Preparatory school hockey team gained a 1 to 0 lead over the Melrose High School sextet Monday when Frank Stubbs caged the puck. A few minutes later another shot of Stubbs struck goalie Kinney on the cheek and inflicted an ugly gash which for a time threatened to keep the Melrose player out of the Newton game on Wednesday. The Melrose coach refused to replace the goalie and the game was ended.

Three Local Youths Get Insignia
The Dartmouth athletic council awarded six members of the freshman hockey squad insignia for their play in the season just ended. Three of the six were local youths—Harold Anders, Henry Johnson, Jr., and Dick Fisher. The latter two are from Waltham. The election of Anders, a Newtonville youth, as captain of the team was ratified. He has been one of the outstanding players on the team and has participated in all of the games.

Vaughan and Palmer Team Again
Dick Vaughan and his teammate, Palmer, of the Yale hockey team, again teamed well together in beating the Princeton varsity, 9 to 2, at Princeton on Wednesday. The Newton Centre youth tallied twice and aided Palmer materially in running up four more goals.

NEWTON SPORTS

WINTER SPORTS AT BRAE-BURN C. C.

Several hundred members of the Brae-Burn Country Club, and their guests, enjoyed the winter sports program on the clubhouse grounds on the holiday. Because of the recent snowfall there was no ice skating, but the toboggan slide was in perfect condition and attracted a large following. In the morning eleven members of the Norwegian-American Ski and Soccer Club competed in a ski-jumping contest, for which silver cups were offered as prizes. J. Erikson of Wakefield was the winner, with a leap of 67 feet 7 inches, with C. Farness of Dedham second, and W. Moen of Brookline third. Farness' jump of 64 feet was six inches better than that of Moen.

Interest in the afternoon program was centered in a 7½-mile cross-country race between the eleven visitors over a course laid out by Dan Keefe, who was in charge of the events. The trail led from the clubhouse to Waban, back through the old and new golf courses to the hospital and thence to the starting point. Red flags marked the route and club employees were stationed to direct the contestants, who raced three laps. H. Holt of Boston was the winner, after taking the lead at the end of the second lap from Bernstein, who was a minute behind at the finish. Holt's time was 55 minutes 21 seconds. Third place was won by B. Sansing of Brookline, who came in a minute and a half behind the second man.

Arlington Shut Out

The Newton sextet shut out the Arlington team 3 to 0 in the second game of the championship series Saturday afternoon. Melrose gained the final round by swamping Cambridge Latin 6 to 0 in one of the worst defeats the latter has suffered in years. Newton had one big period—the second—in which it scored all of its points. In the first period with most of the lackluster in Newton's play, there was no scoring. In the second session the orange and black players stormed the Arlington net. Spain and Powers had an open shot but the Arlington goalie turned it aside. Captain Brown rushed in and swept the rubber into the net for the opening score. Less than two minutes later Brown skated down the left lane, raced around Forbes, the Arlington outer defence player, and beat Manning in the goal with a clever shot. Brown also had a large part in the scoring of the third and final tally. It was his pass which was right on Frank Spain's stick that enabled the latter to tally with a well-driven shot.

The story of the Melrose victory over Cambridge Latin was told. The Melrose players swept the Cantabs off their feet although Fred Harlow at centre ice had a little better of Armstrong the Melrose centre. Harris and Ross, Melrose wings each tallied twice. Keogh, who relieved Armstrong connected once as did Spadafora, Melrose defence player.

Yale Gets Revenge on University Club

Playing rings around their opponents from start to finish the crack Yale varsity six added another game to its long string of recent consecutive victories by defeating the University Club decisively 5 to 1 at New Haven Saturday night. Palmer was again the scoring ace for the Eli sextet and as usual was ably supported by his Captain, Dick Vaughan of Newton Centre. The two Yale stars figured in all five of the goals, four of which Palmer caged. Two of the four were on passes from Vaughan which the latter laid right on his teammate's stick. Vaughan tallied the fifth counter on a pass from Palmer. For the University Club the playing of Captain George Owen and Clark Hodder stood out. Other local youths to take the ice for the Hub team were Horace Cole, Sam Ferguson and Ted Learnard.

Rogers Play Beats Harvard

Dick Rogers of West Newton, star forward on the Dartmouth hockey team, was the outstanding figure in the Green's unexpected victory in the arena last Saturday night by the score of 4 to 1. The local lad tallied three goals in one of the most surprising upsets of the season. Despite the lack of practice due to poor ice conditions in Hanover the Green team outplayed the Crimson by a large margin. The game was speedy from the takeoff with Harvard getting several shots which were turned aside. Gardner of Dartmouth got the puck and uncorked a long shot which Morrill, Harvard goalie, deflected. Rogers was in the finest position to make another shot which found the strings before Morrill could get set again. Half a minute later Rogers tallied again on a completely individual play. He shot from the blue line and the puck struck the edge of Morrill's stick before counting. In the second period Rogers added his third counter on a pass from a teammate. Rogers played the shot perfectly from an open spot and Morrill could not get away from the corner of the net where he had been waiting for the Green attacker. Later in the same period Dartmouth added its fourth tally. Harvard's lone score came shortly before the final Green goal. For Harvard Guy Holbrook was the player whose actions with the rubber Dartmouth had to watch closest. The former Newton star got in many fine shots which might have put the Crimson in the game but for Bott, the Hanoverites goaltender.

Harvard Cubs Win

Lack of practice was a large factor, in the 2 to 6 defeat suffered by the Dartmouth freshman hockey team at the hands of the Harvard yearlings at the arena last Saturday afternoon. Despite the defeat the Hanover cubs scored twice on the Crimson which was something unusual as the Crimson first year men have been shutting out nearly all of their opponents. The Green cubs, which includes two former Newton high players, Harold Anders, captain, and Henry L. Johnson, Jr., as their first string defence men, registered their points in the first and

The New Dictator Champion of Its Class

Studebaker

IN this new and more powerful Dictator at $1195 f.o.b. factory, Studebaker engineers present the champion of its price class. Under supervision of the American Automobile Association, a Dictator sedan recently traveled 24 hours at better than mile-a-minute speed with no repairs and no stops except for gas and oil.

This new Dictator is designed and finished in custom-built taste and luxury. It carries many items of extra equipment without extra charge, including shock absorbers.

A remarkable value due to Studebaker's One-Plant manufacturing facilities which reduce profits of outside parts-makers to a minimum. Savings thus made allow for extra quality and added refinements without corresponding increase in price.

—Leon Ray Livingston, who has been known for years as "A. No. 1" the world famous tramp, will speak in the Chapel of the Second Church at 7:30, Sunday evening, February 26. "A. No. 1" tramped a half million miles from the time he was 11 until he was 41. Years after leaving home he discovered that his father and mother both died as a result of his desertion of home and he has given his life to prevent such mistakes as he made and to reclaiming the misguided boys and girls who thoughtlessly break the home ties. It is claimed that over 200,000 boys and girls run away from home each year, that 35,000 end as worthless tramps, and that more than 7000 are crippled by trains and automobiles. Many of these go from homes of the Upper Falls. Mr. Livingston's purpose to make parents and young people alike aware of the dangers and disappointments of any such mistake.

—Warren S. Lane is among the small number of students who were admitted to the University of Pennsylvania at the beginning of the spring term of the university, this week. Approximately 150 students were admitted at the close of the first term. The February registration being designed to meet the needs of students completing their preparatory and high school work at that period of the year. Lane is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George S. Lane, 25 Somerset road, and is enrolled in the Wharton School of Finance and Commerce of the university. Prior to entering the University of Pennsylvania he attended the Dummer Academy, where he was a member of the varsity football team, the school hockey and baseball squads, orchestra and Student Council.

Years after leaving home he discovered that his father and mother both died as a result of his desertion of home and he has given his life to prevent such mistakes as he made and to reclaiming the misguided boys and girls who thoughtlessly break the home ties. GIRL SCOUTS

The Newton Girl Scout Officers' Association held its monthly supper meeting at the West Newton Unitarian Church on Wednesday evening, February 15th. The Newtonville officers prepared and served the supper, and Miss Louise Coburn, Chairman of the Children's Hospital Clubs, showed a moving picture of the activities at the hospital. She had brought with her many samples of the types of toys and bed throws which the children use. The officers were so delighted with them that they offered them and there to have their girls make them at Community Service meetings.

On Thursday, February 14th, Captain Webster and Captain Lovejoy took the patrol leaders of Troops 1, 22 and 28 to the Peabody Home and the Newton Hospital to deliver candy hearts from the Troop Committee and the valentines which their three troops had made on Community Service days. The little children at the Peabody Home seemed delighted to see the Girl Scouts and talked with them for over an hour. The girls were taken through the Home and shown the equipment for keeping the children happy and making them well. Then the party moved on to the Newton Hospital. Unfortunately, they could not go into the Children's Ward there, but were invited to distribute their valentines in the other wards. They had an especially interesting time for they came upon a sister scout, Mildred Burke, of Troop 16, Nonantum, who had been in the hospital for a month, but is now much better. They also saw one of their Lieutenants, Florence Hills, who had left the troop a few weeks before to go into training as a nurse.

As the Children's Hospital in town was quarantined, valentines and candy hearts were delivered there by the Troop Committee. A special heart was sent to the child in the Newton Girl Scout bed.

The Girl Scouts of the Metropolitan Division will have a booth at the National Education Convention to be held at Mechanics Hall from Saturday, February 25th, through Thursday, March 1st. Newton will take charge of the booth on the final day, Troop 8 of Auburndale and 11 of Newton Highlands will be on duty during the afternoon and the Newtonville Scouts of Troop 10 are to take charge in the early evening. The morning and late evening hours will be covered by officers alone.

A craft exhibit, to be held in the booth, includes articles made by some of the Newton girls. Newtonville Scouts will have a booth at the head-quarters a few weeks ago.

A very successful Girl Scout bridge party was held in Newton at the Hunnewell Club on Friday evening, February 17th. The following evening Waban gave a moving picture show which was very well attended, and this week Friday, the 24th, Newton Centre is to give "The Harvester," by Gene Stratton Porter. The picture will be shown at the Newton Centre Woman's Club in both the afternoon and evening. The Newton Girl Scout Bugle and Drum Corps will play at the latter performance.

Twenty girls and 3 officers of Troop 24, Waban, had a delightful time on Monday, February 20th, at Brae Burn Country Club coasting, skating and cooking their luncheon out-of-doors.

The first meeting of the Newton Chorus for the year was held in the Newton Technical High School Assembly Hall on Thursday, February 23rd, at 2:30. Mrs. Ginn of Newton Highlands, the Chairman of the State Review Chorus committee, will train the group again this year, and we hope to have a large attendance each Thursday.

The Junior Patrol Leader's Association is to hold its second meeting at the Brae Burn Country Club on Friday, February 24th. The girls will skate, coast, ski and snowshoe if the weather permits. If not, they will spend the morning tracking and trailing. They will bring camp food and cook it out-of-doors.

WABAN FORUM

Luther R. Fowle of Constantinople spoke on "Religion and World Friendship" at the fourth and last meeting of the "Church Institute" conducted by the Union Church in Waban. Mr. Fowle is treasurer of the American Board of Missions in Turkey, Greece and Bulgaria.

"Historically speaking, religion and world friendship have had little to do with each other," said Mr. Fowle. "In practice, if not in theory, intolerance and hatred have marked the long centuries of religious history in the Hebrew, Christian, and Mohammedan faiths. Tribal strifes, crusades, inquisitions, holy wars, have marked the long hard road of progress."

"The possibilities of sympathetic and friendly approach to people of other faiths are only now being feebly glimpsed. This development is being paralleled in American religious life by less of denominationalism, more of union, co-operation and mutual endeavor for common ends."

The current of the religious stream is thus becoming broader; the danger is lest it also become shallow and stagnant. The ideal stream of the spirit must be both broad and deep, both tolerant and vital, to carry on its surface the questing craft of the human spirit in its search for the Eternal Values."

Before Mr. Fowle was introduced by the Rev. Joseph C. MacDonald, who presided a solo, "Now the Day is Over," was sung by Mrs. Paul Moser. Mr. MacDonald commended the work of E. Payson Upham, the chairman of the Church Institute Committee, on his fine work in enlisting such fine speakers for the Institute.

Before the main assembly period, at which Mr. Fowle spoke, the young people of the parish joined the Waban Forum in its meeting. Dr. John K. Brown, a noted missionary, who took the place of Miss Seabury, speaking on "Personal Relations," Dr. Brown told several of his experiences encountered while interesting heathen people in the Bible, especially the Gospels. Especially interesting was the story of how he got one heathen, Malchit the Thief, to not only read, but to buy the Bible. Malchit was changed from a thief to a follower of Christ and established several churches in Armenia.

Saturday, March 3, the Waban Forum is to hold a food sale at the Union Church to raise money for the building fund. This is under the direction of Marjorie Whitaker and Fredericka Banning. Mrs. Alexander L. Stephen is the counselor in charge.

W. C. T. U.

The regular meeting of the West Newton W. C. T. U. was held Monday evening at the home of Mrs. S. M. Hovenden, 60 Austin street, Newtonville. After the regular business, the president, Mrs. Jessie M. Clark, introduced the speaker of the evening, Mrs. Jessie M. Leonard, State W. C. T. U. Supt. of Moving Pictures. Her subject was Movies and Morals. She gave a most interesting and instructive talk on movies and depicted the wrong amount of good that is being done by this universal form of enjoyment.

A social hour was held and refreshments served. Mrs. Hovenden and Mrs. Esther Keyes were hostesses.

ARRESTED FOR MOONSHINING

Five men were arrested Monday afternoon by the Waltham police and Federal officers for violating the prohibition law. Four of them were Waltham residents; the fifth was Joseph Lacava of 109 Lexington street, Auburndale, brother of Salvatore Lacava who was killed in the explosion of the still at the Gorgone premises on January 30th. The five were indicted by a Federal Grand Jury as a result of a raid on a fox farm at Marlboro on December 29 when a 1000 gallon still and other liquor manufacturing equipment was found at the place.

BOY SCOUTS

Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts of America, which operates Boy Scouting in the city of Newton, is making its annual request for funds during the coming week. Early this week material telling of the work of the Council since its reorganization last April was Newstead thru the mails. During the coming week many personal calls will be made by men actively interested in Scouting on prospects.

The Council is calling attention to the establishment of a central headquarters, which serves as a clearing-house for Scouting, where supplies and records are kept, both essential to proper conduct of the program. In addition there is a full-time office secretary and a Scout Executive. Eighteen years of experience in the United States have proven beyond question that such an organization and staff are essential to the continuing successful existence of good Scouting.

Of great interest is the Council's statement, based on its records, that there has been a gain of 64 per cent in the number of registered Scouts since last April, from 323 to 530; an increase of 60 per cent in Troop officers, from 30 to 48, and a tremendous increase, 200 per cent, in the active volunteer personnel, such as Troop Committees, examiners, Councilmen and so on.

The past ten months have been a time of great and growing activity in Newton Scouting. Several Troops have been reorganized and placed on a sound basis. One new Troop was formed in Nonantum; a second has just been formed this past week in Newton Centre, and one is in prospect in the Upper Falls. Such remarkable success during the past year is due to the great amount of active volunteer service of Troop officers, Executive Board members and Committees, under the able leadership of President William T. Halliday and Commissioner Woodbridge.

NORUMBEGA SCOUTS TO BROADCAST

On Tuesday evening, February 28th, Norumbega Scouts are to broadcast from Station WBET at 6:15 o'clock. The program will consist of music by the Division II Drum and Bugle Corps, under the direction of Mr. F. J. Edmonds, recently appointed Director and led by Drum Major Richard Schroeder and Alfred Brown of Troops 4 and 10; the Scout Harmonica Band, under the direction of Junior Assistant Scout Master James Ufford of Troop 15; a brief talk on Norumbega council by President Halliday, and on Camping by Commissioner Woodbridge.

Newton radios are cordially invited and urged to "listen in" on the program.

NEWTON BOY SCOUT CANVASS

In connection with the annual canvass for money for Boy Scout work in Newton, a very interesting experiment is being tried. Heretofore the work of organization and the raising of the necessary money has been in the hands of older men. This year an organization of young men of Newton called Lambda Phi, and their associates, has asked for and been given the privilege and opportunity of raising the necessary quota in Newtonville, with the advice and assistance of Mr. Charles R. Lynde.

This offer on the part of these young men, ranging in age between twenty-two and thirty, indicates their continued interest in the Scouting program. Nearly all were formerly Boy Scouts. Although not in position to contribute much money, and lacking time for participation in Scout activities, they are in this way able to make the very important contribution of service.

One of the interesting features is the request to all residents of Newtonville to illuminate their homes between the hours of 7:30 and 9 on the evening of February 28th, which is the time set for the canvassers to make their calls.

From 7:30 to 9 Troop 1, with its large Bugle and Drum Corps, will be on parade.

BOY SCOUT TROOP 20

The Norumbega Council of Boy Scouts of America have issued to the boys of Trinity Church a charter authorizing the formation of a troop of Boy Scouts to be known as Troop 20. The officers will be formally instituted by the officers of the Norumbega Council, in Trinity Parish House, next Wednesday evening, February 29, 7:30 o'clock.

The boys of our Parish from 12 to 15 years inclusive are invited to become members of the troop. Application should be made to Mr. C. Randolph Bennett, Chairman of the Scout Committee, not later than Sunday noon, February 26. The present plan is to have only two patrols, that is to say, 16 boys; so that those who apply will have the best chance.

The new troop will be under the guidance of Mr. William M. Breed, formerly Scoutmaster of Troop 5. The Scoutmaster of Troop 20 has not yet been chosen, but Commander Keller and Mr. Philip M. Stonemetz will be assistant Scoutmasters.

The Troop Committee of the new troop will be Mr. C. Randolph Bennett, Chairman; Messrs. Edward H. Bill, L. Lee Street, A. L. Risley; with Henry T. Hutchins, M.D., Troop Physician.

The parents of all the boys who will be enrolled in the new troop are invited to attend the ceremony of institution in the Parish House, Wednesday evening, February 29, at 7:30 o'clock. The troop Committees of all the Newton Centre troops, and the Newton Centre Citizens Scout Committee have been invited to this in-stallation ceremony. Refreshments will be served.

All the boys who are enrolled in the new Troop 20 will be invited to a swim in the pool of the new University Club, Boston, next Saturday, March 3, as their first "hike." They will be conducted into Boston by Mr. L. Lee Street of the Scout Committee; and they will be the guests of Mr.

NEWTON HOSPITAL

In the week ending February 18 there were 119 patients in the Hospital of whom 47 paid as much as cost of care or more, 44 paid less than cost of care and 28, including babies were free patients. Six babies were born, 113 patients were treated in the out patient department, 5 in the eye clinic. One patient was transferred by the social service car. There were five emergencies treated in the operating room, four of which were accidents.

"The Modern Conception of God" was the subject of a lecture given in the Nurses' Home Sunday evening by Professor Albert Bailey of Boston University. Prof. Bailey's lecture was illustrated by beautiful and unusual stereopticon slides. A double quarter from the Highland Glee Club sang several very fine selections. This service was one of the finest ever held in the Nurses' Home. Among the guests who had been invited to share this unusual treat with the Newton Nurses was a group of students from the Mass. General Hospital.

The Know More Kokki Klub met at the Newton Hospital Monday evening, February 20th, for their semi-monthly meeting.

Enthusiastic reports are coming to the hospital from Dr. Henry Keover of Auburndale and Dr. Henry Waters of Newton Centre who are returning on Friday, the twenty-fourth, from a two weeks' trip to the West Indies.

The emergencies cared for during the week ending February 19th were:

- (1) A man with a fractured jaw, the result of an argument with another man.
- (2) A man with a fractured clavicle also the result of an argument.
- (3) A man with the palm of his hand lacerated in an automobile accident.
- (4) A child two years of age with a question of a fractured "collar bone."
- (5) A man in convulsions, the cause unknown.

The "emergencies" brought to the hospital during the week ending February twelfth included a man who had strained his back cranking an automobile, a man overcome by gas fumes while working in an automobile shop, a man thrown from an automobile with "abrasions of the back" resulting. A man with a fractured arm which happened when the car skidded, struck a tree, and threw him forward.

A youth of 18 years with a fractured left femur which occurred when the bicycle he was riding was struck by an automobile. A man with a fractured arm the result of a fall from a freight car. A woman who fell on the sidewalk and fractured her wrist. A woman who fell in her own home and thought she had broken her leg. A man who cut his finger on a ginger ale bottle.

On Monday evening, February 13, the Newton Medical Club met at the Hospital. After the regular business meeting Dr. William C. Quincy of the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital spoke on "Surgical Problems in Renal Disease."

On Sunday evening, February 12, in the Nurses' Home Dr. Hume of Auburndale, for 57 years a missionary in India, told the nurses about a missionary's life and work. Mr. Ralph Maclean and Mr. John Metz gave the students a most unusual musical treat. A young woman who has been in the Newton Hospital with Infantile Paralysis is now in her home. She would be much more comfortable and happy if she could have a wheelchair. Her husband earns small wages and the expense of caring for her and their two small children is considerable. If there is anyone who has a wheelchair they do not need at present we shall be very grateful if they will loan or give one for this purpose.

In the week ending February 11 there were 131 patients in the hospital, of whom 47 paid as much as cost of care or more, 5 paid less than cost of care and 34, including babies were free patients. Seven babies were born, 102 patients were treated in the out patient department; 3 in the eye clinic. Three patients were transferred by the social service car. There were nine emergencies treated in the operating room. Thirteen calls were made by Miss Wheeler the Social Service Worker.

Bennett, Chairman of the Scout Committee. The Swimming Instructor of the Club will be in charge of the pool.

AUTO ACCIDENTS

Automobiles driven by Charles White of the Ross Taxi Company and Quincy Wales of Sylvan avenue, West Newton, collided Friday night at Otis and Walnut streets, Newtonville. White suffered a cut on his face.

Friday afternoon cars driven by John McSweeney of Portland, Maine, and Marie Slocum of Lower Falls, collided at the intersection of Washington street and Commonwealth avenue, West Newton. Blanche Devost of the Parkway Hospital who was riding in McSweeney's car was hurled out and injured. The police ambulance was called but the Devost woman refused to go to the Newton Hospital. She was taken to the Parkway Hospital.

THE NEWTON ARCHERS

The Newton Archers held their annual mid-winter supper and entertainment in the dining room of the Newton Centre Woman's Clubhouse on Friday evening February 17th. About fifty attended. After the delicious supper the President, L. C. Smith, called a business meeting. He was re-elected President for the ensuing year. Mrs. Paul W. Crouch of Newton Centre was elected Secretary-Treasurer and Dr. Paul W. Crouch was elected a member of the executive board. Dr. Crouch's brilliance as an archer, and Mrs. Crouch's efficiency make them especially welcome as new officers of the Newton Archers. Neither have served in any capacity heretofore.

The entertainment proved to be a great success. An archery contest of wits, arranged by Mrs. Burton Payne Gray of Newton Centre, came first. Then one of the guests sang several very clever numbers with banjo accompaniment. An original poem, with Mr. John Preston True as its subject, was read by Mr. E. W. Frenz of Melrose. Mr. True cleverly replied with an original poem on Mr. Frenz. Lantern slides of pictures taken on the Newton Centre Archery Range were shown by courtesy of Mr. C. Smith and Miss Stella Ives. The dining room was appropriately decorated by Mrs. H. S. C. Cummings and Mrs. P. W. Crouch. Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Herman were invited to be the guests of honor for the evening.

PAGEANT AT CHANNING CHURCH

Under the auspices of four of the Protestant churches of Newton, a Union Service will be held Sunday evening in the Channing (Unitarian) Church at 7:30 o'clock. At this service a pageant entitled "The Consecration of Sir Galahad" presented under the direction of Rev. Chester A. Drummond. Young people from the four participating churches constitute the cast of the pageant and the young people's choir will render the processionals and recessional. The service is of particular interest for young people of high school and college age but to which the uniting churches invite the general public.

CHRISTMAS SEALS

The net returns to the Newton Welfare Bureau from the sale of Christmas Seals to date is $6167.95. It is hoped that all those who have not paid for the seals will either send a check soon or return the seals.

CONDITIONS IN RUSSIA

Last Sunday evening, February 19, the Opportunity Club of the Second Church, West Newton, had the good fortune to listen to Mr. Timothy Peshkoff, a native of Russia. Mr. Peshkoff, who was at one time a Russian Greek Orthodox Priest, told of the conditions in Russia, previous to the Revolution and at the present time. He said that today, there are at least one million homeless children in Russia, that are running wild, stealing, killing and carrying on all kinds of nefarious work. The police have no control over them. They make nothing of gathering a band together and breaking into a house and demanding food and shelter and remaining there for days. All of these children are between the ages of 13 and 20. He stated that this terrible situation has been brought about by the forbiddance of religion to be taught in the schools. He declared that when a person drops religion, he loses everything he has. Mr. Peshkoff said "We cannot live without religion. Religion should be taught at home, and that is why there is such a terrible uprising in Russia today. It is one of the world's greatest Revolutions." He stated that he believed that Russia would soon begin to grow better as they had seen their mistake and are beginning to realize it. Mr. Peshkoff, who has had many and varied experiences, related a few of his impressions when he first came to America as a boy. He has the gift of a very pleasing and interesting personality. He paints his verbal pictures with such clarity and vividness, that he holds his audience spell-bound. Mr. Peshkoff's discourse was instructive, interesting and keenly enjoyed by everyone present as his talk was full of wit and humor.

HELEN W. HOPKINS

A great soul has passed from us this week. Mrs. Albert G. Hopkins will be known and remembered for her many deeds of service in our community, and her loss is one that cannot be overestimated. Not the offices she held, but the way she held them, not the services rendered, but the spirit that pervaded them made her great.

As President of the Newton Centre School Association, her clear vision, her unerring judgment, her untiring zeal and determination, brightened by that twinkling sense of humor, welded a great body of women together to work for the youth of our city. Her foresight and persistence achieved the High School tunnel—a lasting memorial to her work for the best interests of the pupils.

For several years Mrs. Hopkins was a member of the Social Service Committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, her special joy being the weekly visits to Peabody Home where she read to and taught the children. During 1926-7 she was chairman of this committee, and even though in poor health she was able to guide the work which she so loved, up to within a few months of her untimely death.

An ardent Episcopalian, she was active in all branches of the work at Trinity Church, but, as in everything else, her special interest was with the young people and she taught a devoted class of high school girls for several years.

A born leader with a clear, direct, orderly mind, a steadfast friend, a true character, she is mourned by all who had the privilege of knowing her. "She gave herself, a ransom for many."

MAYOR CHILDS ADDRESSES KIWANIANS

At the regular weekly meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club on Tuesday at Woodland Golf Club, Mayor Edwin O. Childs gave a talk on George Washington. Mr. Childs gave a brief outline of Washington's life and praised his spirit of self-sacrifice. Despite the fact that Washington was the second richest man in the Colonies, he was willing to chance the loss of his life and property in the cause of Liberty. The Mayor alluded to the very complete diaries kept by Washington which gave insight into the manner of man he was and his mode of living. He humorously referred to the information contained in one of the diaries which showed that the Squire of Mount Vernon when running as a candidate for the Virginia Assembly purchased a considerable quantity of rum to aid his campaign. Mr. Childs commented that while Washington was a man of lofty character he was a quite human individual and would today be characterized as a "regular fellow."

Will White of Norumbega Park told of the donation of $200 made by the Kiwanis Club to the dependents of the late Leonard Jackson, Inspector in Newton's Board of Health, who was killed at the recent explosion at West Newton and of the entertainment which will be given at the Community Theatre on the night of March 7 for the benefit of Mr. Jackson's family.

COLLEGE NEWS

By H. P. OARVER

After a long absence from the haunts of men we return with a more or less rambling report of the Dartmouth Carnival that attracted no little newspaper comment, and some parental conversation recently. In the first place Hanover is isolated far from the madding crowd, and the boys that have ground at their books for some two weeks are only too glad to be able to throw such matters over and get down to the more enjoyable task of being happy, nay, rather they wish to be hilarious.

For the seniors it is the last big blowout of their college course, for the juniors it is a sort of warm up spree for the final topping off next year, for the sophomores it is a little practice in order to be prepared for the coming years, and the freshmen? They just take it in good part, they are practising for future work as handymen. The Carnival could not be a success unless it were for the fact that Dartmouth, after its own peculiar fashion allows freshmen to enter its sacred portals. They plow the snow, they sweep the snow, they model the snow into fantastic shapes, and last of all they eat snow according to statistics for there is nothing else left after the hungry hordes go through raiding the kitchens of Hanover.

The railroad relishes the thought of Carnival and well it might. It is estimated that the population of Hanover increases at least seventy-five percent over the week end, and it all is one type. The fairer sex arrives in bevels, flocks, and herds, and as a result the entire town turns out to worship at the altar of feminine beauty. The freshmen act as porters, and the upperclassmen as hosts and as a result the task is quickly and easily accomplished. The fraternity houses throw open their doors and Hanover becomes a pleasure mad city for the time being. Everywhere there is a party either starting or ending, and as a result one is liable to become lost in the maze of shifting lights, ideas, and people. It is the people that are the hardest to understand, for first one is with one type, and then another, and the entire assemblage changes their opinions and their points of conversation so rapidly and so often that it would take a Coleridge or a Johnson to keep up with them, or else an experienced prom trotter, but they are only to be found in college humor or some other up to the minute magazine.

Meanwhile the show goes on, there is ice, perhaps, if winter has treated the town considerably and not been too hard on the expectant younger generation and barred that glassy surface that is dear to every skater's heart. The snow slides have been carefully taken care of, and the winter sports work is taken care of by that remarkable organization known as the Dartmouth Outing Club. This group handles all the executive work, and then simply calls in the geni of the rink, the class of '31 in this case, and their bidding is carried out, expectedly and with rare abandon.

After the show is put on by the Dartmouth entertainers in the midst of a great ball, the fraternity houses begin to offer individual dances, and the crowd begins to disintegrate going first to this house and then to that. As a result the various members of the various fraternities have a chance to fraternize more than they ever have before because John Jones brought Mary Smith from Jonesville, and she knows some one in the Kappa Tappa House, or else a girl that the Kap Tap brought. When women talk then men must wait is a good rule at any dance and it does breed complete understanding of some problems at least.

Then suddenly the whole picture fades away and everyone is back to the old job of trying to hoodwink that prof who looks upon you with suspicion and grave doubts about your mental stability. But at any rate you have had one of these real times, and you lovingly touch that slim sleek pocketbook, and then you turn over your mind to that beautiful night that you spent—but there's the rub when night was it and how long ago. And so the winter part of the second semester comes and goes, and one spends his time trying to puzzle out a chronological table of the week and he can't do it. But it is fascinating and so is Carnival, and if you don't believe me ask any freshman.

On the Vassar honor roll in the freshman class there are two Newton girls, one from Newtonville, Mary Hutchins, and the other from Newton proper, Priscilla Sellman. This is an honor that comes very seldom in the lives of the majority of the students of the New York college for the courses given there are anything but easy, and the person who can do their work with honor is to be ranked as a very high honor.

In the elections at Boston University, College of Liberal Arts, in the senior class last week Katherine Tower of West Newton was chosen to be the vice president of the organization. She always was a popular girl while in Newton and her ability as an executive and leader has been rewarded by her classmates.

In the Brown musical clubs Granzer Hapgood of Newton Highlands made his debut as a member of the quartet Friday night at the Hotel Somerset when the Brown organization sang in a joint concert with the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He has become a remarkably fine singer and great things are expected of him.

TOOHEY—LIVINGSTONE

Miss Catharine A. Livingstone of 1781 Beacon street, Waban, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Livingstone of Cape Breton, Nova Scotia, was married to Mr. Timothy Francis Toohey of Waltham on Sunday, February nineteenth. The ceremony was performed at St. John's Church, Newton Lower Falls, at four in the afternoon, by Rev. Fr. Flood.

The bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Anna MacDonald of Wellesley Hills. Mr. William Toohey of Waltham, a brother of the groom, was the best man.

The bride wore a gown of white georgette and a veil of tulle trimmed with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. Her bridesmaid wore powder blue georgette and carried a bouquet of pink roses and sweet peas.

A reception was held at the home of the groom's parents, 240 Ash street, Waltham, from four thirty to eight thirty. The couple were assisted in receiving by Mr. Alexander H. Livingstone, brother of the bride, and Mr. Andrew Dunn.

After a wedding trip to New York, Mr. and Mrs. Toohey will reside at 11 Waverley place, Newton Lower Falls.

MEMORIAL EXHIBITION

A memorial exhibition of the paintings of the late William Baxter Closson is being arranged by the Grand Central Art Galleries of New York. The exhibition will be held in their galleries at number 15 Vanderbilt Avenue over the Grand Central Station, and the date has been set for March 13th-24th.

Mr. Closson was born in Thetford, Vt., and the greater part of his life was spent in or near Boston. His first fame came through his engravings on wood, for which he was awarded many medals both in America and Europe. Proofs of his engravings are in the leading museums and libraries throughout the country.

During the latter years of his life he became best known as a painter. His use of color was clear and harmonious, and his brushwork free and individual. His paintings are filled with light, air and movement. One of his larger oil paintings is in the Evans Collection at the National Museum in Washington, D. C.

Mr. Closson was well known in Newton where he and Mrs. Closson made their home at 77 Newtonville avenue.

ALBEMARLE GOLF CLUB

About 100 members of the Albemarle Golf Club attended the annual dinner and meeting held Monday evening at the Newton Club, Newtonville. President Henry J. Nichols was in the chair and these officers were elected: William S. Osborne, treasurer; Kenneth P. Kempton, secretary; and these directors, H. J. Nichols, F. J. Gessenden, William B. Hanna, E. P. Campbell, Joseph M. Everett, Wm. V. Hayden, L. B. Hunter, A. L. LeBaron, Wm. H. Rogers, A. L. Wakefield, Calvert Cary and Joseph F. Bryant.

The treasurer and secretary read their reports, the latter's revealing that Albemarle now has 407 active members, while the complete list, including non-residents, numbers 657. Albemarle also decided to adopt the rotating system for the election to the board of directors in 1929, with four named for three years, four for two years and four for one year.

ASK DAMAGES FROM CITY

Several claims were submitted to the Claims and Rules Committee of the Board of Aldermen at the meeting on Monday night. Mary E. Jones asks for damages caused to her automobile by city team on Washington street on February 15. Andrew Schweg of the Paxton Catering Company asks for damages to his automobile caused by a collision with a water department truck at Newtonville. Amos V. and William W. Jonah ask damages for personal injuries received when their automobile hit a depression in Gralyn road, Newton Centre, and they got severely jounced.

MRS. HUTCHINSON'S BODY IN RIVER

Less than 24 hours after the body of Mrs. Isabelle Jewett of Providence was found on the bank of the Charles River by Serge McLeod of the Metropolitan Police and Joseph Milner, these two men on Friday morning found the body of Mrs. Erma Hutchinson of Weston who had been missing from her home since February 13. The body was found near the Concord street bridge about 10 feet from the shore in 6 feet of water. Last week there was a fringe of ice along the shore of the Charles and apparently the woman walked across this ice into the water. The place where the body was found is about three-quarters of a mile from the Hutchinson home.

LEGION PROTESTS POLICE APPOINTMENTS

At its meeting last week, Newton Post, American Legion, appointed a committee consisting of C. Raymond Cabot, Leo Taffe and Thomas Hour to confer with City Solicitor Bartlett regarding the legality of the ten appointments recently made to the newly organized reserve force of the Newton police. The complaint was made that a number of ex-service men recently took the examination for the police force and the appointments should not have been made until the results of this examination will have been made next April and the new names placed on the eligible list. It was alleged that only one of the 10 men recently appointed is an ex-service man.

MAYOR'S APPOINTMENTS CONFIRMED

The Board of Aldermen on Monday night confirmed the following appointments made by Mayor Childs:—Albert M. Lyon and James Kingman, members of Planning Board for two years; John C. Madden, member of the Board of Health; Florence S. Fitzgerald, Overseer of the Poor.

Odd Mixture Made of Business and Religion

In uptown New York there is a negro church in which attending services is an all-day affair on Sundays. The congregation spends from eight to ten hours in the house of prayer, and meals and social circles interlard sermons and Bible classes.

Perhaps the most practical feature of the weekly gathering has to do with business. Members of the flock are invited to pass along their special wants to the pastor and he in turn proclaims them from the pulpit. Thus, if one has a piano or a parlor set for sale it may be described as alluringly as desired, the price mentioned and the name and address of the "brother" or "sister" broadcast. If one wants a job or a boarder the details are set forth in the same manner. Recently a case of theft was handled as follows:

"Mah dear brothers an sistern, Mis Amanda Rose Abernathy has lost her beautiful pearl brooch—at least she likes to think it were lost, but she know the devil often find things for folks what ain't lost—so if any of you have found it, in such eventuality please return it to the lawful owner thereof. An' to save embarrassments and humiliations I would suggest that the finder of the lovely brooch put it in de little collection envelope."—New York Sunday Times.

"Singing" Mud Rivers Alter Andes Skyline

One of the most interesting features of the Andes, the great backbone of cordilleras covering the northern part of South America, says Nature Magazine, is its "singing" rivers of mud.

During certain seasons of the year rain falls in torrents, converting the foothills of the mountains into actual streams of flowing gumbo, and so rapidly this erosion occurring, the whole outline of a chain of mountains may become unrecognizable in the course of a year.

The higher cordilleras, with altitudes of 10,000 to 12,000 feet, are being washed down at the rate of five feet or more a year, and it is believed that in a few centuries the Andes will be leveled and formed into vast plateaus like the hinterland of Patagonia.

The mountains are composed, for the most part, of glacial moraine, a mixture of powdered rock and clay. The winter rains carry this alluvial material down the valleys in a semi-liquid state and form vast plains. It gurgles with a musical sound like poured molasses.

Flour From Corn

Corn flour is corn meal ground and bolted until it is as fine as wheat flour. It is used in considerable quantities by bakers and as a binder in sausage-making. During the World War it was widely sold as a wheat flour substitute for use in quick breads, cakes and general cooking but it is not ordinarily found on the retail market. Some of the pancake flour or fine corn meal usually mixed with four made of wheat rye, barley or other cereals. In England the term corn flour refers to the separated starch, which in this country is called cornstarch and which is used for thickening sauces and puddings.

Lunch Away From Home

Murdered men of Elbar, a Spanish town of 10,000 inhabitants, never go home for lunch. They have a local proverb which says it is unlucky if men lunch at home more than twice in their lives—on the day of their marriage and on the day of their death. Every man in Elbar, therefore, lunches at a restaurant or at the factory or shop where he is employed. It is believed the fact that most of the women work away from home during the day has given rise to the proverb.

Pudding Is "Detoured"

The mister had a boyish habit of visiting the pantry after the cook's departure and devouring all surplus sweets. One morning after a night's invasion of the pantry the cook asked her mistress: "What you all want for dessert for dinnah?" "I think the date pudding left from yesterday will be sufficient for today," said the thrifty wife. "That pudding's been detoured by that meddlin' husband," was the irritated reply.—Indianapolis News.

Roberta Knew

Roberta, aged four, had been told by her grandmother she would wear her tongue out, if she did not stop talking so much. Coming in one day from playing, the child excitedly told her grandmother that she had just seen a woman who had worn her tongue out.

Grandmother asked her how she could tell and she said: "The woman was talking on her fingers." Grandmother figured out that the little girl had seen some deaf and dumb persons. Indianapolis News.

Fat Men Stand Heat Best

Fat men can stand high temperatures better than thin ones, according to tests made by the bureau of mines. The fat men lost more weight but were less exhausted after the expert measurements were over, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. The trials revealed that high pulse rate rather than the mere increase in body temperature is the important factor that brings its comfort under high heat and humidity.

Matter of Invention Subject to Dispute

Among all the inventors of whom popular history tells, only three, Archimedes, Ericsson and Edison, have been credited with more than one important invention. Others may have equalled them in genius, but not in luck. So, leaving aside these three "great inventors," let us take up the "inventors" who did everything else, and later the question of who were really great inventors.

Who invented the telegraph? Any American who has been through the eighth grade knows that it was Morse and Vail, in 1844. But there was an English commercial line seven years earlier, and the German credit the telegraph to Sommering of Munich, in 1800 and in Switzerland there was an electric telegraph in 1774, and one was proposed in Scotland in 1753.

The matter becomes rather confusing for the eighth grade. Who invented the friction match? There are so many claimants that we don't know who invented it.

Who devised the aneroid barometer? In Paris in 1848 two men, Vidi and Bourdon, each claimed it, with apparent sincerity, and different courts decided for each of them. But 152 years earlier the philosopher, Leibniz, had suggested such a barometer, describing it exactly.—Scientific Monthly.

Only Five National Holidays in America

Although individual states observe many holidays every year there are only five days a year which are celebrated everywhere in the United States and its possessions, explains Grace Robinson, in an article in Liberty.

"These holidays are New Year's day, Washington's birthday, Independence day, Thanksgiving, and Christmas," Miss Robinson points out.

Some of the more important holidays which are not celebrated by all the states, the writer explains, are: Labor day which is kept by 46 states; Election day, by 43; Memorial day, by 38; Columbus day, by 35; Lincoln's birthday, by 26; and Armistice day, by 23. In the South the birthdays of Jefferson Davis and Robert E. Lee are still observed by ten and nine states, respectively, and four states celebrate April 26 as Confederate Memorial day.

Had No Change

The other day a man stuck his head out of a trolley window at Market street and whistled to a newsboy for a paper. The boy passed in the newspaper and waited for his money.

The man searched through his pockets one after another. A look of dismay suddenly clouded his countenance. All he could find was a $5 bill. As the trolley began to move, the newsboy trotted along at the window still waiting hopefully for his money.

He ran with the car at least half a block before his customer realized that he had no change. The paper was sorrowfully handed back to the newsboy, who "cussed" so loudly that several of the young women near by had to muffle their ears.—Philadelphia Record.

Bald Heads Rapped

One Sunday morning Joseph Bucklin Bishop heard Henry Ward Beecher preach a stirring sermon to a great congregation. After a specially eloquent passage the preacher paused a moment and then continued:

"The churches of the land are sprinkled all over with bald-headed old sinners, whose hair has been worn off by the friction of countless sermons that have been aimed at them and have glanced off and hit the man in the pew behind."
That was a trying moment for the bald-headed men present, comments Mr. Bishop in "Notes and Anecdotes of Many Years."

Their Three Selections

Auntie had written the children to write to her and tell her the three things they most desired for Christmas. Then, she said, she would select one of the three for their gift from her. Marjorie, being the oldest, wrote the following:

"Dear Auntie—We were tickled to get your nice letter and I will now tell you the three things we want most for Christmas. Buddy wants three bicycles and I want three wrist watches. These are the only three things we can think of. With love Marjorie."—Kansas City Star.

Get Rid of Troubles

People in Korea seek to rid themselves of all their distresses by painting images on paper, writing against them their troubles of body or mind, and afterward giving the papers to a boy to burn. Another method of achieving the same object is to make rude dolls of straw, stuff them with a few copper coins, and throw them into the street. Whoever picks up such an effigy gets all the troubles and thereby relieves the original sufferer.

The One Sane Man

Out of every ten people alive today at least five (at a conservative estimate) have at some time or other wanted to act in a play. Of the remaining five, three have had the urge to write one, while one, at least, has had the urge to direct or produce one. The tenth man does not believe in this kind of magic at all. He is quite convinced that the other nine are crazy.—Leslie Howard, in Vanity Fair Magazine.

Hear B. L. Young

Former Speaker Of House Talks on Matters of Public Interest

The Men's clubs of the five Protestant churches in Newton Corner met Monday night in Channing church parlors and after a substantial dinner served under the direction of Mr. Harry C. Wiggins, heard an interesting talk by Former Speaker B. Loring Young.

Before introducing Mr. Young, President Arthur W. Blakemore compared the churches of 40 years ago and of the present time, and after stating that while he believed the clergy were just as good if not even better than in the olden time it was perfectly true that the attendance at churches were rapidly waning. Golf and the radio were particularly responsible and he called upon the men of the community to cultivate church attendance.

Mr. Young first gave some interesting reminiscences of former Republican national conventions in 1916, 1920 and 1924 and what an experience he had had while telling the western farmers some of the facts about President Coolidge during the last campaign.

He then referred to the Boston Elevated problem and his share in the legislation of 1918. He believed most of the troubles of the Elevated came from the 5 cent fare provision in the legislation of 1898 and which changing economic conditions had proved unsatisfactory. He objected to public ownership largely on account of the 15,000 employees of the Elevated who might be a factor in determining elections. On the proposal to return the road to its former stockholders, Mr. Young pointed out that with a financial condition which barely paid its way at present under public control it would be evident that under private management, the additional capital needed to finance much needed extension could not be obtained. Mr. Young favored the general features of the Harriman plan of continuance of public control and also believed in an extension of the plan for 20 or 25 years in order to insure financial assistance for all the needed improvements.

Mr. Young closed with a brief description of the pending fight between two forms of rate making basis for public utilities such as gas and electric plants. The Massachusetts plan took the honestly invested capital as the base for proper rates after allowing reasonable dividends. The Federal plan, which has been more or less enforced in the Federal courts, took the fair replacement value of the plant at the time the rates were made, regardless of the amount of capital actually invested. Mr. Young pointed out the injustice of allowing the unearned increase of values of land and building to enter into a rate making basis. He also thought the plan of the Commission on Public Utilities to refuse any extension of stock or bond issues, and to allow competition against any company which refused to accept the Massachusetts plan, was altogether too drastic and suggested that the representatives of both sides go into conference to settle the matter in fairness to all.

LASELL SEMINARY

On Tuesday evening the winter carnival—long postponed on account of the weather—was held on Gardner Hill. Tobogganing, skiing, coasting, with dancing and supper in the gymnasium filled up a jolly evening.

The annual Martha Washington party was held at Bragdon Hall on February 22. The costumes were varied and beautiful. "George" and "Martha" many times repeated. The Grand March was led by Dr. and Mrs. Winslow.

The Senior Prom is dated for Saturday evening of this week at the Woodland Golf Club. Principal and Mrs. Winslow, Dean Potter and the resident teachers of the Senior Houses will be the chaperones.

The vesper speaker on Sunday evening will be Mrs. Charlotte Hawkins Brown, principal of the Palmer Memorial Institute at Sedalia, North Carolina.

The fifth and last of the Paul Shirley Symphony concerts for this season comes on Tuesday evening, February 28. These concerts are open to the friends of the school and are held in the Auburndale Club House.

SCHOOL NOTES

Levi F. Warren Jr. High

On Wednesday, Feb. 15, representatives of the various Junior High Schools and the Senior High School of Newton met in a class room of the Technical Building in the interests of promoting an Anti-Bumping Ride Campaign. Their first duty was to elect officers. Albert Crizzi of the Warren Jr. High was elected president. Photos of the convention were taken in the High School gymnasium. On returning to the class room, they ventured suggestions concerning Anti-Bumping and chose a publicity committee, after which the meeting was adjourned until after vacation.

Band

There are about fifty members in the band, and every member who attends regularly will receive a school letter. Every instrument except the most unusual ones is represented. Some of the instruments are clarinets, flutes, bass, alto, trumpets, saxophones, drum, trombones, English horn, melophone, and baritone.

Barbara Livermore started her duties of being the drum major for the band on February 16. She keeps the attendance and has each member bring his instrument. Later she will lead it. The students are very much interested and hope to become a great band with the help of Mr. Spaulding.

The Handy Work Club

The girls in the handy work club are making personal things and bed-room additions. Their aim is to learn how to use their spare time to better advantage and to use up spare scraps of silk and cloth.

Some of the girls are making dainty pin cushions, lamp shades, powder dolls, and silhouette pictures in cross stitch. These and others are lovely additions to bed rooms. Charming headed pocket books, luncheon-sets, hats, clothing, and worsted flowers are a few of the articles of adornment which are in progress. Every few weeks girls will appear in new styles. The club has chosen for their sorority pin a bunch of worsted flowers. They may be seen on the dresses of the different girls in the club.

Junior Aircraft Club

In the Junior Aircraft Club there are four divisions under different titles which represent airplane manufacturers. The divisions are headed by a division commander and are all under the superintending of Ernest Flagg, Squadron Commander. They are progressing rapidly in the study of aviation and try many experiments. They have a bulletin board and on it are some very interesting topics about the present day flying.

The Radio Club

The Radio Club, conducted by Mr. Ottosen, has been learning the signs and symbols of radio connections. Soon they will start constructing radio sets. They have elected the following officers: president, William Perry; vice-president, Hugh Latimer, and secretary-treasurer, Joseph McEleneay.

Girls' First Aid and Gym Club

The Girls' First Aid and Gym Club is an exceedingly popular one. Students from the seventh, eighth, and ninth grades may be in it. The meetings alternate. One week they have first aid and the next week apparatus work.

Last week they had first aid. The seventh and eighth grade pupils learned and then practised bandaging while the ninth grade pupils were instructed in the Shaffer Method of resuscitation. This they practised on each other until the close of the period.

The Nature Club

The Nature Club is directed by a president, a secretary, and a program committee. The club engages in prepared discussions of the habits, life, homes, appearance, etc., of different animals. Information on nature is also gathered from prepared reports compiled from reference books, from volunteer information about home pets, from colored pictures on the walls, and from blackboard diagrams. Up to the present time the club has directed its attention to reptiles, insects and birds.

Auburndale

Plans are under way for another supper, entertainment and dance under the auspices of the Entertainment Committee of the Auburndale Club, for Saturday evening, March 10th.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

Complaints have been made about the hazards occasioned to pedestrians by the tearing down of Eliot Block. The wrecking company which is razing the building erected a barrier outside the sidewalk on Centre street which forces pedestrians to walk out on the street. Automobiles are packed against this barrier and this necessitates pedestrians walking outside the parked automobiles into the middle of Centre street where there is always heavy traffic. The attention of the police was called to this matter and the company tearing down the building was ordered a few days ago to place a boardwalk for pedestrians alongside the barrier and to confine the latter to the 4 feet limit specified, instead of having it out 7 feet at places. Up to this morning this order has not been obeyed.

The Street Department deserves credit for the efficient manner in which the highways were cleared of snow after the recent storm.

That there is great need of marking lines to define the cross walks at Nonantum Square was shown by persons who find the crossings at Newton Corner blocked by parked automobiles. The Traffic Committee of the Board of Aldermen is of the opinion that enough money should be appropriated in this year's budget to allow cross walks and parking spaces in the congested traffic centres of the city being properly marked at all times.

GORHAM—BUCKLEY

Miss Cecilia Lois Buckley, daughter of Mrs. Mary D'Arcy Buckley of 38 Winchester road, Newton, was married to Mr. Francis Wilbur Gorham on Saturday, February eighteenth. Rev. Fr. Mantle performed the ceremony at 7 o'clock.

The bride was attended by her sister Miss Josephine Buckley. The bridesmaids were Miss Irene Frances Buckley, sister of the bride, Miss Marion Holmes Gorham of Concord, a sister of the groom, and Miss Edith Wilton Pearson of Newton. Mr. Gilbert Priest Leslie of Wellesley was the best man. The ushers were George Lee Buckley, brother of the bride of Wellesley, Wilbur Gorham, a cousin of the groom of Roslindale, Hanley Blackner of Sudbury and William Irving Jardine of Boston, classmates of the groom.

The bride wore ivory taffeta with chantilly lace embroidered with pearls. The maid of honor wore pink taffeta and maline. The dresses worn by the bridesmaids were in pastel shades, yellow, green and orchid taffeta and maline.

A reception was held at the Newton Club at which the couple were assisted in receiving by Mrs. Frank E. Gorham and Mrs. Mary Buckley. The club rooms were decorated with palms and white carnations.

After a wedding trip to Canada Mr. and Mrs. Gorham will reside at 49 Washington Park, Newtonville, where they will be at home after March 11.

The bride is a graduate of Newton High School and the groom of Lincoln Academy and Bowdoin '24. He is a member of Sigma Nu Fraternity.
